MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Business review

During the first half of this financial year, the Group's revenue was approximately HK$374,230,000, representing a decline of 26% as compared with approximately HK$509,109,000 of the same period of last year. The Group recorded an operating loss before tax of approximately HK$24,251,000. The decline in the turnover and profit was mainly attributable to a number of contributing factors, including (i) the keen competition in the electronic consumer products market; (ii) the increase of labour costs in the Mainland and the appreciation of Renminbi against Hong Kong dollars which has resulted in an increase in the Group's operation costs in the Mainland; (iii) the depreciation of other Asian currencies which affect the sales revenue; and (iv) the slow growth in the global economy. In view of the decline, the Company's management continues to take steps to control the production costs, closely monitor the product development schedule and expand the customer base for high profit margin products.

Electronic Dictionary

In the first half of the financial year 2008/2009, the SBU (strategic business unit) has recorded a decline in its turnover and gross profit as compared with the same period of last financial year.

Due to the continual downturn of global economy, most customers have adopted conservative sales strategies in promoting our products. The depreciation of most Asian currencies, especially the Korean WON, also discouraged our Asian customers from importing our products. As a result, the SBU's overall business has to certain extent been adversely affected. There has been significant upward pressure on the materials and labor costs. Although the SBU has been striving to control the development & operating costs, the gross profit margin inevitably has narrowed slightly.

The new electronic dictionary product which is equipped with WiFi communication technology was launched in Hong Kong and Taiwan by the end of first half of the financial year 2008/2009. As such, the contribution to sales revenue in the first half of the financial year 2008/2009 was not much. However, the market feedback has been positive and it is expected the product will be one of the major revenue contributors for the second half of the financial year 2008/2009.

There is a continuous business growth in the individual newly developed Asian market. The overall electronic dictionary market continues to grow and in particular, the student market segment has been expanding rapidly. At the same time, more and more competitors have entered this market since the beginning of year 2008 and we expect there will be furious price competition between different brands in the second half of the financial year 2008/2009.

Original Design Manufacturing

The SBU continued experiencing a decline in sales revenue, which is one of the reasons for the Group's loss in the financial year 2008/2009. After intensive efforts in developing new products, three new products have been launched in Japan as scheduled in the first half of this financial year. However, the initial sales of these new products which are of high value added in the Japanese market have not been enough to offset the decrease in sales revenue of the conventional dictionaries in Japan.

Among all, there was a delay in obtaining the repeated orders of the wireless ePOP (electronic point-of-purchase) display device that was first shipped at the end of the previous financial year, as the customers are spending much longer time in setting up the business model of wirelessly distributing advertising contents through the device.

The newly launched new products are wireless tabletop ordering device which could be used in the Japanese chain restaurants, bluetooth handset that is sold by a Japanese mobile phone operator, and bluetooth keyboard that is complimentary to the new mobile phones in Japan. The orders for these new products are still insignificant, and this therefore led to a deviation from the original business plan.

Despite efforts spent on research and development and that manufacturing costs has been increasing, the SBU managed to control its operating expenses. Also, due to that the SBU has forgone the low value added products, the gross profit of the SBU is improved.

Personal Communication Products

In the first half of 2008/2009 financial year, the SBU has shifted its development focus to the original design manufacturing (ODM) business for telecommunication products, and also developing the telecommunication products for vertical markets. New products developed are not ordinary consumer products but are instead equipped with certain degree of uniqueness, catering for certain specific customer segments. It is hoped that these new products could dodge the keen price competition of consumer products market and be less affected by the economic environment.

In the first half of this financial year, the SBU has started some new ODM businesses and developed a number of new products, which are expected to enter the mass production stage during the next half financial year. Also, the SBU would continue developing new wireless communication products which could be applied in various vertical sectors. Following the launch of WiFi PDA product which was tailor-made for the hospitality industry in last year, the development of other new products has been completed in the first half of this financial year and are targeted to market to different vertical markets for different applications.

Analysis of Revenue by Geographical Market

Outlook

Despite the many uncertainties in the coming years, as well as the various changes and challenges of the external environment, the Group will continue to forge strong and tight partnership with our parts suppliers and customers, so that we all could overcome the difficulties and explore new business opportunities.

Electronic Dictionary

To minimize the gross profit margin squeeze due to upward pressure on the material and PRC labor costs, the SBU will continue to strive to maintain a reasonable gross profit margin through forging strong strategic partnership with the components vendors and enhancing ceaselessly its operating efficiency, containing the product development and materials costs.

In view of many uncertainties and the unstable economic environments, the SBU will continue to monitor the markets closely and adopt appropriate product and market strategies. The SBU will focus on developing medium and high end products which are equipped with unique features and carry higher gross profit margins. At the same time, the SBU will work hard in expanding its customer base in different markets.

After launching of the new electronic dictionary product equipped with WiFi communication technology, the SBU is expecting an increase in sales of electronic dictionary with wireless communication features in the second half of the financial year 2008/2009.

Original Design Manufacturing

The business strategy of the SBU will be adjusted to suit the ongoing worldwide economic turmoil and recession. Development for self-designed own products will be postponed due to the concern of uncertainty of the consumer market. On the other hand, focus will be given to the existing new product categories and customers, and also exploring new ODM business opportunities.

One new product that belongs to the category of “electronic stationary”, with a simple feature of memo typing and unique foldable keyboard and high contrast display, is expected to be one of the major focus in the later half of this financial year. For this unique category, the SBU will further develop series of new unique products for the ODM projects.

Another new business opportunity lies in the category of eBook reader. Besides the existing partner in the USA, there are now several new projects under discussion. With the maturing of this new product category, the SBU is expecting an expansion in sales of eBook in the next financial year. The SBU is striving to improve the Group’s results in the second half of this financial year.

Personal Communication Products

As the economic environment may continue declining in the next half financial year, the electronic products market is expected to be under substantial pressure. For the ODM business, the SBU will shun the high risk consumer products market, and instead focus on the stable and high value-add products market. As for the vertical market, poor economic environment certainly would have impact on the business. The SBU will focus on developing new products and providing solutions for enterprises to help them enhance their efficiency and contain the costs. This will entice enterprises to continue actively using the new products.

The SBU will continue its efforts in stringently containing the production costs and operating expenses, and align with the established development strategy, so as to minimize the impacts of the macroeconomic environment. It is hoped that by leveraging on the clientele and product bases established this year, the SBU could achieve better results and developments in the next year.

Conclusion

It is expected that the next half financial year will still be difficult, and that the business environment will be full of challenges. The Group will adopt a prudent strategy, minimizing the risk exposure and conserve as much strength as possible.

Liquidity and Financial Resources

Foreign Currencies and Treasury Policy

Most of the Group's business transactions, assets and liabilities are denominated in Hong Kong dollars, United States dollars or Renminbi. A small portion of the Group's raw material purchase, assets and liabilities are denominated in Japanese Yen. The usual treasury policy of the Group is to manage significant currency exposure and minimize currency risk whenever it may have material impact on the Group. During the six months period, the Group manages its foreign exchange exposure caused by the appreciation of Renminbi by entering into hedging forward contracts. The Group does not engage in any interest rate or currencies speculations.
