MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Market overview

MSG segment

MSG segment mainly includes glutamic acid, MSG, fertilisers, and other related products.

Triggered by the oversupply in MSG market and unexpected increase in cost of raw materials in 2007, the MSG market experienced a severe market downturn, which has also sped up the industry consolidation. The overall MSG market showed a sign of recovery in the first half of 2008, especially the second quarter of 2008. According to our studies, the production volume of glutamic acid in the first half of 2008 dropped significantly as compared that in the first half of 2007. Meanwhile, the demands for glutamic acid and MSG in China remained stable in the first half of 2008. During the first half of 2008, the oversupply situation in MSG market in China had largely subsided, and as a result, the selling price of glutamic acid and MSG rebounded in the first half of 2008, and the increase was more significant in the second quarter of 2008.

With the significantly increased in the raw material and production cost of fertiliser, the selling price of fertiliser in both the international and domestic markets has been on an upward trend since the fourth quarter of 2007.

Xanthan gum segment

According to our studies, the global supply of xanthan gum remained stable in the first half of 2008. The market demand is expected to grow with more end-users realising the advantages of using xanthan gum as an effective thickener, stabiliser or suspension agent applying in food, oil exploration, personal care products and pharmaceutical items.

Price trend of corn kernel

After the soaring of corn kernel price in 2007, the average price of corn kernel of the Group gradually stabilised but yet maintained at a high level in the first half of 2008, approximately RMB1,415 per tonne (1H 2007: RMB1,352 per tonne). The stabilised corn kernel price was a result of the effective administrative measures implemented by the PRC government in 2007.

Operation review of the Group

Following the market downturn in the year 2007, the Group's performance in the first half of 2008 showed a strong sign of recovery, especially the second quarter of 2008, due to the improved operating environment. Certain indicative operational figures of the Group are set out below:

Turnover/Gross profit/Gross profit margin of the Group

	Six months ended 30 June		Change %
	2008	2007
Turnover (RMB'000)	1,630,399	1,119,121	45.7
Gross profit (RMB'000)	237,677	114,118	108.3
Gross profit margin (%)	14.6	10.2	4.4 pts.

The notable improvement in the performance of the Group are mainly due to the increase in sales volume and selling price of certain products. The reasons are discussed in details in the following sections.

Profit attributable to Shareholders

	Six months ended 30 June		Change %
	2008 RMB'000	2007 RMB'000
As reported	85,864	32,807	161.7

Profit attributable to Shareholders after excluding the interest income from IPO proceeds	85,864	(10,030)	N/A

The profit attributable to Shareholders after excluding the interest income from IPO proceeds increased significantly, mainly due to the improvement in the operating environment as mentioned above.

MSG Segment

Operation results

The table below set out the sales amount of the products in this segment for the six months ended 30 June 2008 and 2007:

Product	Six months ended 30 June		Change %
	2008 RMB'000	2007 RMB'000
Glutamic acid	619,455	528,071	17.3

Set out below is the chart of ASP per tonne of the major products in this segment of each quarter from the first quarter of 2007 to the second quarter of 2008:

Glutamic acid

After the continuous decrease of glutamic acid price and the market consolidation, the glutamic acid price has rebounded completely in the second quarter of 2008. The ASP of glutamic acid increased from approximately RMB5,964 per tonne in the first half of 2007 to approximately RMB6,048 per tonne in the first half of 2008, representing an increase of about 1.4%. During the six months ended 30 June 2008, the ASP of glutamic acid increased from approximately RMB5,644 per tonne in the first quarter of 2008 to approximately RMB6,523 per tonne in the second quarter of 2008, representing an increase of about 15.6%. Furthermore, the ASP of glutamic acid increased from approximately RMB5,650 per tonne in early 2008 to approximately RMB6,800 per tonne at the end of June 2008, representing an increase of about 20%. The increase was primarily because the drop in supply of glutamic acid, the market restructuring came into effect and the small and medium size manufacturers either closed down or shifted their production to other products in early 2008.

The Group managed to maintain its leading position and enlarged its market share in glutamic acid after market consolidation, and its sales volume of glutamic acid increased by approximately 15.6% in the first half of 2008 when compared to that in the first half of 2007.

