Chairman

Message from the Chairman

In 2016, the global economy continued to experience significant adjustment and fluctuation during the course of recovery. Despite the complicated domestic and international environments as well as the continuous downward pressure, the general economic development in China maintained steady growth. Supply-side reform saw significant progress and the economic structure was further optimized, laying a good start for the 13th Five-Year Plan.

Under the “New Normal” of the Chinese economy, China’s banking industry faced various challenges such as weak growth in income and profit, change of development mode, more intensive external challenges, emerging risks and tightening regulatory environment, as well as tremendous opportunities. The overall operating environment maintained stable. In 2016, the Company proactively adapted to the changing macro-economic situation and regulatory policies, implemented the Phoenix Project and accelerated the structural transformation. Sound development was achieved in the following aspects:

Steady growth of operating results. The Group achieved rapid business expansion with total assets of RMB5,895,877 million as at the end of 2016, representing an increase of RMB1,375,189 million or 30.42% as compared with the end of the previous year. The net profit attributable to equity shareholders of the Company for 2016 amounted to RMB47,843 million, representing an increase of 3.76% as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year. In 2016, return on average assets and return on weighted average equity were 0.94% and 15.13%, respectively, representing a slight decrease as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year. In 2016, basic earnings per share amounted to RMB1.31, representing an increase of RMB0.01 as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year. In 2016, net assets per share attributable to ordinary shareholders of the Company amounted to RMB9.12, representing an increase of RMB0.86 as compared with the end of the previous year.

Accelerated development of strategic businesses. In 2016, the Company accelerated the transformation of its business development mode by speeding up the adjustments to product and customer structures in order to strengthen its differentiated operation capabilities. As at the end of 2016, the number of domestic corporate customers that have deposits with the Company was 839.2 thousand, representing an increase of 147.2 thousand or 21.27% as compared with the end of the previous year. As at the end of 2016, the number of domestic customers with general loans of the Company was 11,896. The Company formulated development strategies and measures for retail business with a scientific approach, and the scale of our customer base and financial assets recorded sustainable growth. As at the end of 2016, the number of retail customers with existing deposits was 30,337.6 thousand, representing an increase of 4,723.7 thousand as compared with the end of the previous year. As at the end of 2016, financial assets of personal customers amounted to RMB1,262,013 million, representing an increase of RMB91,881 million as compared with the end of the previous year. As at the end of 2016, financial assets under the management of private banking amounted to RMB296,748 million, representing an increase of RMB23,740 million, as compared with the end of the previous year.

Optimized income structure. The Group promoted the organic development of “lighter capital” operation with focuses on key industries, regions and customers. Income contribution of intermediary business continued to improve. In 2016, the Group recorded net non-interest income of RMB59,367 million, of which net fee and commission income accounted for 33.92% of the total operating income, representing an increase of 0.62 percentage points as compared with the previous year. Income contribution of retail business also further increased. In 2016, operating income from retail business of the Company amounted to RMB49,659 million, accounting for 32.24% of the total operating income, representing an increase of 2.56 percentage points as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year.

In 2016, adhering to the major operating strategies of “strengthening corporate banking, expanding retail banking and optimizing financial markets business” set up at the beginning of 2016, the Group continued to deepen the reform on its operating systems and the management demonstrated significant improvement in the following aspects:

Firstly, the Company strengthened its differentiated operation through strategic transformation, and carried out various reforms under the Phoenix Project with satisfactory results. As at the end of 2016, 26 projects under the Phoenix Project were completed successfully in two phases, achieving preliminary progress in the change of growth pattern, enhancement of operating efficiency and consolidation of basic strengths. The asset and liability commission, risk commission, marketing and development commission, information technology committee and product and business innovation commission were established to consider, approve and decide on major issues in a more scientific and efficient manner. The reform and innovation of operating systems were further enhanced to motivate the operation vitality, which has significantly improved the differentiated business strength of the Company.

Secondly, the Company continued to strengthen its corporate banking business and reinforce its professional capabilities. By enhancing the categorized management of customers and refining the distribution by industries and regions, the Company proactively grasped the opportunities of investment banking and transaction banking businesses. In 2016, the Company issued a total of RMB21,351 million credit assets securitization products, ranking first in terms of the issuance size among all joint stock commercial banks in the interbank market. In addition, the Company achieved various breakthroughs in the development of corporate assets securitization and became the first issuer of such products in various markets. The Company also facilitated the transformation and development of transaction banking business through the development of new transaction banking platforms and promotion of new payment and settlement products such as “Tender Express (招標通)”, “Market Express (市場通)”, “Cross-Bank Service (跨行寶)” and “E-Payment (e支付)”.

Thirdly, retail banking business has been expanded to proactively push forward the business transformation. Aiming to increase income, the Company endeavoured in expanding its customer group base and improving its financial management system, which supported the rapid and sound growth of the retail banking business. In 2016, operating income from the retail banking business amounted to RMB49,160 million, representing an increase of 8.02% as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year, accounting for 33.02% of the total operating income of the Company, representing an increase of 2.38 percentage points as compared with the previous year. In addition, the Company promoted the transformation and development of small business finance through enhancing cross-selling among customer groups. In 2016, total loans to small and micro enterprises amounted to RMB396,790 million. As at the end of 2016, the balance of loans and the average loan amount per account made to small and micro enterprises amounted to RMB327,136 million and RMB1,534.6 thousand, respectively.

Message from the Chairman

Fourthly, the financial markets business was optimized to continuously increase profitability. The Company continued to promote its platform construction and established interbank cooperation with 14 strategic interbank customers in 2016. In addition, the interbank liabilities structure was refined. As at the end of 2016, the balance of interbank deposits amounted to RMB255,345 million, representing an increase of 274.63%. Attributable to the innovation of the “Custody + (託管+)” model, the funds under custody of the Company as at the end of 2016 amounted to RMB7,071,366 million, representing an increase of 51.45%. With the strengthening of the brand building of “Apex Asset Management (非凡資產管理)”, the scale of wealth management products grew by 34.89% to RMB1,427,816 million as at the end of 2016. The Company ranked top in the industry in terms of the growth rate of wealth management products.

Fifthly, the Company expanded its internet finance business and developed an internet finance ecological circle. Direct banking, mobile banking, WeChat banking, online banking and other online financial products and services were further innovated with increasing brand influence. The number of our direct banking customers and the scale of financial assets exceeded 5 million and RMB50 billion, respectively. As at the end of 2016, the number of mobile banking customers of the Company reached 24,751.4 thousand, representing an increase of 5,725.7 thousand as compared with the end of the previous year. Frequency of transactions conducted by the customers of the Company ranked top in the industry. As at the end of 2016, the number of the WeChat banking customers was 16,872.8 thousand, ranking top in the industry. The transaction replacement rate of personal online banking was 99.28%.

Sixthly, by deepening its international development strategy, the Company enhanced its cross-border financial services. The Company steadily expanded its overseas institutions. The Hong Kong Branch of the Company focused on the development of three major business segments, namely corporate banking, financial markets and private banking and wealth management, as well as the promotion of overseas mergers, acquisitions and privatization projects. In 2016, the Company completed the issuance of various large-scale bonds with a total amount of USD8 billion. Upon progressively obtaining relevant business licenses, CMBC International has become an important strategic platform for the diversified and international development of the Company, which enhanced the financial support for the overseas expansion of Chinese enterprises and development under the “Going Global” strategy and the “Belt and Road Initiative”.

Seventhly, smart functions of outlets were enhanced through network optimization. The Company has established an efficient distribution network, which covered 118 cities in Mainland China and consisted of 124 branches and 1,119 sub-branches and outlets as at the end of 2016. In order to improve the operation and production capacity of the community market, the community financial business model was comprehensively refined. As at the end of 2016, a total of 1,694 community sub-branches have obtained licenses, representing an increase of 7.49%. Financial assets and the number of customers of community outlets amounted to RMB166,356 million and 4,620.6 thousand, representing an increase of 39.79% and 16.10%, respectively.

Eighthly, capital was replenished orderly and the brand image of the Company continued to improve. In 2016, the Company timely grasped the favorable opportunities to increase external financing, and issued RMB20,000 million tier-two capital bonds and USD1,439 million offshore preference shares, attaining a relative high capital adequacy rate. During the Reporting Period, the Company ranked 221st in the “Fortune Global 500” by Fortune magazine, significantly up by 60 positions as compared to the previous year. The Company also ranked 33rd in the “Top 1000 World Banks” by the Banker, a UK magazine, up by 5 positions as compared to the previous year.

The achievements above were made with the innovation and endeavour of the employees of the Company as well as the care and support from the customers, investors and the society. On behalf of the Company, I would like to express our heartfelt appreciation to all members of the society for their care and support for the development of China Minsheng Bank!

In 2017, the world economy will remain at bottom consolidation stage and lack growth momentum. Domestically, the year of 2017 will be an important year for the implementation of the 13th Five-Year Plan as well as the promotion of the supply-side structural reform. It is expected that the Chinese government will focus on adopting stable macro-economic policies to stabilize the market expectation and introducing key reforms to boost confidence in development in the near future. As China’s banking industry has entered the critical period of reform and transformation, a bank with accurate strategies, efficient management and sound operation will surely speed up in achieving its transformation and breakthroughs.

To cope with changes to external conditions and needs for internal development, the Company has formulated its mid-to-long-term development strategy and three-year development plan, aiming to become a “distinctive and globally competitive platform-based financial service provider with cross-sector and win-win vision and intelligence”, and to become a role-model bank with core competitiveness and sustainable development in the financial markets of China. As a Chinese proverb goes, “a long journey begins with a single step”. Adhering to the principle of “From the People, For the People (為民而生·與民共生)”, the Company is committed to developing an upgraded China Minsheng Bank featured with digitalization and internationalization with professional and integrated services. The Company will devote to improving the return of its shareholders, the satisfaction of customers as well as the market reputation, in order to develop China Minsheng Bank into a time-honoured brand with sustainable and sound business base.

HONG Qi
Chairman of the Board of Directors
China Minsheng Banking Corp., Ltd.

30 March 2017

Mr. ZHENG Wanchun

President

Message from the President

In 2016, under the complicated and tough international and domestic economic situations, the CPC Party Committee and the operation management team of Minsheng Bank had strictly complied with the instructions of the CPC Central Committee and the State Council, as well as the requirements of the regulatory authorities, to cater for the needs of the real economy and promote the supply-side structural reform. The operation and management of the Company had improved steadily while supporting the development of the economy and society. The Company had implemented the decisions made by the Board and carried out the Phoenix Project, thereby achieving initial progress in reform and innovation. By enhancing internal management and reducing costs and increasing efficiency through various measures, an organic development module with capital efficiency had been initially established. During the year, the Company maintained a relatively fast growing asset size, further optimized the business structure, achieved significant results in terms of risk prevention and control, and steadily improved the operation results. The Company also effectively implemented the comprehensive strengthening of the CPC's disciplines, fulfilled its social responsibility, and pushed forward the targeted poverty alleviation tasks, which had contributed to an improved social influence.

1. Equipping ourselves and further improving operation management. Under the extremely difficult operating environment in 2016, adhering to the working guidelines of “strengthening corporate banking, expanding retail banking, optimizing financial markets business, enhancing small business finance and improving community finance”, the Company had adopted a “five-in-one” unique brand strategy in the aspects of customer base, businesses, functions, systems and products, thereby further achieving new progress in operation and management. As at the end of 2016, the assets of the Group amounted to RMB5,895,877 million, representing an increase of RMB1,375,189 million or 30.42% as compared with the beginning of the year. In 2016, the operating income amounted to RMB154,051 million, representing an increase of 0.20%. In 2016, net profit attributable to equity shareholders of the Company amounted to RMB47,843 million, representing an increase of 3.76%, and the cost-to-income ratio reached a historical low to 31.21%. Our outlets have covered all provinces in China.

2. Confronting with tough operating circumstances and maintaining stable assets quality. Prevention of financial risks was one of the major priorities of the Company in 2016. The Company has promoted the operating philosophy of law-abiding operation and continuously enhanced the comprehensive risk management and internal compliance management. It had also disposed of problem assets through various measures while enhancing the assets quality of new businesses. The impaired loans ratio was 1.68% as at the end of the year, which was 0.06 percentage points lower than the average of the industry. The Company had satisfied all the regulatory requirements on assets quality indicators including capital adequacy ratio, provision coverage ratio, liquidity ratios and stability of deposits. As a result, the Company maintained a stable assets quality and a solid risk prevention system.

Message from the President

3. Working consistently and implementing comprehensive reform and innovation. In 2016, the Company continued to accelerate the reform and innovation and actively promoted its transformation. Among which, the Phoenix Project had been implemented to realize the transformation of overall growth pattern and governance model. Designs of 26 projects under the Phoenix Project were completed in two phases, which facilitated the effort of cost reduction and effectiveness improvement, pushed forward the innovation in products and businesses and further enhanced the foundation for management. Meanwhile, we formulated the “Three-Year Development Plan (2017–2019) (《三年發展規劃(2017–2019)》)”, which clearly states our development vision in the new era. In accordance with the guidelines of “strengthening corporate banking, expanding retail banking, optimizing financial markets business, enhancing small business finance and improving community finance”, the Company implemented its policies in different categories and put more efforts in structural adjustment to lower risk weight and speed up the reform and transformation.

4. Building a role-model bank by inheritance and innovation. As a bank with the most vitality and innovation awareness, in 2016, the Company proactively innovated to create its “five-in-one” brand features in terms of customer base, businesses, functions, systems and products, strengthened the cooperation between the Company and the enterprises and focused on serving non-state-owned enterprises (“NSOEs”) and small and micro enterprises to build a leading bank in internet finance and wealth management. While reinforcing the sustainable development and competitive edges, Minsheng Bank strived to establish itself as a role-model bank with core competitiveness and sustainability.

5. Proactively performing the social responsibilities. In 2016, the Company duly performed its social responsibilities and fulfilled targeted poverty alleviation obligations. During the year, the Company donated RMB34,340.4 thousand for poverty alleviation and set aside RMB4,071 million as targeted poverty alleviation loans. As a result, Hua County in Henan Province, a targeted poverty alleviation county, has been lifted out of predicament. The Company supported social charity and continued the “Power of Minsheng’s Love — ME Charity Innovation Funding Scheme (我決定民生愛的力量 — ME公益創新資助計劃)” to fund the innovative projects of 21 charity organizations. The Company won various awards including the “Best Green Finance Award of Social Responsibility of the Year (年度社會責任最佳綠色金融獎)” from China Banking Association and the “Outstanding Contribution to Charity in 2016 (2016年度傑出公益勳章)” from the China Foundation for Poverty Alleviation, and ranked first in the Social Responsibility Development Index of China’s Banking Industry (中國銀行業社會責任發展指數) and third in the Social Responsibility Development Index of Top 100 Private Enterprises (民營企業100強社會責任發展指數) in the Bluebook for the Corporate Social Responsibility (2016) (企業社會責任藍皮書(2016)) published by the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, thereby establishing a good social image.

Message from the President

6. Comprehensively reinforcing the construction of the Party and corporate culture. In 2016, we focused on the “studies on the theoretical and practical issues of Party building (兩學一做)” and organized a series of activities in relation to the 95th anniversary of the founding of the CPC and the 80th anniversary of the victory of Long March, so as to strengthen the promotion, investigation and inspection of education and enhance the comprehensive construction of the Party and push forward the implementation of core tasks of the Bank. In addition, the Company further deepened the development of corporate culture by issuing the Minsheng DNA — Handbook on Corporate Culture of China Minsheng Bank (《民生DNA — 中國民生銀行企業文化手冊》), which confirms the core value and the featured corporate culture system of Minsheng that serves as a milestone in the construction of a time-honored bank.

The year of 2017 will be an important year for the promotion of supply-side structural reform as well as the year of the convention of the 19th National Congress of the CPC. In the coming year, opportunities will come along with challenges. Minsheng Bank will be in pursuit of the spirit of the economic working meeting of the central government and meetings of the CBRC, constantly serve the promotion of the supply-side structural reform and prioritize risk control. The Company will also adhere to the prudent and compliant operations, actively implement the operating strategies of “increasing income, reducing cost, controlling non-performing loan, replenishing capital, adjusting structure and expanding customer base”, and focus on the six major tasks of “strengthening corporate banking, expanding retail banking, optimizing financial markets business, highlighting internet finance business, improving comprehensive operation and consolidating risk management”. By further implementing the Phoenix Project and the Three-Year Development Plan, the Company will continue to strengthen the construction of the Party and internal management, perform its social responsibilities in a prudent manner, carry out its targeted poverty alleviation obligations and further enhance its social image and brand value.

On behalf of the CPC Party Committee and the operation management team of Minsheng Bank, I would like to take this opportunity to express my earnest gratitude to the regulatory authorities, shareholders, the Board, the Supervisory Board, investors and all members of the society for their consistent support, which has enabled the Company to march forward without distractions. Thanks for the hard work and cooperation of all our staff, who have contributed their wisdom and talent for the development of Minsheng Bank. In the coming year, the Company will focus on its targets and exert great effort to create values, serve the society and continue to record the reform and development of Minsheng Bank enthusiastically, energetically and practically!

Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

I. Review of Economic and Financial Conditions and Government Policies

In 2016, the world economy was still struggling to recover from the prolonged aftermath of the global financial crisis. The world economy was full of uncertainties brought by many issues, in particular the Brexit and the election of Donald Trump as the president of the United States. The deep and structural problems of the world economy in respect of growth model, driving factors and governance system still remained. The divergence of economic cycles and monetary policies among various countries had significant impacts on the economic and financial operations of China through changes in export demand, capital flow, exchange rates fluctuation and price transmission.

2016 saw the commencement of the 13th Five-Year Plan and was the first year of supply-side reform of the economic structure of China. In spite of complex internal and external conditions and prolonged downward pressure, the economy of China remained its steady growth momentum at a slow pace. Preliminary results were achieved from the supply-side structural reform as progress was made in the reductions of overcapacity, inventory, leveraging level and costs as well as the support of less developed sectors. The proactive fiscal policy, prudent monetary policy and properly expanded total demand created a favorable environment for the supply-side structural reform. Under the “New Normal” of economy, banks in China faced many challenges such as slower growth in revenue and profit, enlarged deviation in growths of profit and business scale, changes in development approach, severe unfavorable external impacts, multiple risk factors and stricter regulatory environment. The banking industry had to carry out structural reform and enhance the corporate governance so as to improve its overall adaptability and support the real economy. To cope with the changes in business environment and support the development of real economy, the Company has adopted the following effective measures:

1. The Company emphasized the importance of the rule of law and development of corporate culture in its sustainable development. It pushed forward the stipulation of the Basic Law of China Minsheng Bank (《中國民生銀行基本法》) and issued the Minsheng DNA — Handbook on Corporate Culture of China Minsheng Bank (《民生DNA — 中國民生銀行企業文化手冊》). The vision and core values of the Company have been incorporated into the DNA of the Company to form the core competitiveness of its own. The corporate governance is continuously improved and enhanced to ensure law-abiding operation and to make the Company a time-honored bank.

2. The Company adopted strategies as important guides for its development. The Medium to Long Term Development Strategies of China Minsheng Bank for 2016–2025 (《中國民生銀行中長期發展戰略(2016–2025)》) were implemented and the preparation of the Development Plan of China Minsheng Bank for 2017–2019 (《中國民生銀行2017–2019年發展規劃》) was completed to continuously improve the strategic management system.

Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

3. Further progress was made in the strategic reform of the Company. Fruitful results were achieved under the Phoenix Project. At the end of 2016, 26 projects have been completed in two phases, and the Company has seen preliminary results in the change of growth model, the improvement of operation efficiency and the reinforcement of the foundation for future development.

4. Supporting measures were put in place for the implementation of business reform. Five committees in respect of assets and liabilities, risks, marketing and development, information technology and products and businesses innovation were established to consider and approve major issues of the Company in an efficient and scientific way. The Company has completed nine major reforms and established relevant organizations and mechanisms for the management of rural banks, integration of IT functions as well as disposal of non-performing assets.

5. The Company further improved its customer base and income structure. The Company continued to improve its customer structure based on the orientation of “NSOEs as the focus, general public as the important development trend and state-owned enterprises as the backbone”. The Company promoted the organic growth of light-capital business, increased the income of intermediary business and strengthened the business platform for interbank business. The Company focused on the development of business for major sectors, major geographic areas and major customers. Positive results were achieved from the adjustment to the structure of customer, business and income.

6. The Company further innovated its major products and business models. The Company has launched the Implementation Measures on Product and Business Innovation (《產品與業務創新推動實施辦法》) so as to effectively regulate the innovation of products and businesses according to the well-established system norm. Major achievements were made in many business areas including investment banking, transaction banking, direct banking and interbank businesses. The Company introduced secured accounts which is the first of its kind in the banking industry and maintained at the leading position in business innovation.

7. The Company strengthened its comprehensive risk management system. The management capability was significantly enhanced through the establishment of a comprehensive risk management system under the principles of “centralized control, independent assessment, standardized criteria, classified authorization, mutual appraisal and index-measured performance”. The management of portfolio was improved. A risk early-warning system was put on trial to significantly enhance the control of compliance risk.

Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

8. Management of the Company was further refined. The composition of assets and liabilities was optimized, while the internal and external pricing capabilities were continuously improved. The promotion of financial value was strengthened and the professional management was enhanced, so as to fully utilize the guiding effect of the financial budget and allocation of financial resources. The accounting system and financial reporting system were improved. Five major systems for human resources management were launched and initial progress was made in the establishment of talent development system. A performance management system was established under “centralized logic, management and platform”, which contributed to an impressive result of refined management.

II. Overview of Operations

In 2016, the global economy experienced adjustment and fluctuation during the course of recovery, while China’s economy faced multiple challenges in the course of structural reform. The overall growth in operating performance of the banking industry slowed down while the pressure on asset qualities was still high. The Company took proactive measures in coping with the changes in the operating environments at home and abroad and effectively supported the development of real economy so as to maintain its sustainable and healthy growth. The Phoenix Project was successfully launched and implemented in an orderly manner, under the major operation objectives of “strengthening corporate banking, expanding retail banking and optimizing financial markets business” as set out at the beginning of the year. The Company continued to push forward operation system reform and strengthened the comprehensive risk management system. The Company successfully maintained a relatively high expansion rate of the scale of its assets, further optimized the business structure, strengthened the risk management capability and steadily improved the operation results.

