Management Discussion and Analysis

In the face of the unprecedented financial crisis, governments from the world launched various economic rescue measures and hence the global economy is starting to recover. China's economy is having an obviously stronger momentum and a stable GDP growth was recorded in the first half of the year thanks to the Chinese government's continuance of the macro-control policy from the start of 2010. The total supply and total demand in the Chinese society are now basically balanced, and the growth of the economy has started to be jointly led by consumption, investment and export. As the structure of the economic growth is experiencing positive changes, the stability and sustainability of growth are enhanced. Half a year since the approval of Hainan's International Tourism Island, the government of Hainan Province continued to consistently enforce the State's policy to expand domestic demand, stimulate economic growth, strengthened investment pull and employ various measures to steadily facilitate the construction of the International Tourism Island. During the first half of 2010, the economy of the Hainan Province generally grew with great strength, the growth rate is significantly increased and the efficiency is greatly enhanced. Hainan continues to achieve overall economic growth and economic structure optimization through large construction projects. The progress of a series of large construction projects has been accelerated, and the rate of increase in fixed assets investment in the province ranks first in the country. The number of tourists, especially those from overseas increased significantly, and the revenue from tourism maintained steady growth. Residents' consumption grew quickly, the production and sale of agricultural products were thriving and the efficiency was greatly enhanced. Fiscal revenue greatly increased and the source of revenue was diversifying. The financial market maintained stable with significant overall growth.

During the period under review, Hainan Meilan International Airport Company Limited ("Meilan Airport" or the "Company") and its subsidiaries (collectively, "the Group") grasped the opportunities of the improving domestic economy, the establishment of the ASEAN Free Trade Area and the construction of the Hainan International Tourism Island to develop its main aeronautical business, increase revenue from non-aeronautical business with great effort, fully utilize the potential of the Company's resources and greatly enhance the effort in cost-control. With these efforts, Meilan Airport achieved satisfactory results in terms of the three major operating indicators, i.e. passenger throughput, aircraft movement and cargo throughput, and the overall operating environment remained stable.

For the six months ended 30 June 2010, the Group's total revenue amounted to approximately RMB262,419,000, representing an increase of 24.92% as compared to the corresponding period of last year. Net profit attributable to shareholders of the Company increased by 22.99% over the corresponding period of last year to RMB133,031,000. Earnings per share amounted to RMB28 cents (earnings per share for the corresponding period of last year: RMB23 cents). The increase in net profit attributable to shareholders of the Group in the first half of 2010 was mainly due to the Company's grasping of opportunities of the country's improving economy and the construction of the Hainan International Tourism Island to further develop its main aeronautical business and expand the non-aeronautical business, as a result of which the operating revenue significantly increased.

Growth of Domestic Flights Achieved

For the six months ended 30 June 2010, domestic passenger throughput of Meilan Airport reached 4,567,000, representing an increase of 7.89% as compared to the corresponding period of last year. Aircraft movements amounted to 38,545, representing an increase of 14.83% as compared to the corresponding period of last year. Cargo throughput amounted to 84,001.60 tons, representing an increase of 15.66% over the corresponding period of last year.

In the first half of 2010, the economy of Hainan Province grew greatly and was able to cope with the relatively steady growth of demand for its civil aviation market. The Group also employed various proactive measures in developing the domestic aviation market and continuously improving the market development strategies. In the first half of 2010, domestic flights achieved significant growth.

- In the face of the increasingly severe market competition, the Company proactively launched promotion measures. Through the scientific analysis of production tasks for the whole year, the Company prepared an aviation market development scheme with clear targets, actively engaged in market research to understand the business needs of airlines, proactively provided airlines with a detailed analysis report regarding the Haikou aviation market, enhanced communications, cooperated with airlines for tourism market development, strived for their arrangement of idle transportation capacity and prepared for the subsequent market development.
- In order to enhance the Haikou aviation market to enable it to achieve stable and rapid development, the Company actively applied to the local government for more subsidies to the Haikou aviation market. On May 4, the Haikou government launched the "Supplemental Rules of Temporary Measures for the Further Encouragement of Passenger Aviation

Management Discussion and Analysis

Market of Haikou”, to increase financial subsidies for airlines which set up their new base, aircraft movement in and out of Haikou of international flights, domestic flights, Hong Kong-Macau-Taiwan flights and increase in landing passengers of new domestic routes. The launch of this policy lay down solid foundation for the Company to accomplish the production and operation goal of the year, subsequent market development and the future development of the aviation market and business development of Meilan Airport.