MSG

Following the same pattern and reasons as that of glutamic acid, the ASP of MSG increased from approximately RMB6,106 per tonne in the first half of 2007 to approximately RMB6,257 per tonne in the first half of 2008, representing an increase of about 2.5%. The ASP of MSG increased from approximately RMB5,842 per tonne in the first quarter of 2008 to approximately RMB6,684 per tonne in the second quarter of 2008, representing an increase of 14.4%. Furthermore, the ASP of MSG increased from approximately RMB5,800 per tonne in the early 2008 to approximately RMB6,900 per tonne at the end of June 2008, representing an increase of 19%.

With the Group's strategy of moving from glutamic acid to MSG, the sales volume of MSG continued to increase by approximately 11.5% in the first half of 2008 from that of 2007. The Directors believe that the Group was increasing its market share in China at the same time. The Group will continue pursuing such strategy.

Fertilisers

Since the fourth quarter of 2007, the ASP of fertilisers has been increasing continuously due to the sustained growing prices in the international and PRC fertiliser markets. The ASP of fertilisers increased from approximately RMB452 per tonne in the first half of 2007 to approximately RMB1,009 per tonne in the first half of 2008, representing an increase of about 123.2%. The ASP of fertilisers increased from approximately RMB902 per tonne in the first quarter of 2008 to approximately RMB1,130 per tonne in the second quarter of 2008, representing an increase of 25.3%. Furthermore, the ASP of fertilisers increased from approximately RMB800 per tonne in early 2008 to approximately RMB1,100 per tonne at the end of June 2008, representing an increase of 37.5%.

Corn refined products

The increase in selling price of pork since 2007 led to the increase in demand for corn-based animal feed which continued pushing up the sales volume and amount of corn refined products in the first half of 2008.

Sweeteners

Although there was not much change in the ASP of sweeteners in the first half of 2008 from that 2007, the increase in market recognition increased the sales volume of the Group's sweeteners in the first half of 2008.

Gross profit and gross profit margin

	Six months ended 30 June		Change %
	2008	2007
Gross profit (RMB'000)	180,441	93,899	92.2
Gross profit margin (%)	12.3	8.8	3.5 ppts.

The chart below shows the gross profit margin in different period:

The increase in gross profit of MSG segment by 92.2% was mainly due to the increase in sales volume and ASP of various products in the first half of 2008 in this segment. The gross profit margin of MSG segment has rebounded from 8.5% in the period between the second quarter of 2007 and first quarter of 2008 to 15.1% in the second quarter of 2008, representing an increase of 6.6 percentage points. The strong recovery in MSG segment since the second quarter of 2008 was the market consolidation in 2007 had further strengthened the Group's market position.

Major raw materials/Energy
• Corn kernels	656,647	51.5	590,759	56.5	11.2

Others	121,591	9.6	133,907	12.9	(9.2)
Total cost of production	1,272,850	100.0	1,045,232	100.0	21.8

During the first half of 2008, corn kernels represented approximately 51.5% (1H 2007: 56.5%) of the total production cost of this segment. The average cost of corn kernels for the first half of 2008 had been stabilised but still remained at a high level as that of the end of 2007 which was approximately RMB1,415 per tonne. (1H 2007: RMB1,352 per tonne).

Another two major raw materials, liquid ammonia and sulphuric acid represented approximately 12.0% (1H 2007: 11.8%) and 9.9% (1H 2007: 3.4%) respectively to the total production cost in this segment. The cost of these two raw materials increased gradually since 2007. The main reason for the increase in cost of liquid ammonia was the increase in coal price while the main reason for the increase in cost of sulphuric acid was the increase in market price of sulphur. For liquid ammonia, the average cost for the first half of 2008 was approximately RMB2,505 per tonne, which represent an increase of approximately RMB638 per tonne or 34% from that of 2007. For sulphuric acid, the average cost in the first half of 2008 was approximately RMB1,068 per tonne, which represent an increase of approximately RMB777 per tonne or 267% from that of 2007.