Recoveries	1,849	1,165
Unwinding of discount	-970	-1,032
Exchange gain or loss	88	74
Ending balance	64,394	50,423

Method for assessing allowances for impairment losses on loans:

On reviewing the book values of the Group's loans as at the balance sheet date, if objective evidence shows the loan is impaired and the event triggering such loan impairment will have an adverse effect on the expected future cash flow that can be reliably assessed, the Group will recognize the impairment loss of the loan and write off the value of the loan to its recoverable amount. The written off amount will be charged to the profit or loss account of the relevant period as impairment losses. Besides an individual objective evidence-based impairment assessment for each loan of significant amount, the Group reviews its loan portfolio as a whole to assess impairment for loans which are not of significant amount individually. If no objective evidence shows there is loan impairment to a loan when assessed individually, whether the amount of the loan in question is substantial or not, it will be included in a portfolio of loans of similar risk profile for collective impairment assessment. If a loan has been individually assessed and recognized at its impaired value, no collective impairment provision is required.

VIII. Other Financial Information

(I) Items relating to fair value measurement

1. Internal control system relating to fair value measurement

In order to regulate fair value measurement, improve the quality of financial information, strengthen risk management and protect the legitimate interests of investors and all relevant parties, the Company has formulated the Administrative Measures regarding Fair Value (《公允價值管理辦法》) based on the Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises (《企業會計準則》), which expanded the scope of fair value measurement to cover the initial measurement of certain financial assets and financial liabilities; and clarified and refined the principles, methods and procedures for determining fair value. With the aim to enhance the rationality and reliability of the valuation of fair value, the Company has assigned specific working responsibilities to relevant managing departments for fair value management so as to continuously strengthen research on the valuation of its asset and liability businesses and improve internal valuation capabilities. The Company will also gradually optimize and employ the valuation models and systems and strengthen the verification of prices obtained externally. Moreover, the Company has correspondingly implemented internal control measures over the process of fair value measurement, including double-checking on price enquiry and confirmation, and adopting an evaluation procedure on fair value measurement which requires the person-in charge and reviewer to sign off in order to give effect to the measurement. Furthermore, the Internal Audit Department actively followed and rectified related problems by supervising and checking the range determined for fair value measurement and measurement methodology and procedure, so as to improve internal control within the Company.

2. Financial instruments measured at fair value

The Company's financial instruments measured at fair value include: financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, derivative financial instrument, available-for-sale securities and precious metals. In particular, the valuation methods of financial assets at fair value through the profit or loss and the bond investment of the available-for-sale security investments were listed as follows: for RMB bonds, in principle the valuation provided by China Central Depository & Clearing Co., Ltd. would apply; for bonds denominated in foreign currencies, market value was determined through a combination of Bloomberg quotes and enquiries; the fair value of most derivative financial instruments was obtained directly from quotes of market prices and assessment model, while the fair value of certain derivative financial instruments in which customers are interested was obtained from market enquiries; and the valuation of foreign exchange option was obtained from Bloomberg quotes. Derivative financial instruments mainly consisted of interest rate swap contracts to which customers are parties and proprietary interest rate swap contracts, the market risks of which had been hedged. The changes in fair value had little impact on the profit of the Company. Changes in fair value of available-for-sale securities were considered when calculating shareholders' equity.

(II) Overdue and outstanding liabilities

As at the end of the Reporting Period, the Group had no material outstanding liabilities that were overdue.

Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

IX. Performance of Key Business Lines

(I) Corporate banking

During the Reporting Period, in response to new challenges and opportunities arising from the changes of the internal and external operating environments, the Company adopted two major strategies as “one hand on operation development and the other on transformation and improvement”, and focused on the development of “Three Premiums and One Distinctive (三優一特)” customer positioning. Products and services of transaction banking and investment banking were significantly enhanced. By increasing the service support for major regions and infrastructure projects, the Company strove to develop as an efficient platform for quality state-owned enterprises, premier bank for quality NSOEs and sound partner of quality listed companies, so as to promote the expansion of corporate banking business of the Company.

1. Customer base of corporate banking

During the Reporting Period, the Company further expanded the customer development channels based on internet platform and new payment and settlement functions. By expanding the base of strategic customers and institutional customers, and increasing investment to the development of upstream and downstream customers throughout the industry chain, the number of new customers and settlement customers increased rapidly. As at the end of the Reporting Period, the number of domestic corporate customers with deposits of the Company increased by 147.2 thousand to 839.2 thousand, representing an increase of 21.27% as compared with the end of previous year. As at the end of the Reporting Period, the number of domestic customers with general loans balance of the Company was 11,896. The restructuring of loan customer base saw remarkable progress, resulting in significant growth in the number of quality customers and the proportion of their balance of loans in total loans.

2. Corporate deposits and loans

During the Reporting Period, the Company strengthened the development of its settlement business platform and online transaction financing platform while substantially reducing core cost-related liabilities. The Hong Kong Branch of the Company has successfully become an overseas business platform for the Company after five years of development, which enhanced the financial supports to Chinese enterprises for their overseas expansion in the process of the implementation of “Going global” strategy and “Belt and Road Initiative” as well as the globalization of Renminbi.

Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

In response to the volatility of global economy and economic slowdown in Mainland China, the Hong Kong Branch of the Company adjusted its business structure and implemented a strategic transformation by focusing on three major businesses, namely corporate business, financial markets business as well as private banking and wealth management business. In pursuit of the targets of “larger scale, adjusted structure, increased revenue and risk control”, the Hong Kong Branch strove to make the most of market opportunities and favorable conditions. While progressively developing its regular businesses such as onshore guarantees for offshore loans, onshore guarantees for onshore loans, syndicated loans, non-bank credits + bond investments, the Hong Kong Branch enhanced the Minsheng brand reputation in providing cross-border investment banking services in line with the national policy of “Belt and Road Initiative”. Efforts were made to further expand the “commercial banking and investment banking” businesses and expedite the process of overseas mergers and acquisitions and privatisation projects during the period. Greater emphasis was put on overseas bond issuances. The Hong Kong Branch successfully launched several large-scale bond issuances and raised an aggregate of USD8,000 million during the Reporting Period, which demonstrated its professional capability in issuing and underwriting bonds amidst intensive international competition. Capitalizing on market opportunities, the Hong Kong Branch agilely established a cross-border wealth management platform to provide customers with integrated financial services covering both domestic and overseas businesses such as cross-border account settlement, investment and wealth management, global asset allocation, financial security and inheritance.

Through optimizing the corporate business and expanding both the financial markets and retail businesses, the Hong Kong Branch achieved a stable growth as bolstered by these three major business segments, which effectively enhanced its competitiveness and influence in the international market. The Company received several awards from internationally renowned financial media in recognition of its efforts, including the “Loan of the Year (年度最佳貸款)” from IFR Asia, an authoritative Asian financial media, “Best Leveraged Loan” from Finance Asia and “2016 Corporate Finance Project (2016企業融資項目大獎)” from Bloomberg Businessweek.

As at the end of the Reporting Period, the Hong Kong Branch had total assets of HKD159,157 million, among which, deposits and placements with other banks, corporate loans and investment bonds amounted to HKD76,948 million, HKD58,646 million and HKD22,374 million, respectively. Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

X. Risk Management

The principle of the Company's risk management is "Creating Value by Managing Risks". It focuses on the coordinated development of quality, profit and scale. The objective of the risk management of the Company is to enhance its risk management by actively implementing the Basel III and establishing a comprehensive risk management system.

During the Reporting Period, in response to the changing economic condition and the liberalization of interest rates, the Company implemented a comprehensive reform of the risk management system. After the reform, the Risk Management & Assets Monitoring and Control Department, Legal Affairs and Compliance Department, Assets Operation and Disposal Department, Corporate Business Risk Management Department, Retail Business Risk Management Department and Financial Markets Risk Management Department have been established for risk management. The Risk Management & Assets Monitoring and Control Department is responsible for the management of all the risks of the Company. The Legal Affairs and Compliance Department is responsible for the management of compliance risk, legal risk, operation risk and the establishment of internal control system of the Company. The Assets Operation and Disposal Department is responsible for management of corporate impaired assets of the Company. The risk management departments of corporate business, retail business and financial markets are responsible for the comprehensive risk management of their business sectors, respectively.

(I) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that a borrower or a counterparty defaults in making repayments in a timely manner in full amount for whatever reasons. Under the coordination of the Risk Management Committee of the Company, a platform consisting of risk management strategies, portfolio management and risk quantification and measurement tools have been established for the strategic implementation and balance of risks, capital and returns and for the application of results of rules of Basel III. The risk management system covers the whole process including pre-approval investigation, approval review, post disbursement management, collection and preservation of assets. Credit risks of on- and off-balance sheet items and non-credit business are also strictly controlled. Under the new economic circumstances, the Company strived to strengthen the initiative and foresight of credit risk management in line with the changes in the macroeconomic and financial situation.

During the Reporting Period, in face of increasing risks, the Company proactively took a series of measures to ensure the sustainable and prudent development of all business lines, such as tightening the standards for credit approval, business restructuring, application of risk measurement tools, innovation in risk management approaches and strengthening asset quality management.

Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

Firstly, the Company carried out strategic transformation and structural adjustment. The Company issued the 2016 General Guidelines and Portfolio Management Guidelines of Risk Policy (《2016年風險政策總體導向及組合管理指引》), which restated the risk policy and collective management direction for all business lines including corporate, retail, credit cards, interbank credits and financial markets, and adjusted and refined the portfolio management objectives to “exit, stop, restrict, control and eliminate” from various dimensions such as industries, regions, customers and products and so forth, so as to centralize risks and further optimize and improve the asset portfolio risk. Secondly, the Company adjusted the means and structure of corporate business guarantees by increasing the proportion of customers with higher credit ratings and reducing credits to industries with excessive capacities. The Company improved its corporate credit approval process and strengthened its risk warning ability. Through carrying out reform of credit approval system on digital platform, the Company fully utilized internet and big data technology in the credit approval process. The Company also optimized its credit approval process by setting up a new digital platform to support corporate credit approval. The risk warning system was established as planned. The Company optimized the philosophy, regime, organization, procedures and system of its risk warning management so as to fully support its business growth. Thirdly, the Company further reconstructed the retail businesses to increase the proportion of high-quality customers and mortgage assets. By emphasizing the customer-oriented management philosophy, the Company boosted the results of layered management and cross sales. It expanded the application of big data, information technology and computing techniques in research and development and modified and reintegrated the risk management technology system. By standardizing the business model and optimizing the operation and procedures as well as the model of risk monitoring and management, the Company improved the management efficiency and promoted the customer experience. Fourthly, the Company intensified its research on the financial markets and implemented its financial markets risk-oriented policies. The Company optimized the appraisal model to refine the access standard and appraisal techniques. By strengthening the management of investment portfolio and adjusting the structure and proportion from time to time, the Company controlled the leverage ratio and concentration for the portfolio investment. By attracting interbank customers, it expanded the scale of interbank business and increased the share of profits. Risk management was incorporated into front office business through strengthened risk control of capital markets. Fifthly, the Company launched the program of “Year of Asset Quality Enhancement (資產質量攻堅年)”, in order to enhance its asset management through strengthening business line accountability, market mechanism, resource allocation, control and incentives, structural adjustment, investigation and inspection, inventory management and innovation management. As such, the asset quality was generally ensured through various means of asset quality management. Lastly, risk measurement tools were introduced and upgraded. Since the adoption of the Basel III, the Company vigorously promoted the application of the results of internal rating to the whole process of risk management. Various aspects such as credit access, risk authorization, quota setting and risk report have been integrated with such results. Greater efforts are also made to apply the results of internal rating to other aspects including capital allocation, impairment allowances, loan pricing and performance assessment.

Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

(II) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk refers to the risk of a commercial bank which is unable to obtain sufficient funds at reasonable costs in a timely manner to cope with increase in assets or fulfill debt obligations despite its solvent position. The targets of the liquidity risk management of the Company during the Reporting Period were to improve the management and measurement of liquidity risk and to strengthen the abilities to identify, monitor and measure liquidity risk, and refine control and management so as to achieve optimal balance among liquidity, safety and profitability pursuant to the development strategies of the Company. During the Reporting Period, in face of the regulatory requirements, increasingly complicated market environment, accelerated financial disintermediation and the liberalization of interest rate, the Company was under immense pressure of liquidity risk management. At the beginning of the Reporting Period, the Company determined to maintain liquidity risk tolerance at a relatively stable level to ensure sufficient liquidity for the development of its businesses and fulfill regulatory requirements. While ensuring sufficient realizable assets of high liquidity under the pressure, it also limited risk exposure at a tolerable risk level for enhancing capital utilization efficiency.

During the Reporting Period, the Company enhanced the measurement and monitoring levels and refined the full-covering management system of liquidity risk. In addition to the restructuring of assets and liabilities and allocation of assets, the Company thoroughly studied the changes in gaps of future cash flows of capital business and monitored and managed interbank business as well as deposits and loans business with different approaches, in particular during sensitive periods, so as to be well-prepared for the risk hedging or risk overlay resulting from the fluctuation in capital business and deposit and loan business. The Company also refined liquidity risk indicators for accurate measurement of liquidity risk. The Company closely monitored the changes in monetary policies and put effort in analyzing interest rate in the market. The Company also proactively participated in the operation of various monetary tools in open market launched by the central bank. In addition, the Company enhanced the stress testing on liquidity and refined its risk warning and contingency plan. The Company paid close attention to changes in policies and markets and its own major operation policies, including the effect on liquidity of the changes in asset and liability management policies in addition to carrying out existing risk management policies. The Company also evaluated liquidity risk periodically and made adjustment when necessary.

(III) Market risk

Market risk refers to the risk of adverse changes in market prices (interest rates, exchange rates, share prices and commodity prices), inflicting losses in on- and off-balance sheet businesses of commercial banks. The Company managed its interest rate risk, exchange rate risk, stock risk and commodity risk in accordance with the regulatory requirements and the rules of Basel III. The Company further improved its market risk management system in the areas of quota management, measurement, middle office supervision, stress test and contingency management to cope with the fast-changing and innovative banking industry.

Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

During the Reporting Period, against the backdrop of greater market fluctuation within shorter span of time, more complex “New Normal” and further interest rate liberalization, the Company steadily managed various types of market risk using a comprehensive market risk management system. Firstly, the Company refined its management on the interest rate risk of bank accounts, enhanced its management on interest rate risk of foreign assets and liabilities and improved the measurement on the market risk. Secondly, confronted with greater currency market fluctuations, the Company reasonably controlled the foreign currency exposure, kept track of the limits of currency risk, explored the market opportunities and strengthened the management under the currency fluctuation. Thirdly, the Company continued to improve the management on trading book risks. Through wider application of internal modeling of market risk management in the core areas including daily management, risk report, stress test and capital measurement, the middle-office risk management system was integrated into the front office business. Fourthly, the coordination on the market risk management was further improved. By refining the coordination system between the market risk management and the management of assets and liabilities, the Company increased the support of the strategies and policies of market risks for the allocation of assets and liabilities and business planning.

(IV) Operational risk

Operational risk refers to the risk of loss due to deficient and flawed internal procedures, personnel and IT system or external events. The operational risk of the Company mainly comprises internal and external fraud, employment system, safety of working places, and events related to customers, products and operation, damages of tangible assets, interruption of business, failure of IT system, implementation, delivery and process management.

During the Reporting Period, in order to improve operational risk management and ensure business continuity, the Company implemented and continued to improve relevant measures. Firstly, the Company optimized the three major risk management tools and combined its strategic reform and operational focus to enhance the management system. As such, a solid foundation was laid for operational risk control and self-assessment, major risk indicators and collection of lost data. Secondly, the Company exerted effort in enhancing management of business continuity. Based on the implementation of existing business continuity management, the Company conducted a comprehensive evaluation on and optimized the business continuity system, identified the relationship between important business and information system and facilitated emergency measures for disasters. Thirdly, in respect of outsourced business risks, the Company conducted a prospective study and formulated evaluation models for outsourced projects and service providers, improved accuracy of valuation, strengthened risk control and investigation over outsourced projects as well as improved information safety management over outsourcing service providers and staff. Fourthly, the Company conducted evaluations on IT risk management and promoted strategies and measures of IT risk control in each business line.

Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

The Company continued to strengthen the inspection of compliance and internal control to facilitate problem rectification and risk control. Firstly, the Company enhanced the inspection system of compliance and internal control by distributing guidelines such as the Administrative Measures for Inspection of Compliance and Internal Control Risks of China Minsheng Bank (《中國民生銀行合規內控檢查管理辦法》) and the Administrative Measures for Rectification of Compliance and Internal Control Risks of China Minsheng Bank (《中國民生銀行合規內控風險問題整改管理辦法》) to set norms for the flow of inspection and rectification throughout the Company. Secondly, the Company co-ordinated and formulated an annual inspection plan for compliance and internal control, recognized key items to be inspected and strengthened co-ordination and management of the inspection. It urged different institutions of the Company to strengthen risk control and improve risk management through conducting risk inspection. Meanwhile, the headquarters conducted inspection, investigation and research over invoicing, off-balance sheet business and mortgage loans in order to strengthen control of major risk factors. Thirdly, the Company carried out the special inspection project of “two enhancements and two controls” with double checking system for rectification and accountability. Supervising requirements were fully implemented while opportunity was captured by the company to boost its overall management, which effectively raised the awareness and continuity of risk control and prevention.

(V) Country risk

Country risk refers to the risk of borrower or debtor in a certain country or region failing or unwilling to repay debts to financial institutions in the banking industry, or the financial institutions in the banking industry in a country or region suffered losses or incurring other losses due to economic, political and social changes and incidents in such country or region.

During the Reporting Period, the Company continued to comply with the requirements of the Administrative Measures on Country Risk of China Minsheng Bank (《中國民生銀行國別風險管理辦法》) for country risk management, and set the standards for the entry and concentration for overseas institutions. The Company integrated the country risk management with the rating of financial institutions and quota management. The Company not only included country risk management into the risk rating and quota approval procedures for overseas customers, but also adopted the concept of country risk management in the classification management of foreign business.

(VI) Reputation risk

Reputation risk refers to the risk of negative evaluation of commercial banks and the overall banking industry by relevant interested parties, the media and the society as a result of the poor operation or management and other actions in breach of the national laws and regulations, social ethical standards or applicable internal rules by the commercial banks or their staff, or due to other external customers or events.

Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

Reputation risk management of the Company refers to daily management of reputation risk and proper handling of incidents with reputation risk through establishing and formulating reputation risk management mechanisms and rules to eliminate the adverse impacts by various methods, so as to prevent reputation risk actively and minimizing the losses and negative impacts on the public, and thereby achieving the general objective of reputation risk management.

During the Reporting Period, the Company fully implemented the Guidelines for the Management of Reputation Risk of Commercial Banks (《商業銀行聲譽風險管理指引》) and the Administrative Measures on Reputation Risk of China Minsheng Bank (《中國民生銀行聲譽風險管理辦法》). The Company continued to carry out external promotion, establish and improve internal reputation risk management mechanism by integrating the establishment of risk linkage system. Through issuing Mechanism for Minimizing Reputation Risk of China Minsheng Bank (《中國民生銀行聲譽風險處置機制》), the Company has optimized and refined its system and mechanism for three years. The Company also translated and published “The Reputation Risk Handbook: Surviving and Thriving in the Age of Hyper-Transparency”, which enhanced the Company’s reputation risk management and also served as useful reference to financial institutions and other industries. Through investigating and monitoring reputation risk, the Company analyzed various exposed risk information. Risk alerts on the source and trend were given. The Company also improved the communication between departments of the headquarters, institutions at all levels and external units, so as to conduct re-evaluation.

(VII) Anti-money laundering

Under the risk-oriented supervision philosophy, the Company strived to comply with regulatory requirements and meet the demand from customers. Internally, the Company intensively managed its institutions, staff and business. Through implementing standardized, clear and practical administrative measures, the Company achieved remarkable results in implementing regulatory measures, improving internal management, preventing external risk, prevalence of education and optimisation of functions of system, which further enhanced the effectiveness of the refined management of anti-money laundering.

During the Reporting Period, the Company fulfilled its regulatory obligation by effectively implementing regulatory requirements and including such requirements in its internal management. The Company also exerted great efforts in monitoring annual evaluation. The Company further optimized the upper level of anti-money laundering and its supports by defining the management duties of departments and improving the regulation, evaluation and standardization management of domestic and overseas institutions. The Company established and optimized the management system of risk evaluation of products/correspondent banks and other weak areas. The Company also enhanced the prevention and control of sanctions, terrorism, fraud and other risks. Through the provision of training to employees and investigation and monitoring, the Company cultivated anti-money laundering culture in daily operation of all institutions and conduct of employees. The Company also further improved its risk prevention and control and management of anti-money laundering through enhancing the effectiveness of monitoring of systems.

During the Reporting Period, there were no domestic and overseas institutions and staff of the Company being found to have participated in or be involved in any money laundering and terrorist financing activities.

XI. Prospects and Measures

(I) Competition and development of the banking industry

In 2017, the domestic and international economic and financial conditions will remain complicated. From an international perspective, the global economy will still be under the stages of adjustment and consolidation. After the slowest growth in 2016 since the past six years, it is expected that the global economic growth will moderately pick up in 2017. Due to the prolonged problems of inadequate adjustment of the global economic structure, lack of new economic growth point, and the intensified global aging population and wealth gap, the global economy is still struggling. In addition, the wake of global trade protectionism is expected to hinder the global economic rebound. Fed rate hike will remain moderate. The Eurozone will be in the face of uncertainties including major elections and crisis in the banking industry while the United Kingdom will commence the Brexit negotiation. Slow economic recovery in Japan is expected, economic growth in emerging markets will be further differentiated, and the diverse economic recovery process and monetary policies between countries will continue.

