

New World CyberBase Limited (“NWCB”) was established in August 1999 as a technology company that provides IT and software solutions to customers in China. The business focus encompasses software products, industry solutions and IT services. Technology excellence, quality service and people domain expertise form the core values of the Company’s commitment to product development and dedication to deliver products and services.

In addition, continuous strengthening of strategic partnership and alliance network is an important component of NWCB’s success factor. NWCB has its corporate headquarters in Hong Kong and offices in Beijing, Shanghai and Guangzhou. The shares of the Company are listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (stock code: 276).