The average cost of coal kept increasing from RMB241 per tonne in the first half of 2007 to RMB315 per tonne of the same period in 2008. Given that the Group's plants are strategically located in Shaanxi Province and Inner Mongolia Autonomous Region of the PRC, the Group can enjoy relatively lower coal cost which is one of its competitive advantages. The chart below shows the coal cost at each plant:

The increase in cost of employee benefit was mainly because of the Group provided additional benefit to staff in order to comply the new Labour Contract Law enacted on 1 January 2008.

Production

The annual design production capacity, the actual production output and the utilisation rate of the major products for this segment were as follows:

Product	Six months ended 30 June		Change %
	2008 Tonnes	2007 Tonnes
Glutamic acid (Note C)
Annual design production capacity	120,000	140,000	(14.3)

Actual production output	185,364	188,756	(1.8)
Utilisation rate	92.7%	77.0%

Note:

- A. All the annual design production capacity is expressed on pro-rata basis.
- B. The significant increase in production capacity of MSG was mainly due to the full operation of MSG production line in IM plant.
- C. The decrease in production capacity of glutamic acid and fertilisers was mainly due to the closure of Shandong production facilities.

Xanthan Gum Segment

Operation results

The table below set out the sales amount, ASP, gross profit, gross profit margin and utilisation rate of xanthan gum for the six months ended 30 June 2008 and 2007:

	Six months ended 30 June		Change %
	2008	2007
Sales amount (RMB'000)	168,740	56,960	196.2
ASP (RMB/tonne)	21,547	25,303	(14.8)
Gross profit (RMB'000)	57,236	20,219	183.1
Gross profit margin (%)	33.9	35.5	(1.6 pts.)
Annual design production capacity (tonnes)	9,000	4,000	125
Actual production output (tonnes)	9,805	3,818	156.8
Utilisation rate	108.9%	95.5%

Note: the annual design production capacity is expressed on pro-rata basis.

With the commencement of production of xanthan gum in December 2007 in IM Plant, the annual production capacity of the Group in xanthan gum, on pro-rata basis, increased from 4,000 tonnes for the first half of 2007 to 9,000 tonnes for the same period in 2008.

Sales and ASP

With the outstanding effort of the sales team, the increase in production capacity of xanthan gum was mostly absorbed by the sales for the first half of 2008. Hence, the sales volume of xanthan gum increased by approximately 247.9% to 7,831 tonnes while the sales amount increased by approximately 196% to RMB168.7 million. During the first half of 2008, overseas sales of xanthan gum contributed 80% (1H 2007: 81%) to the total sales of the xanthan gum.

The decrease in ASP in the first half of 2008 of xanthan gum by RMB3,756 per tonne or 14.8% was mainly due to two folds:

- (1) the expansion of production capacity in the overall market which has driven down the selling price of xanthan gum; and
- (2) the Group intentionally offered discount to certain new customers in order to enlarge the market share of the Group in xanthan gum market.

Gross profit and gross profit margin

The increase in gross profit of xanthan gum in the first half of 2008 was mainly due to the increase in sale volume and the maintained high level of gross profit margin. The gross profit margin maintained at high level with a slight adjustment of 1.6% points in the first half of 2008 despite the decrease in ASP by approximately 15%. It was mainly brought by the cost advantage of producing xanthan gum with lower cost of coal in IM plant.

Production cost

	Six months ended 30 June				Change %
	2008		2007
	RMB'000	%	RMB'000	%
Major raw materials/Energy
• Corn kernels/Starch	35,718	26.4	11,702	19.3	205.2
• Soy bean	11,734	8.7	3,474	5.7	237.8
• Coal	55,282	40.9	28,984	47.9	90.7
Depreciation	12,061	8.9	5,661	9.4	113.1
Employee benefit	9,381	6.9	2,466	4.1	280.4
Others	11,003	8.2	8,263	13.6	33.2
Total cost of production	135,179	100.0	60,550	100.0	123.3

During the first half of 2008, corn kernels/starch represented approximately 26.4% (2007: 19.3%) of the total production cost of this segment. The increase in production cost proportion was mainly because after the closure of the Junan Plant Phase I in 2008, the Group stopped the production of starch by itself in Shandong but purchased from outsiders. This in return increased the cost when compared to that of produced by itself.

