

Employee Information

At 31 December 2002, the Group had 946 employees. Our employees were remunerated according to their performance, working experience and market conditions. In addition to basic salaries and Mandatory Provident Fund scheme, we also offered staff benefits including medical schemes, discretionary share options, performance bonus and sales commission. We continue to provide training to employees in areas such as computer application, product knowledge, Putonghua training, customer service, selling techniques, problem solving, time management, train-the-trainer and coaching, etc.