This appendix contains a summary of the laws and regulations in respect of taxation and foreign exchange in the PRC and Hong Kong.

TAXATION

A. Taxation in the PRC

Taxes Applicable to Joint-Stock Limited Companies

Enterprise Income Tax

Enterprise Income Tax Law of the People's Republic of China (中華人民共和國企業所得稅法) ("Income Tax Law") was promulgated on March 16, 2007 and become effective January 1, 2008. The Income Tax Law regulates the rate of enterprise income tax at 25%. Enterprises established before the promulgation of the Income Tax Law are entitled to benefit from a preferential tax rate as per the tax laws and administrative regulations then prevailing may gradually shift to the tax rate defined by the Income Tax Law within five years after effectiveness of the Income Tax Law according to the requirements of the State Council. Those entitled to the preference of fixed tax holiday or fixed-term tax reductions may continue to benefit in the same manner according to the requirements of the State Council until expiration of the tax holiday or the term of the preference. For those who have not benefited from such preference due to the failure to realize profit, the preference has been applied since the effective date of the Income Tax Law, January 1, 2008.

Business Tax

According to the Provisional Regulations of The People's Republic of China on Business Tax (中華人民共和國營業稅暫行條例), which became effective on January 1, 1994 and first amended on January 1, 2009, and the Detailed Rules for Implementation of the Provisional Regulations of The People's Republic of China on Business Tax (中華人民共和國營業稅暫行條例實施細則), which became effective on January 1, 2009 and further amended on October 28, 2011, institutions and individuals providing taxable services, transferring intangible assets or selling real estate within the PRC shall pay business tax. The latest amendments of the above-mentioned regulations and rules supplemented the regulatory system in the following aspects:

- Insurance services provided by domestic insurance institutions for exporting goods are exempted from business tax.

- The withholding agent of the business tax should be: (i) the domestic agents of foreign entities or individuals, who provide taxable services, transferring intangible assets or selling estate within the territory of the PRC but have no business institutions in the PRC; or (ii) the assignee of the assets or the purchaser of the services in case there is no domestic agent.

- The column specifying the taxable services and business is deleted from the appendix of the regulations, which enable MOF and SAT to define the scope of taxable business and services.

- The preferential policies approved by the State Council before the effectiveness of the above-mentioned amendments on January 1, 2009 could still be applied.

Value-added Tax (VAT)

According to the Provisional Regulations of The People's Republic of China on Value-added Tax (中華人民共和國增值税暫行條例) in effect since January 1, 1994 and first amended on January 1, 2009 and the Detailed Rules for Implementation of the Provisional Regulations of The People's Republic of China on Value-added Tax (中華人民共和國增值税暫行條例實施細則) in effect since December 25, 1993 and second amended on October 28, 2011, institutions and individuals selling goods or providing processing, repairing or replacement services or importing goods within the PRC shall pay VAT. The tax rate of 13% shall be levied on general taxpayers selling or importing grain, edible vegetable oil, tap water, heating supply, air-conditioning, hot water, gas, liquefied petroleum gas, natural gas, marsh gas, coal products for civil use, books, newspapers, magazines, feedstuff, chemical fertilizer, pesticide, farming machines, films for agricultural use and other goods specified by the State Council. The rate applicable to goods exported by taxpayers shall be zero unless otherwise prescribed by the State Council. The rate of 17% shall be levied on taxpayers selling or importing goods other than the above-mentioned items, and on taxpayers providing processing, repair or replacement services. The rate applicable to goods sold or taxable services provided by small-scale taxpayers is 3% (formerly 6%). A small-scale taxpayer is defined as a taxpayer engaged in the manufacturing of goods or the supply of taxable services, or primarily dealing in the manufacturing of goods or supply of taxable services while concurrently engaged in the wholesale or retail of goods as secondary operations, and has annual taxable sales (hereinafter referred to as "taxable sales") of less than RMB0.5 million; or a taxpayer engaged in the wholesale or retail of goods and having annual taxable sales of less than RMB0.8 million. Individuals whose annual taxable sales volumes exceeds the standards for small-scaled taxpayers shall be taxed as small-scaled taxpayers; non-enterprise organizations or enterprises without frequent occurrence of taxable acts may choose to be taxed as small-scaled taxpayers.

In addition, the new regulations and rules also provide the following:

- the input tax for purchasing fixed assets could be deducted from the output tax;

- the withholding agent of the VAT should be: (i) the domestic agents of foreign entities or individuals, who provide taxable services within the territory of the PRC but have no business institutions in the PRC; or (ii) the assignee of the assets or the purchaser of the services in case there is no domestic agent; and

- the preferential policies approved by the State Council before the effectiveness of the above-mentioned amendments on January 1, 2009 could still be applied.

