CHARACTERISTICS OF THE GROWTH ENTERPRISE MARKET (“GEM”) OF THE STOCK EXCHANGE OF HONG KONG LIMITED (THE “STOCK EXCHANGE”)

GEM has been established as a market designed to accommodate companies to which a high investment risk may be attached. In particular, companies may list on GEM with neither a track record of profitability nor any obligation to forecast future profitability. Furthermore, there may be risks arising out of the emerging nature of companies listed on GEM and the business sectors or countries in which the companies operate. Prospective investors should be aware of the potential risks of investing in such companies and should make the decision to invest only after due and careful consideration. The greater risk profile and other characteristics of GEM mean that it is a market more suited to professional and other sophisticated investors.

Given the emerging nature of companies listed on GEM, there is a risk that securities traded on GEM may be more susceptible to high market volatility than securities traded on the Main Board of the Stock Exchange and no assurance is given that there will be a liquid market in the securities traded on GEM.

The principal means of information dissemination on GEM is publication on the internet website operated by the Stock Exchange. GEM-listed companies are not generally required to issue paid announcements in gazetted newspapers. Accordingly, prospective investors should note that they need to have access to the GEM website in order to obtain up-to-date information on GEM-listed issuers.

BUSINESS REVIEW AND PROSPECTS

BUSINESS REVIEW

The Board of Directors of SIIC Medical Science and Technology (Group) Limited (the "Group") is pleased to announce that its unaudited consolidated profit for the three months ended 31st March 2003 amounted to approximately HK$21.1 million, representing an increase of 11.7% over the same period of last year. Its turnover rose by more than 37.2% to HK$326 million. Overall, business grew steadily. The Group acquired Xiamen Traditional Chinese Medicine Co. Ltd. ("Xiamen Chinese Medicine") in 2002. This company's net profit for the three months ended 31st March 2003 was 7.9 times of its pro-forma results for the corresponding period of last year. Apart from strengthening its existing business operations, the Group also actively sought opportunities for further acquisitions. In April 2003, it reached an agreement to acquire a 30% stake in Hangzhou Huqingyutang Pharmaceutical Co. Ltd. ("Huqingyutang Pharmaceutical"). The relevant Government authorities have approved this agreement, and the Group has earmarked HK$78.67 million for the project. The Group will continue to look for significant acquisition opportunities.

Through its investment last year in Hangzhou Huqingyutang Drugstore Co. Ltd., the Group has entered the retail medicine market. Following the completion of the Huqingyutang Pharmaceutical agreement, its involvement will be further extended to include the manufacture and sale of Chinese pharmaceutical products and health foods under the Huqingyutang brand name. Huqingyutang was established in 1874 by Mr. Hu Xueyan, an official merchant in the late Qing Dynasty, popularly known as the "Medicine King of Southern China". Since its foundation, the company has adhered to the principles of "Integrity", "Social Benevolence" and "Value for Money". The brand enjoys considerable prestige in the Chinese pharmaceutical industry. The Group will seize the business opportunities that arise from these projects, with the aim of achieving better returns for its shareholders.

BUSINESS REVIEW AND PROSPECTS

Pharmaceutical Products and Health Foods

Prescription Drugs

During the period under review, sales of the Group's prescription drugs were satisfactory, with a double-digit growth rate. Sales of the four principal injection products — "Shen Mai Injection", "Dan Shen Injection", "Herba Houttyniae Injection" and "Huang Qi Injection" — rose by 7.4%, 5.9%, 27.7% and 13.1% respectively. Sales of "Xinhuang Tablets" were 10% higher than the pro-forma results for the corresponding period of last year. It is one of the Group's top five prescription drugs.

Earlier this year, the National Development and Reform Commission of China announced a list of the maximum retail prices for 267 Chinese medicines. Two of the Group's principal injection products, Dan Shen Injection and Huang Qi Injection were included on the list. Since it can charge favourable retail prices for these products, according to the principle of "Good Prices for Good Products", the existing retail prices of the products were not affected. The Group will take advantage of this opportunity to further expand the market share of its injection products. With regard to marketing, the Group has enhanced the promotion of its brands and modified its conventional marketing approach to improve operational efficiency.

OTC Drugs and Health Foods

OTC drugs and health foods accounted for 55% of the Group's overall sales. During the first quarter of this year, sales of its new product, "Qingchunbao Beauty Capsule", exceeded RMB22 million, and the future prospects for this product are promising. In addition, sales of "Qingchunbao Anti-ageing Tablets" have grown significantly in the past few consecutive years. During the quarter under review, sales increased once again, by 18%, to a total of RMB150 million. The Group will endeavour to maintain its leading position in the Jiangsu, Zhejiang and Shanghai markets, as well as exploring markets in other regions. While striving to secure its position in Zhejiang, it will also expand its presence in Shanghai and make greater efforts to develop sales in Suzhou, Shenzhen and Beijing.