- The Company actively participated in aviation market fairs to make use of the opportunities to promote the newly launched subsidy policies of Haikou to the participating airlines and to enhance their confidence in developing the Haikou aviation market was strengthened.

Development of International Flights

During the period under review, as Hong Kong Express launched the Haikou-Hong Kong route and Singapore Jetstar started the Haikou-Singapore route, international and regional passenger throughput significantly increased as compared to the same period last year. At the same time, Meilan Airport promoted the construction of the International Tourism Island, actively promoted Haikou’s new subsidy policy and built up links with foreign airlines during the 15th World Route Development Forum in 2009.

For the six months ended 30 June 2010, international passenger (including regional passenger) throughput of Meilan Airport reached 188,100, aircraft movements amounted to 1,591, cargo throughput amounted to 2,166.60 tons, representing an increase of 17.20%, 9.57% and 6.14% respectively over the corresponding period of last year.

2. Non-aeronautical Business

In the first half of 2010, in order to offset the decrease in consumption demand due to the economic crisis, the Group actively explored areas with profit growing potential for its non-aeronautical business and the revenue of non-aeronautical business greatly increased over the corresponding period of last year.

For the six months ended 30 June 2010, revenue from the Group’s non-aeronautical business was RMB89,272,000, representing an increase of 76.81% over the corresponding period of last year.

- The Group’s cargo business achieved revenue of RMB36,272,000 in the first half of the year, representing an increase of 313.17% over the corresponding period of last year, which was mainly due to the change of the Company’s cargo business operation. A professional cargo company was established for the development of the cargo market and revenue from cargo business grew rapidly.

Management Discussion and Analysis

- In the first half of the year, the Group recorded franchise fees of RMB28,582,000, representing an increase of 31.43% over the corresponding period of last year. This is mainly attributable to the increase in revenue from advertisement franchise fees and growth in the income of Hainan DFS Retail Company Limited (DFS).
  - The Group's VIP service business achieved revenue of RMB7,660,000 in the first half of the year, representing an increase of 59.32% over the corresponding period of last year, which was mainly due to the increase of charges and the enhancement of its marketing and business development by the Company and the increase of revenue from the naming right and VIP services.
- 3. Branding of Services
- In the first half of the year, the Group has facilitated Meilan Airport's participation into the Airport Service Quality (ASQ) program so as to speed up its integration with world-class airport management standard under the name of the "Oriental Dubai". ### PROSPECTS FOR THE SECOND HALF OF THE YEAR

The current global economic recovery is mainly the result of large-scale stimulus measures and inventory adjustment in different countries. As the economy lacks self-motivation for growth, global economy faces a number of downside risks and uncertainties. First of all, different from the "blowout" growth in consumer spending of developed countries for the first year after a serious economic recession in the past, after the current recession, the US-led developed countries adjusted their ways of growth by increasing savings and reducing consumption, which would lead to weak or even shrinking global demand. Second, the productivity of the developed countries is still in serious excess, coupled with tightening credit in western banks, fixed capital investment is difficult to rebound significantly as before, which was the basis of previous economic recoveries. Third, the unemployment rates in developed countries are still high and contribute to the continued rise of protectionism, which restricted the recovery of global trade and economic growth. Fourth, the disposal of the huge toxic assets and balance sheet adjustment in leading US and Europe financial institutions have not been completed and credit conditions remain tight. Fifth, the major economies are in a dilemma on when to "exit" the stimulus policies as an early exit will stop the recovery prematurely and a late one will exacerbate the inflation and asset bubbles. Therefore, it takes a long process for the economic recovery to change from “government-driven” to “economy-driven” effectively.

The Chinese government took the lead in guiding the rebound of China’s economy mainly through two measures: one was to offset the sharp decline in export demand by the dramatic expansion of investment demand; second was the huge credit injection of about RMB10 trillion. However, in the long run, the problem of excess productivity will intensify if it continues to rely on investment expansion for growth. The US government has clear breakthrough in three major industries after the crisis, namely the smart grid, new energy and energy efficiency. The Japanese and Korean government have also publicly announced to commit in new growth momentum, including further adjustment of the energy consumption structure and cultivation of the green industry. “Structural adjustment” will undoubtedly become the theme of the next phase of China’s economic development and the Chinese government will focus on solving the problem of long-term development in the second half of the year by putting efforts in aspects such as income distribution reform, energy conservation and structural reform.

