MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

MARKET OVERVIEW

The world continued to be affected by COVID-19, which has driven various industries to adjust their operation models, introduced digital transformation to explore new business opportunities, encouraged enterprises to accelerate the introduction of cloud computing, smart factories, robotics and other technologies, and provided remote services through virtual reality, augmented reality and other methods, driving the development of zero-contact economy. Compared with other countries in Asia, the novel coronavirus pneumonia (COVID-19) epidemic has not caused significant impact on Taiwan economy. Taiwan's third quarter estimated economic growth rate has significantly adjusted upward to 3.33%, representing an increase of 1.32 percentage points from the 2.01% forecast in August 2020, reaching a nine quarters high for Taiwan, with both export and domestic consumption performing better than expected. Taiwan exports increased by 6.01% to USD90.08 billion in the third quarter, benefiting from 5G planning and development, long-distance business opportunities and demand for new electronic products. In addition, the Taiwan government has invested resources to promote the technological advancement of the local semiconductor industry to support the development of various innovative fields such as AIoT, 5G and 6G in the future, and promote cross-segment cooperation for semiconductors, which has brought many business opportunities to the semiconductor industry. For the nine months ended 30 September 2020, the Group continued to adjust its business strategies in a timely manner in response to the development of the industry, and through effective management, maintained a stable profit and income under the fierce market competition.

BUSINESS REVIEW

The Group is a turnkey solution provider and exporter of SME and parts in Taiwan, mainly engaging in providing turnkey solution of SME and parts to customers, and modifying and/or upgrading the semiconductor equipment of its production systems according to customers' needs. In addition, the Group also engages in the trading of SME and parts. For the nine months ended 30 September 2020, the total revenue of the Group amounted to approximately NTD1,188.60 million (corresponding period in 2019: approximately NTD 1,417.15 million). Total comprehensive income for the period attributable to owners of the Company amounted to approximately NTD116.98 million (corresponding period in 2019: approximately NTD140.09 million). Basic earnings per share were NTD11.37 cents (corresponding period in 2019: NTD13.99 cents).

TURNKEY SOLUTIONS

During the period under review, turnkey solutions were still the major revenue source for the Group. The SME and parts supplied by the Group included furnaces, clean tracks and other related items, which were used at the front-end of the semiconductor manufacturing process, wafer fabrication, such as deposition, photoresist coating and development. The semiconductors produced by the customers using the SME of the Group were extensively applied to mobile phones, game consoles, DVD players, automotive sensors and other digital electronic products.

For the nine months ended 30 September 2020, the revenue from turnkey solution of the Group amounted to approximately NTD834.34 million (corresponding period in 2019: approximately NTD1,327.38 million), accounting for approximately 70.20% of the Group's total revenue.

TRADING OF SME AND PARTS

During the period under review, the revenue of the Group amounted to approximately NTD354.25 million (corresponding period in 2019: approximately NTD89.76 million) from the trading of SME and parts, representing an increase of approximately 294.66% as compared to the corresponding period last year and accounting for approximately 29.80% of the Group's total revenue. The significant revenue growth of this business was attributable to the acquisition of Astro Thermal Technology Corporation last year, which not only brought a more diversified product portfolio to the Group, but also satisfied the needs of existing customers, attracted new customers for the Group and became the driving force for revenue growth.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

For the nine months ended 30 September 2020, the revenue of the Group amounted to approximately NTD1,188.60 million (corresponding period in 2019: approximately NTD1,417.15 million), representing a decrease of approximately 16.13% as compared to last year. During the period, the revenue from the business of turnkey solution and trading of SME and parts amounted to approximately NTD834.34 million and NTD354.25 million respectively.

Total comprehensive income for the period attributable to owners of the Company amounted to approximately NTD116.98 million (corresponding period in 2019: approximately NTD140.09 million), while basic earnings per share amounted to NTD11.37 cents (corresponding period in 2019: NTD13.99 cents). The cost of sales of the Group amounted to approximately NTD886.25 million (corresponding period in 2019: approximately NTD1,053.59 million).