Stamp Tax

According to the Provisional Regulation of the People's Republic of China on Stamp Duty (中華人民共和國印花税暫行條例) which was brought into effect on October 1, 1988 and amended on January 8, 2011 and the Detailed Rules for Implementation of the Provisional Regulations of The People's Republic of China on Stamp Duty (中華人民共和國印花税暫行條例實行細則) in effect since October 1, 1988, institutions and individuals executing or receiving taxable documents within the PRC shall pay stamp tax. The list of taxable documents includes purchase and sale contracts, processing contracts, construction project contracts, property lease contracts, cargo freight contracts, warehousing and storage contracts, loan contracts, property insurance contracts, technical contracts, other documents that resemble contracts in nature, title transfer deeds, business account books, certificates of rights, licenses and other taxable documents specified by MOF.

Taxes Applicable to Shareholders of Companies

Dividend-related Tax

Individual investors. According to the Individual Income Tax Law of the People's Republic of China (中華人民共和國個人所得稅法), as amended, and its implementation rules for the receipt of dividends paid by the PRC companies, an individual is ordinarily subject to a PRC individual income tax levied at a flat rate of 20%. For a foreign individual shareholder who is not a PRC resident, pursuant to the Circular On the Individual Income Tax Matters after the Repeal of No. Guo Shui Fa [1993]045 Circular (No. Guo Shui Han [2011]348) issued by SAT on June 28, 2011 (國家稅務總局關於國稅發[1993]045號文件廢止後有關個人所得稅徵管問題的通知), the receipt of dividends on our H Shares is subject to a withholding tax ranging from 5% to 20% (usually 10%) depending on the applicable tax treaty between the PRC and the jurisdiction in which the foreign national resides. For foreign residents of jurisdictions that have not entered a tax treaty with the PRC, the tax rate on dividends is 20%.

Enterprises. Under the Enterprise Income Tax Law of the People's Republic of China (中華人民共和國企業所得稅法) and the its implementation rules, non-resident enterprises having no office or premises inside the PRC or whose income has no actual connection to its office or premises inside the PRC are subject to enterprise income tax at the rate of 10% on their income derived from the PRC. Under the Circular on Questions Concerning Withholding and Remitting Enterprise Income Tax for Dividends Received by Overseas Non-resident Enterprise Shareholders of H Shares from Chinese Resident Enterprises (No. Guo Shui Han [2008]897 (關於中國居民企業向境外H股非居民企業股東派發股息代扣代繳企業所得稅有關問題的通知 (國稅函[2008]897號)) issued by SAT on November 6, 2008, enterprise income tax at a flat rate of 10% is levied on dividends on H shares received by any overseas enterprise shareholders that are non-PRC residents. The Response to Questions on Enterprise Income Tax over Dividend of B-Shares and Other Shares Received by Non-resident Enterprises (No. Guo Shui Han [2009]394) (關於非居民企業取得B股等股票股息徵收企業所得稅問題的批復(國稅函[2009]394號)) issued by SAT on July 24, 2009 further provides that any PRC resident enterprise that publicly issues A-shares, B-shares or overseas shares on stock exchanges in or outside the PRC, such as our H Shares, must withhold enterprise income tax at the rate of 10% from dividends distributed by them to non-resident enterprises.

Tax treaties. Investors who do not reside in the PRC but reside in jurisdictions that have entered into treaties for the avoidance of double taxation with the PRC may be entitled to a reduction or exemption of the withholding tax imposed on dividends received from a PRC-resident enterprise. The PRC currently has treaties for the avoidance of double taxation with a number of jurisdictions, which include Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Japan, Malaysia, the Netherlands, Singapore, the United Kingdom and the United States. The PRC also has an arrangement for the avoidance of double taxation with Hong Kong.

Share transfer-related tax

For Individual Investors. Under the Individual Income Tax Law of the People's Republic of China (中華人民共和國個人所得稅法) and its implementation rules, individuals are subject to individual income tax at the rate of 20% on gains realized on the sale of equity interests in PRC resident enterprises. The implementation rules also provide that the MOF shall draft measures for collection of individual income tax from income on the transfer of shares, and such measures are subject to the approval of the State Council. However, as of the Latest Practicable Date, no such measures have been drafted and enacted. Under the Circular Declaring That Individual Income Tax Continues to Be Exempted over Income of Individuals from Transfer of Shares (Cai Shui Zi [1998] No. 61) (關於個人轉讓股票所得繼續暫免徵收個人所得稅的通知 (財稅字[1998]61號)) issued by MOF and SAT on March 30, 1998, from January 1, 1997, income of individuals from the transfer of shares in listed enterprises continues to be exempted from individual income tax. After the latest amendment to the Individual Income Tax Law of the People's Republic of China on September 1, 2011 and the latest amendments to its implementing rules on September 1, 2011, SAT has not stated whether it will continue to exempt from individual income tax income derived by individuals from the transfer of listed shares. However, on December 31, 2009, MOF, SAT and CSRC jointly issued the Circular on Related Issues on Collection of Individual Income Tax over the Income Received by Individuals from Transfer of Listed Shares Subject to Sales Limitation (Cai Shui [2009] No. 167) (關於個人轉讓上市公司限售股所得徵收個人所得稅有關問題的通知 (財稅[2009]167號)) (the "Circular"), which states that individuals' income from transferring listed shares on certain domestic exchanges shall continue to be exempted from the individual income tax, except for the shares of certain specified companies under certain situations which are subject to sales limitations (as defined in such Circular and its supplementary notice issued on November 10, 2010). As of the Latest Practicable Date, no legislation has expressly provided that individual income tax shall be collected from non-Chinese resident individuals on the sale of shares in PRC resident enterprises listed on overseas stock exchanges, such as our H Shares, and in practice the taxation administrations do not collect individual income tax on such income.