Soy bean is another major raw material of xanthan gum. During the first half of 2008, soy bean represented approximately 8.7% (2007: 5.7%) of the total production cost of this segment. The increase in proportion was mainly due to the increase in soy bean price from approximately RMB2,749 per tonne in the first half of 2007 to approximately RMB4,577 per tonne in the first half of 2008, representing an increase of 66.5%.

During the first half of 2008, coal represented approximately 40.9% (1H 2007: 47.9%) of the total production cost of this segment. Such decrease was because during the period approximately 50% of the production was done by the plant in Inner Mongolia where the cost of coal was RMB264 per tonne compared to RMB563 per tonne in Shandong. In the first half of 2007, all the Group's xanthan gum was produced in the Junan Plant with coal cost at RMB478 per tonne. As such, the cost portion has significantly decreased in the first half of 2008.

The increase in cost of depreciation and employee benefit was mainly due to the increased production capacity of xanthan gum in IM Plant. Furthermore, the Group provided additional benefit to staff in order to comply with the new Labour Contract Law enacted on 1 January 2008.

Recent Development

Further expansion of xanthan gum production in IM Plant

The construction of the second phase xanthan gum production facilities in the IM Plant with an annual production capacity 10,000 tonnes is in progress. The Group expects the new facilities will commence production in the end of 2008. Upon completion of the second phase xanthan gum production facilities in IM Plant, the Group's total annual production capacity of xanthan gum will reach 28,000 tonnes. The Group will enjoy better economies of scale and efficiency and cost advantage in raw materials and energy.

70,000 tonnes MSG in Baoji Plant

The acquisition of a piece of land near Baoji Plant for the construction of 70,000 tonnes MSG is still under negotiation with the government. To avoid the delay in the commencement of production of MSG, the MSG production is now constructed inside the original plot of Baoji Plant and is expected to complete in October 2008. The Group is considering whether to continue the negotiation with government in acquisition of that piece of land.

Reengineering project of glutamic acid and MSG in IM Plant

Part of the reengineering project of glutamic acid and MSG in IM Plant has been completed in early August 2008. This improvement will further lower production cost of MSG segment. Furthermore, an annual production capacity of glutamic acid of 40,000 tonnes will be increased in late 2008 by this reengineering project.

Close down of Junan Plant Phase I

Junan Plant Phase I was closed down in February 2008. The removal of machinery and equipment to Baoji Plant and IM Plant is still underway and is expect to be completed in late 2008. By then, after reallocation and reengineering, the annual production capacity of glutamic acid and fertilisers in IM Plant will be increased by 40,000 tonnes and 100,000 tonnes respectively; the annual production capacity of 20,000 tonnes MSG will be reallocated to the Baoji Plant.

Corn oil

Corn germ produced during the production of starch was sold to third party in the past. Since 2008, the Group has considered new ways of improving the efficiency and profit margin. The Group is planning to make use of the corn germ to produce corn oil, which is perceived to be relatively healthy edible oil. The Group started the construction of corn oil plant in May 2008 in Junan Plant Phase II in Shandong and is expected to commence production in November 2008 with annual production capacity of 35,000 tonnes. The total investment of the plant is approximately RMB60 million.

Chicken powder

To further develop new value added products along the production chain, the Group is planning to make use of the MSG to produce chicken powder since early 2008. The Group commenced the construction of chicken powder production line in Junan Plant Phase II, Shandong in June 2008, which is expected to commence production in November 2008 with annual production capacity of 10,000 tonnes. The total investment of the production line is approximately RMB11 million.

Branding and business promotion plan

The Company will strengthen its marketing effort on its branding and promotion of its products by continuously participating in a number of exhibitions. In addition, the company will increase promotional campaigns including strengthening market research and advertisement in relevant magazines of the industry.

Other financial information

Selling and marketing expenses

The substantial increase in selling and marketing expenses is mainly due to the increase in transportation cost as the majority of the products are produced in IM Plant which is further away from our customers.

Administrative expenses

Administrative expenses maintained at similar level for the first half of 2008 as that of 2007. This explains that the Group's administrative activities were operated smoothly.