To China, 2017 will be a crucial year for the implementation of “13th Five-Year Plan” and deepening of the supply-side structural reform. Currently, China’s economy is still undergoing the transition from fast to moderately fast growth rate. It will not be easy to achieve the growth target of over 6.5%. The government should hold firm its supply-side structural reform to modify economic structure and foster new driving force. Aggressive fiscal policy and prudent and neutral monetary policy should be adopted. In addition, the important tasks of reducing overcapacity, destocking, deleveraging, reducing costs and shoring up weak growth areas should be effectively achieved. Preventive measures should also be implemented to avoid economic and financial risks. The consistency of macroeconomic policies should be maintained to avoid market speculation. Market confidence should be restored by major reforms.

Discussion and Analysis on Business Operation

To the banking industry, the year 2017 will be full of opportunities and challenges. In respect of the major opportunities: (i) the quality and efficiency of supply system will be significantly enhanced as a result of the on-going supply-side structural reforms. Moreover, there will be a surge in demand for diversified financial services by the real economy due to the expedite progress of reducing overcapacity, destocking, deleveraging, reducing costs and shoring up weak growth areas, the burgeoning emerging industries, the restructuring and upgrading of traditional industries, the favorable environment for entrepreneurship and innovation as well as the regional strategy support of the central government, which will all underpin the business expansion, transformation and upgrading of banking industry; (ii) fundamental reforms in areas such as state-owned enterprises and assets, taxation, finance, land, urbanization, social security and ecological civilization will produce a huge demand for financial services and will bring plenty of opportunities for business innovation of the banking industry; (iii) the high net worth individuals and the scale of assets have increased significantly and consuming structure has been increasing to boost demands for new investment and financing choices. Therefore, the asset management, private banking, consumer finance, credit cards and other businesses will have a huge room of development; (iv) the advanced progress of “Belt and Road Initiative” and the higher level of openness and strategies in the free trade zones will offer great opportunities to facilitate cross-border financial business and global networking of the banking industry; and (v) in view of the business expansion and the mixed business operation due to the rapid development of financial market, the central government will launch a regulatory system that is more suitable to the banking industry, which will create more space for business innovation and growth.

The banking industry also faces great challenges: (i) as the supply-side structural reform continues, risks will emerge, including the credit risk of small and micro enterprises and industries with excess capacities, debt default of large enterprises, polarization of the real estate market, currency depreciation, liquidity risk and potential debt risk of local governments; (ii) the pressure of asset shortage remains. The asset and debt management is exposed to great challenges due to the high debt costs and lower asset returns, which will in turn undermine the profitability and professional and refined management of the banking industry; (iii) the loosened market access and boom in industry innovation will lead to growing competition within or beyond the border of banking industry. Furthermore, the further integration of internet and finance will significantly change the traditional mode of financial business. As a result, the banking industry should pick up speed to transform its development strategies and operation patterns so as to rebuild customer relationships and service models; and (iv) the imbalanced global economic recovery and the volatile international financial market further raise the barriers for promoting cross-border services and global asset and liability management of the banking industry.

In 2017, the banking industry in China will enter into a critical period of reform with business model shifting from heavy assets to light assets, from horizontal expansion to organic growth and from single business of financing to the model of “capital+intelligence”. The differentiated service model will escalate competition in the banking industry and the restructured banks will prove the transition effects by showing precise strategic positioning, efficient management and sustainable operation.

(II) Development strategies of the Company

To cope with changes in external conditions and internal development needs, the Company has formulated the Medium to Long-term Development Strategies of China Minsheng Bank for 2016–2025 (《中國民生銀行中長期發展戰略(2016–2025)》) and the Development Plan of China Minsheng Bank for 2017–2019 (《中國民生銀行2017–2019年發展規劃》), and has facilitated the implementation of the Phoenix Project. In accordance with its mid-to-long-term development strategies and the three-year development arrangement, the Company is committed to becoming a “distinctive and globally competitive platform-based modern financial service group with cross-sector and win-win vision and intelligence”. Moreover, it also strives to become an iconic bank with core competitiveness and sustainable prospect in the financial market of China. Adhering to its development philosophies of “continuous innovation, excellence, global networking and intelligence”, the Company will develop a new four-wheeled business model of capital, intelligence, commerce and internet, in order to create a brand new Minsheng Bank featuring digitalization, professionalism, comprehensiveness and global networking and having enduring appeal in the industry.

With the implementation of new strategies, new plans and the Phoenix Project, taking asset and liability management as the leading role, the Company will endeavour to promote a sustainable business development by coordinating six segments including corporate banking, retail banking, financial markets business, online financing, integrated operation and international development, and establishing strategic asset and liability management model and lead the stable growth of the industry. The corporate banking business will be strengthened by optimizing the customer base and classified management. The composition of sectors and geographical distribution will also be refined by seizing business opportunities in investment banking and transaction banking so as to improve the professionalism of the Company. Furthermore, the Company will expand its retail banking business by building up a collaborative development mechanism and creating a new pan-retail system. The Company will foster a financial ecosystem to boost the channel efficiency. In addition, great effort will be made to optimize the financial markets business by establishing a first-class cross-market, cross-industry and cross-border platform that provides integrated services for financial markets in order to accelerate the transformation into an integrated bank with high efficiency and low costs. In order to grow the internet finance business, the Company will establish “E-Minsheng”, develop “I-Minsheng”, promote “Minsheng+” and accelerate the development of the Minsheng internet finance ecological circle which combines traditional vertical businesses with emerging horizontal businesses. Moreover, the Company will promote an integrated operation based on development trends and obtain licences in key business lines to create a group-based comprehensive financial service platform with deeply rooted “One Minsheng” (一個民生) strategy. Meanwhile, in accordance with the strategy of following market trend, the Company will endeavour to expand its global network to enhance global competitiveness. Branches with distinctive features will also be established to build regional core competitiveness. Intelligent financing services will be developed as new and unique core competitiveness. Risk management will be implemented prudently to improve the comprehensive risk management system and defend the risk bottom line.

In the future, to adapt to, seize opportunities from and lead the “New Normal”, the Company will always adhere to its major principles and formulate strategic plans, take action and work according to the actual situations. In pursuit of serving the real economy, the Company will focus on enhancing quality and efficiency of business development. The Company will keep abreast of economic and financial situations when accelerating its strategic transformation and business restructuring. Emphasis will be placed on asset quality and risk management. The Company will also proactively develop new businesses, strengthen fundamental management and implement reform and innovation to foster a collective corporate culture under its new blueprint of sustainable and stable development.

(III) Potential risks

In recent years, the domestic and global economies have encountered various predictable and unpredictable challenges. The conventional business mode of commercial banks are undergoing rapid and unprecedented changes against a background of mounting pressure on economic growth, accelerated liberalization of interest rate, rise of internet finance, progressively loosened monetary policy and intensified volatility in capital market. As illustrated by worldwide experience, after the liberalization of interest rate, there is high probability that banks will experience a hard time with narrowed interest margin and profit decline. Meanwhile, the downward trend on macro economy will impose higher requirement on the risk prevention ability of banks, thus creating challenges for both the operation profitability and asset quality of banks.

Facing the in-depth transformation of the financial environment, the Company will proactively cope with the economic downward pressure, continue to improve risk management and spare no efforts to strictly safeguard asset quality. With the Phoenix Project, the Company will navigate the challenges posed by the liberalization of interest rate, accelerate the transformation of business and management model and seize new market opportunities brought about by the “New Normal”.

the national interbank bond market on 30 August 2016. As assessed by Dagong International Credit Rating Company Limited, the credit rating of the tier-two bonds was AAA. These tier-two capital bonds were issued for a term of ten years with fixed interest rate at the nominal interest rate of 3.50%. The interest was paid on an annual basis. The tier-two capital bonds granted the issuer a one-off early redemption option. As long as the capital level of the Company is in compliance with the capital regulation requirements under the CBRC upon the exercise of redemption option, the Company may, subject to the approval by the CBRC, exercise one-off redemption of all or part of the bonds at par value at the last day of the fifth interest bearing year of the bonds. If the bonds fail to meet the standards of tier-two capital instruments due to changes of regulatory requirements during the term of the bonds, the Company may exercise early redemption option, subject to the prevailing regulatory requirements and approval of the CBRC. The exercise of early redemption option by the issuer is not subject to the consent of bond holders. On 31 August 2016, the proceeds from the bonds were fully credited to the account of the Company while the Company completed the registration and entrustment of the bonds at China Central Depository & Clearing Co., Ltd.

According to applicable rules, the proceeds from the bonds were fully accounted as tier-two capital of the Company. The use of the proceeds was as stated in the prospectus.

As at the end of the Reporting Period, the balance of the tier-two capital bonds of China Minsheng Bank of 2016 was RMB20,000 million.

(VIII) Financial Bonds of 2016

Pursuant to the approval by the CBRC (Yin Jian Fu [2015] No. 683) (銀監覆[2015]683號) and the approval by the PBOC in the administrative permit (Yin Shi Chang Xu Zhun Yu Zi [2016] No.161) (銀市場許准予字[2016]第161號), the Company issued the first instalment of financial bonds (bond name: 16 Minsheng Bank 01; bond code: 1628017) with a total amount of RMB20,000 million through a public offering in the national interbank bond market on 27 October 2016. As assessed by Dagong International Credit Rating Company Limited, the credit rating of the financial bonds was AAA. These financial capital bonds were issued for a term of three years with fixed interest rate at the nominal interest rate of 2.95%. The interest was paid on an annual basis. On 28 October 2016, the proceeds from the bonds were fully credited to the account of the Company while the Company completed the registration and entrustment of the bonds at China Central Depository & Clearing Co., Ltd.

Changes in Share Capital and Information on Shareholders

According to applicable rules, the proceeds from the bonds were used for loan extension, including, but not limited to, loans to certain small and micro enterprises and agricultural loans. The use of the proceeds was as stated in the prospectus.

As at the end of the Reporting Period, the balance of the first instalment of the financial bonds of China Minsheng Bank of 2016 was RMB20,000 million.

(V) Performance of duties by Independent Non-executive Directors

The Board of the Company comprises six Independent Non-executive Directors. The qualifications of Independent Non-executive Directors are in compliance with the provisions of the CBRC, the CSRC, and the listing rules of the SSE and Hong Kong Listing Rules. During the Reporting Period, these Independent Non-executive Directors duly performed their duties by maintaining communication with the Company through various means, such as conducting on-site visits, holding special investigations and conferences, attending the Board meetings and meetings of the special committees conscientiously, making suggestions actively and emphasizing minority shareholders' interests.

1. On-duty policy for Independent Non-executive Directors

In order to fully perform the functions of Independent Non-executive Directors and improve the effectiveness of the Board, the Board of the Company has adopted an on-duty policy since March 2007 pursuant to which Independent Non-executive Directors are required to work in the Company for 1 to 2 days per month. The Company provided offices and facilities for Independent Non-executive Directors. All Independent Non-executive Directors have complied with the on-duty policy. The main duties of the Independent Non-executive Directors while they are on duty are: to study the works of their respective committees; to research and confirm the proposals put forward by the committees; to review working reports of the Senior Management or various departments of the head office; and to discuss and determine or amend any relevant corporate governance policy. During the Reporting Period, the Independent Non-executive Directors had worked in the Company for 30 working days in aggregate, had more than 100 meetings with the management and relevant department staff. It is an achievement for the Company to implement the on-duty policy of Independent Non-executive Directors, which provides important support and help for Independent Non-executive Directors to give full effect of their expertise in research and to provide professional opinion to the decision-making of the Board. The implementation of the policy enhanced the rationality and independence of the decision-making of the Board.

2. Rules governing Independent Non-executive Directors' work on Annual Reports

In order to further improve the corporate governance of the Company with an aim to fully perform the duties of Independent Non-executive Directors in governing information disclosure so as to ensure the truthfulness, accuracy, completeness and timeliness of the information disclosed in the Annual Report of the Company, the Working Rules for Involvement of Independent Non-executive Directors in the Preparation of Annual Report (《獨立非執行董事年報工作制度》) was considered and approved at the 16th Meeting of the fourth session of the Board.

Corporate Governance

Pursuant to the Rules, Independent Non-executive Directors are required to perform their responsibilities and duties diligently in the process of preparation and disclosure of the Annual Report of the Company. The management of the Company shall fully report the annual operating results and the progress of material issues to the Independent Non-executive Directors within 60 days after the end of each fiscal year. The Independent Non-executive Directors may conduct investigations on certain issues if necessary. The Independent Non-executive Directors shall verify the qualifications of the accountants to be engaged by the Company and the qualifications of the certified public accountants responsible for the auditing of the annual report of the Company. Upon the issuance of the preliminary audit opinion and before a Board meeting is convened to review the annual report, the Independent Non-executive Directors shall hold at least one meeting with the auditor responsible for the auditing of the annual report of the Company to discuss the issues identified in the auditing process.

Pursuant to the Rules, Independent Non-executive Directors have performed their responsibilities and duties diligently and strictly complying with the relevant rules and regulations of the Company and the regulatory authorities in preparation and disclosure of the 2016 Annual Report of the Company. Independent Non-executive Directors have received the reports from the management on the operation and development of material issues of 2016, maintained continuous communication with the accounting firm in respect of the annual auditing and reviewed auditing plans, report on pre-auditing and auditing from the accounting firm.

3. Other duties of Independent Non-executive Directors

The Independent Non-executive Directors shall give independent opinions on the following issues at Board meetings or general meetings:

- (1) Nomination, appointment and removal of Directors;
- (2) Appointment or removal of Senior Management;
- (3) Remuneration of Directors and Senior Management;
- (4) Major and very substantial related party transactions between the shareholders, de facto controllers and their respective related companies and the Company, and whether the Company has taken effective measures to collect outstanding payments;

Corporate Governance

- (5) Issues that Independent Non-executive Directors considered may prejudice the interests of minority shareholders; and
- (6) Other issues stipulated in the Articles of Association of the Company.

The Independent Non-executive Directors of the Company also played important roles in various special committees of the Board. They acted as the convener of the meetings of the Compensation and Remuneration Committee, the Audit Committee, the Related Party Transactions Supervision Committee and the Risk Management Committee under the Board. At least one Independent Non-executive Director in each of the Audit Committee and Related Party Transactions Supervision Committee has professional accounting experience.

4. Attendance of the Independent Non-executive Directors at meetings during the year

All Independent Non-executive Directors of the Company were conscientious and active in attending the Board meetings during the Reporting Period.

Therefore, Liu Jipeng, Li Hancheng and Xie Zhichun, the Directors, shall not be counted as the quorum of all meetings.

(VI) Confirmation of the independence of Independent Non-executive Directors

All six Independent Non-executive Directors of the Company are not subject to the factors specified in Rule 3.13 of the Hong Kong Listing Rules which would put their independence into question. Moreover, the Company has received the annual confirmation of independence from each of the Independent Non-executive Directors in accordance with the Hong Kong Listing Rules. Therefore, the Company believes that all Independent Non-executive Directors are independent.

Corporate Governance

(VII) Chairman of the Board and President

The roles and duties of the Chairman of the Board and the President of the Company are performed by different persons with clearly defined responsibilities in line with the Hong Kong Listing Rules.

During the Reporting Period, the Chairman of the Board, Mr. Hong Qi, was responsible for leading the Board and acting as the Chairman of the Board meetings. He shall ensure that all Directors were well informed of the issues to be discussed during the Board meetings. He was also responsible for the management of the operation of the Board and ensured that the Board shall discuss all major and relevant issues in a timely and constructive manner. In order to allow the Board to discuss all major and relevant issues in time, the Chairman of the Board maintained close contact with relevant Senior Management to ensure that the Directors can promptly receive appropriate, complete and reliable information for their consideration and review.

During the Reporting Period, the President of the Company, Mr. Zheng Wanchun, was responsible for the business operation of the Company and the implementation of strategies and business plans of the Company.

(VIII) Securities transactions by Directors, Supervisors and relevant employees

The Company has adopted its own code of conduct of the Directors and the Supervisors regarding transactions in securities, on terms no less exacting than the Model Code as set out in the Appendix 10 to the Hong Kong Listing Rules. The Company has made specific enquiries to all Directors and Supervisors who have confirmed that they have complied with the above mentioned Code for the year ended 31 December 2016. The Company also formulated the guidelines on dealings in securities of the Company by employees, which are no more lenient than the Model Code. The Company is not aware of any non-compliance with these guidelines by the relevant employees.

(IX) Responsibility statement of Directors regarding preparation of financial statements

All Directors of the Company had committed their responsibilities for the preparation of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended 31 December 2016.

Corporate Governance

2. Nomination procedures and process adopted by the Nomination Committee

(1) Nomination procedures for Director candidates

(i) General procedures for the nomination of Director candidates

Method of election of the Company's Directors: after soliciting the opinions of the shareholders, the former Board of Directors will, in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Articles of Association of the Company, submit a written proposal at the general meeting containing the biographies and basic information of the candidates. The Nomination Committee under the Board of Directors is responsible for soliciting the opinions of shareholders, collecting the nomination proposals and examining the qualifications of the candidates to determine whether they comply with the qualification requirements for a director of a commercial bank under the Company Law of the PRC, Law of Commercial Banks and relevant laws, administrative regulations and departmental rules. After the review, the Nomination Committee will submit the proposal to the Board of Directors for their consideration, after which the Board of Directors will submit a proposal at general meeting for voting. Nominator shall obtain consent from nominee prior to the nomination. If a shareholder or the Supervisory Board raises an objection to the list of Director candidates, a new proposal should be submitted in accordance with the Articles of Association of the Company, pursuant to which the Nomination Committee shall examine the qualifications of relevant candidates and submit the proposal to the Board of Directors for whether the proposal should be further submitted at the general meeting.

(ii) Special procedures for nomination of Independent Non-executive Director candidates

In accordance with the provisions of the relevant laws, regulations and the Articles of Association of the Company, shareholders individually or jointly holding 1% or more of the issued shares of the Company, the Board of Directors or the Supervisory Board may nominate Independent Non-executive Director candidates for appointment via election by the general meeting. Nominator shall obtain consent from nominee of Independent Non-executive Director prior to the nomination. The nominator shall be fully aware of the occupation, education background, title, detailed work experiences and all part-time positions held by the nominee, and shall provide an opinion on the qualification and independence of the respective nominee to assume the position of Independent Non-executive Director. The nominee shall make a public declaration indicating that there is no relationship between him and the Company which would affect his independent judgment. A nominee shall possess the requisite qualifications and independence under the Articles of Association of the Company. Before any general meeting for the election of the Independent Non-executive Director is held, the Board of Directors shall disclose the above mentioned information in accordance with relevant requirements.

Corporate Governance

Prior to the date of the general meeting at which the Independent Non-executive Directors will be elected, the Company shall submit relevant materials in connection with all of its nominees for Independent Non-executive Directors to the CSRC, the local office of the CSRC where the Company is headquartered, the stock exchanges at which the shares of the Company are listed, and the CBRC. Where the Board of Directors raises any objection in respect of any nominee, its written opinion shall also be submitted to the above authorities. Where the CSRC raises any objection in respect of any nominee, such nominee may not serve as a candidate for Independent Non-executive Director, but he/she may serve as a Director candidate. During the general meeting to elect the Independent Non-executive Director, the Board of Directors shall provide a statement on whether the CSRC raised any objection to any candidate.

(2) Criteria and standard of selection and recommendation of Director candidates

Corporate Governance

XVII. Internal Control

The Company has set up a comprehensive corporate governance structure with clear division of responsibilities among the Board, the Supervisory Board and the management team and maintained an effective internal control management system. In compliance the Law on Commercial Banks of PRC (《中華人民共和國商業銀行法》), Guidelines for Internal Control of Commercial Banks (《商業銀行內部控制指引》), the Basic Standard for Corporate Internal Control (《企業內部控制基本規範》) and other laws and regulations and regulatory rules, the Company established and effectively implemented comprehensive internal control policies and evaluated their effectiveness.

The Board has entrusted the Audit Department of the Company to evaluate the effectiveness of internal control. The Audit Department conducts preliminary identification of internal control deficiencies in accordance with the deficiency identification standards, and gives rectification requirements to the evaluated departments and carries out follow-up measures on the rectification. In respect of major deficiencies in internal control, the Audit Department communicates and confirms with the Senior Management of the Company, and suggests improvement measures. For major issues identified in the audit and the decisions of the Senior Management on whether rectification measures should be taken, the Audit Department reports to the Audit Committee which shall make the final decision on major control deficiencies and hold the relevant units or persons responsible.

The Board has entrusted the Audit Department of the Company to evaluate the effectiveness of the internal control of the Company as of 31 December 2016, being the benchmark date of self-evaluation report on internal control, based on both daily and specialized supervision of internal control. The Audit Department issued the Self-Evaluation Report of Internal Control for 2016 of China Minsheng Banking Corp., Ltd. (《中國民生銀行2016年度內部控制評價報告》), according to which, no material defects were found in the internal control on financial and non-financial reports. For details of the Self-evaluation Report of Internal Control for 2016 of China Minsheng Banking Corp., Ltd., please visit the Company's website (www.cmbc.com.cn) or the website of the SSE (www.sse.com.cn).

XVIII. Risk Management

(I) Implementation of the Guidelines on Risk Management by the Board of Directors in 2016

The Guidelines on Risk Management by the Board of Directors in 2016 of China Minsheng Banking Corp., Ltd. (《中國民生銀行董事會2016年風險管理指導意見》) (the “2016 Guidelines”) is a guiding document for risk management for the Company and an important document for the strategy, preference, policy and culture of risk management of the Company.

According to the 2016 Guidelines, the management is required to formulate specific and practicable risk management policies and plans based on the risk management targets set by the Board. The Risk Management Committee under the Board is responsible for the guidance and supervision of the implementation of the 2016 Guidelines.

According to the 2016 Guidelines, the management coordinates the performance of risk management targets and tasks by formulating specified plans and measures. The management reports the risk management strategies and policies, risk limits and risk emergency plans to the Risk Management Committee under the Board, and issues regular reports on the implementation of the Guidelines, achievement of risk preference indicators, as well as monthly, quarterly, interim and annual risk management reports.

The Risk Management Committee under the Board and its Office conduct onsite evaluation and investigation on the risks and reviews risk reports and management information to supervise, inspect and evaluate the implementation of 2016 Guidelines and the overall risk management of the Company. In addition, the Risk Management Committee keeps abreast of and assesses the effectiveness of the risk management of the Company. It also provides opinions and requirement of the Board regarding risk management to the management.

