CHARACTERISTICS OF THE GROWTH ENTERPRISE MARKET ("GEM") OF THE STOCK EXCHANGE OF HONG KONG LIMITED (THE "STOCK EXCHANGE")

GEM has been established as a market designed to accommodate companies to which a high investment risk may be attached. In particular, companies may list on GEM with neither a track record of profitability nor any obligation to forecast future profitability. Furthermore, there may be risks arising out of the emerging nature of companies listed on GEM and the business sectors or countries in which the companies operate. Prospective investors should be aware of the potential risks of investing in such companies and should make the decision to invest only after due and careful consideration. The greater risk profile and other characteristics of GEM mean that it is a market more suited to professional and other sophisticated investors.

Given the emerging nature of companies listed on GEM, there is a risk that securities traded on GEM may be more susceptible to high market volatility than securities traded on the Main Board and no assurance is given that there will be a liquid market in the securities traded on GEM.

The principal means of information dissemination on GEM is publication on the internet website operated by the Stock Exchange. Listed companies are not generally required to issue paid announcements in gazetted newspapers. Accordingly, prospective investors should note that they need to have access to the GEM website in order to obtain up-to-date information on GEM-listed issuers.

Business Overview

1. Phoenix Chinese Channel

The Phoenix Chinese Channel is an un-encrypted television channel broadcasting 24 hours daily into the PRC, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Japan, Southeast Asia, Australia, New Zealand, the Middle East, North Africa and Russia. According to surveys conducted by China Mainland Marketing Research Company in 1999, which were commissioned by the Phoenix Group, the channel has a coverage of 42 million households in the PRC, over 147 million viewers and is one of the foreign television channels that enjoys the highest ratings in the PRC. The Phoenix Chinese Channel contributes most of the income of the Phoenix Group through its advertising revenues. Phoenix Group has been working hard to enrich the content of its programmes with a view to enhancing the penetration and ratings of the Phoenix Chinese Channel. The advertising revenues for the year ended June 30, 2000 increased 62.7% to approximately HK$484,631,000 as compared to that of last year, representing 94.8% of the Phoenix Group's total revenue for the year ended June 30, 2000. Effective July 1 this year, advertising rates have risen in general, including a 33% increase in the prime time rates and a 60% increase in the midnight rates. In spite of this rate rise, the clients' contracting rate has remained steady, with prime time intervals almost fully booked.

The programmes of the Phoenix Chinese Channel are either outsourced or self-produced. Major self-produced programmes include Millennium Odyssey completed in 1999 and European Odyssey launched on August 6 this year. European Odyssey features a large-scale historical tour from the Greek Aegean Sea to the Arctic Circle, covering 30 European countries. The tour not only searches for the origins of the modern industrial and technological civilizations, but also unveils the stories of overseas Chinese. Another keynote programme is Our Planet Our Home - The Green Wall in China. With the view of uncovering the environmental construction problems in the PRC, the programme introduces over ten provinces, cities and autonomous regions in western China that are suffering from serious desertification problems. All these high quality programmes are believed to be able to attract numerous viewers in the PRC, that raise the ratings of the Phoenix Chinese Channel and the advertising revenues.

2. Phoenix Movies Channel

The Phoenix Movies Channel is an encrypted pay-television channel broadcasting movies and related programmes 24 hours daily. As of June 30, 2000, the number of entity subscribers (including hotels) increased to approximately 2,437 and the estimated number of households was approximately 450,000. The total revenue generated from annual subscription fees and other related sources also increased 82.7% to approximately HK$19,376,000 as compared to that of last year, representing 3.8% of the Phoenix Group's total revenue for the year ended June 30, 2000. In order to attract more subscribers, the Phoenix Group has been actively purchasing more movies that suit the taste of the Chinese from all round the world for the Phoenix Movies Channel.

3. Phoenix CNE Channel

Launched in August last year, the Phoenix CNE Channel broadcasts via the ASTRA 2A satellite and can be received in 25 European countries, including the United Kingdom, France, Germany, Austria and Spain. Targeting the overseas Chinese community in Europe as its main audience, this channel broadcasts a wide range of Chinese programmes including news, entertainment, current affairs and documentaries and currently broadcasts six hours daily. The Phoenix CNE Channel is still at its development stage and will continue to expand its audience base in the Europe market in the future.

4. Shenzhen Production Centre

As another crucial part of its business development plan, the Phoenix Group aims at enhancing its production capabilities and becoming a major Chinese media content provider through mass programme production and the establishment of a programme library. The Phoenix Group has successfully produced the large-scale documentary Millennium Odyssey and other high quality documentaries and special feature programmes in response to market needs. As broadcasting begins, these programmes are well received not only by viewers, boosting the popularity of Phoenix, but also by other television channels that have decided to purchase for their own showing.

