

Like an avid stamp collector, Power Assets scours the globe to find exceptional additions to its collection of high-quality assets in the energy sector. Only the best assets will be selected. Whether in new countries, new sectors or new technologies, they must add value to the portfolio and have the potential to deliver long-term growth. With each new asset, the Power Assets collection grows stronger and more able to power new frontiers.

A strategic global investor in the energy sector

Power Assets is a global investor in power and utility-related businesses, with interests in electricity generation, transmission and distribution, renewable energy and gas distribution.

From our origins in Hong Kong over a century ago, our operations today span global markets including the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, mainland China, Canada and Thailand. In 2013, we entered continental Europe for the first time with an acquisition in the Netherlands. Power Assets' investments comprise a mix of acquisition and green-field development activities and include power generation assets, electricity and gas distribution networks, as well as renewable energy assets.

We follow an active, sustainable business strategy that pursues success over the long term in tandem with our customers, the community we operate in as well as the environment.

Power Assets is listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong and is one of the constituent shares of the Hang Seng Index and Hang Seng Corporate Sustainability Index, as well as one of only seven Hong Kong companies to be included in the Dow Jones Sustainability Asia Pacific Index.