(II) Guidelines on Risk Management by the Board of Directors in 2017

In compliance with the regulatory requirements and taking into account of the changes in the economic and financial environments as well as the operation and management of the Company, the Risk Management Committee of the Board of the Company formulated the Guidelines on Risk Management by the Board of Directors in 2017 of China Minsheng Banking Corp., Ltd. (《中國民生銀行董事會2017年風險管理指導意見》) (the “2017 Guidelines”). The 2017 Guidelines mainly analyze the economic and financial trends, identify the key issues in business development, operation and risk management and specify the principles, preferences, recommendations and requirement on risk management, which primarily sets out the risk culture, risk strategies, risk preference, risk policies, risk management structure, requirement on overall risk management and management of specific risks, policies and procedures of risk management, quality of data and construction of information system.

Corporate Governance

The 2017 Guidelines have optimized the top-level design of risk management for commercial banks, strengthened the risk management system with the Board as the core and defined the risk management duties between the Board and management, so as to enhance the risk management structure, improve the efficiency of risk management, and further strengthen risk control capacity of the Bank. The 2017 Guidelines have ensured the safe and stable operation, effectively implemented the development strategies of the Board and safeguarded the long-term sustainable development of the Company.

The Board has strived to establish effective risk management and internal control systems and is responsible for risk management, internal control and compliance management of the Company as well as the review of the effectiveness of such systems. Since the purpose of the above risk management and internal control systems is managing but not eliminating risks of failing to meet business objectives, the Board may only be able to guarantee reasonably (but not absolutely) that the above systems and internal controls may prevent any material misrepresentation or loss.

(III) Procedures for identification, evaluation and management of material risks

The Risk Management Committee of the Board is responsible for the research and evaluation of risk management of the Company. According to the risk profile and risk management of the Company as well as the implementation progress of 2017 Guidelines, the Office of the Risk Management Committee of the Board organizes risk assessment on regular basis (once every half year) or based on the needs of risk management, and submits the risk assessment report to the Risk Management Committee of the Board, which will be an important basis for decision-making on risk management of the Board. In addition, the Risk Management Committee of the Board keeps abreast of the risk management of the Company through various forms such as special risk investigation, risk inspection, studies of relevant information and organization of seminars and presentations. Through issuing risk alerts and risk management rectification notices, organizing meetings and interviews and implementing accountability system, opinions of the Board on risk management are circulated to the management in order to reveal the major issues of risk management.

Corporate Governance

(IV) Procedures and internal controls for the handling and dissemination of inside information

In accordance with its information disclosure management system, the Company has adopted control measures to monitor its business and corporate development and events, including insider registration and management pursuant to the Rules for Insider Registration and Management (《內幕信息知情人登記管理規定》) formulated by the Company. Departments, branches (sub-branches), subsidiaries of the Company shall submit written reports to the Office of the Board of the Company before disclosure of inside information. They shall also submit and supplement the information of insiders and report to the regulatory authorities in accordance with relevant regulations. Internal investigation shall be conducted on trading of shares and derivatives of the Company by insiders. In case of discovery of any insider transaction, inside information leakage or suggestion to other parties to use inside information for transaction, relevant parties shall be held accountable, and the relevant situation and results shall be timely reported to regulatory authorities. If any inside information of the Company is circulated in the market before being disclosed in accordance with laws resulting in abnormal change in the share price of the Company, the Board Secretary of the Company shall promptly report to the Board so that the Company can timely clarify and report to regulatory authorities.

Report of the Board of Directors

V. Profit Distribution Plan

The audited profit after taxation of the Company for 2016 was RMB46,910 million, of which net profit for the first half of the year was RMB26,841 million. A cash dividend of RMB4,196 million, or RMB1.15 for every 10 shares, was distributed in the interim profit distribution plan. The net profit for the second half of 2016 was RMB20,069 million. The profit distribution plan for the second half of 2016 is proposed as follows:

According to the relevant requirement, 10% of the net profit of the Company for the second half of 2016, being RMB2,007 million, was allocated to the statutory surplus reserve. A general provision for risks of RMB8,472 million was made at a rate of 1.5% of the balance of the risky assets as at the end of December 2016. The profits distributable to shareholders as at 31 December 2016 was RMB126.5 billion.

According to relevant provisions of the Articles of Association in respect of profit distribution, having considered such factors as the capital adequacy required by the regulatory authorities and the sustainable development of the Company, the Company proposed to distribute to holders of A shares and H shares whose names appear on the registers as at the record date a cash dividend of RMB1.65 (tax inclusive) for every 10 shares being held. Based on 36,485 million shares of the Company in issue as at 31 December 2016, the total cash dividend is RMB6.02 billion.

The cash dividend is expected to be paid to holders of H shares on 28 July 2017.

The cash dividend will be denominated and declared in RMB and will be paid in RMB to the holders of A shares and in Hong Kong dollar to holders of H shares. The actual amount of dividend to be paid in Hong Kong dollars shall be determined based on the benchmark exchange rate of RMB against Hong Kong dollars at the day of the annual general meeting as announced by the PBOC.

The formulation and implementation of the cash dividend policy by the Company are in compliance with the stipulations of the Articles of Association and the requirements stated in the resolutions approved by the general meeting of the Company. The basis and proportion of profit distribution are clearly specified. Effective determination and approval procedures and mechanisms are in place. The said distribution has been examined and approved by the Independent Non-executive Directors. Legitimate rights and interests of minority shareholders are well protected by being entitled to attend general meetings to exercise their voting rights and make proposals or enquiries on the operations of the Company.

Report of the Board of Directors

Taxation

According to the Enterprise Income Tax Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國企業所得稅法》) and its implementation regulations (the “EIT Law”), the tax rate of the enterprise income tax applicable to the income of a non-resident enterprise deriving from the PRC is 10%. For this purpose, any H shares registered under the name of non-individual enterprise, including the H shares registered under the name of HKSCC Nominees Limited, other nominees or trustees, or other organizations or entities, shall be deemed as shares held by non-resident enterprise shareholders (as defined under the EIT Law).

The Company will distribute the dividend to those non-resident enterprise shareholders subject to a deduction of 10% enterprise income tax withheld and paid by the Company on their behalf. Any resident enterprise (as defined under the EIT Law) which has been legally incorporated in the PRC or which was established pursuant to the laws of foreign countries (regions) but has established effective administrative entities in the PRC, and whose name appears on the Company’s H share register should deliver a legal opinion ascertaining its status as a resident enterprise furnished by a qualified PRC lawyer (with the official chop of the law firm issuing the opinion affixed thereon) and relevant documents to Company’s H share register, Computershare Hong Kong Investor Services Limited, in due course, if they do not wish to have the 10% enterprise income tax withheld and paid on their behalf by the Company. Pursuant to the Notice on the Issues on Levy of Individual Income Tax after the Abolishment of Guoshuifa (1993) No. 045 Document (《關於國稅發(1993)045號文件廢止後有關個人所得稅徵管問題的通知》) (the “Notice”) issued by the State Administration of Taxation on 28 June 2011, the dividend to be distributed by the PRC non-foreign invested enterprise which has issued shares in Hong Kong to the overseas resident individual shareholders, is subject to the individual income tax with a tax rate of 10% in general. However, the tax rates for respective overseas resident individual shareholders may vary depending on the relevant tax agreements between the countries of their residence and Mainland China. Thus, 10% individual income tax will be withheld from the dividend payable to any individual shareholders of H Shares whose names appear on the H share register of members of the Company on the record date, unless otherwise stated in the relevant taxation regulations, tax treaties or the Notice.

The Company will not be liable for any claim arising from any delay in, or inaccurate determination of the status of the shareholders or any disputes over the mechanism of withholding.

Report of the Board of Directors

Profit Distribution to Investors of Northbound Trading

Dou Youming, the signing accountant, provided services for the Company for the first time. Jin Naiwen, the signing accountant, has provided services for the Company for two consecutive years.

VII. Major Related Party Transactions

The Company did not have any controlling related party nor any major related party transaction with its accumulated total transaction amount accounting for more than 5% of the audited net asset value of the Company during the Reporting Period. During the Reporting Period, the related party transactions of the Company were mainly loans to shareholders and related parties. All loans to related parties were extended in compliance with the relevant laws and regulations and according to the credit terms and approval procedures of the Company, and the principal and interests were fully repaid on time, which did not have any adverse impacts on the operating results and financial position of the Company. Details of related party transactions based on the relevant accounting standards during the Reporting Period are set out in Note 47 to the consolidated financial statements.

In accordance with the requirements of Rules 14A.49 and 14A.71 under Chapter 14A of the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the connected transactions and continuing connected transactions of the Company during the Reporting Period were as follows:

(I) Continuing connected transactions between the Company and Anbang Insurance for the agency sale services of financial products

1. Details of transactions

On 30 March 2016, the Company and Anbang Insurance, a connected party, entered into the business cooperation framework agreement for the agency sale services of financial products. Pursuant to the agreement, the Company shall provide agency sale services of financial products to Anbang Insurance and its subsidiaries, including but not limited to insurance products, asset management products, funds products and securities products, and charge service fees in return. For the year ended 31 December 2016, the annual cap of the service fees was RMB6 billion, and the actual service fees for the connected transactions were RMB1.372 billion. The agreement expired on 31 December 2016.

Major Events

On 10 January 2017, the Company and Anbang Insurance renewed the business cooperation framework agreement for the agency sale services of financial products with an expiry date on 31 December 2017. For the year ending 31 December 2017, the annual cap of service fees is RMB6 billion.

The cooperation between the Company and Anbang Insurance is beneficial for both parties to achieve sharing of resources and synergy effects which in turn further increases the Company's incomes from its retail banking intermediary business. In addition, entering into the business cooperation framework agreement can simplify the disclosure procedure and reduce compliance cost of the Company.

As at the date of the transaction, Anbang Insurance held approximately 17.84% equity interests of the Company, and was therefore a substantial shareholder of the Company. Thus, Anbang Insurance constitutes a connected person of the Company and the transactions between the Group and Anbang Insurance constitute connected party transactions under the Hong Kong Listing Rules. As the highest applicable percentage ratio for the annual cap of the service fees receivable from Anbang Insurance and its subsidiaries under the business cooperation framework agreement for the agency sale services of financial products exceeds 0.1% but is less than 5%, the transactions constitute non-exempted continuing connected transactions of the Company, and are subject to the reporting and announcement requirements but are exempted from the independent shareholders' approval requirement under Chapter 14A of Hong Kong Listing Rules.

For details, please refer to the continuing connected transaction announcements of the Company published on 31 March 2016 and 10 January 2017, respectively, on the website of the SEHK and the website of the Company.

2. Opinions of the Independent Non-executive Directors

The Independent Non-executive Directors have reviewed the continuing connected transaction regarding the business cooperation with Anbang Insurance for agency sale services of financial products, and confirmed that the transactions were:

- 1) entered into in the ordinary and usual course of business of the Company;
- 2) based on normal or more favorable commercial terms; and
- 3) based on the terms of agreement governing the relevant transactions, which are fair and reasonable, and without prejudicing the legal interests of other shareholders.

Major Events

3. Opinions of the auditors

Pursuant to Rule 14A.56 of the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the Board engaged KPMG Certified Public Accountants, the international auditor of the Company, to perform relevant procedures on the continuing connected transactions regarding the business cooperation with Anbang Insurance for agency sale services of financial products according to Hong Kong Standard on Assurance Engagements 3000 “Assurance Engagements Other Than Audits or Reviews of Historical Financial Information” and with reference to the Practice Note 740 “Auditor’s Letter on Continuing Connected Transaction under the Hong Kong Listing Rules” issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants. The Board confirmed that the auditor has reported the results of its procedures to the Board. Regarding the disclosed continuing connected transactions, nothing has come to the attention of the auditor that:

- 1) the disclosed continuing connected transactions have not been approved by the Board;
- 2) for transactions involving the provision of goods or services by the Group, the transactions were not, in all material respects, in accordance with the pricing policies of the Company;
- 3) the transactions were not entered into, in all material respects, in accordance with the relevant agreements governing such transactions;
- 4) the aggregate amount of each of the continuing connected transactions have exceeded the aggregate annual caps in the continuing connected transaction announcement of the Company disclosed on the website of the SEHK and the website of the Company on 31 March 2016.

(II) Connected transaction between Minsheng Jiashi and China Oceanwide International Investment Co., Ltd. for aircraft leasing

The Board of the Company considered and passed the Resolution on the Aircraft Leasing between a Subsidiary of Minsheng Financial Leasing and China Oceanwide International Investment Co., Ltd. on 7 June 2016, pursuant to which, the direct leasing of Gulfstream G650 between Minsheng Jiashi, a subsidiary of the Company, and China Oceanwide International Investment Co., Ltd., a connected party of the Company, was approved. The term of leasing was five years from the leasing date of the finance lease agreement. The lease principal payments were approximately USD51.60 million, to be paid in equal installments on a quarterly basis during the lease. Interest shall be charged at LIBOR plus 3.50% during the lease (3-month LIBOR + 350 BPS). The annual interests are estimated to be approximately USD1 million and shall be settled quarterly during the lease.

Major Events

Minsheng Jiashi is mainly engaged in the provision of finance lease and the transaction will increase its incomes. The transaction also facilitates a stronger cooperation with Gulfstream Aerospace with a view to securing more favorable terms in future business so as to strengthen the advantage of the Group in the finance lease of business jets. Furthermore, the transaction will be jointly and severally guaranteed by Oceanwide Group and carries low risks. The interest rate of the lease and rate of fees of the transaction are determined in accordance with the pricing policies of the Company and are not lower than that of its peers. Therefore, the transaction is in the interests of the Company and its shareholders as a whole.

As at the date of the transaction, Mr. Lu Zhiqiang, a Vice Chairman and Non-executive Director of the Company, indirectly held all shares of Oceanwide Group, and thus Oceanwide Group and its subsidiary, China Oceanwide International Investment Co., Ltd., are the associates of Mr. Lu Zhiqiang and therefore the connected persons of the Company. Accordingly, such transaction constitutes connected party transaction under the Hong Kong Listing Rules. In addition, as the highest applicable percentage ratio of the transaction exceeds 0.1% but is less than 5%, the entering of such transaction constitutes non-exempted connected transaction of the Company, and is subject to the reporting and announcement requirements but are exempted from the independent shareholders' approval requirement under Chapter 14A of Hong Kong Listing Rules. For details, please refer to the connected transaction announcement of the Company dated 8 June 2016 on the website of the SEHK and the website of the Company.

Save as disclosed in this Annual Report, during the Reporting Period, the Company did not have any discloseable connected transaction or continuing connected transaction pursuant to provisions in relation to connected transactions under Chapter 14A of the Hong Kong Listing Rules.

VIII. Repurchase, Sale or Redemption of Securities

During the 12 months ended 31 December 2016, the Group has neither sold any securities of the Company nor purchased or redeemed any securities of the Company.

IX. Audit Committee

As at the end of the Reporting Period, the members of Audit Committee of the Company included Han Jianmin (chairman), Cheng Hoi-chuen and Wu Di. On 15 January 2016, the resolution on changing the chairman of the Audit Committee of the sixth session of the Board of Directors of the Company was considered and approved at the 14th extraordinary meeting of the sixth session of the Board. Han Jianmin became the new chairman of the Audit Committee of the Company, and the members of the Audit Committee comprised Wu Di and Cheng Hoi-chuen. On 20 February 2017, the Resolution on the Composition of the Special Committees of the Seventh Session of the Board (《關於第七屆董事會專門委員會組成成員的決議》) was considered and approved at the first meeting of the seventh session of the Board, pursuant to which, the number of members of the Audit Committee of the seventh session of

(II) Performance of poverty alleviation work

During the Reporting Period, based on ideology of the poverty alleviation meeting of the central government of China and a series of deployment requirements for poverty alleviation as stipulated by the State Council Leading Group Office of Poverty Alleviation and Development, the PBOC, the CBRC and the CSRC, the Company capitalized on the develop strategy under the Phoenix Project and its competitive edges in human resources to further optimize its poverty alleviation service and system with clearer focus, more effective initiatives, stronger team work and greater efforts. As such, new breakthrough was made in its services for facilitating the economic and social development of the impoverished areas. Its efforts were well recognized by the people in the impoverished areas with a significant increase in customer satisfaction. During the year, the Company donated RMB34,340.4 thousand for poverty alleviation and set aside RMB4,071 million as targeted poverty alleviation loans of which RMB3,961 million was for individuals and RMB110 million was for institutions. Hua County in Henan Province, a targeted poverty alleviation county, has got rid of its predicament.

1. Maximizing effectiveness of the poverty alleviation work plan and management system

First, efforts were made to enhance guidance. A finance-based poverty alleviation working team was established and presided over by Mr. Zheng Wanchun, the secretary of the Party Committee and the President, to take ultimate responsibility of management. A poverty alleviation office was established to form and maintain a business liaison system. Several cadres were sent to take up temporary positions in targeted poverty alleviation counties, namely as vice county magistrates and first secretaries of villages. Second, specific plans were formulated. The China Minsheng Bank Finance-based Poverty Alleviation Plan for the 13th Five-Year Plan Period (《中國民生銀行“十三五”金融扶貧工作規劃》) was formulated to further define the overall targets, major supporting measures and assistances. Guiding opinions were provided for the implementation of the plans in 2016 and enhancement of inspection on poverty alleviation through financial services. Third, investigations and researches were conducted. Mr. Zheng Wanchun, the secretary of the Party Committee and the President, led a tour to Henan Province for a comprehensive inspection of the poverty alleviation works in Fengqiu County and Hua County. Cadres were sent to high-poverty areas to conduct on-site research on the assistance projects for poor students and schools, insurance plans and industry bailout projects in order to establish an information database categorized by village, household and individual.

Major Events

2. Continuous enhancement of coverage and scale of finance-based poverty alleviation works

First, more interest-free loans were provided for the purpose of poverty alleviation. In response to the government's encouragement and based on the principles of poverty alleviation through financial support with interest-free loans for the benefits of the poor, the Company developed a policy to offer interest-free loans and guided the branch offices to cooperate with local PBOC branches, government poverty alleviation departments and financial departments to develop specific projects with supports complementary to the local poverty alleviation projects. Second, more innovative financial products and services were provided for the purpose of poverty alleviation. The Company put greater efforts in the research and development of financial products for poverty alleviation through keeping track of the modern agricultural products market and distinctive agricultural industries and enhancing collaboration with competent government authorities and synergies among bank-securities accounts. By exploring diversified financial product portfolios for poverty alleviation, the Company developed an integrated finance-based poverty alleviation system and a risk management model with diverse functions. Third, a pilot scheme for mortgage loans pledged by rural land contracted management right and rural housing and property ownership title was laid out. The Company issued and started the trial implementation of the Interim Management Measures for Loans Pledged by Rural Land Contracted Management Right of China Minsheng Bank (《中國民生銀行農村土地承包經營權抵押貸款管理細則(暫行)》) and the Interim Management Measures for Loans Pledged by Rural Housing and Property Ownership Title of China Minsheng Bank (《中國民生銀行農民住房財產權抵押貸款管理細則(暫行)》), which have specified the principles, pilot areas and organizations, targets, purposes and conditions for the grant of loans, maturity, interest rate, limit and forms of loans, as well as the distribution of funds and post-disbursement management.

3. Breakthroughs and new milestones in targeted poverty alleviation

First, poverty alleviation in terms of education and medical care was strengthened. According to the comprehensive and systematic educational alleviation plan, the Company repaired and rebuilt schools, provided subsidies to students in need and incentives for teacher training. In order to enhance the support to education, the Company contributed RMB2.80 million and RMB1.74 million to establish the Education Foundation of Hua County (滑縣教育扶貧基金) and Education Foundation of Fengqiu County (封丘縣教育扶貧資金), respectively, which have subsidized 1,107 poor students and 721 teachers, and sponsored the construction of a primary school in each of the two counties. The Company also contributed approximately RMB4 million to set up medical salvation foundations for both counties, and purchased medical insurance for 52,667 recorded poor households. Second, poverty alleviation through industrial development was driven by finance. The Company donated RMB3 million to Hua County for the establishment of equity relief fund (股權扶貧基金), and sponsored the construction of photovoltaic generators, benefitting 375 poor households in 40 villages with an investment made for each household amounting to RMB8,000. The project is expected to realize a total income of RMB450,000 per year, and each poor household is expected to receive an annual income of RMB1,200. The Company also donated over RMB4.02 million for the establishment of equity relief fund in Fengqiu County, and invested in Henan Zhong Bing Heavy Industry Machinery Co., Ltd. (河南中兵重工機械有限公司) with an agreed annual dividend of RMB322,000. Through the sharing of investment income, 322 poor households were benefited with an annual subsidy of RMB1,000 for each household. In addition, 100 poor households were benefitted from the recruitment of work force. Third, diversified and targeted poverty alleviation measures were implemented. The Company actively collaborated with China Foundation for Poverty Alleviation and other organizations to organize free training program of post-natal care workers for 95 local women. The Company also assisted in improving people's livelihood by sponsoring road hardening projects and installation of solar lights.

In 2017, adhering to the principle of “diligence generates wealth (民生在勤·勤則不匱)”, the Company will continue to contribute for poverty alleviation through organic development and facilitate the development of financial services for poverty alleviation. First, the Company will further expand the scale and coverage of poverty alleviation resources in addition to the existing finance-based alleviation works. Second, in order to enhance efficiency, the Company will improve the effectiveness of its financial services and increase financial support for more specific targets by strengthening the due diligence investigation and estimation so as to enhance efficiency of its poverty alleviation works. Third, the Company will develop new services and conduct research on the combination of different financial products for poverty alleviation, and strengthen the supervision on the utilization of interest-free loans for poverty alleviation. Fourth, systems and mechanisms will be improved by integrating and streamlining the internal organizations in charge of poverty alleviation in order to enhance the quality and handling efficiency of information collected.

Independent Auditor's Report

Independent auditor's report to the shareholders of China Minsheng Banking Corp., Ltd.

(a joint stock company incorporated in the People's Republic of China with limited liability)

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of China Minsheng Banking Corp., Ltd. (the "Bank") and its subsidiaries (the "Group") set out on pages 240 to 452, which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as at 31 December 2016, the consolidated statement of profit or loss, the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated cash flow statement for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2016 and of the consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the requirements of the code of Ethics for Professional Accountants issued by International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants ("Code") together with any ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in the People's Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Impairment of loans and receivables

Refer to note 21 and note 22(3) to the consolidated financial statements and the accounting policies on pages 262–265.

