

ABOUT NTEEP : Nam Tai Electronic & Electrical Products Limited (“NTEEP”), a subsidiary of Nam Tai Electronics, Inc. which is listed on the New York Stock Exchange (symbol: NTE), is a well-established vertically integrated manufacturing solutions provider for some of the world’s most reputable brand owners of consumer electronics and communications products. Currently, NTEEP focuses on four segments of the consumer electronics and communications sectors including optical devices, home entertainment devices, mobile phone accessories and educational products. NTEEP’s largest customers include Sony Ericsson Mobile Communications AB, Texas Instruments Incorporated, Sony Computer Entertainment Europe Ltd., Seiko Instruments Inc., Appeal Telecom Co., Ltd. and Canon Electronic Business Machines (H.K.) Co., Ltd.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Successful listing on Hong Kong Stock Exchange

Received prestigious "Excellent Award for National Six Sigma Projects" and "National Advanced Enterprise for Successful Promotion of Six Sigma" from the China Association for Quality

Completion of new office and factory premises including a class 100 clean room

Successful development of advanced gold wire bonding technology for the production of high precision electronic products

Increasing our pace and performance

As a company, reaching a goal involves the efforts of more than one individual. It takes everyone, pulling together as a unit, to build up momentum and achieve significant advances. An intricate combination of vision, preparation, training, timing and desire. As a well established organisation, NTEEP is continuously achieving and exceeding its targets in providing manufacturing solutions for leading brands of consumer electronics and communications products.