MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The Market

The Hong Kong stock market had shown continuous improvement in 2007, backed by the booming economy of China and favourable policy initiatives introduced by the Chinese government. The announcement of the Qualified Domestic Institutional Investors (“QDII”) arrangements had resulted in a sustainable momentum of the securities markets in Hong Kong. For the six months ended 30 September 2007 (the “Period”), the average daily turnover on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Stock Exchange”) reached an unprecedented HK$65.0 billion, up 178.3% year-on-year. The Main Board of Hang Seng Index (HSI) reached its highest daily turnover of HK$148.6 billion, compared to HK$50.3 billion during the corresponding period in 2006. The market capitalisation of the listed companies reported a year-on-year growth of 89.1% to HK$19.9 billion.

The market experienced higher volatility in July and August 2007. The global market was affected by rising concerns on the US subprime markets, unwinding of Japanese Yen carry trades and failures of hedge funds. Despite being adversely affected by these incidents, the underlying economy of Hong Kong remains fundamentally sound. The Hong Kong market was supported by a buoyant initial public offering (“IPO”) market. As at 30 September 2007, there were 1,018 (2006: 954) companies listed on the Main Board of the Stock Exchange, including 39 new companies which had together raised HK$138.8 billion during the Period.

Overview

Emperor Capital Group Limited (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “Group”) was spun off from its listed parent Emperor International Holdings Limited (“EIHL”) and became separately listed on the Main Board of the Stock Exchange on 24 April 2007.

The Group positions itself as a preferred brokerage house of quality services for clients and provides a wide range of financial services including brokerage services for securities and option traded on the Stock Exchange and futures traded on the exchanges in Hong Kong, Japan and the US. It also provides margin and IPO financing as well as loans and advances to clients in Hong Kong.

The Group recorded for the Period a turnover of approximately HK$80.9 million, an increase of 33.7% from HK$60.5 million in the previous year. Profit for the Period rose by 27.6% to HK$20.8 million (2006: HK$16.3 million) with earnings per share of HK3.71 cents (2006: HK5.78 cents). To cope with growing operating costs and market competition, the Group had been striving to boost its revenue in order to provide better returns for its shareholders.

Serving mainly retail customers, the Group had approximately 22,500 clients at the end of the Period under review.

Securities Brokerage

Total commission income derived from securities brokerage, placing and underwriting, rose 142.1% to HK$55.2 million for the Period under review from HK$22.8 million for the previous corresponding period, thanks to the boom in securities trading on the Stock Exchange following the announcements that Mainland individuals would be allowed to invest directly in the Hong Kong stock market and commencement of QDII investments with large number of IPOs during the Period and the resultant increase in market activities. The securities brokerage revenue contributed a total of 68.3% to the Group's revenue (2006: 37.6%). The significant growth in commission income reflected the frequent trading of investors.

Backed by the Group's team of professional marketing executives and an in-house research department, the Group's securities business covers services including brokerage of securities listed and traded on the Stock Exchange, equity research, application for IPO issues and other nominee services. The Group had launched an online trading platform during the Period, providing customers greater access to the stock market and investment opportunities. The platform seamlessly integrates multiple channels for the placement of stock orders, access to market news and the ability to conduct account enquiries.

Futures and Options Dealing

The commission income derived from futures and options dealing amounted to HK$6.9 million for the Period (2006: HK$13.7 million). It contributed 8.5% of the total revenue for the Period, against 22.6% in 2006. Apart from dealing in futures and options traded on the Stock Exchange, the Group has also actively dealt in commodity futures traded in Japanese and US markets.

Commodities prices had been at high levels during the Period and the market did not expect much room for further increase. The commodities markets were less volatile compared to the corresponding period in 2006, which resulted in lower turnover from futures and options dealing.

Loans and Financing

The segment comprised of interest income from margin and IPO financing as well as loans and advances. The volatility of the equity market had encouraged investors, especially retail clients, to seek returns from IPO market. In addition to margin financing, the Group also provides loans and advances to clients.

Total income from the segment in the Period reached HK$18.8 million (2006: HK$24.1 million). The segment contributed 23.2% to the total revenue for the Period (2006: 39.8%). The Group adopted a cautious approach in assessing loan and financing to reduce the risk of business.

Outlook

The HSI, in the months following its reporting period, had experienced its traded high of over 30,000 points with heavy daily turnover of well over HK$100 billion. Despite the slow-down of the US economy and the subprime mortgage turmoil which led to a global sell-off starting in August 2007, buying interest in equity market – especially in China stocks – remained strong which backed the HSI to record new highs.

The inflation rate in China and her overheated economy had led to stricter austerity measures by the Central Government. It was expected that the market would experience some adjustments but the long-term outlook would remain positive given the underlying economic strength and high liquidity of China stocks in anticipation of the Renminbi-asset appreciation.

To capture the growing potentials, the Group has strengthened its presence by opening new branches in Hong Kong to cater for retail customers. It will have a higher profile through marketing programme and organisation of investor seminars. The Group will also increase its research resources and capability to cope with growing customer demand.

To counter the growing operating costs and intense market competition, the Group is determined to improve its service standards and enhance its profitability through economy of scale.

The Group announced in September 2007 to expand into wealth management services, providing investment funds and insurance products agency services. The new division, with its professional advisers and the Group's comprehensive range of investment products such as securities and futures trading as well as financing, will help the high-net-worth clients capture investment opportunities and enhance their wealth.

In December 2007, The Group announced to acquire Emperor Capital Limited ("ECL") from EIHL. ECL is a licensed holder under Securities and Futures Ordinance to provide corporate finance advisory services. The acquisition will extend the Group's reach to corporate financial advisory services and build up a complete offering of securities and financial services.

As investors nowadays have grown increasingly sophisticated, the Group believes in providing tailor-made and quality investment solutions for its customers. The Group will continue to exercise caution in granting loans with regular assessments of investment portfolio and on individual borrowers.