The Key Audit Matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
Loans and receivables include both loans and advances to customers and investment securities classified as loans and receivables. Impairment of loans and receivables is a subjective area due to the level of judgement applied by management in determining allowances. From the Group's perspective, the portfolios which gave rise to the greatest uncertainty in determining impairment allowances were those where impairments were derived from collective assessment models and individual cash flow assessments, where the loans and receivables were unsecured or where the loans and receivables were subject to potential collateral shortfalls. The determination of collective impairment allowances is heavily dependent on the external macro environment and the Group's internal credit risk management strategy. The Group's collective impairment allowances are derived from estimates including the Group's historical losses for loans and receivables, the loss emergence period (i.e. the time lapse between the occurrence of the event causing eventual default to the actual recording of a loss) and other adjustment factors.	Our audit procedures to assess impairment of loans and receivables included the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> assessing the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of key internal controls over the approval, recording, monitoring and restructuring of loans and receivables, the credit grading process and the measurement of impairment allowances for individually assessed loans and receivables; comparing the total balance of the loan grading report used by management to assess the allowances for impairment with the general ledger and comparing individual loan information, on a sample basis, with underlying loan agreements and other related documentation to assess the presentation of the information in the loan grading report;

Refer to note 21 and note 22(3) to the consolidated financial statements and the accounting policies on pages 262–265.

The Key Audit Matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
Individual impairment allowances are estimated by management once objective evidence of impairment becomes apparent. Management exercises judgement in determining the quantum of loss based on a range of factors. These include available remedies for recovery, the financial situation of the borrower, collateral valuation, the seniority of the claim and the existence and cooperativeness of other creditors. Whilst the Group appoints external valuers for the valuation of property and other illiquid collateral, enforceability, timing and means of realisation also affect the ultimate collectability and thereby the amount of impairment allowances as at the reporting date. We identified impairment of loans and receivables as a key audit matter because of the inherent uncertainty and management judgement involved and because of its significance to the financial results and capital of the Group.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • evaluating the validity of the models used and assumptions adopted in the Group's calculation of collective impairment allowances by critically assessing input parameters involving subjective judgement, seeking collaborative evidence from external sources and comparing the historical losses against the Group's other internal records and our prior year records. As part of these procedures, we challenged the Group's revisions to estimates and input parameters, the consistency of judgement applied in the use of economic factors, the loss emergence period and the observation period for historical losses. We compared the economic factors used in the models with market information to assess whether they were aligned with market and economic development. We also assessed the emergence period by tracing the lifecycle of overdue accounts from the specific credit event to downgrading the account to a non-performing loan. Having considered the above, we performed re-calculations to assess the amount of collective impairment allowances; • assessing the impairment allowances for individually impaired loans and receivables by selecting a risk-based sample for credit review. We analysed the loan portfolio by industry sector to select samples for credit review in industries more vulnerable to the current economic situation. We also selected samples based on other risk criteria, including but not limited to borrowers with adverse press coverage and from the Group's overdue report. We involved our internal IT specialists to assess the logic and compilation of the overdue report;

Key audit matters (Continued)Fair value of financial instruments

Refer to note 48 to the consolidated financial statements and the accounting policies on page 268.

The Key Audit Matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
The valuation of the Group's financial instruments is based on a combination of market data and valuation models which often require a considerable number of inputs. Many of these inputs are obtained from readily available data for liquid markets. Where such observable data is not readily available, as in the case of level 3 financial instruments, estimates need to be developed which can involve significant management judgement. The Group has developed its own models to value certain level 2 and level 3 financial instruments, which also involves significant management judgement. We have identified assessing the fair value of financial instruments as a key audit matter because of the degree of complexity involved in valuing certain financial instruments and the degree of judgement exercised by management in determining the inputs used in the valuation models.	Our audit procedures to assess the fair value of financial instruments included the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • assessing the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of management's key internal controls over the valuation, independent price verification, front office/back office reconciliations and valuation model approval for financial instruments; • assessing the fair values of level 1 financial instruments, on a sample basis, by comparing the fair values applied by the Group with publicly available market data; • performing, on a sample basis, independent valuations of level 2 and level 3 financial instruments and comparing these valuations with the Group's valuations. This included comparing the Group's valuation models with our knowledge of current and emerging practice, testing inputs to the fair value calculations and establishing our own valuation models to perform revaluations; and • assessing whether the financial statement disclosures appropriately reflected the Group's exposure to financial instrument valuation risk with reference to the requirements of the prevailing accounting standards.

Consolidation of structured entities

Refer to note 44 and note 45 to the consolidated financial statements and the accounting policies on page 255.

The Key Audit Matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
Structured entities are generally created to achieve a narrow and well defined objective with restrictions around their ongoing activities. The Group may acquire or retain an ownership interest in, or act as a sponsor to, a structured entity through issuing a wealth management product, an investment fund, an asset management plan, a trust plan or an asset-backed security. In determining whether a structured entity is required to be consolidated by the Group, management is required to consider the power the Group is able to exercise over the activities of the entity and its ability to influence its own returns from the entity. These factors are not purely quantitative and need to be considered collectively. We identified the consolidation of structured entities as a key audit matter because of the complex nature of certain of these structured entities.	Our audit procedures to assess the consolidation of structured entities included the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • making enquiries of management and inspecting documents relating to the judgement process over whether a structured entity is consolidated or not to assess whether the Group has a robust process in this regard; • performing the following procedures for structured entities on a sample basis: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> — inspecting selected contracts, internal establishment documents and information disclosed to the investors to understand the purpose of the establishment of the structured entities and the involvement the Group has with the structured entities and to assess management's judgement over whether the Group has the ability to exercise power over the structured entities;

Information other than the consolidated financial statements and auditor's report thereon

The Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all the information included in the annual report, other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Directors for the consolidated financial statements

The Directors are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the Directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the Directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Directors are assisted by the Audit Committee in discharging their responsibilities for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. This report is made solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Directors.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and, where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Lee Lok Man.

2 Basis of preparation and accounting policies

The accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all periods presented, unless otherwise stated.

(1) Basis of preparation

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. These financial statements also comply with the applicable disclosure provisions of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited.

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except that: (i) available-for-sale securities are measured at fair value; (ii) financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (including derivative instruments) are measured at fair value; and (iii) precious metals that acquired principally for trading purpose are measured at fair value.

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and associated assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected.

Judgements that have a significant effect on the financial statements and estimates with a significant risk of material adjustments in the subsequent period are discussed in Note 4.

(1) Basis of preparation (continued)

Changes in accounting policies

The IASB has issued the following amendments to IFRSs (including International Accounting Standards (“IASs”)) that are effective in 2016 and relevant to the Group’s operation:

Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2012–2014 Cycle

Amendments to IAS 27 Separate financial statements “Equity method in separate financial statements”

Amendments to IAS 1 Presentation of financial statements “Disclosure initiative”

The principal effects of adopting these amended IFRSs are as follows:

Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2012–2014 Cycle

The 2012–2014 cycle of annual improvement contains amendments to four standards including IFRS 5 Non-current assets held for sale and discontinued operations, IFRS 7 Financial instruments: disclosures, IFRS 19 Employee Benefits, and IAS 34 Interim financial reporting.

Amendments to IAS 27 Separate financial statements “Equity method in separate financial statements”

The amendments allow an entity to apply the equity method to account for its investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures and associates in its separate financial statements. As a result of the amendments, the entity can choose to account for these investments either at cost; in accordance with IFRS 9 (or IAS 39); or using the equity method as described in IAS 28.

(1) Basis of preparation (continued)

Amendments to IAS 1 Presentation of financial statements “disclosure initiative”

The amendments clarify various presentation issues relating to:

- assessment of materiality versus minimum disclosure requirements of a standard;
- order of notes;
- disaggregation and aggregation;
- presentation of sub-totals; and
- presentation of other comprehensive income items arising from equity-accounted associates and joint ventures.

The adoption of the above standards does not have any material impact on the financial position and the financial result of the Group.

The Group does not adopt any issued but not yet effective international financial reporting standards, interpretation and amendments.

(Expressed in millions of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

2 Basis of preparation and accounting policies (continued)(1) Basis of preparation (continued)*Changes in accounting policies (continued)Possible impact of amendments, new standards and interpretations issued but not yet effective for the year ended 31 December 2016

Up to the date of issue of the financial statements, the IASB has issued the following amendments, new standards and interpretations which are not yet effective for the year ended 31 December 2016 and which have not been adopted in these financial statements.

Standard	Effective for accounting periods beginning on or after
Amendments to IAS 12, Income taxes “Recognition of deferred tax assets for unrealised losses”	1 January 2017
Amendments to IAS 7, Statement of cash flows “disclosure initiative”	1 January 2017
IFRS 15, Revenue from contracts with customers	1 January 2018
IFRS 9, Financial Instruments	1 January 2018
Amendments to IFRS 2, Share-based payment “classification and measurement of share-based payment transactions”	1 January 2018
IFRS 16, Leases	1 January 2019

So far the Group has concluded that the adoption of other standards is unlikely to have a significant impact on its operating results and financial position, except for IFRS 9 “Financial instruments”. Since the Group is in the process of making an assessment on overall impact of IFRS 9, the Group cannot quantify the impact on its operating results and financial position.

(Expressed in millions of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

2 Basis of preparation and accounting policies (continued)

(2) Consolidated financial statements

The Group's consolidated financial statements comprise the Bank, its subsidiaries and structured entities controlled by the Group.

The Bank controls an entity when it is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. When assessing whether the Bank has power, only substantive rights (held by the Bank and other parties) are considered.

(i) Subsidiaries

For the separate financial statements of the Bank, investments in subsidiaries are accounted for at cost. At initial recognition, investment in subsidiaries is measured at: the cost of acquisition determined at the acquisition date when the subsidiaries are acquired through business combination; or the cost of capital injected into the subsidiaries set up by the Group. Impairment losses on investments in subsidiaries are accounted for in accordance with the accounting policies as set out in Note 2(12).

The results and affairs of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases. When preparing the consolidated financial statements, the Bank shall make necessary adjustments on the accounting period and accounting policies of subsidiaries to comply with those of the Bank.

Intragroup balances and transactions, and any profits or losses arising from intragroup transactions are eliminated in full in preparing the consolidated financial statements.

The portion of a subsidiary's net assets that is attributable to equity interests that are not owned by the Bank, whether directly or indirectly through subsidiaries, is treated as non-controlling interests and presented as "non-controlling interests" in the consolidated statement of financial position within total equity. The portion of net profit or loss and other comprehensive income of subsidiaries for the year attributable to non-controlling interests is separately presented in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income as a component of the Group's net profit.

(2) Consolidated financial statements (continued)

(ii) Structured entities

Structured entities are entities that have been designed so that voting or similar rights are not the dominant factor in deciding who controls the entities, for example when any voting rights relate to administrative tasks only, and key activities are directed by contractual agreement. Involvement with consolidated and unconsolidated structured entities is disclosed in Note 44 and 45.

(3) Foreign currency translation

These financial statements are presented in RMB, unless otherwise stated, rounded to the nearest million, which is the functional currency of domestic branches and subsidiaries of the Group. The functional currencies of overseas entities are determined in accordance with the primary economic environment in which they operate.

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into the respective functional currencies of the operations at the spot exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the spot exchange rates at that date. The resulting exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss. Non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies that are measured at historical cost are translated into functional currency using the spot exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies that are measured at fair value are translated using the spot exchange rates at the dates the fair values are determined; exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss, except for the differences arising from the translation of available-for-sale equity instruments, which are recognised in other comprehensive income.

Foreign currency financial statements of overseas entities are translated into RMB for the preparation of consolidated financial statements. At the end of each reporting period, the assets and liabilities in the financial statements denominated in foreign currencies are translated into RMB at the spot exchange rates ruling at that date. The income and expenses of foreign operations are translated into RMB at the spot exchange rates or the rates that approximate the spot exchange rates on the transaction dates. Foreign exchange differences arising from foreign operations are recognised as “exchange reserve” in the shareholder’s equity in the statement of financial position.

(3) Foreign currency translation (continued)

The effect of exchange rate changes on cash is presented separately in the statement of cash flows.

(4) Income recognition

Provided it is probable that economic benefits will flow to the Group and the revenue and costs, if applicable, can be measured reliably, revenue is recognised in profit or loss as follows:

(i) Interest income

Interest income from interest-bearing financial instruments is recognised in profit or loss based on the effective interest method. Interest income includes the amortisation of any discount or premium or other differences between the initial carrying amount of an interest-bearing instrument and its amount at maturity calculated on an effective interest basis.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or a financial liability and of allocating the interest income or interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument or, when appropriate, a shorter period to the net carrying amount of the financial asset or financial liability. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Group estimates cash flows considering all contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider future credit losses. The calculation includes all fees and points paid or received between parties to the contract that are an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and all other premiums or discounts.

Interest on the impaired financial assets is recognised using the rate of interest used to discount the future cash flows for the purpose of measuring the related impairment loss.

When the future cash flow or the expected life of financial assets or financial liabilities could not be estimated reliably, the Group adopted the contractual cash flow over the full contractual term of the financial assets or financial liabilities.

(Expressed in millions of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

(4) Income recognition (continued)

(ii) Fee and commission income

Fee and commission income is recognised in profit or loss when the corresponding service is provided. Origination or commitment fees received by the Group which result in the creation or acquisition of a financial asset are deferred and recognised as an adjustment to the effective interest rate. If the commitment expires without the Group making a loan, the fee is recognised as revenue on expiry.

(5) Financial instruments

(i) Classification of financial assets

The Group classifies its financial assets in the following categories: financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, loans and receivables, held-to-maturity investments and available-for-sale financial assets. Management determines the classification of the Group's investments at initial recognition.

a Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss include those classified as held for trading, and those designated as at fair value through profit or loss.

A financial asset is classified as held for trading if it is: (i) acquired principally for the purpose of selling it in the near term; (ii) part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that are managed together and for which there is evidence of a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or (iii) a derivative (except for a derivative that is a designated and effective hedging instrument or a financial guarantee contract).

(5) Financial instruments (continued)

Financial assets are designated at fair value through profit or loss upon initial recognition when: (i) the financial assets are managed, evaluated and reported internally on a fair value basis; (ii) the designation eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch in the gain and loss recognition arising from the difference in measurement basis of the financial assets; or (iii) if a contract contains one or more embedded derivatives, an entity may designate the entire hybrid (combined) contract as a financial asset at fair value through profit or loss unless: the embedded derivative(s) does not significantly modify the cash flows that otherwise would be required by the contract; or it is clear with little or no analysis when a similar hybrid (combined) instrument is first considered that separation of the embedded derivative(s) is prohibited.

Financial assets designated at fair value through profit or loss of the Group are reported in “financial assets at fair value through profit or loss” in the statement of financial position.

b Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market, other than: (i) those that the Group intends to sell immediately or in the near term; (ii) those that the Group upon initial recognition designates as at fair value through profit or loss or as available-for-sale; or (iii) those for which the Group may not recover substantially all of its initial investment, other than because of credit deterioration, which will be classified as available-for-sale.

(5) Financial instruments (continued)

c Held-to-maturity investments

Held-to-maturity investments are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturities, which the Group has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity, other than (i) those that the Group upon initial recognition designates as at fair value through profit or loss; (ii) those that the Group designates as available-for-sale and; (iii) those that meet the definition of loans and receivables.

The Group shall reclassify any remaining held-to-maturity investments as available-for-sale and shall not classify any financial assets as held-to-maturity during the current financial year or during the two preceding financial years, if the Group has sold or reclassified more than an insignificant amount of held-to-maturity investments before maturity (more than insignificant in relation to the total amount of held-to-maturity investments) except for sale or reclassification that:

- is so close to maturity or the financial asset's call date (for example, less than three months before maturity) that changes in the market rate of interest would not have a significant effect on the financial asset's fair value;
- occurs after the entity has collected substantially all of the financial asset's original principal through scheduled payments or prepayments; or
- is attributable to an isolated event that is beyond the entity's control, is non-recurring and could not have been reasonably anticipated by the entity.

d Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets that are designated as available-for-sale or are not classified as: (i) financial assets at fair value through profit or loss; (ii) held-to-maturity investments; or (iii) loans and receivables.

(5) Financial instruments (continued)

(ii) Recognition and measurement of financial assets

All financial assets are recognised in the statement of financial position, when and only when, the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets are measured initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the instrument. Transaction costs for financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are expensed immediately.

Subsequent to initial recognition, held-to-maturity investments and loans and receivables are measured at amortised cost, while other categories of financial assets are measured at fair value, without any deduction for transaction costs that may occur on sale or other disposal. Investments in available-for-sale equity instruments that do not have a quoted market price in an active market and whose fair value cannot be reliably measured, and derivatives that are linked to and must be settled by delivery of such unquoted equity instruments are measured at cost less impairment losses.

Gains and losses from changes in the fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in profit or loss.

Unrealised gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of available-for-sale financial assets are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated separately in equity, except for impairment losses and foreign exchange gains and losses on monetary items such as debt securities which are recognised in profit or loss.

When the available-for-sale financial assets are sold, gains or losses on disposal are recognised in profit or loss. Gains or losses on disposal include those previously recognised in other comprehensive income and reclassified into the profit or loss.

(Expressed in millions of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

(5) Financial instruments (continued)

(ii) Recognition and measurement of financial assets (continued)

Dividend income from the available-for-sale equity instruments is recognised in profit or loss when the investee declares the dividends. Interest on available-for-sale financial assets calculated using the effective interest method is recognised in profit or loss.

(iii) Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset if the part being considered for derecognition meets one of the following conditions: (i) the contractual rights to receive the cash flows from the financial asset expire; or (ii) the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset have been transferred and the Group transfers substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset; or (iii) the Group retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows to the eventual recipient in an agreement that meets all the conditions of transfer of cash flows and transfers substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset.

If the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, but retains control, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset to the extent of its continuing involvement in the financial asset. If the Group has not retained control, it derecognises the financial asset and recognises separately as assets or liabilities any rights and obligations created or retained in the transfer.

(iv) Impairment of financial assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Group assesses the carrying amount of financial assets (except for those at fair value through profit or loss). If there is any objective evidence that a financial asset is impaired, the Group will recognise the impairment loss in profit or loss. Losses expected as a result of future events, no matter how likely, are not recognised as impairment losses.

Objective evidence that a financial asset is impaired includes one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the asset where the event (or events) has an impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset that can be reliably estimated. Objective evidence includes the following loss event:

- significant financial difficulty of the borrower or issuer;
- a breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments;
- the Group, for economic or legal reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, granting to the borrower a concession that the Group would not otherwise consider;
- it becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation;
- disappearance of an active market for financial assets because of financial difficulties;

(iv) Impairment of financial assets (continued)

- observable data indicating that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows from a group of financial assets since the initial recognition of those assets, although the decrease cannot be identified with the individual financial assets in the Group, including: adverse changes in the payment status of borrowers in the Group, an increase in the unemployment rate in the geographical area of the borrowers, a decrease in property prices for mortgages in the relevant area, or adverse changes in industry conditions that affect the borrowers in the Group;
- significant changes in the technological, market, economic or legal environment that have an adverse effect on the issuer of an equity instrument;
- a significant (the decline of fair value over 50%) or prolonged decline (the continued decline of fair value over one year) in the fair value of an investment in an equity instrument below its cost; and
- other objective evidence indicating there is an impairment of the financial asset.

a Loans and receivables and held-to-maturity investments

Individual assessment

Loans and receivables and held-to-maturity investments, which are considered individually significant, are assessed individually for impairment. If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on loans and receivables or held-to-maturity investments carried at amortised cost has been incurred on an individual basis, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the asset's original effective interest rate, and recognised in profit or loss.

Cash flows relating to short-term loans and receivables and held-to-maturity investments are not discounted if the effect of discounting is immaterial. The calculation of the present value of the estimated future cash flows of a collateralised loan or receivable reflects the cash flows that may result from foreclosure less costs for obtaining and selling the collateral, whether or not foreclosure is probable.

a Loans and receivables and held-to-maturity investments (continued)

Collective assessment

Homogeneous groups of loans and advances to customers not considered individually significant and individually assessed loans and receivables with no objective evidence of impairment on an individual basis are assessed for impairment losses on a collective basis. If there is observable data indicating that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows from a group of financial assets since the initial recognition of those financial assets, the impairment is recognised and recorded in profit or loss.

For homogeneous groups of loans and advances that are not considered individually significant, the Group adopts a flow rate methodology to assess impairment losses on a collective basis. This methodology utilises a statistical analysis of historical trends of probability of default and amount of consequential loss, as well as an adjustment of observable data that reflects the current economic conditions.

Loans and receivables investments which are individually significant and therefore have been individually assessed but for which no impairment can be identified, are grouped together in portfolios of similar credit risk characteristics for the purpose of assessing a collective impairment loss. The collective impairment loss is assessed after taking into account: (i) historical loss experience in portfolios of similar risk characteristics; (ii) the emergence period between a loss occurring and that loss being identified; and (iii) the current economic and credit environments and whether in management's experience these indicate that the actual level of inherent losses is likely to be greater or less than that suggested by historical experience.

The emergence period between a loss occurring and its identification is determined by management based on the historical experience of the markets where the Group operates.

Impairment losses recognised on a collective basis represent an interim step pending the identification of impairment losses on individual assets (which are subject to individual assessment) in the pool of financial assets that are collectively assessed for impairment.

At the end of each reporting period, collective assessment covers those loans and receivables that were impaired but was not individually identified as such until some time in the future. As soon as information is available to specifically identify objective evidence of impairment on individual assets in a pool, those assets are removed from the pool of collectively assessed financial assets.

Impairment reversal and loan write-off

If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss on loans and receivables and held-to-maturity investments decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed. The amount of the reversal is recognised in profit or loss. The reversal shall not result in a carrying amount of the financial asset that exceeds the amortised cost at the date of the reversal had the impairment not been recognised.