BUSINESS REVIEW AND PROSPECTS

Research and Development

In order to maintain its competitive edge, the Group has enhanced its research and development efforts, in both the pharmaceutical and health food sectors. Besides the continued development of new Category I and II medicines, the Group has also focused on innovative health food products. The latter generally have a shorter research and development cycle, and can satisfy market demands better. Applications for the production of two more health food products, "Lycium Barbarum Effervescent" and "Lycium Barbarum Seed Capsule", were submitted in April this year, and it is expected that these products will be launched on the market before the third quarter. With regard to secondary research and development, the Group will endeavour to enhance the market potential and competitiveness of its existing products by improving the quality of their formulation and applications.

Production Technology

During 2003, the Group will speed up the adoption of new technology in its business operations, in order to satisfy growing demand for its products. Construction work on an automatic extraction facility in Hangzhou is now in its final stages, and trial production is expected to begin in June this year. The Group has earmarked approximately HK$30 million for this facility, which has a total floor area of approximately 4,855 square metres and an annual production capacity of 3,000 tonnes of herbal extracts. In addition, the Group will rebuild its Chinese medicine granule workshop and crude herb preparation facility. Work on these two projects will commence this year and is scheduled for completion in 2004 at a total investment cost in the region of HK$42 million. Between them, the three projects will significantly increase Hangzhou Qingchunbao's production capability, thus strengthening the company's competitiveness.

BUSINESS REVIEW AND PROSPECTS

New Acquisition

In April this year, the Group concluded an agreement to acquire a 30% interest in Huqingyutang Pharmaceutical for a consideration of HK$78.67 million. The relevant Government authorities have approved this agreement. Huqingyutang Pharmaceutical has the exclusive licence to manufacture and sell proprietary Chinese medicines and health foods in Mainland China under the renowned "Huqingyutang" trademark, free of charge. The company's turnover for the year 2002 was approximately RMB143.9 million. Huqingyutang Pharmaceutical has obtained approvals to manufacture more than 170 Chinese medicines. Three of its products have been certified as State-protected Traditional Chinese Medicines, and 40 products are listed in the National Essential Health Insurance Medicine Catalogue. The company's major markets are in Eastern China. It has been granted Good Manufacturing Practice ("GMP") certificates for the production of tablets, capsules, granules, mixtures (including oral solutions) and syrups. GMP certification procedures for its pills, powders, soft capsules and eye drops production facilities are in progress, and the Zhejiang Drug Administrative Bureau has granted preliminary approval for these. Huqingyutang's flagship product is its Stomach Rejuvenation Tablets, a prescription drug for which sales last year exceeded RMB77.4 million. The Stomach Rejuvenation Tablets strengthen the functioning of the spleen, increase vital energy, activate blood circulation and detoxify the blood. They are used for the treatment of chronic superficial gastritis and for adjuvant treatment of gastric carcinoma after chemotherapy or radiotherapy.

Medical Equipment

During the period under review, the Group stepped up its development of existing products, with an emphasis on marketing and promotional activities. In March and April this year, E-COM Technology Ltd. raised its market profile through participation in the annual meetings of the Radiologic Association of Taiwan and the International Medical Equipment Exhibition in Beijing, where it demonstrated its products. Since certain "E-COM" digital angiographic systems and its "Biolight" monitoring and diagnostic equipment are effective for diagnosing and monitoring SARS patients, the number of orders received for them has significantly increased since the period under review.

BUSINESS REVIEW AND PROSPECTS

Sales of the company's "MicroPort" apparatus for vascular and interventional surgery were also substantially greater than last year. Among them, sales of coronary stent systems increased by the largest percentage. With regard to the development of new products, the State Food and Drug Administration has approved the first generation of medicated stent systems for clinical trials. Research and development of the second generation of medicated stent systems also made progress, and animal tests were begun. Certification of the balloon dilation catheters by Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare of Japan was in progress, and approval for them is expected during the third quarter.

Personal Care Products

In the personal care sector, revenue from Shanghai Jahwa's principal activities in the first quarter of 2003 was higher than in the corresponding period of last year. This contributed approximately HK$3.2 million to the Group's profits. In response to a decline in the growth of the personal care product market and increasing competition, Shanghai Jahwa has aimed to strengthen its competitiveness by enhancing product quality and service. In response to the outbreak of SARS, Shanghai Jahwa has launched an antiseptic lotion and an air freshener.

PROSPECTS

The Group will maintain a proactive, open and enterprising business approach, leveraging its financial soundness and flexible operational structure to continue its forward momentum. Pharmaceuticals will remain its core business, with other medical-related operations as sidelines. The Group will optimise both its business operations and the management of its assets, while continuing to strengthen and expand its asset base through mergers, acquisitions and integration of internal and external resources. It is also committed to enhancing its research and development capabilities, in order to strengthen its core competitiveness. The Group's ultimate aim is to build a strong pharmaceutical business platform as the base for continuous development.

BUSINESS REVIEW AND PROSPECTS

Although the impact of SARS on pharmaceutical enterprises has been comparatively mild, the Group has been taking strict precautionary measures. Contingency plans have been adopted, and staff rotation schedules have been carefully arranged to maintain the continuity of normal business operations and safeguard the health of all employees.

Finally, on behalf of the Board of Directors, I wish to thank all the staff of the Group for their continued hard work, and our shareholders for their strong support.