In order to support its in-house production plan, the Phoenix Group has set up a joint venture called Phoenix Film and Television (Shenzhen) Company Limited in Shenzhen, PRC. The objective of this joint venture is to become a modern programme production centre, providing sites for programme production and other ancillary services. The joint venture partners own the qualification to produce television programmes in the PRC. Prior to the completion of the centre, Phoenix currently rents a temporary plant in Shenzhen which has already commenced production. Developing and operating a production centre not only increases the quantity of self-produced programmes of the Phoenix Group, but also reduces the operating costs.

5. Internet Development

In order to enhance the overall website technology and enrich the content, the Phoenix Group has established a wholly-owned enterprise in Beijing to cooperate with various internet service providers in the PRC. The Phoenix Group aims to develop its current website www.phoenixtv.com into a vertical infotainment portal, offering various kinds of information such as entertainment, news and sports on a one-stop basis by linking all relevant Phoenix television and magazine content and artists with the Internet community.

6. Phoenix Weekly

Phoenix Weekly is a comprehensive magazine with a special permission to distribute in the PRC. The magazine was officially published on June 30 this year with its content comprised of three genres: current affairs and financial news, culture and life and fashion and entertainment. The main focus of the magazine is to cover television programmes and artistes on the channels of the Phoenix Group. The magazine is currently distributed within the PRC.

Major Recent events

Recently, the Phoenix Chinese Channel has covered a series of major news in the United States, including the United Nations Summit and the visiting performances of the Chinese artists delegation for the Paralympics. The Phoenix Chinese Channel's coverage on these events attracts wide concern and applause throughout the PRC and other regions covered by the channel's satellite signals. The coverage also earns great support from advertising sponsors. Among these events, the Phoenix Chinese Channel participated in organising and planning the visit of the Chinese handicapped artists delegation. The visit was highly regarded by both the Chinese and the United States Governments.

The above events organised by the Phoenix Group in the United States together with its business development in the rest of the world firmly enhance the Phoenix Group's popularity and brand value. The quality of the Phoenix Satellite Television Group is also further enhanced. All these are important results gained from the internationalised strategies of the Phoenix Group.

Prospects

Thanks to its painstaking efforts in the past few years, Phoenix Group has built a firm base in the increasingly competitive Chinese language media market, and has also created favorable conditions for the aggressive business developments in the future.

In the light of expanding market penetration, increasing television advertising revenues and exploring new income sources, the Phoenix Group will actively launch new channels, such as the Phoenix North America Chinese Channel and the Phoenix InfoNews Channel in the second half of the year.

The Phoenix North America Chinese Channel is a newly established channel that is expected to be launched in the form of a pay-television channel after November this year, with the Chinese community in North America as its target audience. Programmes on this channel will be transmitted by satellite using encryption methods.

The Phoenix InfoNews Channel is scheduled to be launched in late November this year. The channel will become the only 24-hour channel that covers financial news and current political news in Putonghua. As China is undergoing a rapid economic development, Chinese citizens are in much demand for information about the economic affairs of China and the rest of the world. Therefore, the Board believes that the Phoenix InfoNews Channel will be welcomed by the Chinese audiences and can increase the penetration of viewership within China. As the commercial air time of the Phoenix Chinese Channel, which is the main channel of the Phoenix Group, will soon be fully booked, the launch of the InfoNews Channel can provide more marketable commercial blocks. To coordinate with the launch of the Phoenix InfoNews Channel, the Phoenix Group will set up a branch office in Taiwan in the near future to support the InfoNews Channel with immediate and firsthand financial news.

As China is about to join the WTO, the Board believes that both foreign and Chinese companies will benefit from the economic improvement and therefore will increase their advertising on television. While the Phoenix Chinese Channel focuses on news, entertainment, lifestyle, special feature reports, on-air programmes, documentaries and talk shows, these programmes are of high quality and are highly informative and entertaining and thus will have a great appeal in the PRC. Along with the successful penetration into the media market of the PRC by the Phoenix, the Board believes that the advertising revenues of the Phoenix Group for the coming year will have a positive growth.

Meanwhile, the rapid development of the Chinese economy also enables the Phoenix Group to explore new income sources, such as increasing the subscription fee of the Phoenix Movies Channel and launching services that charge over subscription frequency.