When the Group determines that a loan has no reasonable prospect of recovery after the Group has completed all the necessary legal or other proceedings, the loan is written off against its allowance for impairment losses. If in a subsequent period the loan written off is recovered, the amount recovered will be recognised in profit or loss through impairment losses.

b Available-for-sale financial assets

When an available-for-sale financial asset is impaired, the cumulative loss arising from decline in fair value that had been recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified to the profit or loss even though the financial asset has not been derecognised. The amount of the cumulative loss that is removed from equity is the difference between the acquisition cost (net of any principal repayment and amortisation) and current fair value, less any impairment loss on that financial asset previously recognised in profit or loss. For available-for-sale financial assets in equity instruments measured at cost, the amount of any impairment loss is measured as the difference between the carrying amount of the financial asset and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset and recognised in profit or loss.

If, in a subsequent period, the fair value of available-for-sale financial assets increases and the increase can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised, the impairment loss shall be treated in accordance with the following principles: (i) the impairment loss on debt instruments classified as available-for-sale shall be reversed, with the amount of the reversal recognised in profit or loss; (ii) the impairment loss on equity instruments classified as available-for-sale shall not be reversed through the profit or loss. Any subsequent increase in the fair value of such assets is recognised in other comprehensive income; or (iii) the impairment loss in respect of available-for-sale equity investments carried at cost shall not be reversed. The impairment losses recognised in an interim period in respect of such financial assets are not reversed in a subsequent period. This is the case even if no loss or a smaller loss would have been recognised had the impairment been assessed only at the end of the year to which the interim period relates.

(v) Financial liabilities

a Classification, recognition and measurement

The Group classifies its financial liabilities into the following two categories at inception: financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and other financial liabilities.

— Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

A financial liability is classified as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss if it is incurred principally for the purpose of repurchasing it in the near term.

— Other financial liabilities

Other financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value net of transaction costs incurred. Other financial liabilities are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

b Derecognition

The financial liability is derecognised only when: (i) the underlying present obligation specified in the contracts is discharged, cancelled or expired, or (ii) an agreement between the Group and an existing lender to replace the original financial liability with a new financial liability with substantially different terms, or a substantial modification of the terms of an existing financial liability is accounted for as an extinguishment of the original financial liability and recognition of a new financial liability. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid is recognised in profit or loss.

(5) Financial instruments (continued)

(vi) Fair value measurement

If there is an active market for financial instruments, the fair value of financial instruments is based on quoted market prices without any deduction for transaction costs that may occur on sale or other disposal. The appropriate quoted price in an active market for a financial asset held or liability to be issued is usually the current bid price and, for an asset to be acquired or liability held, the asking price. Quoted prices from an active market are prices that are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group or pricing service agency, etc, and represent prices of actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis.

If a quoted market price is not available, the fair value of the financial instruments is estimated using valuation techniques. Valuation techniques applied include recent arm's length market transactions between knowledgeable and willing parties, reference to the fair value of another instrument that is substantially the same, discounted cash flow analysis and option pricing models. The Group selects valuation techniques that are commonly accepted by market participants for pricing the instruments and these techniques have been demonstrated to provide reliable estimates of prices obtained in actual market transactions. Periodically, the Group reviews the valuation techniques and tests them for validity.

(vii) Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the statement of financial position when the Group has a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and the transactions are intended to be settled on a net basis, or by realising the asset and settling the liability simultaneously.

(5) Financial instruments (continued)

(viii) Derivative financial instruments and embedded derivative financial instruments

The Group uses derivative financial instruments such as forward, futures, swap and option contracts to hedge its risks associated with foreign currency and interest rate fluctuation respectively. A derivative financial instrument has all three of the following characteristics:

- its value changes in response to the change in a specified interest rate, financial instrument price, commodity price, foreign exchange rate, index of prices or rates, credit rating or credit index, or other variable;
- it requires no initial net investment or an initial net investment that is smaller than would be required for other types of contracts that would be expected to have a similar response to changes in market factors;
- it is settled at a future date.

Derivatives are recognised at fair value upon initial recognition. The positive fair value is recognised as an asset while the negative fair value is recognised as a liability. The gain or loss on re-measurement to fair value is recognised in profit or loss.

An embedded derivative financial instrument is a component of a hybrid contract that includes a non-derivative host contract (the “host contract”), and the derivative financial instrument causes some or all of the cash flows that otherwise would be required by the contract to be modified, according to a specified interest rate, financial instrument price, foreign exchange rate, index of prices or interest rate index, credit rating or credit index, or other variables such as the conversion option of a convertible bond. The embedded derivative is separated from the host contract and accounted for as a separate derivative when (i) the economic characteristics and risks of the embedded derivative are not closely related to the host contract; (ii) a separate instrument with the same terms as the embedded derivative would meet the definition of a derivative; and (iii) the hybrid (combined) instrument is not measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss.

If an embedded derivative is separated, the host contract shall be accounted for as financial assets or liabilities, if it is a financial instrument.

Gains and losses from changes in fair value of derivatives, including the contractual interest, that do not qualify for hedge accounting are reported in profit or loss. The Group has no derivative positions that are accounted for as hedges.

(ix) Asset-backed securities

The Group securitises various corporate loans, which generally results in the sale of these assets to special purpose entity, which, in turn issue securities to investors. Interests in the securitised financial assets may be retained in the form of senior or subordinated tranches, or other residual interests (retained interests). Retained interests are carried at fair value on inception date on the Group's statement of financial position. Gains or losses on asset-backed securities depend in part on the carrying amount of the transferred financial assets, allocated between the financial assets derecognised and the retained interests based on their relative fair values at the date of the transfer. Gains or losses on asset-backed securities are recorded in other operating income.

In applying its policies on securitised financial assets, the Group has considered both the degree of transfer of risks and rewards on assets transferred and the degree of control exercised by the Group over the financial assets:

- when the Group transfers substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial assets, the Group shall derecognise the financial assets;
- when the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial assets, the Group shall continue to recognise the financial assets; and
- when the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risk and rewards of ownership of the financial assets, the Group would determine whether it has retained control of the financial assets. If the Group has not retained control, it shall derecognise the financial assets and recognise separately as assets.

(5) Financial instruments (continued)

(x) Preference share

Such preference shares or their components are initially recognised as financial assets, financial liabilities or equity instruments according to the terms and the economic substance combined with the definition of financial assets, financial liabilities and equity instruments.

When the issued preference shares contain equity and liability components, the Group follows the same accounting policy as for convertible bonds with equity components. For the issued preference shares which do not contain equity component, the Group follows the accounting policy as accounting for the convertible bonds only with liability component.

For the issued preference shares that should be classified as equity instruments, will be recognised as equity in actual amount received. Dividends payables are recognised as distribution of profits. Redemption before maturity will write down equity as redemption price.

(6) Precious metals

Precious metals comprise gold and other precious metals. Precious metals that are acquired by the Group principally for trading purpose are initially recognised at fair value and re-measured at fair value with changes in fair value included in “net trading gain/(loss)” in the statement of comprehensive income. Precious metals that are not acquired by the Group principally for trading purpose are carried at lower of cost and net realisable value.

(7) Financial assets held under resale agreements and financial assets sold under repurchase agreements

Financial assets held under resale agreements are transactions where the Group acquires financial assets which will be resold at a predetermined price at a future date under resale agreements. Financial assets sold under repurchase agreements are transactions where the Group sells financial assets which will be repurchased at a predetermined price at a future date under repurchase agreements.

The cash advanced or received is recognised as amounts held under resale or sold under repurchase agreements in the statement of financial position. Assets held under resale agreements are not recognised. Assets sold under repurchase agreements continue to be recognised in the statement of financial position.

The difference between the purchase and resale consideration, and that between the sale and repurchase consideration, is amortised over the period of the respective transaction using the effective interest method and is included in interest income and interest expenses respectively.

(8) Repossessed assets

In the recovery of impaired loans and advances, the Group may take possession of assets held as collateral through court proceedings or voluntary delivery of possession by the borrowers. Repossessed assets are recognised and reported in “other assets” in the statement of financial position when the Group intends to achieve an orderly realization of the impaired assets and the Group is no longer seeking repayment from the borrower.

Repossessed assets are initially recognised at fair value plus related costs when they are obtained as compensation for loan principal and interest. Subsequently, the repossessed collateral assets are measured at the lower of their carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell. Repossessed assets do not carry depreciation and amortization. The impairment losses of initial measurement and subsequent revaluation are charged to the income statement.

2 Basis of preparation and accounting policies (continued)(9) Investment properties

Investment properties are land and/or buildings which are owned or held under a leasehold interest to earn rental income and/or for capital appreciation. These include land held for a currently undetermined future use and property that is being constructed or developed for future use as investment property. Investment properties are measured initially at cost. Subsequent costs are recognised in the carrying amount of the item if the recognition criteria are satisfied. Expenditures related to ordinary maintenance are recognised in profit or loss.

The Group adopts the cost model for subsequent measurement of the investment properties. Depreciation is calculated to write off to profit or loss the cost of investment properties, less their estimated residual value, if any, using the straight line method over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful lives, the estimated net residual values expressed as a percentage of cost and the annual depreciation rates of the investment properties are as follows:

	Estimated useful lives	Estimated net residual value	Annual depreciation rate
Buildings	40 years	5%	2.38%

When an investment property is transferred to an owner-occupied property, it is reclassified as property at its carrying amount at the transfer date. When an owner-occupied property is transferred to earn rentals or for capital appreciation, the property is reclassified as investment property at its carrying amount at the transfer date.

At the end of each reporting period, the Group analyses the estimated useful lives, net residual value and depreciation method of the investment property, and adjusts if appropriate.

An investment property is derecognised on disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from its disposal. Gains or losses arising from the retirements or disposal of investment property shall be determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the assets, and is recognised in profit or loss in the period of the retirement or disposal.

(10) Property and equipment

Items of property and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Cost includes expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of an asset.

The cost of replacing a component of an item of property or equipment is recognised in the carrying amount of the item, if it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. Expenditures relating to ordinary maintenance of property and equipment are recognised in profit or loss.

Depreciation is amortised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of each part of an item of property and equipment. The estimated useful lives, the estimated net residual values expressed as a percentage of cost and the annual depreciation rates of the investment properties are as follows:

	Estimated useful lives	Estimated net residual value	Annual depreciation rates
Buildings	15–40 years	5%	2.38%–6.33%
Leasehold improvements	5–10 years	0%	10%–20%
Office equipment	5–10 years	5%	9.5%–19%
Transportation equipment	5–24 years	5%	3.96%–19%

No depreciation is provided on construction work in progress.

At the end of each reporting period, the Group analyses the estimated useful lives, net residual value and depreciation method of property and equipment, and adjusts if appropriate.

Impairment losses on property and equipment are accounted for in accordance with the accounting policies as set out in Note 2(12).

(10) Property and equipment (continued)

Gains or losses arising from the retirement or disposal of property and equipment are determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the assets are recognised in profit or loss on the date of retirement or disposal.

(11) Intangible assets

Intangible assets include land use rights and computer software, and they are measured at cost.

The cost less estimated net residual values of the intangible assets is amortised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over their useful lives. Impaired intangible assets are amortised net of accumulated impairment losses.

If purchase costs of land use rights and the buildings located thereon cannot be reliably allocated between the land use rights and the buildings, all of the purchase costs are recognised as properties.

At the end of each reporting period, the Group analyses the estimated useful lives and the amortisation method of the intangible assets, and adjusts if appropriate.

(12) Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Group assesses whether there is any indication that a non-financial asset may be impaired. If any indication exists that an asset may be impaired, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the asset.

If there is any indication that an asset may be impaired and it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group determines the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit ("CGU") to which the asset belongs.

CGU is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash flows from other assets or groups of assets.

(Expressed in millions of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

(12) Impairment of non-financial assets (continued)

The recoverable amount of an asset (or CGU, group of CGUs) is the higher of its fair value less costs to sell and the present value of the expected future cash flows. The Group considers all relevant factors in estimating the present value of future cash flows, such as the expected future cash flows, the useful life and the discount rate.

(i) Impairment loss

If the recoverable amount of an asset is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount. That reduction is recognised as an impairment loss and charged to the profit or loss.

For a CGU or a group of CGUs, the amount of impairment loss firstly reduces the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the CGU or group of CGUs, and then reduces the carrying amount of other assets (other than goodwill) within the CGU or group of CGUs, pro rata on the basis of the carrying amount of each asset.

(ii) Reversing an impairment loss

If, in a subsequent period, the amount of impairment loss of the non-financial asset except for goodwill decreases and the decrease can be linked objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed through the profit or loss. A reversal of impairment loss is limited to the asset's carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised in prior periods.

An impairment loss in respect of goodwill is not reversed.

(13) Income tax

Current income tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable income for the period, using tax rates enacted or substantially enacted at the end of each reporting period, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous periods.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities arise from deductible and taxable temporary differences respectively, being the differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and their tax bases. Deferred tax also arises from unused tax losses and unused tax credits. A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the asset can be utilised.

At the end of each reporting period, deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled according to the requirements of tax laws. The Group also considers the possibility of realisation and the settlement of deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities in the calculation.

Current tax assets are offset against current tax liabilities, and deferred tax assets against deferred tax liabilities if the Group has the legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on the same taxable entity. Otherwise, the balances of deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities, and movements therein, are presented separately from each other and are not offset.

Current income tax and movements in deferred tax balances are recognised in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the relevant amounts of tax are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

2 Basis of preparation and accounting policies (continued)

(14) Employee benefits

(i) Short-term employee benefits

In the reporting period in which an employee has rendered services, the Group recognises the short-term employee benefits payable for those services as a liability with a corresponding increase in the expenses in the consolidated statement of profit or loss. Short-term employee benefits include salaries, bonuses, allowance, staff welfare, medical insurance, employment injury insurance, maternity insurance, housing funds as well as labour union fee and staff and workers' education fee.

(ii) Post-employment benefits-defined contribution plans

The Group's post-employment benefits are primarily the payments for basic pension fund and unemployment insurance related to government mandated social welfare programs, as well as the annuity scheme established. All these post-employment benefits are defined contribution plans, under which, the Group makes fixed contributions into a separate fund and will have no legal or constructive obligation to make further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employee benefits relating to employee services in the current and prior periods.

Contributions to the post-employment benefits plans are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss for the period in which the related payment obligation is incurred.

(15) Provisions

A provision is recognised in the statement of financial position if, as the result of a past event, the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be reliably estimated and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Where the effect of time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows.

(16) Leases

A finance lease is a lease that transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset to the lessee, irrespective of whether the legal title to the asset is eventually transferred or not. An operating lease is a lease other than a finance lease.

(i) Operating leases

Where the Group has the use of assets held under operating leases, payments made under the leases are charged to profit or loss, using the straight-line method, over the accounting periods covered by the lease term, except where an alternative basis is more representative of the pattern of benefits to be derived from the leased assets. Lease incentives received are recognised in profit or loss as an integral part of the aggregate net lease payments made. Contingent rentals are charged to profit or loss in the accounting period in which they are incurred.

(ii) Finance leases

When the Group is a lessor under financial lease, at the leasing commencement date, the minimum lease payments receivables and initial direct costs are recognised as finance lease receivables and any unguaranteed residual value is recognised at the same time. The difference between the sum of minimum lease payments receivables, initial direct costs, the unguaranteed residual value and their present value is accounted for as unearned finance income.

The unearned finance income is amortised using the effective interest method over the lease period.

Impairment losses on lease receivables are accounted for in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2(5)(iv).

2 Basis of preparation and accounting policies (continued)

(17) Contingent liabilities

A potential obligation arising from a past transaction or event whose existence can only be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of future uncertain events; or a present obligation that arises from past transactions or events where it is not probable that an outflow of economic benefits is required to settle the obligation or the amount of the obligation cannot be measured reliably, is disclosed as a contingent liability unless the probability of outflow of economic benefit is remote.

Contingent liabilities which are not recognised as a liability are expected to be disclosed in the notes only. If the situation changes, the contingent liabilities are recognised as liability when it is probable that an outflow of economic resources will be required and the amount of obligation can be measured reliably.

(18) Fiduciary activities

The Group's fiduciary business refers to the management of assets for customers in accordance with custody agreements signed by the Group and securities investment funds, insurance companies, annuity plans and other organisations. The Group fulfils its fiduciary duty and receives relevant fees in accordance with these agreements, and does not take up any risks and rewards related to the assets under custody, which are recorded as off-balance sheet items.

The Group conducts entrusted lending business, whereby it enters into entrusted loan agreements with customers. Under the terms of these agreements, the customers provide funding (the "entrusted funds") to the Group, and the Group grants loans to third parties (the "entrusted loans") according to the instructions of the customers. As the Group does not assume the risks and rewards of the entrusted loans and the corresponding entrusted funds, entrusted loans and funds are recorded as off-balance sheet items at their principal amounts and no impairment assessments are made for these entrusted loans.

(19) Hedge accounting

Hedge accounting is a method which recognises in profit or loss the offsetting effect of changes in the fair value of the hedging instrument and the hedged item in the same accounting period(s).

Hedged items are the items that expose the Group to risks of changes in fair value or future cash flows and that are designated as being hedged.

A hedging instrument is a designated derivative whose changes in fair value or cash flows are expected to offset changes in the fair value or cash flows of the hedged item.

The hedge is assessed by the Group for effectiveness on an ongoing basis and judged whether it was highly effective throughout the accounting periods for which the hedging relationship was designated. Group only adopts cash flow hedging accounting.

A cash flow hedge is a hedge of the exposure to variability in cash flows. The portion of the gain or loss on the hedging instrument that is determined to be an effective hedge is recognised directly in other comprehensive income as a separate component. The ineffective portion of the gain or loss on the hedging instrument is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

When the hedged cash flow affects profit or loss, the gain or loss on the hedging instrument recognised directly in other comprehensive income from the period when the hedge was effective is recycled in the corresponding income or expense line of the statement of profit or loss. When a hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised, or the hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, the Group will discontinue the hedge accounting treatments prospectively. In this case, any cumulative gain or loss existing in other comprehensive income at that time remains in other comprehensive income until the hedged forecast transaction ultimately occurs. When a forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur, the cumulative gain or loss that was reported in other comprehensive income is immediately transferred to profit or loss.

(20) Profit distribution

Proposed dividends which are declared and approved after the end of each reporting period are not recognised as a liability in the statement of financial position and are instead disclosed as a subsequent event after the end of each reporting period in the notes to the financial statements. Dividends payable are recognised as liabilities in the period in which they are approved.

(21) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash at bank and on hand, unrestricted balances held with central banks and highly liquid financial assets with maturities of three months or less from the acquisition date that are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in their fair value.

(22) Financial guarantees contracts

Financial guarantees are contracts that require the Group to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payment when due in accordance with the terms of a debt instrument.

Financial guarantee liabilities are recognised initially at their fair value, and the initial fair value is amortised over the life of the financial guarantee. The financial guarantee liability is subsequently carried at the higher of this amortised amount and the present value of any expected payment when a payment under the guarantee has become probable. The estimation for impairment allowance is based on similar transaction, historical experience and management judgment.

(23) Related parties

 - b One entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or an associate or joint venture of a member of a group of which the other entity is a member);
 - c Both entities are joint ventures of the same third party;

2 Basis of preparation and accounting policies (continued)

(24) Operating segment

The Group determines its operating segments on the basis of its internal organisational structure, management requirements and internal reporting practices.

An operating segment is a component of the Group that meets all the following requirements: (i) it engages in business activities from which it may earn revenues and incur expenses, including revenues and expenses relating to transactions with other components of the Group; (ii) its operating results are regularly reviewed by the Group's chief operating decision maker to make decisions about resources to be allocated to the segment and assess its performance; and (iii) separate financial information is available. The operating segments that meet the specified criteria have been aggregated, and the operating segment that meets quantitative thresholds have been reported separately.

The reports on an operating segment are consistent with those internal reports submitted to the chief operating decision maker.

3 Financial risk management

(1) Financial risk management overview

The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks, which entails analyses, evaluations, acceptance and management of risks of varying degrees or combinations. The core characteristic of the financial business is taking risk; risks are inevitable in business. The Group's aim is therefore to achieve an appropriate balance between risk and return and minimise potential adverse effects on the Group's financial performance.

As at 31 December 2016, the Group provides commercial banking, leasing, fund raising and sales and other financial services through the Bank and its subsidiaries, Minsheng Financial Leasing Co., Ltd. ("Minsheng Financial Leasing"), Minsheng Royal Fund Management Co., Ltd. ("Minsheng Royal Fund") and CMBC International Holding Ltd. ("CMBC International"), and 29 Rural banks. Its subsidiaries as separate entities, are responsible for financial risk management in their respective businesses. In 2016, the financial risk arising from commercial banking was the most significant risk for the Group's operations.

(1) Financial risk management overview (continued)

The Group's risk management policies are designed to set appropriate risk limits and controls, and to monitor risks and limit compliance through reliable and up-to-date information systems. The Group regularly reviews its risk management policies and systems in line with changes in markets, products and the industry's best practices.

The Bank has a Risk Management Committee under the Board of Directors, and the committee is responsible for setting the Bank's overall risk management strategies, monitoring the Bank's risk management and internal controls and assessing the Bank's overall risk position. In accordance with the risk management strategies set by the committee, the Bank's senior management formulates and promotes compliance of risk management policies, practices and procedures.

The Bank has a Strategic Development and Investment Management Committee under the Board of Directors. The committee is responsible for the daily management of subsidiaries, with a comprehensive risk management framework in the pipeline at the Group level.

The most significant types of risks to the Group are credit risk, market risk, liquidity risk and operational risk. Market risk comprises currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk.

(2) Credit risk

The Group is exposed to credit risk, which is the risk that a counterparty will cause a financial loss for the Group by failing to discharge an obligation. Credit risk is the most important risk for the Group's operating activities; management therefore carefully manages its exposure to it. Credit exposures arise principally from lending, trade finance, credit debt securities and leasing activities. There is also credit risk in off-balance sheet financial instruments, such as credit commitments and derivatives.

Currently, the Bank's Risk Management Committee is responsible for decision-making and centralised coordination in credit risk prevention. The committee manages credit risk through a number of methods, including specialised credit assessment, centralised quality monitoring, and centralised management and collection of stressed assets.