In the first half of 2010, the construction of the Hainan International Tourism Island was included in the state development strategies as the central government has provided its largest and most extensive policy support since the establishment of the Hainan Province and its Economic Region. At the same time, benefited from the continued implementation of proactive fiscal policy and appropriate monetary policy by the central government, the economy of Hainan Province has recorded a strong growth with seven major economic indicators ranked first in the country in the first quarter.

Recently, the Outline of Planning for the Construction and Development of the Hainan International Tourism Island (the “Outline”) promulgated by the Hainan Provincial Committee of CPC and provincial government was approved by the National Development and Reform Commission. The Outline suggested specific arrangement in aspects such as spatial distribution, infrastructure, industry development, protective measures and recent action plans. The Outline confirmed that the Hainan International Tourism Island will establish six major functional groups which mainly develop eight industries in tourism, culture and sports, real estates, finance and insurance, commerce and catering and modern logistics, modern agriculture with tropical characteristics, new and hi-technology industry and marine economy; it will focus on the development of 17 scenic spots and resorts such as the national geological park in Haikou, the aerospace technology theme park in Wenchang and the Yalong Bay National Resort District. The Outline has provided a more practical framework for the development in Hainan, which highlights the regional advantages fundamentally and solves the long-term problems and confusions for Hainan tourism. The development potential and vitality of Hainan will continue to be released in the next decade as the Hainan provincial government is fully committed to the Outline and will make use of the regional advantage to develop tourism as the leading industry, so as to enhance the core competitive advantage and achieve overall breakthrough for a comprehensive development of the overall economy in Hainan.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Although there is still uncertainty in the prospect of global economy and time is needed for a clear economic situation, the impact of China's stimulus policies still exist and the growth in domestic economy is still at relatively high level and the economy of Hainan Province maintains good growth momentum. In view of this, the Board is of opinion that both the international and domestic airline business of Meilan Airport will remain stable in the second half of 2010. In light of the aviation market condition and the actual condition of each airline, the Company will show great flexibility in cooperating with different airlines and actively promote Haikou government's subsidy policy for the aviation market, with a view to opening more new flight routes to Haikou. It will strengthen the communication between base airlines and introduce new ones to the airport. The Company will also cooperate with Tourism Bureau of Hainan Province for the promotion and communication at the 16th World Route Development Forum to be held in Vancouver, aiming to expand the domestic and international aviation markets. In respect of operation management, the Company will strengthen cost control, maintain the revenue level for the year and endeavour to earn better returns for our shareholders.

Except as described below, the accounting policies applied are consistent with those of the annual financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2009, as described in those annual financial statements.

Taxes on income in the interim periods are accrued using the tax rate that would be applicable to expected total annual earnings.

(a) New and amended standards adopted by the Group

The following new standards and amendments to standards are mandatory for the first time for the financial year beginning 1 January 2010.

- IFRS 3 (revised), "Business combinations" (effective from 1 July 2009). The revised standard continues to apply the acquisition method to business combinations, with some significant changes. There is a choice on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis to measure the non-controlling interest in the acquiree either at fair value or at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the acquiree's net assets. All acquisition-related costs should be expensed. The Group applied IFRS 3 (revised) prospectively to all business combinations from 1 January 2010.
- IAS 27 (revised), "Consolidated and separate financial statements" (effective from 1 July 2009). The revised standard requires the effects of all transactions with non-controlling interests to be recorded in equity if there is no change in control and these transactions will no longer result in goodwill or gains and losses. The standard also specifies the accounting when control is lost. Any remaining interest in the entity is re-measured to fair value, and a gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss. The Group applied IAS 27 (revised) prospectively to transactions with non-controlling interests from 1 January 2010.
- IAS 38 (amendment) "Intangible Assets" (effective from 1 July 2009). The Group applied IAS 38 (amendment) from the date IFRS 3 (revised) is adopted. The amendment clarifies guidance in measuring the fair value of an intangible asset acquired in a business combination and it permits the grouping of intangible assets as a single asset if each asset has similar useful economic lives. The amendment has no impact on the Group.

- "Additional exemptions for first-time adopters" (Amendment to IFRS 1) is effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2010. This is not relevant to the Group, as it is an existing IFRS preparer.
- IAS 39 (Amendment), "Eligible hedged items" is effective for annual period on or after 1 July 2009. That is not currently applicable to the Group, as it has no hedging.
- IFRS 2 (Amendment), "Group cash-settled share-based payment transaction" is effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2010. This is not currently applicable to the Group, as it has no such share-based payment transactions.
- First improvements to International Financial Reporting Standards (2008) were issued in May 2008 by the IASB.