For Enterprises. Under the EIT Law (中華人民共和國企業所得稅法) and its implementation rules, non-resident enterprises are generally subject to enterprise income tax at the rate of 10% with respect to their income derived from sale of shares of PRC companies. However, as of the Latest Practicable Date, no legislation has expressly provided that enterprise income tax shall be collected from non-Chinese resident enterprises on their income derived by them from sale of the shares in PRC companies listed on overseas stock exchanges, such as our H Shares, while the possibility cannot be entirely excluded that taxation administrations will collect enterprise income tax on such income in practice.

Tax treaties. Overseas investors that reside in jurisdictions that have entered into treaties for the avoidance of double taxation with the PRC may be entitled to exemption from any income tax imposed by the PRC tax authorities on their income derived from sale of the shares in PRC-resident companies depending on the specific provisions as set forth in the applicable tax treaties. The PRC currently has treaties for the avoidance of double taxation with a number of jurisdictions, which include Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Japan, Malaysia, the Netherlands, Singapore, the United Kingdom and the United States (the treaty with the United States does not contain an exemption from any PRC tax imposed on gains derived from the sale of shares in a PRC resident enterprise). The PRC also has an arrangement for the avoidance of double taxation with Hong Kong.

Additional PRC tax considerations

PRC stamp duty. Under the Provisional Regulations of the PRC Concerning Stamp Duty (中華人民共和國印花稅暫行條例) and its implementation rules, both effective on October 1, 1988, PRC stamp duty should not apply to acquisitions or dispositions of our H Shares outside of the PRC, as PRC stamp duty is imposed on documents executed or received within the PRC that are legally binding in the PRC and protected under PRC law.

Estate duty. No liability for estate duty under PRC laws will arise for non-PRC nationals holding H Shares.

B. Taxation in Hong Kong

Hong Kong

Tax on Dividends

Under the current practice of the Hong Kong Inland Revenue Department, no tax is payable in Hong Kong in respect of dividends paid by us.

Taxation on gains from sale

No tax is imposed in Hong Kong in respect of capital gains from the sale of property such as the H Shares. However, trading gains from the sale of property by persons carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong where such gains are derived from or arise in Hong Kong from such trade, profession or business will be chargeable to Hong Kong profits tax, which is currently imposed at the rate of 16.5% on corporations and at a maximum rate of 15% on unincorporated businesses. Certain categories of taxpayers are likely to be regarded as deriving trading gains rather than capital gains (for examples, financial institutions, insurance companies and securities dealers) unless these taxpayers can prove that the investment securities are held for long-term investment. Trading gains from sales of H Shares effected on the Stock Exchange will be considered to be derived from or arising in Hong Kong. Liability for Hong Kong profits tax would thus arise in respect of trading gains from the sales of H Shares effected on the Stock Exchange realized by persons carrying on a business of trading or dealing in securities in Hong Kong.

Stamp Duty

Hong Kong stamp duty, currently charged at the ad valorem rate of 0.1% on the higher of the consideration for, or the market value of, the H shares, will be payable by the purchaser on every purchase and by the seller on every sale of H shares (in other words, a total of 0.2% is currently payable on a typical sale and purchase transaction involving H shares). In addition, a fixed duty of HK$5 is currently payable on any instrument of transfer of H shares. Where one of the parties to a transfer is resident outside Hong Kong and does not pay the ad valorem duty due by it, the duty not paid will be assessed on the instrument of transfer (if any) and will be payable by the transferee. If stamp duty is not paid on or before the due date, a penalty of up to ten times the duty payable may be imposed.