The success of the Phoenix Group is contributed by the close cooperation and hard work of the management team and the staff. A group of media elites from mainland China, Taiwan and Hong Kong not only possess the sense to seize market opportunities, but also have thorough understanding towards the policy scope of the Chinese government and the preferences of viewers. With the reconciliation of talented staff from mainland China, Taiwan and Hong Kong, the Phoenix Group can surely maintain its position in the highly competitive global Chinese language television market.

As one-fifth of the world's population speaks Chinese, the potential of the Chinese language television market is enormous and there is still plenty of room for the growth of television ratings and advertising. In order to win more viewers, the Phoenix Group will continue to enhance the quality of its programmes. With flexible scheduling and marketing strategies, the Phoenix Group is set to satisfy the various needs of its target audiences.

On 30th June, 2000, the Company was successfully listed on GEM and issued 727,060,000 shares of the Company (“New Issues”) to raise approximately HK$732,588,000 in net proceeds. In addition, approximately HK$83,726,000 in net proceeds were raised by way of exercise of an over-allotment option on 21st July, 2000. The net proceeds from the abovementioned share offers will provide funding for Phoenix’s development plans, strategic investments and additional general working capital.

As at 30th June, 2000, the Phoenix Group had not spent any of the proceeds from the New Issues and such proceeds were placed on short-term deposit with banks. In the absence of unforeseen circumstances, the Directors intend to use the net proceeds in the manner as disclosed in the Company’s prospectus dated 21st June, 2000 (the “Prospectus”).

The Phoenix Group recorded a net profit attributable to shareholders of approximately HK$50,315,000 for the year ended 30th June, 2000 as compared to a net loss of approximately HK$78,466,000 for the previous year and a net profit of approximately HK$27,325,000 in the profit forecast disclosed in the Prospectus. The net profit is mainly contributed by the substantial increase in the revenue to approximately HK$511,342,000 for the year ended 30th June, 2000, representing an increase of 62.5% over last year.

Revenue of the Phoenix Group consists of advertising and subscription income from the Phoenix Chinese Channel and the Phoenix Movies Channel, and advertising and subscription income from Phoenix Weekly Magazine.

The substantial increase in the Phoenix Group's revenue was attributed by the increase in advertising income of Phoenix Chinese Channel and subscription income of Phoenix Movies Channel. Higher advertising income was primarily a result of an increase in both the average advertising rate and advertising sales volume from the Phoenix Chinese Channel. Higher subscription income was primarily due to the increase of the number of subscribers of the Phoenix Movies Channel.

Phoenix Chinese Channel. For the year ended 30th June, 2000, advertising income increased to approximately HK$484,631,000, representing 98.8% of the total revenue of the Phoenix Chinese Channel. 89.7% and 10.3% of the advertising income were generated from and outside of China respectively. The increase in advertising income was primarily resulted from the increase in the advertising rates and sales of programme sponsorships, which contributed to a higher utilisation of available advertising time slots, both primetime and non-prime time.

Phoenix Movies Channel. Revenue of the Phoenix Movies Channel for the year ended 30th June, 2000 mainly composed of subscription fees. Subscription income increased to approximately HK$19,376,000, representing 95.0% of the total revenue of the Phoenix Movies Channel. Such increase was due to a significant rise in the number of subscribers in the second financial year of operation of the Phoenix Movies Channel.

Phoenix Weekly Magazine. The Phoenix Weekly Magazine commenced publication in June 2000. Approximately 0.1% of the Phoenix Group's revenue was generated from the advertising and subscription income of the Phoenix Weekly Magazine.

1. GROUP REORGANISATION AND BASIS OF PREPARATION OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Company was incorporated in the Cayman Islands on 2nd February, 2000 as an exempted company with limited liability under the Companies Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands. Pursuant to a group reorganisation scheme ("Group Reorganisation") in preparation for the listing of the Company's shares on the Growth Enterprise Market (the "GEM") of The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the "Stock Exchange"), the Company became the holding company of the Phoenix Group on 17th April, 2000. The shares of the Company were listed on the GEM of the Stock Exchange on 30th June, 2000.

The principal activity of the Company is investment holding. The principal activities of its subsidiaries are shown in Note 15 to the financial statements.

The Phoenix Group underwent a reorganisation to rationalise its structure in preparation for the listing of the Company's Shares on the GEM. Details of the Group Reorganisation have been set out in the section headed "Corporate Reorganisation" in Appendix VI of the prospectus issued by the Company on 21st June, 2000 (the "Prospectus").

The Phoenix Group after the Phoenix Group Reorganisation is regarded as a continuing entity. Accordingly, the financial statements of the Phoenix Group have been prepared on the merger accounting basis as if the Company had always been the holding company of the Phoenix Group.