3 Financial risk management (continued)(2) Credit risk (continued)*(i) Credit risk measurement*a Loans and credit commitments

The Group measures and manages the quality of its credit assets in accordance with the CBRC Guidelines for Risk Classification of Loans (the “Guidelines”). The Guidelines require financial institutions to classify their credit assets into five categories, namely pass, special mention, sub-standard, doubtful and loss, of which the last three categories are non-performing loans. At the same time, the Group includes its off-balance sheet credit commitments as part of its overall credit extension, applies credit limit management, and classifies key on-balance sheet and off-balance sheet items in accordance with the Guidelines. The Bank has also developed the Administrative Measures for Risk Classification of Credit Assets of China Minsheng Banking Corporation Limited to guide its daily risk management of credit assets, following classification principles fully consistent with the Guidelines.

The core definitions of credit asset classifications in the Guidelines are as follows:

Pass:	The borrower can fulfill contracts, and there is no sufficient reason to suspect that the principal and interest of loans cannot be repaid in full on time.
Special-mention:	The borrower can make current payments, but there may be some potential issues that could adversely impact future payments.
Substandard:	The borrower’s repayment ability has been impaired and its normal income is insufficient to repay the loan principal and interest in full. Even with the enforcement of the related guarantee (if any), there may be a certain level of loss.
Doubtful:	The borrower can’t repay the principal plus the interest in full. Even with the enforcement of guarantee (if any), there will be a significant loss.
Loss:	After taking all possible actions or resorting to all necessary legal proceedings, the loan principal and interest cannot be recovered or only a small portion of them can be recovered.

b Debt securities and other bills

The Group manages its credit risk exposure of debt securities and other bills by including issuers' credit exposures into the unified credit-grant management and control processes. The Group continues to optimise its exposure structure by requiring a minimum external rating of the debt securities of investment access management and by setting investment structure concentration requirements of portfolio management. In addition, the risk control staff will regularly analyse the credit profile of issuers of debt securities, and the operational staff will continue to optimise and adjust the investment portfolio based on the risk-mitigation recommendations.

(ii) Risk limit control and mitigation policies

The Group exercises risk concentration management and controls over its counterparties, whether individuals or groups, and industries and geographical regions.

The Group has established relevant mechanisms to apply tiered management of credit risks, and set limits to acceptable risks for different individual or group counterparties, different industries and geographical regions. The Bank monitors the risk status of these customers regularly and reviews their risk positions at least once a year.

Risk exposures to borrowers, including banks, are further classified into on- and off-balance sheet risk exposures, and controls have been applied to daily risk limits of each trading account. The Bank also monitors basis actual risk exposures daily in relation to corresponding risk limits.

The Group controls its credit risks through, among other necessary measures, regular analyses of a customer's ability to repay interest and principal, and making appropriate adjustments to credit lines.

(2) Credit risk (continued)

(ii) Risk limit control and mitigation policies (continued)

Other specific control and mitigation measures include:

a Collateral

The Group and its subsidiaries have individually established a range of risk management policies and adopted different methods to mitigate credit risk. A critical method for the Group's control of its credit risks is to acquire collateral, security deposits and guarantees from enterprises or individuals. The Group has specified acceptable types of collaterals, mainly including the following:

- Real estate and land use rights
- Machinery and equipment
- Right to receive payments and accounts receivable
- Financial instruments such as time deposits, debt securities and equities.

In order to minimise its credit risk, once an indication of impairment has been identified with an individual loan, the Group will seek additional collateral from counterparties or require additional guarantors.

Collateral held as security for financial assets other than loans and accounts receivable is determined by the instruments' nature. Debt securities are generally unsecured, with the exception of asset-backed securities and similar instruments, which are secured by portfolios of financial instruments.

b Derivative instruments

Only the Bank is authorised to engage in financial derivative transactions. The Bank maintains strict net exposure limits in its financial derivative transactions with counterparties and monitors the activities through daily summary reports on the use of exposure limits. The Bank's exposure to credit risk of derivative instruments is limited to derivative instruments with positive fair value. The Bank sets credit limits for counterparties in its management system to monitor the credit position of derivative transactions and mitigates credit risk associated with derivative instruments by requiring margin deposits from counterparties.

c Credit related commitments

The primary purpose of these instruments is to ensure that funds are available to a customer when required. Guarantees and standby letters of credit, which represent irrevocable assurances that the Group will make payments in the event that a customer cannot meet its obligations to third parties, carry the same credit risk as loans. In some cases, such as those situations where the amount of credit commitment exceeds the original credit limit, guarantee deposits are received by the Group to lessen the credit risks related to such commitments. The Group's potential amount of credit risk exposure is equivalent to the total amount of credit commitments.

Loan commitments and financial leasing commitments represent unused portions of authorisations to extend credit. With respect to credit risk on commitments to extend credit, the Group is potentially exposed to loss in an amount equal to the total unused commitments. However, the likely amount of loss is less than the total unused commitments, as most commitments to extend credit are contingent upon customers maintaining specific credit standards. The Group monitors the term to maturity of credit commitments because longer-term commitments generally have a greater degree of credit risk than shorter-term commitments.

(2) Credit risk (continued)

(iii) Impairment allowance policies

In accordance with accounting policies and regulations, if there is objective evidence that indicates the cash flow for a particular loan is expected to decrease, and the amount can be estimated, the loan is recorded as an impaired loan and the impairment loss is recognised in the income statement.

Note 2(5) illustrates the criteria that the Group uses to determine that there is an objective evidence of impairment loss.

The Group's policy requires regular review of the quality of individually significant financial assets. For assets for which an allowance for impairment loss is provided individually, the amount is determined by an evaluation of the incurred loss at reporting date on a case-by-case basis. In making such assessments, the Group considers the value of collateral held and expected future cash flows from the asset.

Impairment allowances are provided for the following portfolios according to historical data, experience and statistical techniques: (i) those consisting of homogenous assets that are individually below materiality thresholds; and (ii) those where losses that have been incurred but have not yet been individually identified with any specific asset within the portfolio.

3 Financial risk management (continued)(2) Credit risk (continued)(v) Loans and advances to customers (continued)(b) Past due but not impaired

In general, loans that are past due for less than 90 days are not identified as impaired loans unless there is evidence of impairment.

At the inception of loan drawdown, the Group requires independent asset valuation agencies to perform valuation assessments of the corresponding collateral. When there is evidence that indicates the collateral is impaired, the Group will review whether the collateral is sufficient to cover the credit risk of the corresponding loans.

The following table presents the ageing analysis of each type of loans and advances to customers of the Group and the Bank which were past due but not impaired as at the end of the reporting period.

(d) Loans and advances rescheduled

Rescheduling is a voluntary or, to a limited extent, court-supervised procedure, through which the Group and a borrower and/or its guarantor, if any, reschedule credit terms generally as a result of deterioration in the borrower's financial condition or of the borrower's inability to make payments when due. The Group reschedules a non-performing loan only if the borrower has good prospects. In addition, prior to approving the rescheduling of loans, the Group typically requires additional guarantees, pledges and/or collateral, or assumption of the loans by a borrower with better repayment ability. Rescheduled loans amounted to RMB8,461 million as at 31 December 2016 (31 December 2015: RMB5,568 million).

3 Financial risk management (continued)(2) Credit risk (continued)*(ix) Credit risk concentration of financial assets

Credit risk increases when counterparties are concentrated in same industries or geographical regions. The Group conducts its credit business predominantly within mainland China, with major customers concentrated in a number of key industries. In China, different regions and different industries have their own unique characteristics in economic development. This has consequently exposed the Group's operations to different credit risks.

(3) Market risk

The Group is exposed to market risk, which is the risk of loss to its on- and off-balance sheet businesses caused by unfavourable changes in market prices (interest rates, exchange rates, and stock and commodity prices). Market risk includes interest rate risk, exchange rate (including gold bullion) risk, equity price risk and commodity price risk, arising from adverse movements in interest rates, exchange rates, stock prices and commodity price, respectively.

The market risk faced by the Group mainly arises from the Bank's business activities. The Bank's subsidiaries are exposed to an insignificant level of market risk. The Bank and its subsidiaries independently manage their own market risk.

The Bank distinguishes between banking books and trading books in accordance with requirements of regulatory authorities and the general practices of the banking industry, and adopts different methods to identify, measure, monitor and control their respective market risks based on the nature and characteristics of banking and trading books.

Trading books refer to the financial instruments and commodities positions which could be traded freely. They are held by the Bank for trading or hedging against other risks in the trading book. Positions in the trading book must not be subject to any trading restrictions, or be able to fully hedged against the risks. These positions must also be valued accurately and managed proactively as well. In contrast, the Bank's other businesses are included in the banking books.

At present, the Risk Management Department oversees the Bank's market risk management and is responsible for managing the Bank's market risk policies, market risk limit setting, and daily monitoring and reporting. The Asset and Liability Management Department is responsible for management of various market risks associated with the banking books.

The Financial and Planning Department of Minsheng Financial Leasing is responsible for monitoring and controlling market risks on fund positions at Minsheng Financial Leasing.

(i) Market risk measurement techniques

The Bank selects appropriate and generally accepted measurement methods for the different types of market risks in its banking books and trading books based on actual needs of the business.

In accordance with regulatory requirements and in response to interest rate risk of the banking books, the Bank develops measurement methods that are appropriate for the size and structure of its assets and liabilities, and performs quantitative assessment of the impact of interest rate changes on the Bank's net interest income and economic value by adopting methods such as gap analysis, net interest income simulation analysis, and economic value simulation analysis.

Interest rate risk of the trading books are measured by using methods such as duration analysis, scenario analysis, and value at risk (VaR). As a result of its impact on capital, interest rate risk of the available-for-sale portfolio in banking books are monitored by referring to the methods used for measurement of the interest rate risk of the trading books.

Exchange rate risks of the banking books include exposure in foreign exchange settlement and sales, foreign currency capital funds, loss in foreign currency profits due to settlement of foreign exchange, and shrinking of foreign currency assets compared to the local currency. The Bank assesses the impact of future foreign exchange risks based on the exchange rate tendency and the future changes in the Bank's asset and liability portfolios.

Measurement of the exchange rate risks of the trading books includes monitoring of foreign exchange exposure, and use of methods including sensitivity analysis, scenario analysis and value at risk (VaR) to measure the potential impact of exchange rate fluctuations on the trading profits.

The Bank is fully aware of the pros and cons of different methods for measurement of market risks, and therefore adopts other methods, such as stress tests, for complementation. Stress-testing scenarios include concentration risk, illiquidity in stressed market conditions, single trend market, event risk, non-linear products, and other risks that may not be reflected in the internal model.

(ii) Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange risk refers to the foreign exchange and foreign exchange derivatives positions, the risk of losses of banks arise from adverse changes of exchange rate. The Group uses RMB as its bookkeeping currency, and the group's assets and liabilities are denominated in RMB, and the rest mainly US dollars and Hong Kong dollars.

The Group manage the foreign exchange risk by controlling each currency exposure limits and total exposure.

The primary techniques applied by the Group in analysing foreign exchange risk are mainly foreign exchange exposure analyses; scenario analyses; stress testing; and value at risk (VaR) method. The Group manage the foreign exchange risk in the frame of the exposure limit by daily monitoring; reporting and analysing.

The Group conducts sensitivity analysis on the net foreign currency position to identify the impact on the income statement of potential movements in foreign currency exchange rates against the RMB. As at 31 December 2016, assuming other variables remain unchanged, an appreciation of one hundred basis points of the US dollar against the RMB would increase both the Group's net profit and equity by RMB362 million (31 December 2015: increase by RMB9 million); a depreciation of one hundred basis points of the US dollar against the RMB would decrease both the Group's net profit and equity by RMB362 million (31 December 2015: decrease by RMB9 million).

The sensitivity analysis mentioned above is based on a static foreign exchange exposure profile of assets and liabilities that makes the following assumptions:

- a The sensitivity of each type of exchange rate refers to the exchange gain or loss caused by a fluctuation in the absolute value of closing foreign currency rate by one hundred basis points against the RMB's average rate on the reporting date;
- b The fluctuation of exchange rates by one hundred basis points is based on the assumption of exchange rates movement from the current reporting date to the next reporting date;
- c The fluctuation of exchange rates for all foreign currencies represents the fluctuation of exchange rates in US dollars and other foreign currencies against RMB in the same direction simultaneously. Due to the immaterial proportion of the Group's total assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than US dollars, other foreign currencies are converted into US dollars through sensitivity analysis;
- d The foreign exchange exposures calculated includes spot and forward foreign exchange exposures and swaps;

(3) Market risk (continued)

(ii) Foreign exchange risk (continued)

- e Other variables (including interest rates) remained unchanged; and
- f The analysis does not take into account the effect of risk management measures taken by the Group.

Due to the adoption of the aforementioned assumptions, the actual changes in the Group's net profit or loss and equity caused by the increase or decrease in exchange rates might vary from the estimated results of this sensitivity analysis.

(iii) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk refers to the adverse changes of the level of interest rate, term structure and other factors, which lead to loss on bank revenue and the economic value. Interest rate include basic risk, re pricing risk, yield curve risk and option risk, and the basis risk and re pricing risk is the mainly sources of risk for the Group.

The primary techniques applied by the Group in measuring and analysing interest rate risk are mainly scenario analyses; re pricing gap analyses; duration analyses and stress testing. The Group manage the interest rate risk in the frame of the exposure limit by daily monitoring and reporting.

The Group closely monitors trends of interest rate changes for both RMB and foreign currencies, follows market interest rate changes, performs proper scenario analyses, and adjusts interest rates of deposits and loans in both RMB and foreign currencies to manage interest rate risk.

(i) For loans and advances to customers of the Bank, the "less than 3 months" category includes overdue amounts (net of allowances for impairment losses) of RMB55,762 million as at 31 December 2016 (31 December 2015: RMB59,862 million).

3 Financial risk management (continued)(3) Market risk (continued)*(iii) Interest rate risk (continued)

If yield curves for respective currencies move in parallel for 100 basis points on 1 January 2016, their potential impact on the Group's and the Bank's net interest income and shareholders' equity for the following year is as follows:

	Group		Bank
	2016 (Loss)/gain	2015 Gain/(loss)	2016 (Loss)/gain	2015 Gain/(loss)
Up 100 bps parallel shift in yield curves	(1,558)	1,076	(1,894)	752
Down 100 bps parallel shift in yield curves	1,558	(1,076)	1,894	(752)

In performing the interest rate sensitivity analysis, the Group and the Bank have made general assumptions in defining business terms and financial parameters, but have not considered the following:

- a business changes after the end of the reporting period, as the analysis is performed based on the static gap at the end of the reporting period;
- b the impact of interest rate fluctuations on customers' behaviour;
- c the complicated relationship between complex structured products (e.g. embedded call options and other derivative financial instruments) and interest rate fluctuations;
- d the impact of interest rate fluctuations on market prices;
- e the impact of interest rate fluctuations on off-balance sheet products;
- f the impact of interest rate fluctuations on fair value of financial instruments;
- g other variables (including foreign exchange rate); and
- h other risk management measures in the Group.

3 Financial risk management (continued)

(4) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group is unable to provide funds for maturing liabilities through timely asset realisation at reasonable prices.

The Bank and its subsidiaries manage their respective liquidity risks separately and independently, and the Bank manages the liquidity risk of all its branches.

The Bank is exposed to daily calls on its available cash resources from overnight deposits, demand deposits, maturing time deposits, loan drawdowns, guarantees and other calls on cash-settled derivatives. The Bank does not maintain cash resources to meet all these needs, as experience shows that a minimum level of reinvestment of maturing funds can be predicted with a high level of certainty. The Bank sets limits on the minimum proportion of maturing funds available to meet such calls and on the minimum level of interbank and other borrowing facilities that should be in place to cover withdrawals at unexpected levels of demand.

According to the Commercial Bank Law, the RMB loan-to-deposit ratio is required to be within 75%. The Bank's RMB loan-to-deposit ratio complies with the Commercial Bank Law and the CBRC requirements.

As at 31 December 2016, the Bank was required to maintain 15% of the total RMB denominated deposits and 5% of the total foreign currency denominated balances as statutory reserves with the PBOC.

Liquidity requirements to support calls under guarantees and standby letters of credit are considerably less than the full amounts under commitments, because the Bank does not generally expect the third party to fully draw funds under those agreements. The total outstanding contractual amount of commitments to extend credit does not necessarily represent future cash requirements, since many of these commitments will expire or terminate without being funded.

(4) Liquidity risk (continued)

(i) Liquidity risk management policy

The Bank and its subsidiaries separately and independently develop their liquidity risk management policies.

The Bank's senior management is responsible for formulating liquidity risk management policies according to the development strategy of the Bank. The Assets and Liabilities Management Department is responsible for the daily liquidity risk management through the following procedures:

- To manage the day-to-day position through monitoring the future cash flow to ensure it meets the required fund position, including matured deposits and replenishment of funds for loan demand. The Bank actively participates in global money market transactions to ensure that the Bank's funding requirements are satisfied;
- To set ratio requirements and transactions limits to help monitor and manage liquidity risks. The ratios include but are not limited to loan to deposit ratios, deposit reserve ratios, liquidity ratios, liquidity gap ratios;
- To monitor liquidity ratios and liquidity gap ratios through the Bank's asset and liabilities management system, and perform liquidity scenario analyses and stress testing on overall assets and liabilities to satisfy internal and external requirements. Various techniques are used to estimate the Bank's liquidity requirements, and liquidity risk management decisions are made based on the estimated liquidity requirements and within respective terms of reference. A periodical reporting system is established to promptly update senior management on latest liquidity risk information;
- To monitor the maturity concentration risk of financial assets and hold an appropriate quantity of high-liquidity and high-market-value assets to ensure the Bank is well positioned to fund its repayment obligations and business growth in the event of an interruption of cash flows due to whatever causes.

(i) For cash and balances with central bank, the indefinite period amount represents statutory deposit reserves and fiscal deposits maintained with the PBOC. For investments represent the balances being impaired or overdue for more than one month. Equity investments are also reported under indefinite period.

(ii) For loans and advances to customers and long-term receivables, the “indefinite” period amount represents the balance being impaired or overdue for more than one month. The balance not impaired and overdue within one month is included in “repayable on demand”.

(5) Operational risk

Operational risk refers to the risk of loss due to deficient and flawed internal procedures, personnel and information technology (“IT”) system, or external events. The operational risk of the Group mainly comprises internal and external fraud, employment system, safety of working places, events related to customers, products and operation, damages of tangible assets, interruption of business, failure of IT system, implementation, delivery and process management.

The Bank devoted to promoting the implementation of the three major operational risk management tools in the Bank and the establishment of operational risk management information system, according to the regulatory requirements of operational risk. The Bank has carried out Risk Control Self Assessment (RCSA), established key risk indicator monitoring system and internal loss issue management system regarding operational risk. Besides, the Bank conducted operational risk cost measurement and enhanced the outsourcing risk management, and promoted the establishment of business continuity management. Furthermore, the Bank focused on investigation of the risk on business field systematically.

(6) Capital management

In managing capital, the Group aims to ensure compliance with regulatory requirements, continuously improve its ability to mitigate risks and enhance the return on its capital. On this basis, the Group has set its capital adequacy objectives, and taken a range of measures, including budgeting/planning and performance measurement and limit management, to ensure the realisation of management objectives. This helps meet the requirements for regulatory compliance, credit rating, risk compensation and shareholder return; promote the Group’s risk management; ensure an orderly expansion of asset bases; and improve business structures and models.

In recent years, the Group increased capital utilisation. To ensure the capital adequacy ratio (“CAR”) is in line with regulatory requirements etc., the Group commits itself to establishing and fostering discipline for economically efficient capital management. There is continuous improvement of locked-in capital accounting and an introduction of planning and performance assessments that have return on capital as a primary performance indicator. At the same time, the use of capital is better managed, and management policies have been implemented to guide coordinated asset growth with reduced capital requirements in business entities.

(6) Capital management (continued)

Capital adequacy and the use of regulatory capital are monitored regularly by the Group's management based on regulations issued by the CBRC. The required information is submitted to the CBRC by the Group and the Bank semi-annually and quarterly.

On 1 January 2013, the Group started computing the capital adequacy ratios in accordance with the Measures for Administration of Capital of Commercial Banks (Trial Implementation) and other relevant regulations promulgated by the CBRC.

The CBRC requires commercial banks to meet the requirements of capital adequacy ratios by the end of 2018 in accordance with the Measures for Administration of Capital of Commercial Banks (Trial Implementation). For systemically important banks, each bank is required to maintain the core tier-one capital adequacy ratio, tier-one capital adequacy ratio and capital adequacy ratio not below the minimum of 8.50%, 9.50% and 11.50%, respectively. For non-systemically important banks, the minimum ratios for core tier-one capital adequacy ratio, tier-one capital adequacy ratio and capital adequacy ratio are 7.50%, 8.50% and 10.50%, respectively. In addition, those individual banking subsidiaries or branches incorporated outside Mainland China are also directly regulated and supervised by their local banking supervisors. There are certain differences in the capital adequacy requirements of different countries.

The on-balance sheet risk-weighted assets are measured using different risk weights, which are determined according to the credit, market and other risks associated with each asset and counterparty, taking into account any eligible collateral or guarantees. A similar treatment is adopted for off-balance sheet exposure, with adjustments made to reflect the contingent nature of any potential losses. The counterparty credit risk-weighted assets for OTC derivatives are the summation of default risk-weighted assets and credit value adjustment ("CVA"). Market risk-weighted assets are calculated using the standardised approach. Operational risk-weighted assets are calculated using basic indicator approach.

The Group calculates the following core tier-one capital adequacy ratio, tier-one capital adequacy ratio and capital adequacy ratio in accordance with the Measures for Administration of Capital of Commercial Banks (Trial Implementation) and relevant requirements promulgated by the CBRC. The requirements pursuant to these regulations may have certain differences comparing to those applicable in Hong Kong and other countries.

The capital adequacy ratios and related components of the Group are calculated in accordance with the statutory financial statements of the Group prepared under Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises ("ASBE"). During the year, the Group has complied in full with all its externally imposed capital requirements.

4 Significant accounting estimates and judgements

In the process of applying the Group's accounting policies, management has used its judgements and made assumptions of the effects of uncertain future events on the financial statements. The most significant use of judgements and key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial period, are described below.