Estate Duty

The Revenue (Abolition of Estate Duty) Ordinance 2005 came into effect on February 11, 2006 in Hong Kong, pursuant to which estate duty ceased to be chargeable in Hong Kong in respect of the estates of persons dying on or after that date. No Hong Kong estate duty is payable and no estate duty clearance papers are needed for an application for a grant of representation in respect of holders of H shares whose deaths occur on or after February 11, 2006.

PRC LAWS AND REGULATIONS CONCERNING FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTROL

The lawful currency of the PRC is the Renminbi, which is subject to foreign exchange controls and is not freely convertible into foreign exchange. SAFE, under the authority of the PBOC, administers all matters relating to foreign exchange, including the enforcement of foreign exchange control regulations.

On December 28, 1993, PBOC issued the Notice to Further Reform the Foreign Exchange Control System (進一步改革外匯管理體制的通知) (the "Notice"), which became effective on January 1, 1994. The Notice abolished the system of foreign exchange quotas and announced the unification of the official Renminbi exchange rate and the market rate for Renminbi established at swap centres.

On January 29, 1996, the State Council promulgated Regulation of Foreign Exchange (外匯管理條例) (the "Foreign Exchange Regulations") which became effective on April 1, 1996. The Foreign Exchange Regulations classify all international payments and transfers into current account items and capital account items. Most of the current account items are no longer subject to the approval from SAFE while capital account items still are. The Foreign Exchange Regulations were subsequently amended on January 14, 1997 and on August 1, 2008. This latest amendment affirmatively states that the State shall not restrict international current account payments and transfers.

On June 20, 1996, PBOC promulgated the Regulations for Administration of Settlement, Sale and Payment of Foreign Exchange (結匯、售匯及付匯管理規定) (the "Settlement Regulations") which took effect on July 1, 1996. The Settlement Regulations superseded the Provisional Regulations for the Administration of Settlement, Sale and Payment of Foreign Exchange (結匯、售匯及付匯暫行規定) and abolished the remaining restrictions on convertibility of foreign exchange in respect of current account items while retaining the existing restrictions on foreign exchange transactions in respect of capital account items.

On July 21, 2005, PBOC announced that the PRC would implement the managed floating exchange rate regime with effect from the same day, and exchange rates are determined based on market supply and demand with reference to a basket of currencies. The exchange rate of RMB is no longer pegged to the US dollar. The PBOC will announce the closing prices of foreign currencies (such as the US dollar) to RMB in the interbank foreign exchange markets after the closing of the markets on each working day, so as to determine the central parity for RMB trading on the next working day.

On August 5, 2008, the State Council promulgated the amended Regulations on Foreign Exchange Administration of the People's Republic of China (中華人民共和國外匯管理條例) (the "Amended Regulations on Foreign Exchange") which made significant changes on the supervisory system for foreign exchange in the PRC. Firstly, the Amended Regulations on Foreign Exchange adopted balanced treatment on the inflow and outflow of foreign capital. Incomes in foreign currencies overseas can be remitted to the PRC or remained overseas, and foreign currencies of capital account items and funds for settlement in foreign currencies can only be used according to the purposes approved by relevant competent authorities and foreign exchange administration. Secondly, the Amended Regulations on Foreign Exchange improved the RMB exchange mechanism based on market supply and demand. Thirdly, the Amended Regulations on Foreign Exchange enhanced the monitoring of cross-border capital flow in foreign currencies, whereby the state could implement necessary protection or controlling measures when material imbalance of income and expenses related to cross-border trading arise or might arise, or serious crises in the domestic economy occur or might occur. Fourthly, the Amended Regulations on Foreign Exchange enhanced the regulation and administration on foreign currency trading, and granted extensive authorization to SAFE to enhance its supervisory and administrative capacity. Foreign exchange revenue in respect of current account items may be retained or sold to financial institutions operating a foreign exchange sale or settlement business.

Before retaining foreign exchange revenue under the capital account or selling it to any financial institution operating a foreign exchange sale or settlement business, the approval of the competent foreign exchange administrative authorities shall be obtained, unless otherwise provided by the State.

Enterprises that require foreign exchange for recurring activities such as trading and payment of staff remuneration may purchase foreign exchange from designated banks, subject to the production of relevant supporting documents.

In addition, where an enterprise requires foreign exchange for the payment of dividends, such as the distribution of profits by a foreign-invested enterprise to its foreign investor, then, subject to the due payment of taxes on such dividends, the amount required for the payment of dividends may be withdrawn from funds in foreign exchange accounts maintained with designated banks and, where the amount of the funds in foreign exchange is insufficient, the enterprise may purchase additional foreign exchange from designated banks.

Convertibility of foreign exchange in respect of capital account items, including direct investments and capital contributions, is still subject to restrictions, and prior approval from SAFE must be obtained.

When conducting foreign exchange transactions, the designated banks may, based on the exchange rate published by PBOC and subject to certain limits, freely determine the applicable exchange rate.