The Group has been committed to providing turnkey solution and trading of SME and parts to its customers, as well as repairing, upgrading and modifying its existing SME so that the customers can expand the production equipment at a relatively low cost. At present, the semiconductor industry is booming and semiconductor manufacturers in various countries have increased their investment. Having the non-mainstream operating advantages, the Group has been able to seize the opportunities and continued to secure more domestic and international orders to expand its revenue sources. During the period under review, revenue from the domestic business in Taiwan accounted for approximately 60.72% of the Group's total revenue. The US semiconductor customers have also gradually shifted to cooperate with suppliers in Taiwan, which in turn contributed to the revenue of the Group's US business, which surged by 145.20% as compared to the same period last year.

During the period under review, the Group's gross profit amounted to approximately NTD302.35 million (corresponding period in 2019: approximately NTD363.55 million); and the gross profit margin was 25.44% (corresponding period in 2019: 25.65%).

OUTLOOK

Despite the global outbreak of COVID-19 epidemic in 2020, the global semiconductor market continues to grow. According to the estimates of the International Semiconductor Industry Association (SEMI), the value of global output of semiconductors will increase by 3.3% this year, and the output value of Taiwan is expected to exceed NTD3 trillion with a promising prospect, remaining the second place in the world, after the United States and the third place in South Korea. The intensifying tension in Sino-US trade relations have led to closer cooperation between the United States and Taiwan, which will strengthen the position of Taiwan's semiconductor industry. In recent years, the scale of investment of Taiwan semiconductor manufacturers has exceeded NTD2.72 trillion, in order to establish a larger semiconductor industry cluster and strive to establish Taiwan as an advanced semiconductor process center, which will help attract more foreign enterprises, such as those engage in semiconductor equipment and materials, to invest in Taiwan, expand cooperation with each other and improve the semiconductor supply chain, so that Taiwan is expected to become a new technology innovation center in the Asia Pacific region in the long run.

Looking forward, with the advent of the digital economy era, the restructuring of the global industrial landscape will be promoted, and the information and communication technology will fully penetrate and integrate all industries. During the time of the epidemic, the application potential of emerging digital technologies such as big data, AI, etc. has rapidly grown under the control measures of lockdown across various cities and countries. It is expected that after the epidemic, long-distance working and teaching models will become a new normal. Enterprises will accelerate the introduction of robots into business operations, and cloud and network services will become more popular, which will gradually change people's original lifestyle and consumption patterns and develop into a zero-contact economic model. Therefore, the market expects that the global demand for high-tech end products will increase, which will in turn drive the growth of demand for semiconductor equipment. The Institute of Industry Intelligence (MIC) estimates that the global semiconductor capital expenditure will grow by 17.8% and the semiconductor market will grow by 8.0% to 12.0% in the next year.

In the past year, the epidemic has not only affected the global economic outlook, but also disrupted people's original lifestyle and working methods, laying a foundation for new economic growth. The huge market potential not only continues to consolidate the domestic development of Taiwan semiconductor industry, but also brings unprecedented new opportunities for domestic semiconductor enterprises to expand into international markets. The Group will continue to pay close attention to the latest development of the epidemic and the related impact, keep an eye on the changes in the macro environment, make timely assessment of the internal financial position and operation, adopt proactive and positive response strategies and intensify marketing efforts. The Directors believe that as opportunities arise, the Group will respond to market changes in a prudent and prompt manner, and take advantage of the Group's core business to explore new business opportunities. The Group believes that the semiconductor market will grow faster than expected after the epidemic. The Directors are confident in the current business deployment and will lead the Group to seize the opportunities during the market growth more quickly and accurately, so as to capture the market share, further enhance its competitiveness and consolidate its leading position in the industry.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Group had met its liquidity requirements principally through a combination of internal resources and bank borrowings during the nine months ended 30 September 2020. The Group's primary use of cash has been, and is expected to continue to be, satisfying its working capital needs.

As at 30 September 2020, the borrowings of the Group totalled approximately NTD723.62 million (31 December 2019: approximately NTD778.95 million). MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS (continued)

As at the date of this report, the board of Directors (the "Board") considers that the foreign currencies (mainly USD) were received/paid when the Group earned revenue from overseas customers and when settling purchases of machinery and equipment from overseas suppliers. The Group would closely monitor the volatility of the currency exchange rate and adopt appropriate measures, should the needs arise.
