Cover Story

Some 25 years ago, a young French gentleman traveled by train to Tianjin, a coastal city in North China, with the fine traditions in wine making from his family. This was the beginning of a long-term Sino-French partnership. His patience pays off well 25 years later.

Today, the venture proves to the world the rise of a wine dynasty in China. We see the road to the top and are leading in the race.

The successful story opens a new chapter now. And the Legend of Dynasty will go on.