Finance cost

The finance costs of the Group for the six months ended 30 June 2008 increased by approximately RMB4 million when compared with that of 2007. Actually, the interest expenses are decreased by approximately RMB4 million since there was an exchange gain of approximately RMB8 million related to the bank borrowing denominated in US$ was offset in the finance cost during the six months ended 30 June 2007.

The major reason for the decrease in interest expenses was the reduction of borrowings during the first five months in first half of 2008. Since some new borrowings are made in June 2008, the borrowings increased as at 30 June 2008 when compared with that of 2007.

Outlook for second half of 2008

MSG segment

The Directors expect the market consolidation in MSG market to continue in the second half of 2008. Small manufacturers with annual production capacity 30,000 tonnes or below are likely to be running out of business due to the increased in costs. Meanwhile, the market consolidation of medium manufacturers with annual production capacity below 100,000 tonnes will be in progress. It is expected that following the market restructuring, glutamic acid and MSG supplies will be further stabilised, hence the selling price of glutamic acid and MSG will be more stabilised. The sales volume of the Group's MSG is expected to increase following the commencement of production of the Group's 70,000 tonnes new MSG plant in October 2008.

With regard to the current market restructuring in MSG market, the ASPs of glutamic acid and MSG reached the high price in June 2008 and the Group expects the ASPs will maintain at the high level for the second half of 2008.

In light of the current market environment of fertilisers, the Directors believe that the selling price of fertilisers will maintain at the current high level in the second half of 2008.

Xanthan gum segment

In view of the favourable market environment of xanthan gum and together with the Group's advantages of low production cost in its IM plant, the Group will further expand its xanthan gum's annual production capacity to 28,000 tonnes before the end of 2008.

By then, the Directors believe that the Group will further solidify its leading position in the global xanthan gum market. Although the Directors expect the selling price of xanthan gum will continue to drop, the Group is confident of maintaining its gross profit margin in xanthan gum segment. Two-third of xanthan gum will be produced in IM plant upon the completion of the 10,000 tonne annual production capacity of the second phase xanthan gum production facilities. The Group will be able to enjoy greater cost advantage by then.

Liquidity and financial resources

The Group maintained a healthy liquidity position throughout the period under review. As at 30 June 2008, the Group's cash and cash equivalent and restricted bank deposits were RMB268 million (2007: RMB271 million) whereas current bank borrowings were approximately RMB315 million (2007: RMB318 million) and non-current bank borrowings were approximately RMB362 million (2007: RMB312 million).

Material acquisitions or disposal of subsidiaries and associated companies

Except for the disclosure in note 15 business combination of the Group, the Group had no other material acquisition or disposal of the subsidiaries or associated companies for the six months ended 30 June 2008.

Employees

As at 30 June 2008, the Group had approximately 1,700 employees. Employees' remuneration was paid in accordance with relevant policies in the PRC. Appropriate salaries and bonuses were paid which are commensurate with the actual practices of the Group. Other corresponding benefits include pension, unemployment insurance, housing allowance, etc. Please refer to the paragraph headed "Share option schemes" under the "Other information" section below for the share options granted to certain Directors and employees of the Group before the IPO.

Charges on assets

As at 30 June 2008, certain leasehold land, property, plant and equipment of the Group with carrying value of approximately RMB330 million were pledged to certain banks to secure bank borrowings of RMB242 million of the Group.

Gearing ratio

As at 30 June 2008, the total assets of Group amounted to approximately RMB3,124 million (2007: RMB2,882 million) whereas the bank borrowings amounted to RMB677 million (2007: RMB630 million). The gearing ratio was approximately 22% (2007: 22%). The gearing ratio is calculated based on the Group's total interest-bearing borrowings divided by total assets.

Foreign exchange exposure

During the six months ended 30 June 2008, most of the revenue and operation cost of the Group were denominated in RMB. Most of the Listing Proceeds, which were denominated in Hong Kong dollar, has been translated into RMB for the use stipulated in prospectus of the Company dated 25 January 2007 during the period. Hence, the management expects that the appreciation of RMB will not have significant effect to the Group.