(1) Impairment allowances on loans and advances

Besides impairment assessment for individually impaired loans, the Group reviews its loan portfolios to assess impairment regularly. In determining whether a provision for loan impairments should be recorded in the income statement, the Group judges whether there is any observable data indicating that there is a decrease in the estimated future cash flows from a portfolio of loans before the decrease can be identified with an individual loan in that portfolio. This evidence may include observable data indicating that there has been an adverse change in the payment status of borrowers, or national or local economic conditions that correlate with defaults of borrowers. Management uses estimates based on historical loss experience for assets with credit risk characteristics and objective evidence of impairment similar to those in the portfolio when scheduling its future cash flows. The methodology and assumptions used for estimating both the amount and timing of future cash flows are reviewed regularly to reduce any differences between loss estimates and actual loss experience.

(2) Fair value of derivative and other financial instruments

The Group establishes fair value of financial instruments with reference to quoted market prices in an active market or, if there is no active market, using valuation techniques. These valuation techniques include the use of recent arm's length transactions, observable prices for similar instruments, discounted cash flow analysis using risk-adjusted interest rates, and commonly used market pricing models. Whenever possible these models use observable market inputs and data including, for example, interest rate yield curves, foreign currency rates and option volatilities. The results of using valuation techniques are calibrated against industry practice and observable current market transactions in the same or similar instruments.

(3) Impairment of available-for-sale securities and held-to-maturity securities

The Group follows the guidance of IAS 39 in determining impairment of available-for-sale securities and held-to-maturity securities. The determination of impairment requires a high level of management judgement. In making this judgement, the Group evaluates, among other factors, the duration and extent to which the fair value of an investment is less than its cost, the financial health and perspective of the investee, including industry status, technological changes, credit ratings, delinquency rates, loss provision coverage and counterparty risk.

(4) Held-to-maturity securities

The Group classifies certain non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity as held-to-maturity securities. This classification requires significant judgement. In making this judgement, the Group evaluates its intention and ability to hold such investments to maturity. Other than in specific circumstances (e.g. sale of an insignificant amount of held-to-maturity securities at a time close to maturity), if the Group fails to hold these securities to maturity or reclassifies some of the securities to available-for-sale securities, the Group shall have to reclassify any of the remaining held-to-maturity securities as available-for-sale securities, and measure them at fair value rather than amortised cost.

(5) Taxation

In the ordinary course of business, many transactions and calculations involve uncertainties in the ultimate tax determination, and significant estimates are required in determining the provision for business tax and income tax. The Group recognises liabilities for anticipated tax inspection issues based on estimates of whether additional taxes will be due. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact the business tax, income tax and deferred income tax provisions in the period during which such a determination is made.

(6) Structured entities

When assessing whether to consolidate structured entities, the Group reviews all facts and circumstances to determine whether the Group, as manager, is acting as agent or principal. The Group is deemed to be a principal, and hence controls and consolidates the structured entity, when it acts as manager and cannot be removed without cause, and is able to influence the returns of the structured entities by exercising its power.

5 Segment information

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the Group's senior management, which is responsible for allocating resources to the reportable segments and assessing their performance.

The Group manages its businesses from the perspectives of geography and business lines. The geographical segment can be divided into four regions, including Northern China, Eastern China, Southern China and others. The business segment can be divided into four business lines including corporate banking, personal banking, treasury and others. The Group primarily provides financial services through these four business lines.

Segment assets, liabilities, revenues, operating results and capital expenditures are measured in accordance with the Group's accounting policies and internal management rules. The items of each segment include those which can be directly attributable to the segment or can be assigned to the segment based on reasonable criteria. As part of the management of assets and liabilities, the Group's capital resources and uses are allocated to various business segments through the treasury business. The Group's internal transfer pricing mechanism uses deposit and loan interest rates and market interest rates as the benchmark, and determines transfer prices with reference to different products and their maturity. The impact of internal trading has been offset when preparing the consolidated statements.

Business segments:

The Group provides services through four business segments: corporate banking, personal banking, treasury and others.

Corporate banking — providing banking products and services for corporate customers, government agencies and financial institutions. These products and services include deposits, loans, trust, trade-related products and other credit services and foreign currency.

Personal banking — providing banking products and services for individual clients. These products and services include savings deposits, investment savings products, credit and debit cards, micro lending, residential mortgage and consumer credit.

Treasury — including foreign exchange trading, interest rate and foreign exchange derivatives transactions, money market transactions, proprietary trading, and asset-liability management. This segment's operating results include gains and losses from foreign currency translation and the impact of interest-bearing assets and liabilities on internal fund flows and profit and loss.

Others — the Group's other businesses including the Group's investments and any other business which cannot form a single reportable segment.

As the total revenue of the Group's business segments is mainly derived from interest and the Group's senior management relies primarily on net interest income to assess each segment's performance, the total interest income and expense for all reportable segments is disclosed on a net basis.

The revenue from external parties reported to the Group's senior management is reported in a manner consistent with that in the consolidated income statement. Inter-segment transactions are eliminated.

Funds are normally allocated among segments, and inter-segment net interest income is based on the Group's capital cost. There are no other material items of income or expense between the business segments.

Internal transfer pricing is adjusted based on the nature of each transaction. Revenues from external customers are allocated to each business segment on a reasonable basis.

The Group's management report is based on a measure of operating profit comprising net interest income, loan impairment losses, net fee and commission income, other income and non-interest expenses. Non-recurring gains and losses are excluded in the measure of operating profit. Non-recurring gains and losses should be allocated to other business lines.

Segment assets include all tangible and intangible assets, other long-term assets, receivables and other assets with the exception of deferred income tax assets. Segment liabilities include all the liabilities attributable to the segments.

18 Derivatives

A derivative is a financial instrument, the value of which changes in response to the change in a specified interest rate, financial instrument price, commodity price, foreign exchange rate, index of prices or rates, credit rating or credit index, or other similar variables. The Group uses derivative financial instrument mainly including forwards, swaps and options.

The notional amount of a derivative represents the amount of an underlying asset upon which the value of the derivative is based. It indicates the volume of business transacted by the Group but does not reflect the risk.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in any orderly transaction between market participants at measured date.

The notional amount and fair value of unexpired derivative financial instruments held by the Group and the Bank are set out in the following tables:

The credit risk weighted amount represents the counterparty credit risk associated with derivative transactions and is calculated with reference to the guidelines issued by the CBRC. The amount calculated is dependent on, among other factors, the credit worthiness of the counterparty and the maturity characteristics of each type of contract.

The credit risk weighted amounts stated above have taken the effects of netting arrangements into account.

All interests in subsidiaries are directly held by the Bank.

Although the Bank holds half or less than half of the voting rights in some rural banks, it has the majority of the seats in their boards of directors, which enables it to govern their operating policies. These companies are treated as the Bank's subsidiaries and have been consolidated in these financial statements.

(2) Main Clausesa Dividend

Fixed rate for a certain period after issuance. Dividend reset every 5 years thereafter to the sum of the benchmark rate and the Fixed Spread. The Fixed Spread will be equal to the spread between the dividend rate at the time of issuance and the benchmark rate. The Fixed Spread will remain unchanged throughout the term of the Preference Shares. Dividends will be paid annually.

b Conditions to distribution of dividends

The Group could pay dividends while the Group still has distributable after-tax profit after making up previous years' losses, contributing to the statutory reserve and making general provisions, and the Group's capital adequacy ratio meets regulatory requirements. Preference shareholders of the Group are senior to the ordinary shareholders on the right to dividends. The Group may elect to cancel any dividend, but such cancellation will require a shareholder's resolution to be passed.

c Dividend stopper

If the Group cancels all or part of the dividends to the Preference Shareholders, the Group shall not make any dividend distribution to ordinary shareholders before the Group pays the dividends for the current dividend period to the Preference Shareholders in full.

(Expressed in millions of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

d Order of distribution and liquidation method

The USD Preference Shareholders rank equally for payment. The Preference Shareholders will be subordinated to the depositors, ordinary creditors, holders of subordinated debt, holders of convertible bonds, holders of Tier 2 capital bonds and holders of other Tier 2 capital instruments of the Group, but will be senior to the ordinary shareholders.

e Mandatory conversion trigger events

Upon the occurrence of an Additional Tier 1 Capital Trigger Event (Core Tier 1 Capital Adequacy Ratio of the Group falling to 5.125% or below), the Group shall have the right to convert all or part of the Preference Shares into H shares, in order to restore the Core Tier 1 Capital Adequacy Ratio of the Group to above 5.125%; If Preference Shares were converted to H shares, it could not be converted to Preference Shares again.

Upon the occurrence of a Non-Viability Trigger Event (Earlier of the two situations: (1) CBRC has determined that the Group would become non-viable if there is no conversion or write-down of capital; (2) the relevant authorities have determined that a public sector injection of capital or equivalent support is necessary, without which the Group would become non-viable), the Group shall have the right to convert all Preference Shares into H shares. If Preference Shares were converted to H shares, it could not be converted to Preference Shares again.

f Redemption

Under the premise of obtaining the approval of the CBRC and condition of redemption, the Group has right to redeem all or some of oversee preferred stocks in first call date and subsequent any dividend payment date. The first call date after issuance and subsequent any dividend payment date (redemption price is equal to issue price plus accrued dividend in current period).

The First Redemption Date of USD Preference Shares is five years after issuance.

(Expressed in millions of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

g Dividend setting mechanism

Non-cumulative dividend is a dividend on preference shares which does not cumulate upon omission of payment so as to require payment of a passed or omitted dividend of one year out of earnings of a following year. After receiving dividend at agreed dividend rate, preference shareholders of the Group will not participate the distribution of residual profits with ordinary shareholders.

The Group shall distribute dividends for the Preference Shares in cash, based on the total amount of the issued and outstanding Preference Shares on the corresponding times (i.e. the product of the issue price of preference shares and the number of the issued and outstanding preference shares).

36 Surplus reserve, general reserve and retained earnings

(1) Surplus reserve

Under PRC laws, Articles of the Bank and the resolution of the Board of Directors, the Bank is required to appropriate 10% of its net profit, when the statutory surplus reserve reaches 50% of its registered capital, the Bank is still required to appropriate 10% of its net profit. Subject to the approval of the equity shareholders, the statutory surplus reserve can be used for replenishing the accumulated losses or increasing the Bank's share capital. The statutory surplus reserve amount used to increase the share capital is limited to a level where the balance of the statutory surplus reserve after such capitalisation is not less than 25% of the share capital.

Pursuant to the resolution of the Meeting of Board of Directors on 29 August 2016, the Bank appropriated the statutory surplus reserve of RMB2,684 million for the first half of 2016.

42 Transfer of financial assetsAsset-backed securities

The Group enters into transactions in the normal course of business by which it transfers recognised financial assets to third parties or to structured entities. In some cases where these transfers may give rise to full or partial derecognition of the financial assets concerned. In other cases where the transferred assets do not qualify for derecognition as the Group has retained substantially all the risks and rewards of these assets, the Group continued to recognise the transferred assets.

(Expressed in millions of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

Credit asset-backed securities

The Group transfers credit assets to structured entities. After that, the structured entities issue asset-backed securities to investors.

Certain securitisations undertaken by the Group result in the Group derecognising transferred assets in their entirety. This is the case when the Group transfers substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of financial assets to an unconsolidated securitisation vehicle and retains a relatively small interest in the vehicle or a servicing arrangement in respect of the transferred financial assets. In 2016, loans with an original carrying amount of RMB56,607 million (2015: RMB44,346 million) have been securitized by the Group, and meanwhile, the Group purchased a certain ratio of the asset-backed securities issued by structured entities. As at 31 December 2016, the carrying amount of prime grade assets that the Group held were RMB585 million (31 December 2015: RMB761 million), and the subordinated grade assets were RMB235 million (31 December 2015: RMB131 million). These assets were classified as loans and receivables.

Besides the securitisation transaction above, in 2016, loans with an original carrying amount of RMB9,869 million (2015: RMB780 million) have been transferred to securitisation vehicles in which the Group does not retain or transfer substantially all of the risks and rewards. As at 31 December 2016, the carrying amount of assets that the Group continued to recognise was RMB1,038 million (31 December 2015: RMB40 million). The carrying amount of continuing involvement assets and liabilities that the Group continued to recognise was RMB1,038 million as at 31 December 2016 (31 December 2015: RMB40 million).

43 Contingent liabilities and commitments

(1) Credit commitments

Credit commitments take the form of approved loans with signed contracts, credit card limits, financial guarantees and letters of credit. The Group regularly assesses the contingent losses of its credit commitments and makes allowances where necessary.

The contractual amounts of loans and credit card commitments represent the cash outflows should the contracts be fully drawn upon. The amounts of guarantees and letters of credit represent the maximum potential loss that would be recognised if counterparties fail to fully perform as contracted. Acceptances comprise undertakings by the Group to pay bills of exchange drawn on customers. The Group expects most acceptances to be settled simultaneously with the reimbursement from the customers.

As the credit facilities may expire without being drawn upon, the contract amounts set out in the following table do not represent expected future cash outflows.

	Group		Bank

Some of the Group's assets are pledged as collateral under repurchase agreements, loan agreements with other financial institutions and for obtaining credit quotas.

The Group maintains statutory deposit reserves with the PBOC as required (Note 15). These deposits are not available for the Group's daily operations.

The Group's pledged assets in relation to the purchase of bills under resale agreements can be sold or repledged. The fair value of such pledged assets was RMB40,674 million as at 31 December 2016 (31 December 2015: RMB517,341 million). As at 31 December 2016, the Group sold or repledged RMB1,854 million of pledged assets which it has an obligation to repurchase on due dates (31 December 2015: RMB197 million).

(7) Redemption commitments

As an underwriting agent of certificated PRC government bonds, the Bank has the obligation to buy back those bonds sold by it should the holders decide to redeem the bonds early. The redemption price for the bonds at any time before their maturity date is based on the coupon value plus any interest unpaid and accrued up to the redemption date. The amount of redemption obligation, which represents the nominal value of government bonds underwritten and sold by the Bank, but not yet matured as at 31 December 2016 was RMB3,924 million (31 December 2015: RMB3,902 million). The original maturities of the bonds vary from one to five years.

(8) Outstanding litigation

A number of outstanding litigation matters against the Group had arisen in the normal course of its business as at 31 December 2016. With consideration of the professional advice, the Group's management believes such litigation will not have a significant impact on the Group.

44 Consolidated structured entities

The Group has consolidated certain structured entities which are asset management plans. When assessing whether to consolidate structured entities, the Bank reviews all facts and circumstances to determine whether the Bank, as manager, is acting as agent or principal. These factors considered include scope of the manager's decision-making authority, rights held by other parties. The group does not hold any shares of the consolidated asset management plans, however, the group has the authority to exercise the right of making investment decisions as a main administrator, and the proportion of group's total revenue in total investment income is high. The Group concludes that these structured entities shall be consolidated.

As at 31 December 2016, the asset management plans managed and consolidated by the Group amounted to RMB3,835 million (31 December 2015: RMB6,677 million), which were mainly included in deposits from customers. The financial impact of any individual asset management plan on the Group's financial performance is not significant.

45 Involvement with unconsolidated structured entities(1) Structured entities sponsored by third party institutions in which the Group holds an interest.

The Group holds an interest in some structured entities sponsored by third party institutions through investments in the notes issued by these structured entities. Such structured entities include trust beneficiary plan, specialised asset management plans and asset-backed financings and the Group does not consolidate these structured entities. The nature and purpose of these structured entities are to generate fees from managing assets on behalf of investors including the Group.

The following table sets out an analysis of the carrying amounts of interests held by the Group as at 31 December 2016 in the structured entities sponsored by third party institutions:

	Group

45 Involvement with unconsolidated structured entities (continued)(1) Structured entities sponsored by third party institutions in which the Group holds an interest. (continued)

The following table sets out an analysis of the line items in the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2016 in which assets are recognised relating to the Group's interests in structured entities sponsored by third parties:

	Group 31 December 2016
	Loans and receivables	Available- for-sale financial assets	Financial assets held under resale agreements
Trust beneficiary plans	10,366	—	1,817
Specialised asset management plans	1,039,288	—	—
Asset-backed financings	30,062	3,014	—
Total	1,079,716	3,014	1,817

(2) Structured entities sponsored by the Group which the Group does not consolidate but holds an interest.

The types of unconsolidated structured entities sponsored by the Group include investment funds and non-principal-guaranteed wealth management products. The nature and purpose of these structured entities are to generate fees from managing assets on behalf of investors. These structured entities are financed through the issue of notes to investors. Interest held by the Group includes investments in notes issued by these structured entities and fees charged by providing management services. As at 31 December 2016, the carrying amounts of the investments in the notes issued by these structured entities and management fee receivables being recognised were not material in the consolidated statement of financial positions.

As at 31 December 2016, the amount of assets held by the unconsolidated non-principal-guaranteed wealth management products and investment funds, which are sponsored by the Group, was RMB1,177,113 million and RMB668,926 million respectively (31 December 2015: RMB770,362 million and RMB928,259 million).

(3) Structured entities sponsored by the Group during the year which the Group does not consolidate and holds an interest at 31 December 2016.

During the year of 2016, the amount of fee and commission income received from the abovementioned structured entities by the Group is RMB11,581 million (for the year ended 31 December 2015: RMB8,497 million).

The aggregated amount of the non-principal-guaranteed wealth management products sponsored and issued by the Group after 1 January 2016 but matured before 31 December 2016 is RMB1,246,412 million (for the year ended 31 December 2015: RMB1,130,907 million).

46 Fiduciary activities

The Group commonly acts as a trustee, or in other fiduciary capacities, that result in its holding or managing assets on behalf of individuals, trusts and other institutions. These assets and any gains or losses arising thereon are not included in these financial statements as they are not the Group's assets.

The Group's balances of investment fund custodian operations were RMB293,286 million as at 31 December 2016 (31 December 2015: RMB223,526 million). The Group's balances of pensions custodian operations were RMB57,279 million as at 31 December 2016 (31 December 2015: RMB36,172 million). The Group's balances of credit assets entrusted management were RMB33,606 million as at 31 December 2016 (31 December 2015: RMB25,649 million). And the Group's balances of entrusted loans were RMB428,277 million as at 31 December 2016 (31 December 2015: RMB409,425 million).

47 Related party transactions

(1) Related parties

Related parties of the Group refer to entities controlled, or jointly controlled by or under significant influence of the Group; entities that control, jointly control or have significant influence over the Group; or entities with which the Group is under control, or joint control of another party. Related parties can be individuals or enterprises. Related parties that have significant influence on the Group include: members of the Board of Directors, the Board of Supervisors and senior management, and close family members of such individuals; entities (and their subsidiaries) controlled or jointly controlled by members of the Board of Directors, the Board of Supervisors and senior management, and close family members of such individuals; major shareholders with the power to influence the Bank's operating or financial policies, and entities controlled or jointly controlled by these major shareholders.

48 Fair value of financial instruments

Fair value estimates are generally subjective in nature, and are made as of a specific point in time based on the characteristics of the financial instruments and relevant market information. The Group uses the following hierarchy for determining and disclosing the fair value of financial instruments:

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Group can access at the valuation date. This level includes listed equity securities and debt instruments on exchanges (e.g. London Stock Exchange, Frankfurt Stock Exchange, New York Stock Exchange) and derivatives traded in stock exchange like stock index futures (based on indexes including Nasdaq, S&P 500 etc.) etc.
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for assets or liabilities, either directly or indirectly. A majority of the debt securities classified as level 2 are RMB bonds. The fair value of these bonds are determined based on the valuation results provided by China Central Depository Trust & Clearing Co., Ltd., which are determined based on a valuation technique for which all significant inputs are observable market data. This level also includes a majority of OTC derivative contracts, trading loans and issued structured debt instruments. The most frequently applied valuation techniques include forward pricing and swap models, using present value calculations. Input parameters like China Bond interbank yield curves, LIBOR yield curves or counterparty credit risk are sourced from Bloomberg and Reuters.
- Level 3: inputs for assets or liabilities are unobservable. This level includes equity investments and debt instruments with one or more than one significant unobservable component. These financial instruments are valued by using cash flow discount model. The model incorporates various non-observable assumptions such as discount rate and market price volatilities.

As at 31 December 2016, the carrying amount of financial instrument valued with significant unobservable inputs were immaterial, and the effects of changes in significant unobservable assumptions to reasonably alternative unobservable assumptions were also immaterial.

This hierarchy requires the use of observable open market data wherever possible. The Group tries it best to consider relevant and observable market prices in valuations.

(3) Transfers among levels

During the year, the transfers among level 1, level 2 and level 3 of the fair value hierarchy for financial assets and liabilities of the Group were immaterial.

(Expressed in millions of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

48 Fair value of financial instruments (continued)(4) Fair value of financial assets and liabilities not carried at fair value

- a Cash and balances with central bank, balances with banks and other financial institutions, placements with banks and other financial institutions, long-term receivables, deposits and placements from banks and other financial institutions, borrowings from banks and other financial institutions, and financial assets held under resale agreements and sold under repurchase agreements

Given that these financial assets and financial liabilities mainly mature within a year or adopt floating interest rates, their book values approximate their fair values.

- b Loans and advances to customers, and investment securities — loans and receivables

Loans and advances to customers, and investment securities — loans and receivables are recorded net of allowance for impairment losses. Their estimated fair value represents the amount of estimated future cash flows expected to be received, discounted at current market rates.

- c Held-to-maturity securities and available-for-sale equity investments which measured in cost

The fair value for held-to-maturity assets and available-for-sale equity investments which measured in cost are based on “bid” market prices or brokers’/dealers’ price quotations. If relevant market information is not available, the fair value is based on quote price of security products with similar characteristics such as credit risk, materiality and yield.

- d Deposits from customers

The fair value of checking, savings and short-term money market accounts is the amount payable on demand at the end of the reporting period. The fair value of fixed interest-bearing deposits without quoted market prices are estimated based on discounted cash flows using interest rates for new deposits with similar remaining maturities.

- e Debt securities issued

Fair values of debt securities issued are based on quoted market prices. For debt securities where quoted market prices are not available, a discounted cash flow model is used to calculate their fair value using current market rates appropriate for debt securities with similar remaining maturities.