All material intra-group transactions and balances have been eliminated on consolidation.

2. PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Hong Kong, the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance and the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the GEM of the Stock Exchange. Principal accounting policies are summarised below:

a. Revenue

Provided it is probable that the economic benefits associated with a transaction will flow to the Phoenix Group and the revenue and costs, if applicable, can be measured reliably, revenue and other income are recognised on the following bases:

- (i) Advertising revenue represents the gross value of advertisements broadcast and is recognised when the relevant advertisements are broadcast.

2. PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd)a. Revenue (cont'd)

- (ii) Subscription revenue received or receivable from the cable distributors or agents is amortised on a time proportion basis. Unamortised portion is classified as deferred income.
- (iii) Magazine advertising revenue represents the value of advertisements printed on the magazines and is recognised when the magazine is published.
- (iv) Magazine subscription revenue represents subscription money received or receivable from magazine customers and is recognised when the respective magazine is published.
- (v) Interest income from bank deposits is recognised on a time proportion basis on the principal outstanding and at the rate applicable.

b. Related parties

Parties are considered to be related to the Phoenix Group if the Phoenix Group has the ability, directly or indirectly, to control the parties or exercise significant influence over the parties in making financial and operating decisions, or vice versa, or where the Phoenix Group and the parties are subject to common control or common significant influence. Related parties may be individuals or entities.

c. Inventories

Inventories are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Cost is based on the first-in, first-out cost formula and comprises all costs of purchase, costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

When inventories are sold, the carrying amount of those inventories is recognised as an expense in the period in which the related revenue is recognised. The amount of any write-down of inventories to net realisable value and all losses of inventories are recognised as an expense in the period the write-down or loss occurs. The amount of any reversal of any write-down of inventories, arising from an increase in net realisable value, is recognised as a reduction in the amount of inventories recognised as an expense in the period in which the reversal occurs.

2. PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd)

d. Self-produced programmes

Self-produced programmes are stated at cost less provision for obsolescence where considered necessary by the Directors. Cost comprises the production cost of the programmes which consists of direct expenditure and an appropriate portion of production overheads. The production costs of the self-produced programmes are charged to the income statement upon the first showing of the programmes.

e. Purchased programme rights

Purchased programme rights and the related accruals are recorded at cost. The cost of purchased programmes is charged to the income statement either on the first and second showing of such purchased programmes or amortised over the licence period if the license allows multiple showings within the licence period. Programme rights with a remaining licence period of twelve months or less are classified as current assets.

f. Fixed assets and depreciation

Fixed assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. The cost of an asset comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to its working condition and location for its intended use. Expenditure incurred after the fixed assets have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance and overhaul costs, is normally charged to the income statement in the period in which it is incurred. In situations where it can be clearly demonstrated that the expenditure has resulted in an increase in the future economic benefits expected to be obtained from the use of the fixed asset, the expenditure is capitalised as an additional cost of the fixed asset.

Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis at annual rates estimated to write off the cost of each asset over its expected useful life. The annual rates are as follows:

Leasehold improvements	15%
Furniture and fixtures	15% – 20%
Office equipment	20%
Motor vehicles	20%

Where the recoverable amount of an asset has declined below its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to reflect the decline in value. In determining the recoverable amount of assets, expected future cash flows are not discounted to their present values.

g. Subsidiaries

A company is a subsidiary company if more than 50% of the issued voting capital is held long-term, directly or indirectly. In the Company's balance sheet, investment in subsidiaries is carried at cost less provision for impairment in value where considered necessary by the Directors. The results of the subsidiaries are included in the income statement to the extent of dividends declared by the subsidiaries.

2. PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd)h. Deferred taxation

Deferred taxation is provided under the liability method, at the current tax rate, in respect of the timing differences between profit as computed for taxation purposes and profit as stated in the financial statements, except where it is considered that no liability will arise in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets are not recognised unless the related benefits are expected to crystallise in the foreseeable future.

i. Operating leases

Leases where substantially all the rewards and risks of ownership remain with the leasing company are accounted for as operating leases. Rental payments under operating leases are charged to the income statement on a straight-line basis over the period of the relevant leases.

j. Foreign currency

The books and records of the companies within the Phoenix Group are maintained in Hong Kong dollars. Transactions in other currencies during the years are translated into Hong Kong dollars at exchange rates in effect at the time of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in other currencies at the balance sheet date are translated into Hong Kong dollars at rates of exchange in effect at the balance sheet date. Exchange differences are dealt with in the income statements of the individual companies.

3. REVENUE

The Phoenix Group's revenue by nature is as follows:
