2. Our Business

The Group's core businesses are the Asset Management Business primarily involving the operation of funds both inside and outside of Japan, the Brokerage & Investment Banking Business centered on the securities business, the Financial Services Business offering a wide range of financial services, and the Housing and Real Estate Business mainly involving housing loans and real estate investments. The Group will be committed to creating more innovative services and businesses for our customers and investors, and maximize corporate value, which represents the aggregate of customers value, shareholder value and human capital value.

The Group consistently continues to base its organizational development on three fundamental concepts: (1) adherence to the "customer-centric principle", (2) development of "structural differentiation", and (3) formation of "business ecosystem". Adherence to the "customer-centric principle" signifies being committed to offering services that truly accommodate the needs of customers, which include services at the lowest commission rates and the most attractive interest rates, at-a-glance comparison of financial products, attractive investment opportunities, services offering high safety and reliability, and provision of abundant and high-quality financial content. In the Internet Age, where the concept has drastically changed, customer needs have become so diverse that their satisfaction cannot be attained simply through differentiation of price or quality of products and services. Development of "structural differentiation" refers to creating a unique "structure" that enables the Group to respond to such changes and satisfy the varying needs of customers as well as offer value based on the full utilization of the structural network. Creation of "business ecosystem" aims at promoting positive synergistic effects among constituent companies, which creates a mutual evolution process with the each of the respective markets where companies operate to support rapid growth. The Group will manage its businesses by emphasizing the formation of a "business ecosystem" that enhances the network value through promoting interactions among the Group companies as well as with other corporate groups inside and outside of Japan.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

BUSINESS REVIEW

1. BUSINESS OVERVIEW

During the consolidated fiscal year ended March 31, 2012, while Japan's economic environment gradually recovered from the economic downturn caused by the Great East Japan Earthquake in March 2011, causes for concern remain with a continuing high unemployment rate and prolonged yen appreciation.

Stock market conditions that significantly impact investment and securities-related businesses were heavily affected by the Great East Japan Earthquake and subsequent economic downturn and remained generally weak in the domestic market with a 14% year-on-year decrease in individual stock brokerage trading value. In overseas markets, high economic growth in emerging countries was impeded by the worldwide economic slowdown stemming from the European Sovereign Debt Crisis. However, the partial recovery of market conditions in Japan, with 37 new listings (up from the preceding year by 14 new listings) and the continuing gentle upswing in the U.S. economy offers hopeful signs for domestic and overseas stock markets.

In the operating environment surrounding the Internet financial services business, consumers continued to be increasingly aware of the merit in utilizing Internet financial services as they sought the most advantageous conditions available in pursuing financial transactions to protect their livelihood. Consequently, the business remained strong with face-to-face transactions shifting to online transactions. We recognize that the market will demonstrate vigorous growth also going forward despite the intensifying competition expected.

The consolidated performance for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012 resulted in net sales of ¥145,074 million (a 2.8% year-on-year increase), operating income of ¥7,575 million (a 15.2% year-on-year decrease), ordinary income of ¥4,860 million (a 37.8% year-on-year increase), and net income of ¥3,200 million (a 29.4% year-on-year decrease), which was affected by the reversal of net deferred tax assets and liabilities owing to the 2011 Tax Reforms.

(1) Asset Management Business

The size of managed investment partnerships, etc. in the Asset Management Business amounted to ¥459.9 billion. This included funds worth ¥78.9 billion in the IT and biotechnology categories (the sum of net assets at market value as at the most recent fiscal closing of each fund), ¥8.0 billion in the environment & energy category (ditto), ¥118.6 billion in the overseas category (ditto), ¥34.3 billion in the buyout and mezzanine categories (ditto), ¥193.4 billion in the area including investment trusts, investment advisory and other (net assets at market value based on constant value as at 31 March 2012) as well as ¥26.5 billion in the real estate category (the total investment amount as at 31 March 2012).

The status of management of investment partnerships, etc. and the results of investment operations are described below.

- The number of portfolio companies includes cases of investments in partnerships in addition to securities investment but excludes items to which impairment accounting was fully applied. In case an investment target falls under multiple funds, it is accounted for more than once in the total number of companies invested in.
- SBI's investment ratio and the Group's investment ratio are ratios as at the end of the most recent fiscal closing (including interim and quarterly fiscal closing) of each fund.
- Net asset value is derived based on acquisition cost (in case the value has declined considerably, the amount after impairment treatment) and in case allowance has been posted, the amount after deduction of allowance is used. The unpaid commitment amount is also included in the calculation.
- The amount of net assets at market value represents the net asset value plus the impact of unrealized gain/loss on securities as at the end of the most recent fiscal period (including interim and quarterly fiscal periods) of each fund. In computing the market value, the closing price on the market as at the end of the most recent fiscal period (including interim and quarterly fiscal periods) of each fund was applied for each listed stock, while unlisted stocks, etc. were valued using acquisition costs. The unpaid commitment amount is also included in the calculation.
- In case the initial fiscal closing has not arrived for a fund since its establishment, the number of portfolio companies and the investment balance are not recorded, and the commitment amount is indicated under the net asset value and the amount of net assets at market value.
- This fund is included in the scope of consolidation in accordance with the "Practical Solution on Application of Control Criteria and Influence Criteria to Investment Associations" (Accounting Standards Board of Japan (ASBJ) Practical Solution Report No. 20, 8 September 2006).

8. Figures under SBI NEO Technology Investment LPS are aggregates of figures for SBI NEO Technology A Investment LPS and for SBI NEO Technology B Investment LPS. <Net Sales>

1) Asset Management Business

In the Asset Management Business net sales come from two major business categories, the Investment in Securities Business and the Investment Advisory Services/ Other Businesses.

(Investment in Securities Business)

The Group invests in venture capital companies in various industries both inside and outside of Japan, such as IT, biotechnology, environment and energy, and financial sectors. Revenues come from two main sources in the investment in securities business: (1) “revenue from operational investment securities”, which is derived from the sale of operational investment securities held for the purpose of securing capital gains, and (2) “fees from funds”, which are revenues comprised of fund establishment fees, fund management fees and success fees that are based on a fund’s performance. When the Company or its consolidated subsidiaries invest in a fund operated by the Group, all net sales from the funds under the scope of consolidation, including the revenues corresponding to the stakes of other investors, are booked as revenue from operational investment securities.

In the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012, revenue from operational investment securities increased 16.4% year-on-year to ¥31,575 million. This primarily reflected net sales from the funds under the scope of consolidation and revenues from overseas investments. Revenue from fees from funds amounted to ¥1,068 million (down 20.7% year-on-year), which primarily reflected management fees from SBI BROADBAND CAPITAL Silent Partnership and the SBI BB Media Investment Limited Partnership.

(Investment Advisory Services and Other Businesses)

Net sales from investment advisory services and other businesses declined 13.6% year-on-year to ¥1,922 million for the consolidated fiscal year. Revenues mainly came from investment trust management fees and interest income from operational loans receivable.

2) Brokerage & Investment Banking Business

Net sales in the Brokerage & Investment Banking Business are derived mainly from brokerage commission from securities transactions, underwriting and sales fees for initial public offerings, commissions from placement and sales of stock, and net trading income and financial revenue from spread on foreign exchange margin transactions and the like.

In the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012, net sales in this business decreased 8.5% year-on-year to ¥43,783 million, which was primarily generated by SBI SECURITIES Co., Ltd. and SBI Liquidity Market Co., Ltd.

3) Financial Services Business

Net sales in the Financial Services Business are comprised of revenues generated in four business components: the Marketplace Business, the Financial Products Business and the Financial Solutions Business and Other Businesses.

(Marketplace Business)

In this business, the Group operates various finance-related comparison websites such as “InsWeb”, an insurance portal site, and “E-LOAN”, to offer a marketplace of services that enable consumers to search and compare information on financial products and services online.

In the consolidated fiscal year, net sales in the Financial Products Business rose 10.2% year-on-year to ¥10,253 million. These revenues were posted by SBI Card Co., Ltd., SBI Lease Co., Ltd., SBI Credit Co., Ltd., SBI Servicer Co., Ltd. and SBI Receipt Co., Ltd.

(Financial Solutions Business)

In the Financial Solution Business, we mainly provide online settlement services for EC business operators and call center services for financial institutions.

In the consolidated fiscal year, net sales in this business rose 14.8% year-on-year to ¥9,539 million. This revenue was primarily generated by SBI VeriTrans Co., Ltd. and SBI Business Support Corp.

(Other Businesses)

In the category of Other Businesses, the Group is primarily engaged in the non-life insurance business with the Internet being the key service channel and the business of providing information on evaluations of financial products, particularly investment trusts, online.

Net sales in this category increased 154.0% year-on-year to ¥18,339 million in the consolidated fiscal year. Revenues were mainly generated by SBI Insurance Co., Ltd. and Morningstar Japan K.K.

4) Housing and Real Estate Business

In the Housing and Real Estate Business, net sales come from the Real Estate Business, the Financial Real Estate Business and the Lifestyle Networks Business.

(Real Estate Business)

In the Real Estate Business, we are primarily engaged in the development and sale of properties for investment purposes, planning and design services associated with investment properties, and advisory services for constructions and real estate.

In the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012, net sales declined 6.1% year-on-year to ¥9,693 million. This was primarily generated by the Company and SBI Life Living Co., Ltd.

(Financial Real Estate Business)

The Financial Real Estate Business involves provision of housing loans and real estate secured loans.

In the consolidated fiscal year, net sales in this business decreased 4.6% year-on-year to ¥11,107 million. The revenues primarily come from SBI Mortgage Co., Ltd. and CEM Corporation.

(Lifestyle Networks Business)

In the Lifestyle Networks Business, we are mainly engaged in the operation of websites for online intermediary services and comparison and estimate service.

Net sales for the consolidated fiscal year, which was mainly contributed by SBI Life Living Co., Ltd., increased 11.0% year-on-year to ¥1,665 million.

5) Others

In the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012, net sales in businesses not determined as reportable segments, which consisted of system-related business and drug-discovery business, decreased 44.3% year-on-year to ¥8,699 million.

(Note) Net sales by business segment indicated are before eliminations of intersegment revenues.

<Cost of Sales>

1) Asset Management Business

In the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012, cost of sales for the Asset Management Business decreased 6.4% year-on-year to ¥16,573 million, the primary component of which was cost of operational investment securities.

2) Brokerage & Investment Banking Business

In the consolidated fiscal year, cost of sales for this business decreased 1.0% year-on-year to ¥4,906 million, which were comprised primarily of financing costs such as interest expenses and financial expenses associated with margin or lending transactions.

3) Financial Services Business

In the consolidated fiscal year, cost of sales for this business increased 65.9% year-on-year to ¥38,048 million, related primarily to insurance underwriting expenses.

4) Housing and Real Estate Business

Operating costs for this business decreased 12.2% year-on-year to ¥9,831 million during the consolidated fiscal year. The costs were primarily sales cost of real estate for sale.

5) Others

In the consolidated fiscal year, costs of sales for businesses not determined as reportable segments were mainly consisted of the costs for the system-related business and decreased 40.3% year-on-year to ¥7,398 million.

(Note) Operating costs by business segment are results before eliminations of intersegment costs.

BUSINESS PLAN

The Group has completed the creation of a business structure in Japan as a comprehensive financial conglomerate centered on Internet-based financial services. In overseas, the Group has been rapidly expanding its investment business and establishing an investment framework primarily in Asian countries with remarkable growth.

Going forward, we will aggressively promote further expansion of our overseas investment business and provide local foreign financial institutions we invest in with innovative know-how on Internet financial services fostered through our businesses in Japan. By so doing, we expect to become a comprehensive financial group that can make contributions globally with a focus in Asia.

The Company became the first listed company in Japan to be listed on the Main Board market of the Hong Kong Exchanges and Clearing on 14 April 2011. We will maximize this opportunity to enhance our credibility and recognition in Asia to further develop businesses of the Group.

In Japan, we will accelerate growth as a provider of diverse low-cost, high-quality financial products and services by effectively taking into account the growing sentiment among consumers to cut back on their spending and the increased use of the Internet for executing various financial transactions, and further provoking synergistic effects among businesses we have developed in the Group.

In the Asset Management Business, we recognize that a high priority lies in expanding our investments in emerging countries, primarily in Asia, and establishing an effective investment system. The Company will pursue setting up funds jointly with our leading local partners while monitoring the economic conditions of such countries as we continue to push establishment and penetration of our global network. We pursue private equity investment by identifying targets and concentrating our investments in growth areas in the aim to contribute in developing industries while benefiting from high investment performance. The Group will continue to invest in four key areas of IT, biotechnology, environment and energy, and finance going ahead. In the financial sectors, we will transfer the know-how of the Group and pursue direct investment in overseas financial institutions by which we can expect to enhance the value of corporations we invest in. The Group will also invest in and finance corporations of varying sizes and in different phases of development through operating buy-out and mezzanine funds. In undertaking these business activities, the Group will strive for further growth by continuing to aggressively utilizing the resources both inside and outside of the Group and heightening the performance of the funds we operate as we promptly improve the corporate value of companies we invest in.

In the Brokerage & Investment Banking Business, we will aim to achieve greater growth even under unstable conditions in the Japanese stock markets. SBI SECURITIES Co., Ltd. will continue to expand its overseas product lineups and strengthen foreign exchange transactions and further enhance its call center operations that receive high recognition from evaluating agencies in heightening its service level even more. We will also promote integration of “net” and “real” channels and actively make use of the intermediary business to continue expanding the face-to-face channel while achieving effective cost reductions. Furthermore, in the aim to maximizing synergies within the financial conglomerate, the Company will tighten grips with financial companies in the Group, in particular with SBI Sumishin Net Bank, Ltd., to develop the Group’s Internet-based one-stop financial service system. In the consolidated fiscal year, PTS (proprietary trading system) of high public nature operated by SBI Japannext Co., Ltd. posted a considerable increase in trading value, taking up 2.8% of total monthly trading value on the first section of the Tokyo Stock Exchange in March 2012. SBI Liquidity Market Co., Ltd., which began operation in November 2008, provides liquidity and market infrastructure for FX transactions to SBI SECURITIES Co., Ltd. and SBI Sumishin Net Bank, Ltd. The firm will make improvements to the transaction environment and enhance liquidity in the aim to further diversify sources of revenue in this business.

In the Financial Services Business, we established SBI Sumishin Net Bank, Ltd., SBI Insurance Co., Ltd. and other new companies during 2007 to 2008 for undertaking new businesses in our aim to build an earning structure that does not depend solely on stock markets. It is our key objective to further developing these businesses by provoking stronger synergistic effects among Group companies. In the Marketplace Business centered on operation of comparison websites such as “InsWeb” and “E-LOAN”, we must continue to expand our service lineups including enhancing content and improving functions. Additionally, in striving for higher growth, we see the need to push development of Morningstar Japan K.K., which continues to expand its services and channel offering, supported by the growing asset management needs.

In the Housing and Real Estate Business, we will pursue real estate development while monitoring market conditions, through making efforts to capture business opportunities and to diversify and stabilize revenues. In the financial real estate category, SBI Mortgage Co., Ltd. has established its own brand as a provider of housing loans with low, all-term fixed interest rates. We will continue to enhance “SBI Money Plaza”, a franchise-based face-to-face channel to continue attracting customers and increasing loan drawdowns. In the lifestyle networks business category under this Business, we are determined to focus our efforts in operating brokering sites to provide useful, attractive services in assisting consumers at every stage and major event of their lives.

Furthermore, in July 2010, the Group launched a concept called the “Brilliant Cut Initiative”. By modeling the Group companies and businesses on facets of a diamond, namely a “58 brilliant-cut diamond”, known to be the brightest and the most beautiful with each of the faucets giving the best shine when cut this way. The 58 major companies and business entities of the Group’s business ecosystem reflect the 58 faucets of a brilliant-cut diamond, which together shine most beautifully as one. In the aim to give out the best shine as a Group, we will pursue the “brilliant-cut” initiative in shifting our management emphasis from the traditional group-wide expansion to profitability.

The Group recognizes that continuous enhancement of human resources is an essential group-wide initiative. It has become increasingly important to secure highly competent individuals that support the rapid expansion of our businesses and to continue developing the skills of our employees. For this purpose, we have been exerting greater efforts in hiring excellent individuals who are willing to share the management philosophy of the Group as well as recruiting university graduates to secure human capital for passing on the Group’s unique corporate culture from one generation of employees to the next. The initiative of recruiting university graduates that began in April 2006 has resulted in individuals with the potential to advance to senior executive positions to already contribute strongly in key positions of the organization. We will continue to secure highly competent and global-oriented human resources and promote career development of our staff in pursuing perpetual growth and development of the Group.

RISK

The following principal categories of business risks and other risks affecting our Group's business may have a material impact on investment decisions. From the point of disclosing information, we have also listed risk factors below, which may not completely match these investment decisions. In recognizing these latent risks, we will work to avoid any such risks and take appropriate measures in the event that any such risk arises.

Also, the following contains contents about the future but it is considered at a present time, at the point of this document has been submitted. (28, June 2012)

< Risks relating to our general operations >

1) Our corporate structure, which consists of a large number of public and private companies in multiple business lines, exposes us to challenges not found in companies with a single business line

Our Group consists of portfolio companies operating in multiple industries, including asset management, brokerage and investment banking, financial services, housing and real estate and other businesses. Our Group also comprises of some publicly traded subsidiaries. Due to the diverse characteristics of our portfolio companies, we face challenges not found in companies with a single business line. In particular, there are three aspects:

- we are exposed to business, market and regulatory risks relating to different industries. We need to devote substantial resources to monitor changes in different operating environments, so that we can react with appropriate strategies that fit the needs of the portfolio companies affected;
- due to our large number of portfolio companies involved, successful operation of our Group requires an effective management system that emphasises accountability, imposes financial discipline on portfolio companies, and incentivizes management to create value. As we continue to grow through acquisitions of businesses in an increasing number of different industries, our operations will become more complex, which increases the difficulty of implementing our management system; and
- our portfolio companies in different operating segments may determine that it is in their respective shareholders' interests to pursue business ventures together. We cannot assure you that such business ventures will be successful or generate the synergies expected.

2) Our voting interests in our portfolio companies may be diluted

Our portfolio companies may become publicly traded, which will dilute our voting interests in these entities. In addition, our portfolio companies may from time to time need additional capital to achieve their expansion plans or other business objectives and may issue additional shares or other equity securities to meet their capital needs. We may choose not to, or be unable to, subscribe for the securities offered in any such additional issuances by our portfolio companies. If we fail to subscribe for additional securities of a portfolio company on a pro-rata basis to our existing shareholding in such company, our equity interest in the portfolio company will be diluted.

A dilution in our equity interest in a portfolio company would reduce our share of the profits earned by such portfolio company, which may have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. Further, if our ownership were reduced significantly, it may cause our representation on such company's board of directors to be reduced, or otherwise reduce our ability to direct or influence the operations of that portfolio company.

3) The growth we expect in the market for our online products and services may not materialize

The market in Japan for online financial products and services continues to evolve. Our success depends substantially on continued growth in the use of online products and services, such as online brokerage services, Internet banking, Internet-based insurance products and services by individuals.

If this growth does not materialize, our financial condition and results of operations will suffer. Factors that could discourage Japanese individuals from using online products and services include security or privacy concerns, inconsistent quality of service and frustration with actual or perceived difficulties in using the Internet to conduct brokerage and other financial transactions.

4) Changes in the legal or financial stability of, or cultural or business strategic differences with, any counterparties with whom we enter into joint ventures or alliances

We operate joint ventures and enter into alliances with foreign and domestic counterparties and the success of these operations is often dependent upon the financial and legal stability of our counterparties. If one of the counterparties with whom we operate a joint venture or continue a business alliance suffers a decline in its financial condition for any reason, or is subject to instability owing to a change to the laws governing its operations after we have invested in the joint venture or the business alliance, we may be unable to successfully operate the joint venture or alliance, or we may be required to invest additional capital or cease operations altogether. Likewise, significant differences in corporate culture and business strategy between ourselves and such partners may come to light and may result in significant changes to the assumptions that we made when we decided to enter into the joint venture or alliance. If our joint venture or counterparties are unable to perform as expected, or if any unexpected events relating to the alliances occur, then we may be unable to continue those businesses successfully. Our inability to successfully operate joint ventures or alliances may adversely affect our reputation and our financial condition and results of operations.

5) Risks relating to business reputation

We are vulnerable to poor market perception and reputational risk since we operate in industries where integrity and the trust and confidence of our clients are of utmost importance. Negative publicity (whether or not justified) associated with us or any of our funds, products, services, officers or employees, partners or alliances, or the occurrence of any of the risks set out in this section could result in a loss of clients and/or mandates. Our business operations are highly dependent on our officers, employees, partners and/or alliances. The actions, misconduct, omissions, failures or breaches of any of our officers or employees, partners and/or alliances may, by association, create negative publicity in relation to our Group. Accordingly, any mismanagement, fraud or failure to discharge legal, contractual, regulatory or fiduciary duties, responsibilities, liabilities or obligations, or the negative perception resulting from such activities or any allegation of such activities, could have an adverse effect on our Group's business, growth prospects, results of operations and/or financial condition. Such cases could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

In addition, there are some frauds or fraudulent acts, which use trade names of our Group companies, with our business expansion and increasing our publicity. Therefore, we may be hit hard by rumors even if we have no fault. It could have an adverse affect our financial condition and results of operations.

6) Risks relating to business restructuring and expansion

As a "Strategic Business Innovator," one of our Group's basic policies is to perpetuate "Self Evolution."

In addition to internal business restructuring, such as the acquisition of one-hundred percent ownership of SBI SECURITIES Co., Ltd., and SBI Futures Co., Ltd. through the share exchanges in August 2008 and in August 2009 respectively, the transfer all our shares in SBI AXA Life Insurance Co., Ltd. in February 2010, the acquisition of one-hundred percent ownership of Gomez Consulting Co., Ltd. by Morningstar Japan K.K.'s through the share exchange in April 2011, the acquisition of one-hundred percent ownership of SBI VeriTrans Co., Ltd., SBI Net Systems Co., Ltd. through the share exchanges in August 2011 and in February 2012 respectively, the acquisition of Shinsai Partners Inc. in March 2012, the conclusion of share transfer contract of all our shares in SBI

VeriTrans Co., Ltd. in March 2012, we intend to aggressively pursue business expansion, including mergers and acquisitions of businesses that we believe offer favorable synergies with our core businesses. We face the risk that our restructuring and business expansion activities may not produce the results that we expect. Failure to achieve expected results could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

We may not be able to identify suitable investment opportunities, partners or acquisition candidates. Even if we do identify suitable investment opportunities, partners or acquisition candidates, we may be unable to negotiate terms that are commercially acceptable to us or complete those transactions at all. With respect to our acquisitions, we could have difficulty in integrating these companies or businesses, including internal operations, distribution networks, product lines and personnel, with our existing business, and there is no assurance that the expected strategic benefits of any acquisitions or alliances will be realised. The acquired companies may have low margins and require significant restructuring to increase efficiency. In addition, the key personnel of an acquired company may decide not to work for us. The acquired company could involve a number of specific risks, including diversion of management's attention, higher costs, unanticipated events or circumstances, legal liabilities, failure of the business of the acquired company, fall in value of investments and amortisation of acquired intangible assets, some or all of which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In the event that we plan to acquire or invest in an overseas company, we may be required to obtain the prior approval of the relevant regulators and/or the government and there can be no assurance that such approvals will be obtained in a timely manner or at all. In addition, any acquisition of an overseas company will expose us to foreign exchange risks, foreign regulations applicable to its business and different environments that we are not familiar with. In the event that any such risk arises, it could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

In addition, we may raise working capital through various means, including equity finance in the capital markets, share exchange, loans from financial institutions, and issuances of corporate bonds. Such cases could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

7) Risks relating to entering new businesses

Based on the management principle of "Aiming to Be a New Industry Creator", we are aggressively creating and nurturing new businesses. If our new businesses are unable to achieve their business plans as originally formulated, and if they are unable to record earnings commensurate with their initial investments, such failure could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. In addition, our new businesses could become subject to new laws and regulations or be placed under the guidance of particular regulatory authorities. Any violations by our new businesses of the laws, regulations or guidance that is applicable to them, and any administrative or legal actions directed at them, could impede the conduct of their operations and have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

8) Risks relating to being a financial conglomerate

We are classified as a financial conglomerate as defined by the regulations of Financial Services Agency (FSA). As a result, we are further strengthening its risk management and compliance systems in order to maintain financial soundness, and to conduct business activities properly. However, if we are subject to an administrative action or other punishment by FSA, for whatever reason, we may have difficulty conducting its business operations, or it could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

9) Risks relating to investment securities

We hold a large amount of investment securities, including investments in unconsolidated subsidiaries and affiliated companies. We could experience impairment losses on our investment securities as a result of declines in their value, which could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

10) Litigation risk

We are exposed to litigation risk relating to the operations of our business segments on an ongoing basis. While we cannot predict the outcome of any pending or future litigation, given the inherent unpredictability of litigation, it is possible that an adverse outcome in any one or more matters could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

11) Risk relating to risk management and internal control

We have established risk management and internal control systems and procedures. Certain areas within our risk management and internal control systems may require constant monitoring, maintenance and continual improvements by our senior management and staff. If our efforts to maintain these systems are provided to be ineffective or inadequate, we may be subject to sanctions or penalties and our financial condition, results of operations, business prospects and reputation may be adversely affected.

Our internal control system, no matter how sophisticated in design, still contains inherent limitations caused by misjudgment or fault. As such, there is no assurance that our risk management and internal control systems are adequate or effective notwithstanding our efforts and any failure to address any internal control matters and other deficiencies could result in investigations and/or disciplinary actions or even prosecution being taken against our Group and/or our employees, disruption to our risk management system, and have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

12) Risks relating to funding liquidity

We raise working capital through various means, including equity finance in the capital markets, loans from financial institutions, and issuances of corporate bonds. Due to the ongoing global economic crisis and the resulting deterioration in the global credit markets, including reduced lending by financial institutions, we may face difficulty raising funds under favourable conditions or at all. In addition, potential downgrades to our credit ratings could interfere with our ability to raise funds from external sources. In such circumstances our access to funds could be restricted, and our financing costs could increase. Any such events could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

13) Derivatives risk

We utilise derivative instruments to reduce investment portfolio price fluctuations and to manage interest rate and foreign exchange rate risk. However, we may not be able to successfully manage our risks through the use of derivatives. Counterparties may fail to honor the terms of their derivatives contracts with us. Alternatively, our ability to enter into derivative transactions may be adversely affected if our credit ratings are downgraded.

We may also suffer losses from trading activities, a part of which includes the use of derivative instruments. As a result, our financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

14) We depend in part on payments from our subsidiaries and other entities

We depend in part on dividends, distributions and others from our subsidiaries and other entities, such as partnerships and other investment vehicles, to fund payments on our obligations, including our debt obligations. Regulatory and other legal restrictions, including contractual restrictions, may limit our ability to transfer funds to or from our subsidiaries and other entities. Some of our subsidiaries and other entities which we depend on, in part, for payments are subject to laws and regulations that authorise regulatory bodies, such as board of directors, to block or reduce the flow of funds to us, or that prohibit such transfers altogether in certain circumstances. These laws and regulations may hinder our ability to access funds that we may need to make payments on our obligations. Such payments could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

15) Reliance on key personnel

Our business operations depend on the leadership of our Representative Director, President and Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Yoshitaka Kitao, and other key members of our management team. If one or more of our current management teams becomes unable to continue to operate our businesses, such event could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Any remedial action adopted by management to deal with a loss of key personnel may not take effect immediately or at all.

16) Risks relating to employees

We employ who we consider highly skilled and qualified personnel to work under our management team. If we are unable to continue to engage highly skilled and qualified personnel of the requisite caliber and skills, this could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

17) Risks relating to trademarks and other intellectual property rights

Our businesses involve various types of intellectual property, including patents, copyrights and other forms of intellectual property, particularly those related to our “SBI” brand. We rely on our ability to protect the intellectual property we own and use in our business. If we fail to sufficiently protect our intellectual property, or if we are unable to acquire the necessary licences for the use of third-party intellectual property, we may experience difficulty in developing technologies or providing services. Also, we may be the subject of legal actions brought by third parties alleging infringement of their intellectual property. In addition, we may experience increased costs in connection with intellectual property, especially those related to copyright. Such additional costs could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

18) Risks relating to enactment of, or changes in, laws, regulations and accounting standards

Enactment of, or changes in, laws and regulations may affect the way that we conduct our business, the products or services that we may offer in Japan or overseas, as well as our customers, borrowers, portfolio companies and funding sources. Such enactment or changes are unpredictable and may cause our costs to increase. As a result of such enactment or changes, our business activities, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

Withdrawal or amendment of any regulatory approval or of any exemption from registration in respect of any part of our Group’s activities or any of our funds in any jurisdiction might oblige us to cease conducting a particular business or change the way in which it is conducted. Similarly, the withdrawal of either a licence or an approval of one or more individuals would hinder their ability to perform their current role. The carrying on of regulated activities by unauthorised persons could have a number of consequences including the possibility of agreements made in the course of carrying on such activities being unenforceable.

Enactment of, or changes in, accounting standards may have a significant effect on how we record and report our financial condition and results of operations, even if our underlying business fundamentals remain the same. As a result of such enactment or changes, our business activities, our financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

19) Risks relating to deferred tax assets

Temporary differences occurring between the financial statements and the tax bases of assets and liabilities are posted to deferred tax assets using the statutory effective tax rate applied when the difference is dissolved.

If there is a tax reform and change in the statutory effective tax rate, we may reduce or increase the deferred tax assets. Such events could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

A valuation allowance is provided for deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not these items will either expire before the Company is able to realize their benefits, or that future deductibility is uncertain. Loss carryforwards can be posted as deferred tax assets to the extent of the amount recoverable, and the Group posts deferred tax assets based on the assumption of recoverability.

Each Group company calculates the estimated future recoverable tax amount based on the expected amount of future taxable income. While we presume that it is quite possible to realize the deferred tax assets after valuation allowance, the amount of valuation allowance may fluctuate depending on any changes in the expected amount of future taxable income. Such changes could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

20) Risks relating to insurance coverage

To manage operating risks, we maintain in our portfolio companies insurance coverage of various kinds. However, we cannot assure you that all claims under their insurance policies will be honored fully or on time. Furthermore, we are generally unable to insure against certain types of losses, including losses caused by earthquakes, typhoons, floods, wars and riots, and we do not have business interruption insurance. To the extent that any of our portfolio companies suffer loss or damage that is not covered by insurance or that exceeds the limit of its insurance coverage, our financial condition and results of operations and cash flow may be adversely affected.

21) Past results may not be indicative of future performance

Our historical financial information may not necessarily reflect our financial condition or results of operations in the future. We may experience slower growth in some of our businesses and we may not be successful in launching new businesses. New businesses may not achieve as quick or as large growth as anticipated, and our multiple business strategy may not be successful and we may not be able to successfully integrate future businesses or assets into our existing operations.

22) We may suffer substantial losses in the event of a natural disaster, such as an earthquake, terrorist attack or other casualty event in Japan or other markets in which we operate

A substantial portion of our assets, as well as our head office, are located in Japan and a substantial portion of our net sales are derived from our operations in Japan. Our overseas operations are subject to similar or other disaster risks. Additionally, large disasters, outbreaks, terrorist attacks or other casualty events affecting our operational network, either in Japan or overseas, could disrupt our operations even in the absence of direct physical damage to our properties or cause a material economic downturn in the affected area or country, which in turn could result in significant interruptions to or an adverse effect on our businesses, financial condition and results of operations.

23) Risks relating to our investments, development of our business, funding and legal regulations in overseas operation

We are actively investing and promoting business development in overseas countries. In these cases, we do have risks relating to increasing cost or losses unique to overseas business due to different factors from factors in Japan, such as systems including laws and regulations, business practice, economic status, corporate culture, consumer attitude and others in overseas countries. We implement investments and business development of our operations in overseas countries after careful investigations, examinations and taking countermeasures for these risks. Nevertheless, if some events, which we could not estimate at the beginning, occur, such events could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

In addition, there is an increasing tendency of ratios of foreign shareholders in our shareholders. Therefore, it may be expected that we perform as the result the financing in foreign countries regardless of our intention. As a result, we may be affected by foreign laws and regulations, particularly these for investors protection, and may be caused our expense increase and the restrictions of business. Furthermore, we may increase foreign currency debt finances for the purpose of hedging foreign currency risks by borrowings from the financial institution in overseas countries or by issuances of corporate bonds in overseas countries. Even if we implement these after careful investigations and examinations for these risks, but some events, which we could not estimate at the beginnings, may occur. Such events could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Recently, in addition to above, application of laws and regulations in overseas countries, such as Bribery Act 2010 in UK and The Foreign Corrupt Practices Act in US, might extend into our Group in other countries including Japan. We have responded to a variety of these laws and regulations after careful investigations and examinations for these risks, but some unexpected events may occur. Such events could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

24) We cannot guarantee the accuracy of facts and statistics with respect to certain information obtained from official governmental sources and other data

Facts and statistics relating to Japan, the Japanese economy and the financial sector (including the financial services industry) and other sectors in which we operate derived from official government or other industry sources are generally believed to be reliable. However, we cannot guarantee the quality or reliability of such information. We have not prepared or verified the accuracy of the information received from such sources. We make no representation as to the accuracy or completeness of such facts and statistics from these sources. Furthermore, there can be no assurance that these sources have stated or compiled such facts and figures on the same basis or with the same degree of accuracy or completeness as may be the case elsewhere. In all cases, you should not unduly rely on these facts and statistics.

< Risks relating to our asset management segment >

1) Impact of changes in the business environment on our asset management segment

The main investment revenue sources for our asset management segment and investment partnerships managed by our Group, are capital gains on the disposal of shareholdings and management revenue from investment partnerships. However, these revenue sources are easily affected by fluctuations in the political, economic and industrial situation and in stock market conditions, particularly the market for initial public offerings. These external factors beyond our control may contribute to fluctuations in the performance of our asset management segment, and thereby exert a substantial influence on our financial condition and results of operations. Our financial condition and results of operations may also be subject to large fluctuations as the realisation of investment profits may be concentrated in a fixed period.

2) Risks associated with outside investors in our funds

We could experience difficulty raising new capital, both from existing and new outside investors, if our funds perform poorly. In addition, we may not be able to draw upon the commitments of existing outside investors, if those investors experience decreased liquidity, impaired financial soundness or other financial hardships. Difficulty in raising new funds in our asset management business may interfere with our ability to operate our funds as planned, which could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

3) Investment risk

We, and investment partnerships managed by us, have invested in many venture companies and companies undergoing restructuring. The future prospects of these companies are affected by many uncertainties and various potential future events that could cause fluctuations in their performance. These factors include, but are not limited to:

- changes in the competitive environment caused by the rapid progress of technological innovation and fluctuations in industrial standards;
- the hiring and retention of exceptional managers and staff;
- vulnerabilities in these companies' financial structure; and
- the non-disclosure of important information by the companies.

In addition, some of the businesses that we invest in operate in industries that are inherently speculative and risky. The investment risks associated with such uncertainty could lead to losses that could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

4) Foreign currency risk

We, and investment partnerships managed by us, are exposed to foreign currency risk when making investments denominated in foreign currencies. Fluctuations in exchange rates may affect our financial condition and results of operations due to uncertainty over both the timing of the recovery of the investment and the amount recovered.

5) Overseas investment risk

When investing overseas, we, and investment partnerships managed by us, face potential social unrest caused by changes in local economic conditions, changes in political factors, changes in the legal system or terrorism. Country risk may be difficult to minimise or perfectly avoid and may affect our financial condition and results of operations.

In particular, our funds invest in companies in emerging markets, including China and other countries in Asia. Many emerging market countries are developing economically and politically and could not have firmly established securities markets. Investments in companies in emerging markets may involve a high degree of risk and may be speculative.

We cannot guarantee that we will be able to achieve satisfactory investment performance for our funds in emerging markets in the future. Failure to do so could have an adverse effect on our business, growth prospects, fund establishment fees, offering investment funds, fund management fees and success fees, financial condition and/or results of operations.

6) Competition in our asset management segment

At a time of intense competition in the venture investment business and restructuring investment business, including from new entrants, and with domestic and overseas financial institutions and investment companies launching numerous funds, there is no assurance that we will be able to maintain our competitiveness. We may not be able to raise investment funds of a sufficient scale in line with our plans, or to find promising investee companies that would provide adequate returns on investment, as a result of industry rivals deploying revolutionary new services or due to mergers and collaborations between industry rivals. Such events could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

7) Legal regulations affecting our asset management segment

The investment partnerships we manage are subject to, and must comply with, the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act (FIEA), the Money Lending Business Act of Japan, the Companies Act, the Civil Code of Japan, the Limited Partnership Act for Investment of Japan and other laws, domestic and foreign. We also operate investment trust management companies that are registered as investment management businesses or as investment advisory or agency businesses in accordance with the FIEA. The business operations of our asset management segment may be hindered, and adversely affected our financial condition and results of operations, in the event of revisions to the FIEA or other related laws, or in the event that required registrations are revoked.

< Risks relating to our brokerage and investment banking segment >

1) Impact of changes in the business environment affecting our brokerage and investment banking segment

Brokerage commissions account for the majority of the revenue from customers of our brokerage and investment banking segment. This segment is, therefore, highly exposed to fluctuations in the trading volume and trading values of stock markets. Trading volume and trading values on stock markets are affected by various factors, such as corporate profits, exchange rate fluctuations, interest rates, international political conditions, fluctuations in the main global markets and investor sentiment. A fall in share prices tends to lead to a contraction in trading volume. There can be no guarantee of favourable stock market conditions in the future, and our financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected by declines in share prices and any resulting drop in trading volumes.

The Japanese government, certain foreign governments and various financial instruments exchanges are currently promoting financial and stock market reforms. The substance of these reforms could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

2) Credit risk

Margin transactions for domestic stocks are one of the revenue sources for our brokerage and investment banking segment. However, the value of the collateral deposited by a customer for a margin transaction may be inadequate if the customer suffers a loss on the margin transaction or if the value of the securities posted as collateral declines. In addition, the funds required for margin transactions are primarily financed through borrowings from securities finance companies. However, the value of securities pledged by us to securities finance companies as collateral for such borrowings may also fluctuate. In the event of a decline in the value of securities pledged by us as collateral, the securities finance companies from which we have borrowed may request that we pledge additional collateral, in which case we would be required to secure the funds uniquely in order to fund such additional collateral requirements. Such events could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

We would borrow shares from our customers and lend such shares to other broker-dealers. We may suffer losses if there are sharp changes in market values of securities and our counterparties to borrowing and lending transactions fail to honor their commitments. Any fluctuation in public equity markets may lead to the risk that parties to stock lending transactions may fail to meet their commitments. In addition, if we fail to expand our customer base for stock lending services and maintain good relationships with other securities companies to which we lend securities, it may have an adverse effect on our reputation, financial condition and results of operations.

Moreover, over-the-counter foreign exchange margin transactions are transactions conducted by depositing certain amount of margin as collateral. Our customers may make large amount of profits or suffer large amount of losses compared to the amount of margin deposited. Subject to changes in foreign exchange market conditions, in cases where losses suffered exceed the amount of margin deposited, depending on the total amount or the number of incidences, our financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected, as bad debt losses may be incurred and further increase in loan loss provision may be necessary due to an increase in unsecured accounts receivable.

3) Foreign currency and counterparty risk

We face counterparty risk with respect to over-the-counter foreign exchange transactions with counterparties, which we perform in order to hedge foreign exchange fluctuations in the positions that we take in relation to our customers. If unforeseen circumstances should occur such as systemic damage to, or the deterioration of the business and financial condition of, a counterparty, we may not be able to hedge market risk for our customers, which could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

4) Underwriting risk

In order to diversify our revenue sources, we are increasing the resources devoted to the underwriting of shares. Due to this we face increased underwriting risk in the event that underwritten securities cannot be resold. Price fluctuations of securities offered but not resold may have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. A decline in the reputation of an issuer, either during or after a public offering for which we have acted as lead managing underwriter, could damage our reputation and hinder the development of our underwriting business, which would adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

5) Risks relating to proprietary trading system (PTS) business

Our proprietary trading system, Japannext PTS, is an off-exchange electronic trading market to which multiple securities companies can connect. Any potential operational difficulties, whether caused by unexpected events such as system failures, non-settlement or late settlement, or the bankruptcy of participating securities companies, could damage the confidence of investors and participating securities companies in the reliability and security of the proprietary trading system, which would adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

6) Competition in brokerage and investment banking segment

Competition among brokerage companies has been intensifying. We expect competition to continue to intensify as more companies from other industries enter the online securities brokerage market in response to deregulation, as well as due to the emergence of foreign companies. Furthermore, large securities companies are developing and improving their online securities brokerage businesses. Moreover, competition among companies, which provide over-the-counter foreign exchange margin transactions, has been intensifying. In addition, the minimum unit cost needed to acquire a single new customer account is also projected to increase due to such competition. These factors could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

In addition, though we are striving to improve the level of convenience enjoyed by investors who use our proprietary trading system platform, if the services we offer do not compare favourably to those offered by our competitors' proprietary trading system platforms, trading activity on our proprietary trading system may decline, which could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

7) Legal restrictions on the brokerage and investment banking segment

a. Registration of financial instruments business operators and others

A portion of portfolio companies in our Group, in order to operate financial instruments business; we are registered as a financial instruments business operator (FIBO) in accordance with the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act (FIEA). This business area is subject to the provisions of the FIEA and related laws such as the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act Enforcement Ordinance of Japan. In addition to the rules of Tokyo Stock Exchange, Osaka Stock Exchange, Nagoya Stock Exchange, Fukuoka Stock Exchange and Sapporo Securities Exchange of which we are a general trading member, we are subject to the rules and regulations established by the Japan Securities Dealers Association and Financial Futures Association of Japan, which are organizations established under the FIEA. In the event that we or our employees violate any of these laws, rules or regulations, our license to operate may be revoked or a court order may be issued requiring that we take administrative action in order to achieve specified improvements. Any such action or event could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

SBI SECURITIES Co., Ltd. on 12 February 2010 from Financial Services Agency (FSA), received an business improvement administrative order to alter our operation since our operation had been is acknowledged to fall under the case which is 'Situation in which sufficient management of the electronic information processing systems relating to financial instruments business is deemed not to have been taken' as defined in Item 14, Paragraph 1, Article 123 of the Cabinet Office Ordinance on the Financial Instruments Business, based upon Item 2, Article 40 of the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act On 12 March 2010, we have submitted an improvement report to FSA. SBI SECURITIES Co., Ltd and our Group solemnly receive the administrative action and hereon, by identifying the reason which caused this issue and revising management structure according to it, and by adjusting appropriately to defaults pointed out by outside system inspection, we are to strengthen and improve internal management system including system risk management system further on and to prevent reoccurrence and restore reputation. However, correspondence to this issue and restoration of our reputation requires time more than expected, our operation of our Group may be disturbed and may have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. Correspondence to this issue, we have submitted our final improvement report on 31 March 2011.

b Capital adequacy ratio regulations

Based on the FIEA and on the Cabinet Office Ordinance on the Financial Instruments Business regarding capital regulations for Type 1 FIBO, a system of capital adequacy ratio regulations has been created. Capital adequacy ratio (CAR) is ratio of capital to the aggregate value of the non-fixed portion of capital, potential fluctuations in securities holdings, and other potential risks. Type 1 FIBO must maintain CAR of 120% or higher. If the ratio falls below 120%, FSA will order changes to operational methods and other changes, and if the ratio falls below 100%, the agency may order the suspension of business operations for a period of up to three months. If the ratio is still below 100% after business has been suspended for three months and the agency does not recognize the prospect of the relevant company's recovery, the agency may cancel the company's registration for securities business. In addition, Type 1 FIBO must on a quarterly basis prepare documents recording its CAR and make these documents available for public examination at all their facilities, and a fine shall be levied in the case of nonconformance with this requirement.

c. Separate management of customer assets/investor protection funds

To help ensure that securities companies return customers' assets to customers in an appropriate and timely manner, securities companies are required to keep securities and cash entrusted by customers separate from the securities company's own assets. However, this separation requirement does not apply to securities purchased via margin transactions or to the proceeds of the sale of securities via margin transactions. As an additional means of protecting investors, the FIEA requires securities companies to participate in a government-approved investor protection fund. Our Group participates in the Japan Investor Protection Fund (JIPF). Investor protection funds obtain their funds by requiring contributions from their securities company members. If a member of the JIPF were to become bankrupt, the fund will ensure that customers of the bankrupt company receive the securities entrusted to that company as well as other specified claims on that company up to ¥10 million. Accordingly, if the bankruptcy of a member company requires the disbursement of funds greater than those already accumulated by the JIPF, our Group and other members may be required to make additional contributions. It could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

d. The Act on Sales of Financial Products / the Consumer Contract Act of Japan

Designed to protect investors when they purchase financial products, the Act on Sales of Financial Products requires financial product sellers to provide specified explanations. In the case that investors lose money on investments in financial products that were not adequately explained, the Act obliges financial product sellers to provide compensation and provides for measures to ensure that the noncompliant financial product sales methods are rectified. Focusing on the structural gaps between consumers and businesses with regard to the volume and quality of available information as well as negotiating capabilities, the Consumer Contract Act of Japan enables consumers in specified situations to repudiate contracts. We have established internal administration systems designed to ensure its rigorous compliance with these law, and there have not been any cases of noncompliance to date.

However, if such a case were to arise in the future, it could entail the payment of compensation for damages, undermine customers' trust in the Company, and have other negative effects, and there is a possibility that such a situation could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

e. Margin rate restriction of foreign exchange margin transactions

FSA has announced regulations concerning the gradual reduction of margin rate from 1 August 2010 with respect to foreign exchange margin transactions and margin rate was even lowered on 1 August 2011. At this present moment, this restriction does not have an impact but there may be possibility that it may affect our financial condition and results of operation in the future.

If margin rate will be even lowered, it could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

8) Systems risks affecting our brokerage and investment banking segment

The Internet is our primary sales channel. Accordingly, we recognize that ensuring the stability of its system for online transactions is the most crucial management issue. We are undertaking continual initiatives to maintain and enhance the level of service. Nevertheless, a system malfunction may occur due to reasons unforeseen at present, including hardware and software malfunctions, human error, a breakdown in communication lines, computer viruses, cyber terrorism, or a system malfunction caused by a natural disaster. We have implemented a number of countermeasures, which include building redundant mission critical systems and monitoring functions for 24/7, as well as establishing backup sites at multiple locations. Nevertheless, should a system malfunction occur despite the implementation of these countermeasures, there is a possibility that a delay or failure to appropriately respond may result in claims for damage resulting from such a malfunction, and this may also erode trust in our systems and support structure. This, in turn, may result in the loss of a large number of customers. In addition, we are developing new systems and increasing capacity in response to expected increases in the number of accounts and trading volume. However, if such number of accounts or trading volume increase less than our expectation, increased costs in relation to our systems such as depreciation and lease fees which do not contribute to our profit could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

9) Security of customer information in our brokerage and investment banking segment

Any unauthorised orders for securities trades, leaks or destruction of important customer data could give rise to liabilities and in turn have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. Any violations of the Personal Information Protection Act of Japan or any leaks or destruction of important customer data could have negative consequences, including a loss of customer trust, which would have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

< Risks relating to our financial services segment >

1) Impact of changes in the business environment on our financial services segment

a. Effects of interest rate fluctuations

We obtain much of the funding required for purchases of leased assets in our leasing business through borrowing. Dramatic increases in the interest rates at which we are able to borrow would result in increased costs in our leasing business. Increases in interest rates could also lead to increased expenses in our consumer loan business. Accordingly, increases in interest rates could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

b. Responding to technical innovations

Because the Internet is the primary channel through which we provide services to our customers, it is imperative for our future growth prospects that we maintain thorough familiarity with the Internet and related technology. With technological innovation comes changes in the technical standards and user environments in which our customers operate. If we are slow to respond to technological advancements, the services we provide are likely to suffer and become inferior or obsolete, resulting in a loss of competitive advantage within the industry. Our financial condition and results of operations could be affected if we lag behind in our efforts to keep up with changes in our technological environment. In addition, we could incur significant expenses to develop new internal systems or perform major system upgrades in order to keep pace with important technological changes. Such cases could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

2) Competition in the financial services segment

Because initial capital investment requirements for comparison shopping websites, such as those that compare financial, insurance and loan products, are low and because such businesses may be launched with relatively low personnel costs, competition in this business is intensifying as more companies enter into the market. Such competitive pressures could have an impact on the profitability of our financial services segment. In addition, there are a number of competing websites in the non-financial services area, where three of our group companies are active. As the number of our competitors in these fields increases, the number of users who visit our websites could decrease, which could cause additional downward pressure on revenues. Any of these factors could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

3) Risk relating to banking business

In the banking industry, it is necessary to respond to a great variety of risks: credit risk, market risk, liquidity risk, compliance risk, administrative risk, system risk, information security risk, risks associated with contracting with third parties, event risk, reputation risk, capital ratio risk, strategic risk, and risk associated with regulatory change. Any failure to adequately address these risks could be disruptive to business operations. In addition, if we are unable to achieve the targets projected in our initial business plan for this sector, and if future income is inadequate to cover our initial investments, our financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

4) Risk relating to insurance business

In the insurance industry, it is necessary to respond to a great variety of risks: insurance underwriting risk, market risk, credit risk, liquidity risk, administrative risk, system risk, information security risk, legal risk and casualty risk. Any failure to adequately address any of these risks could be disruptive to our business operations. In addition, if we are unable to achieve the targets projected in our initial business plan for this sector, and if future income is inadequate to cover our initial investments, our financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

5) Legal risks affecting our financial services segment

Licences, permits or registrations are required to conduct businesses under our financial services segment under the Money Lending Business Act, the Banking Act of Japan, Insurance Business Act of Japan and their respective related ordinances and regulations, the Insurance Act of Japan, the Act on Special Measures regarding Servicer Business of Japan and others. Our financial condition and results of operations would be adversely affected if any necessary licences, permits or registrations were revoked for any reason.

6) Systems risks affecting financial services segment

Because our financial services segment relies heavily on computer systems, if unforeseeable events such as earthquakes, floods, fires, computer viruses, power outages, communications failures, work-stoppages by third-party service providers or unpredictable system failures were to result in a delay, suspension or cessation of services to our customers, such events could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

7) Security of customer information in our financial services segment

If any leaks of customer information should occur, we could lose the trust of our customers and incur significant legal and other costs, either of which could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. In addition, any violation of the Personal Information Protection Act of Japan or any leaks of customer information could lead to a loss of trust by our customers and could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

< Risks relating to our housing and real estate segment >

1) Impact of changes in the business environment on our housing and real estate segment

a. Effects of real estate market conditions

Changes in real estate market conditions, such as land prices and lease rates, could affect our financial condition and results of operations in our real estate holdings, including our direct holdings and our holdings through investment partnerships. For example, we may be required to increase allowance for doubtful accounts with respect to real estate we hold as collateral for loans if the appraised value of such real estate decreases. In addition, since the housing loan business in our housing and real estate segment concentrates primarily on the provision of housing loans to consumers who are building or buying new homes, fluctuations in the volume of housing loans subject to external factors such as new housing starts could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

b. Effects of fluctuations in interest rates and related market conditions

Interest rate fluctuations lead to higher procurement costs, including procurement costs for non-recourse loans in our housing and real estate segment. In addition, in the real estate financing business in our housing and real estate segment, changes in interest rates could impact the interest rates on housing loans and mortgages, may affect the number of new borrowers and refinancing borrowers. Drastic changes in interest rates could affect securitization of housing loans. Thus, change in interest rates could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

2) Investment risk

If problems or defects that were not identified in the pre-purchase diligence process for a property are later revealed following the acquisition of that property, such as unusual rights relationships, poor soil quality, inadequate construction or environmental problems, those problems could have an adverse effect on the value or cash flow from that property. Other factors that could have an adverse effect on a property's price and cash flow include fires, riots, terrorism, earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, tidal waves and other unforeseeable natural disasters.

3) Foreign currency risk

Investments in our housing and real estate segment that are denominated in foreign currencies are subject to risk caused by fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. Because both the timing and amount of recovery from real estate properties are inherently uncertain, the operating results of our financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected by fluctuations in foreign exchange rates.

4) Risks relating to investment in overseas real estate

Investments in overseas real estate expose us to risks including losses due to disruptions in economic and political conditions, changes in the local legal system and social disruptions resulting from terrorism and other factors. We are thoroughly studying and analyzing conditions in other countries in order to reduce exposure to country risk. However, since it is difficult to completely avoid the effects of these risks, the occurrence of any of these problems could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

5) Competition in businesses relating to residential real estate

Competition in the residential real estate market is expected to intensify as the number of new entrants increases in response to greater business opportunities. If our efforts to maintain and strengthen our competitive position are unsuccessful, price competition in the real estate market could put downward pressure on our revenues, which could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

6) Legal regulatory risk relating to residential real estate and lifestyle networks

In addition to the Building Lots and Building Transaction Business Act of Japan, which requires a licence to act as an agent and broker in the purchase or lease of real estate, other laws in Japan such as the National Land Use Planning Act of Japan, Building Standards Act of Japan, City Planning Act of Japan, Act Concerning Specified Joint Business in Real Estate of Japan, Leased Land and House Lease Act of Japan, Construction Business Act of Japan, Architect Act of Japan, Labor Health and Safety Act of Japan and the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act also apply to us. In addition, the Money Lending Business Act also applies to our real estate financing business. With respect to the method of payment settlement, laws in Japan such as the Act for Regulation of Receiving Capital Subscription, Deposits, and Interest Rates, etc. of Japan, the Banking Act, and the Payment Services Act of Japan are also applicable.

Our lifestyle networks business is subject to laws in Japan such as the Act on Specified Commercial Transactions of Japan, the Consumer Contract Act of Japan, the Pharmaceutical Affairs Act of Japan, the Product Liability Act of Japan, the Unauthorized Computer Access Act of Japan, and anti-nuisance ordinances.

Any administrative action that would require us to take steps to alter our operations, or any revocation of a licence, permit or registration required under these various legal requirements, could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

7) Systems risks affecting our residential real estate related business

Any computer failure causing a delay, suspension or cessation of services due to unforeseeable factors such as widespread earthquake or flood damage, fires, computer viruses, power outages, communications failures or work-stoppages by third-party service providers, could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

8) Security of customer information in our real estate related businesses

If any leak or destruction of customer information were to occur, it could result in legal liability and a loss of trust and credibility, either of which could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operation.

In addition, we have established an internal management structure, and are constantly working on making improvements for the purpose of complying with Japan's Personal Information Protection Act and associated regulations. In the event of a violation of a law or regulation at our Group, or an information leak, the resulting loss of trust among customers and other consequences could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

< Risks relating to our other businesses >

1) Risks relating to system solution business

Our system solution business is primarily engaged in entrusted development and operation and maintenance of system.

The information technology industry continues to bring about technological innovation and industry technical standards and customer usage conditions continue to evolve through the constant introduction of new technologies. If we were to lag behind in our response to these new technologies, our services could become unattractive or obsolete, which could adversely affect our competitiveness in this industry. In addition, if our system solution business is unable to achieve the goals set out in its business plans as originally formulated, and if it is unable to record earnings commensurate with its initial investments, such failure could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

2) Risks relating to biotechnology business

We focus on the research and development of proprietary drugs. However, we cannot assure you that our research and development efforts will result in the development of commercially successful products or innovative production technologies, or that any such research projects will generate the expected results. Substantially all of our biotechnology products must undergo a clinical trial process before they can be introduced into the market for commercial sale. The process is expensive, lengthy and uncertain. Our financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected if after we devote significant time and expense on research and development and the clinical trial process, a product under development fails to achieve approval for commercial sale or we are subject to product liability claims in respect of our biotechnology products.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

1. Important Accounting Policies and Estimates

The consolidated financial statements of the Group are prepared based on the accounting standards generally accepted to be fair and appropriate in Japan. In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management of the Group must make estimations and set assumptions that impact the reported asset and liability figures as of the fiscal closing date and the reported revenue and expense figures for the reporting period. Management makes estimates and judgments based on various factors considered rational in view of past results and conditions, and the results of such estimates and judgments form the bases of judgments relating to the reported asset and liability figures as well as revenue and expense figures that cannot be easily judged based on other methods. However, the actual results, in some cases, differ from the estimates. The Group recognizes that the following key accounting policies, in particular, have considerable effects on important judgments and decisions used in the preparation of consolidated financial statements. Important accounting policies including the following are as indicated in “Section of A1. FINANCIAL INFORMATION, II. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES”.

(1) Valuation of operational investment securities, trading instruments and investment securities

Investment holds a key position for our Group, and we make important judgments and estimates in evaluating our investment activities.

In the Asset Management Business, the Group holds operational investment securities aimed at building our investments. These represent investments primarily in unlisted companies, and in order to provide for the loss on operational investment securities held as of the fiscal year-end, we record the estimated loss amount to allowance for investment loss in consideration of the actual conditions of the investee companies. In case an investee's operating results have particularly deteriorated, we apply impairment accounting up to the fair value in consideration of the future recoverability based on management's intent.

In the Brokerage & Investment Banking Business, the Group maintains marketable trading instruments. These are fairly valued at market prices and valuation differences are posted to income or loss for the period.

The Group also holds investment securities of which marketable securities are valued at market prices while unlisted items are reviewed in consideration of the actual conditions of the investee companies, and any estimated amount of loss is posted to allowance for investment loss. In the event the market price of marketable securities falls below the acquisition price, we apply impairment accounting up to the fair value in consideration of the future recoverability. In case an unlisted investee's operating results have particularly deteriorated, we apply impairment accounting up to the fair value in consideration of the future recoverability based on management's intent.

(2) Deferred tax assets

Temporary differences occurring between the financial statements and the tax bases of assets and liabilities are posted to deferred tax assets using the statutory effective tax rate applied when the difference is dissolved.

A valuation allowance is provided for deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not these items will either expire before the Company is able to realize their benefits, or that future deductibility is uncertain. Loss carryforwards can be posted as deferred tax assets to the extent of the amount recoverable, and the Group posts deferred tax assets based on the assumption of recoverability.

Each Group company calculates the estimated future recoverable tax amount based on the expected amount of future taxable income. While we presume that it is quite possible to realize the deferred tax assets after valuation allowance, the amount of valuation allowance may fluctuate depending on any changes in the expected amount of future taxable income.

2. Analysis of Consolidated Results of Operations for the Fiscal Year Ended March 31, 2012

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012, the business environment surrounding the Group remained generally weak in the domestic market with 14% year-on-year decrease of individual stock brokerage trading value. In overseas market, high economic growths in emerging countries were impeded by the worldwide economic slowdown stemming from the European Sovereign Debt Crisis. Under the circumstances, the Group's consolidated results of operations in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012 were as follows. Net sales increased 2.8% year-on-year to ¥145,074 million, operating income declined 15.2% to ¥7,575 million, ordinary income rose 37.8% to ¥4,860 million, and net income decreased 29.4% year-on-year to ¥3,200 million.

(Asset Management Business)

In the Asset Management Business, net sales increased 12.6% year-on-year to ¥34,566 million and operating income rose 48.1% year-on-year to ¥14,183 million. During the fiscal year, the number of new listings was 1,225 decreasing 171 from the previous year across the world, due to the slowdown of IPO markets especially in emerging countries. Domestic market, however, showed a gradual recovery with 37 new listings up 14 from the previous year. Following the trend, the Asset Management Business shifted its focus to domestic market from overseas markets. As a result, the number of new listings and M&As totaled 14, consisting of 7 domestic companies and 7 overseas companies. Of special notes are share sales of domestic companies, Klab Inc. and VSN, Inc. They contributed ¥11,642 million to operating income. The Company believes that a lingering difficult business environment with weak stock market performance actually offers an ideal opportunity to make new investments, and the Company has taken advantage of the drop in investment costs since the Lehman Shock to continue investing aggressively. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012, funds managed by the Group invested ¥57,209 million, and together with direct investments of ¥12,264 million, investments by the Group amounted to a total of ¥69,474 million. The number of investees totaled 180 companies.

(Brokerage & Investment Banking Business)

In the Brokerage & Investment Banking Business, net sales declined 8.5% from the previous fiscal year to ¥43,783 million and operating income decreased 41.1% year-on-year to ¥3,607 million. The business environment remained harsh with individual stock brokerage trading value continuing to slide. However, SBI SECURITIES Co., Ltd. maintained favorable performance, adding 177,840 new customer accounts during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012, and the number of accounts totaled 2,387,786 at year-end. The consolidated performance of SBI SECURITIES Co., Ltd. for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012 resulted in net sales of ¥39,738 million, down 9.8% year-on-year and operating income of ¥7,532 million, down 23.9% year-on-year, due to the decline in brokerage commissions caused by the fall in individual stock brokerage trading value although revenues relating to the investment trust business increased as a result of favorable sales of investment trusts. At SBI Liquidity Market Co., Ltd. that began operation in November 2008, trading value has remained at a high level even after the introduction of leverage restrictions in August 2010 and in August 2011. Non-consolidated results of the company for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012 were operating revenue of ¥9,166 million and operating income of ¥1,905 million.

(Financial Services Business)

In the Financial Services Business, we recorded higher revenues again, and net sales increased 42.0% year-on-year to ¥43,354 million as a result of SBI Insurance Co., Ltd. achieving high underwriting profit with the growth of auto insurance contracts. However, operating losses in the insurance business (derived from the large increase of policy reserves due to the growth number of insurance contracts and end of reinsurance contracts), and the operating losses in the credit card business had a material impact as a result of which the Financial Services Business segment recorded an operating loss of ¥2,640 million.

At SBI Sumishin Net Bank, Ltd., an affiliate accounted for under the equity method, the total deposit balance as at March 31, 2012 was ¥2,282.7 billion and the number of accounts was 1,369,000. The Bank recorded non-consolidated net income of ¥5,165 million, up 46.4% year-on-year.

(Housing and Real Estate Business)

In the Housing and Real Estate Business comprised of the real estate business, the financial real estate business and the lifestyle networks business, net sales decreased 4.3% year-on-year to ¥22,466 million and operating income increased 0.4% year-on-year to ¥3,383 million. While the domestic real estate market has yet to show full-fledged recovery, sales of small and mid-size properties to wealthy individuals and other investors are on the rise. Under such circumstances, SBI Mortgage Co., Ltd. continues to offer “Flat 35”, a long-term fixed interest rate housing loan product, in partnership with the Japan Housing Financing Agency, through over 100 “SBI housing loan shops/SBI Money Plaza” nationwide at the lowest rates in the industry. As a result, the company has been building up its loan balance, which exceeded ¥1,180 billion as of March 31, 2012.

(Selling, General and Administrative Expenses)

During the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012, selling, general and administrative expenses amounted to ¥62,747 million, decreased 2.9% year-on-year, and consisted primarily of personnel expenses and securities system outsourcing costs.

(Non-operating Income)

Non-operating income for the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012 amounted to ¥3,796 million, up 220.0% year-on-year. This was primarily share of results of affiliates.

(Non-operating Expenses)

Non-operating expenses for the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012 declined 1.2% year-on-year to ¥6,511 million, consisting primarily of interest expenses.

(Extraordinary Income)

During the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012, extraordinary income increased 54.9% year-on-year to ¥15,520 million. This was mainly gains on sales of investment securities.

(Extraordinary Expenses)

Extraordinary expenses for the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012 decreased 65.1% year-on-year to ¥2,828 million. This consisted primarily of losses on sales of investment securities.

3. Analysis of Financial Conditions

As at 31 March 2012, total assets stood at ¥1,663,814 million, up ¥370,208 million from ¥1,293,606 million at the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2011. Owing primarily to the issuance of new shares under the listing on the main board of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and offering of Hong Kong depositary receipts representing the Company's common shares, net assets amounted to ¥468,579 million, up ¥11,596 million from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year.

Cash and cash equivalents as at 31 March 2012 totaled ¥145,594 million, down ¥3,192 million compared with the balance of ¥148,786 million at the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year. The following is a summary of cash flows and underlying factors.

(Net Cash Used in Operating Activities)

Net cash used in operating activities for the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012 totaled ¥4,972 million, compared with net cash used in operating activities of ¥742 million in the previous consolidated fiscal year. This mainly reflected cash outflows of ¥301,000 million for increase in cash segregated as deposits and of ¥19,729 million for decrease in guarantee deposits received, and cash outflow of ¥11,610 million for increase in operational loans receivable despite the cash inflow of ¥312,052 million for increase in deposits from customers and of ¥17,394 million for decrease in margin transaction assets, net.

(Net Cash Used in Investing Activities)

Net cash used in investing activities for the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012 totaled ¥27,035 million, compared with net cash used in investing activities of ¥16,642 million in the previous consolidated fiscal year. This was mainly attributable to cash outflows of ¥12,169 million for purchases of investment securities and of ¥6,235 million for purchases of investments in subsidiaries, and cash outflow of ¥7,758 million for proceeds from sales of investments in subsidiaries resulting in change in scope of consolidation. The Company sold all shares of SBI VeriTrans Co., Ltd. (“SBI VeriTrans”) in March 2012 and it was excluded from the scope of consolidation, but cash settlement was not made as at 31 March 2012. Cash outflow of ¥7,758 million was mainly attributable to decrease of cash balance held by SBI VeriTrans.

(Net Cash from Financing Activities)

Net cash from financing activities for the consolidated fiscal year ended 31 March 2012 totaled ¥29,529 million, compared with net cash from financing activities of ¥25,154 million in the previous consolidated fiscal year. This mainly reflected cash inflows of ¥16,716 million for proceeds from stock issuance and of ¥10,009 million for increase in short-term loans payable.

Forward-looking descriptions provided herein are based on judgments of the Company as of the date of submission of the Annual Report (June 28, 2012).

2. DIVIDEND POLICY

The basic profit distribution policy of the Company is to target a payout ratio of 20% to 50% of its consolidated net income on a once annual year-end dividend payment. With a general rule to provide a dividend of at least 20%, the Company will aim to heighten the payout ratio up to 50% if it determines based on a comprehensive consideration, including projecting the future business conditions, that a higher distribution is possible while securing sufficient retained earnings for sustainable growth.

Based on the aforementioned basic policy considering the impact from the reversal of net deferred tax assets due to the tax reform in Japan, the Company determined to pay an ordinary dividend of 100 yen per share as a year-end dividend for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012.

The Company adopts a policy to pay, as a general rule, a once-a-year dividend at the year-end and not pay interim dividends. Distribution of surplus funds is subject to the decisions of the general meeting of shareholders and the Board of Directors.

The Company provides in its Articles of Incorporation to the effect that “surplus funds may be distributed based on a resolution reached by the Board of Directors pursuant to the provisions of Paragraph 1 of Article 459 of the Companies Act” and defines therein the record dates for year-end and interim dividends, but does not provide for the “interim dividend” stipulated under Paragraph 5 of Article 454 of the Companies Act in the Articles of Incorporation.

Dividends from surplus for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012 are as follows.

| Date of Resolution | Total Dividends (Millions of Yen) | Dividend per Share (Yen) |
|--|--------------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| April 26, 2012 Resolution of the Board of Directors | 2,207 | 100 |

Distributable Reserves

Dividends can be paid out from the distributable amount which is determined in accordance with the Companies Act. We had distributable reserve of ¥152,428 million as at 31 March 2012.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE REPORT

1. CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRACTICE

The Group is committed to achieving high standards of corporate governance to safeguard the interests of shareholders and to enhance corporate value and accountability.

The Group strives to maintain high standards of corporate governance to enhance shareholder value and safeguard shareholder interests. The Group's corporate governance principles emphasize the importance of an effective Board, effective internal controls and accountability to shareholders.

The Board of the Company considers good corporate governance practices to be essential to the promotion of shareholder value and investor confidence.

The Code on Corporate Governance Practices (the "CG Code") contained in Appendix 14 of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the "Stock Exchange") (the "Listing Rules") sets out the principles of good corporate governance and two levels of corporate governance practices, as follows:

- a) Code provisions, which listed issuers are expected to comply with or to give considered reasons for deviation
- b) Recommended best practices for guidance only, which listed issuers are encouraged to comply with or to give considered reasons for deviation.

The Company's corporate governance practices are based on the principles, code provisions and certain recommended best practices as set out in the CG Code.

The Company has complied with all the major code provisions as set out in the CG Code save for certain deviations from the code provisions in respect of code provision A.2.1, A.4.2,A5, B.1, C.3, E.1.2, E.1.3. and E.2.1.. Details of which will be explained below.

The Company regularly reviews its corporate governance practices to ensure compliance with the CG Code.

The Company is committed to enhancing its corporate governance practices appropriate to the conduct and growth of its business and to reviewing such practices from time to time to ensure that they comply with statutory and professional standards and the CG Code, and align with the latest developments.

2. THE BOARD

Responsibilities

The Board is responsible for leadership and control of the Company and oversees the Group's businesses, strategic decisions and performance. The Board has delegated to the senior management the authority and responsibility for the day-to-day management and operation of the Group.

All directors have carried out their duties in good faith, in compliance with applicable laws and regulations and in the interests of the Company and its shareholders at all times.

Delegation of Management Functions

The Board reserves for its decision all major matters of the Company, including: approval and monitoring of all policy matters, overall strategies and budgets, internal control and risk management systems, material transactions (including those that may involve conflict of interests), financial information, appointment of directors and other significant financial and operational matters.

All directors have full and timely access to all relevant information as well as the advice and services of the Company Secretary, with a view to ensuring that Board procedures and all applicable laws and regulations are followed. Each director is normally able to seek independent professional advice in appropriate circumstances at the Company's expense, upon making request to the Board.

The day-to-day management, administration and operation of the Company are delegated to the Chief Executive Officer and the senior management. The delegated functions and responsibilities are periodically reviewed. Approval has to be obtained from the Board prior to any significant transactions entered into by the aforesaid officers.

Board Composition

The Board currently comprises 17 members, consisting of 7 executive directors, 5 non-executive directors and 5 independent non-executive directors.

The Board of the Company comprises the following directors:

Executive directors:

Yoshitaka Kitao (Chairman and Representative Director, President and Chief Executive Officer)

Taro Izuchi (Director, Senior Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer)

Takashi Nakagawa (Director and Senior Managing Executive Officer)

Tomoya Asakura (Director and Managing Executive Officer)

Shumpei Morita (Director, Managing Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer)

Noriaki Maruyama (Director and Executive Officer)

Peilung Li (Director and Executive Officer)

Non-executive directors:

Yasutaro Sawada (Director)

Hiroyoshi Kido (Director)

Noriyoshi Kimura (Director)

Hiroshi Tasaka (Director)

Takashi Okita (Director)

Independent non-executive directors:

Masaki Yoshida (Director)

Kiyoshi Nagano (Outside Director)

Keiji Watanabe (Outside Director)

Akihiro Tamaki (Outside Director)

Masanao Marumono (Outside Director)

The list of directors (by category) is also disclosed in all corporate communications issued by the Company from time to time pursuant to the Listing Rules. None of the members of the Board is related to one another.

Four of the independent non-executive directors were re-elected and one was newly appointed by Shareholders at the Annual General Meeting held in June 2012. The Board at all times met and exceeded the requirements of the Listing Rules relating to the appointment of at least three independent non-executive directors with at least one independent non-executive director possessing appropriate professional qualifications or accounting or related financial management expertise.

The Stock Exchange has confirmed that we do not need to strictly comply with Rules 3.10A and 3.11 of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited, in respect of the appointment of independent non-executive directors representing at least one-third of the Board. The Company has adopted a Statutory Auditors system under the Companies Act in order to establish good corporate governance. Under this regime, the primary decision making body of the Company is our Board of Directors, which is monitored by the Company's Board of Statutory Auditors, whose role is stated to include monitoring the proper execution by the Directors of their duties. Furthermore, our Accounting Auditor assists the Statutory Auditors in reviewing the financial and accounting arrangements conducted by the Board of Directors.

The Company has received written annual confirmation from each independent non-executive director of his independence pursuant to the requirements of the Listing Rules. The Company considers all independent non-executive directors to be independent in accordance with the independence guidelines as set out in the Listing Rules.

The Board considers that all independent non-executive directors satisfy the independence requirements under Rule 3.13 of the Hong Kong Listing rules. Taking into account that they have no past or present financial or other interest in the Group's business, have no connection with any of the Company's connected persons (as defined in the Hong Kong Listing Rules), have not engaged in any executive management of the Group, are free from any business or other relationship which could materially interfere with the exercise of their independent judgement, the Board believes that they are independent and will provide an independent element on the Board.

The non-executive directors bring a wide range of business and financial expertise, experience and independent judgement to the Board. Through active participation at Board meetings, all non-executive directors have made various contributions to the effective direction of the Company.

Contract of Significance

There were no contracts of significance subsisting at the end of financial year in which a director is or was materially interested, either directly or indirectly.

Appointment and Re-election of Directors

The procedures of election of directors are laid down in the Company's Articles of Incorporation and the Companies Act of Japan. The Board is responsible for reviewing Board composition, developing and formulating procedures for nomination and appointment of directors, monitoring the appointment of directors and assessing the independence of independent non-executive directors.

The Code Provision A4.2 requires that all directors should be subject to retirement by rotation at least once every three years. Directors of the Company would not be subject to retirement by rotation, since there is no such rule under the Companies Act of Japan.

Instead, each of the directors (including executive and non-executive directors) of the Company is engaged for a term of one year in accordance with the Company's Articles of Incorporation. The office may be terminated by the directors' written notice so long as the minimum number of directors required by the Companies Act of Japan could be maintained. Otherwise, a director must continue his/her duty until being replaced by his/her successor.

Apart from foregoing, no Directors for re-election at the annual general meeting held on 28 June 2012 has a service contract with the company which is not determinable by the Company within one year without payment of compensation other than statutory compensation.

Board Meetings

Number of Meetings and Directors' Attendance

During the year ended 31 March 2012, 12 regular Board meetings and 1 extraordinary Board meetings were held at monthly intervals for reviewing and approving the financial and operating performance, and considering and approving the overall strategies and policies of the Company.

The attendance records of each director at the meetings of the Board, during the year ended 31 March 2012 are set out below:

| Name of Director | Attendance / Number of Board Meetings |
|-------------------|---------------------------------------|
| Yoshitaka Kitao | 13/13 |
| Taro Izuchi | 13/13 |
| Takashi Nakagawa | 13/13 |

Practices and Conduct of Meetings

Annual meeting schedules and draft agenda of each meeting are normally made available to directors in advance.

Notice of regular Board meetings is served to all directors at least 14 days before the meeting. For other Board meetings, reasonable notice is generally given.

Board papers together with all appropriate and reliable information are sent to all directors within agreed notice period before each Board meeting to keep directors apprised of the latest developments and to enable them to make informed decisions. The Board and each director also have separate and independent access to the senior management where necessary.

The Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer attend all regular Board meetings to advise on business developments, financial and accounting matters, statutory and regulatory compliance, corporate governance and other major aspects of the Company.

The Representative Director and the Company Secretary is responsible for taking and keeping minutes of all Board meetings. Draft minutes are normally circulated to directors for comment within a reasonable time after each meeting and final versions are open for directors' inspection.

According to current Board practice, any material transaction, which involves a conflict of interests for a director, will be considered and dealt with by the Board at a duly convened Board meeting. The Companies Act of Japan contains provisions requiring directors to abstain from voting for approving transactions in which such directors or any of their associates have a material interest.

3. CHAIRMAN AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

According to the Code Provision A.2.1, the roles of chairman and chief executive officer ("CEO") should be separate and should not be performed by the same individual. The division of responsibilities between the chairman and CEO should be clearly established and set out in writing.

We do not have a separate Chairman and CEO, and Mr. Yoshitaka Kitao currently holds both positions. The Board believes that vesting the roles of both Chairman and CEO in the same person ensures consistent leadership within the Group and enables more effective and efficient planning of long-term strategies and implementation of business plans. The Board believes that the balance of power and authority will not be impaired and is adequately ensured by the effective Board which comprises experienced and high caliber individuals with a sufficient number thereof being independent non-executive directors.

4. BOARD COMMITTEES

Nomination Committee

We have not established a Nomination Committee as required by the Code Provision A.5.1. Shareholders elect the directors at the annual general Shareholders' meeting based on an elective list of directors recommended by the Board, instead of via a nomination committee. The term of office of a director shall expire on the date of the general Shareholders' meeting relating to the last business year, closing within 1 year after his or her appointment under the Company's Articles of Incorporation. There is no limit on the number of consecutive term that a director may serve. A Representative Director is elected by the Board.

Remuneration Committee

The Stock Exchange has confirmed that we do not need to strictly comply with paragraph B.1 of Code Provision in respect of the establishment of a Remuneration Committee. The Board performs the role of remuneration committee to determine the remuneration of directors and senior management in accordance with the Companies Act of Japan and we will not put in place a separate committee.

The Board has established a set of rules for the compensation of its officers which set out the remuneration standards and policies of the Company for its executives. The compensation rules are not materially different from the terms of reference for a remuneration committee provided in paragraph B.1.3 of Code Provision and they provide a formal and transparent process for the determination of remuneration. Further, even though the Board of Directors will voluntarily perform the role of the remuneration committee, the decisions on maximum amount of remuneration, the method for calculation of remuneration, and the type and amount of remuneration to be paid to Directors and Statutory Auditors must be determined by the Shareholders of the Company.

For the detail of compensation policy, please see ["3) Remuneration of executives, 3.Policy and method for determining the amounts of remuneration of executives or the calculation method" in section 11 of this Corporate Governance Report].

Audit Committee

We have not established an Audit Committee as required by Code Provision C.3. Our annual results have not been reviewed by the Audit Committee. The role of the Audit Committee pursuant to the Listing Rules is carried out by a Board of Statutory Auditors of the Company in Japan. The specific roles and responsibilities of the Statutory Auditors and the Board of Statutory Auditors correspond closely to those required to be provided by an Audit Committee under the Listing Rules.

As at 31 March 2012, other than the holdings disclosed above, none of the Directors of the Company or their respective associates had any interests or short positions in the Shares, underlying Shares or debentures of the Company or any of its associated corporations (within the meaning of Part XV of the SFO) as recorded in the register required to be kept under Section 352 of the SFO or as otherwise notified to the Company and the Stock Exchange pursuant to the Model Code.

6. MODEL CODE FOR SECURITIES TRANSACTIONS

The Company has adopted its own code of conduct regarding directors' dealings in the Company's securities (the "Code for Securities Transactions By Directors") on terms no less exacting than the Model Code for Securities Transactions by Directors of Listed Issuers (the "Model Code") as set out in Appendix 10 to the Listing Rules.

Specific enquiry has been made of all the directors and the directors have confirmed that they have complied with the "Code for Securities Transactions By Directors" and the Model Code throughout the year ended 31st March 2012.

The Company has also established written guidelines of almost the same terms as the Model Code (the "Employees Written Guidelines") for securities transactions by employees who are likely to be in possession of unpublished price-sensitive information of the Company.

7. DIRECTORS' RESPONSIBILITIES FOR FINANCIAL REPORTING

The directors acknowledge their responsibility for preparing the financial statements of the Company for the year ended 31st March 2012.

The Board is responsible for presenting a balanced, clear and understandable assessment of annual and interim reports required under the Listing Rules and other statutory and regulatory requirements. The Representative Director and Chief Executive Officer, and the Director and Chief Financial Officer are responsible for overseeing the preparation of financial statements of the Company with a view to ensuring that such financial statements give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the Group and that relevant statutory and regulatory requirements and applicable accounting standards are complied with.

The Management has provided to the Board such explanation and information as are necessary to enable the Board to carry out an informed assessment of the Company's financial statements, which are put to the Board for approval. The Board has received from the Representative Director the management accounts and such accompanying explanation and information as are necessary to enable the Board to make an informed assessment for approving the audited financial statements.

8. INDEPENDENT AUDITORS AND AUDITORS' REMUNERATION

The statement of the independent auditors of the Company about their reporting responsibilities for the financial statements is set out in the "Independent Auditor's Report" on page [126].

During the year ended 31st March 2012, the remuneration paid to the Company's independent auditors is set out below:

11. INTERNAL CONTROL

The Company recognizes the importance of establishing an internal control system and executing business operations based on a sound internal control system in order to ensure appropriate corporate governance. We believe that the internal control system must maintain the controls described below and are exerting efforts in establishing and enforcing such controls.

1) System to ensure that execution of operations by directors and employees conform to laws, regulations and the Articles of Incorporation

- a) The Company shall have the Representative Director take the lead in ensuring all officers and employees to be aware that realizing the Company’s management philosophy and corporate vision assume legal compliance and ethical codes of conduct.
- b) The Company shall hold, as a general rule, a periodical meeting of the Board of Directors once a month pursuant to the rules of the Board of Directors, and additionally hold an extraordinary meeting of the Board of Directors as necessary to promote mutual understanding of intent between Directors, supervise execution of operations by the Representative Director and prevent occurrence of any violation against laws, regulations and the Articles of Incorporation.
- c) The Company shall appoint a Compliance Officer based on the resolution of the Board of Directors, establish a Compliance Department reporting directly to the Compliance Officer and see that the Department makes efforts in identifying compliance issues and problems.

In addition, the Company shall establish, based on the resolution of the Board of Directors, an Internal Auditing Department as an entity independent from both business administrative divisions and administrative divisions. The Internal Auditing Department shall comprehensively and objectively evaluate the appropriateness of internal control systems, including legal compliance, appropriateness of operations and proper management of internal control, as well as provide recommendations for improvements regarding issues identified in audits and perform follow-ups on actions taken. Audits shall be conducted with the cooperation from employees and, if necessary, external specialists. The results of audits are reported, without delay after completion of each audit, to the Board of Directors through the Representative Director no less than once every six months, in addition to the regular reports submitted to Statutory auditors.

- d) The Company shall establish an internal whistle-blowing system to enable Directors and employees to directly report to the Internal Auditing Department and Statutory auditors of any act of violation against laws, regulations and the Articles of Incorporation detected and any other important fact relating to compliance.

2) System concerning retention and management of information concerning execution of duties by Directors

- a) The Company shall define documentation management rules based on the resolution of the Board of Directors, and retain and manage information relating to the execution of duties by Directors in writing or electronically (hereafter “documents”).
- b) Documents shall be made available for viewing by Directors or Auditors at all times.

3) Rules on management of risk of loss and other controls

- a) In order to identify risks that may impede the Company from executing operations and achieving corporate mission and vision, and to appropriately measure and manage such risks, the Company shall comply with the risk management rules and the Group risk management rules defined by the Board of Directors, appoint a Risk Management Officer responsible for risk management and establish a Risk Management Department.
- b) In the event of a management crisis, the Company shall, in accordance with the crisis management rules, establish a crisis control headquarters led by the Risk Management Officer, construct a system under which information concerning the management crisis is shared timely and properly among the Risk Management Officer, Risk Management Department, and respective officers and employees including the heads of general affairs, human resources, public relations and IR, legal and compliance divisions, and implement necessary measures in coping with the management crisis.

4) System to ensure efficient execution of duties by Directors

- a) The Company shall define rules on segregation of duties based on the resolution of the Board of Directors and clearly segregate duties among Directors.
- b) The Company shall establish information systems that enable appropriate and prompt decision-making.
- c) The Company shall hold, as a general rule, a periodical meeting of the Board of Directors once a month and additionally hold an extraordinary meeting of the Board of Directors as necessary in order to timely and appropriately resolve any issues arising in departments as well as ensure that Directors are aware of the know-how attainable from the process of resolving problems. By so doing, the Company shall promote efficiency of execution of duties by responsible Directors as well as promote corporate-wide efficiency of operations.

5) System to ensure appropriateness of operations of the corporate entity comprised of the Company and its subsidiaries

- a) In order to identify compliance issues and problems and ensure appropriateness of operations in the corporate group to which the Company belongs, the Company shall ensure that the Compliance Officer and the Compliance Department work in cooperation with compliance officers of companies belonging to the corporate group, establish a committee for exchanging information on compliance group-wide, and shall, if requested by a company belonging to the corporate group, promptly hold a meeting of the committee.
- b) Directors shall, when detecting any major violation against laws, regulations and the Articles of Incorporation or any other important fact relating to compliance within a company belonging to the corporate group, report the matter to the Statutory auditor of the Company, and the Statutory auditor receiving the report shall report the fact detected to the Auditor of the relevant company.

6) System to support Statutory auditors if requested for appointment of employee(s) to assist the duties of Statutory auditors and controls to secure independence of such employee(s) from Directors

The Company shall, if so requested by Statutory auditors, appoint an employee or employees with adequate knowledge to assist the duties of Statutory auditors as designated by the Internal Auditing Department for a period of time defined based on discussions with the Statutory auditors, and have the employee(s) assist the duties of Statutory auditors independent from the channel of order of the Directors. The Company shall respect the opinions of Statutory auditors with regard to the transfer and performance evaluation of such employee(s).

7) System for Directors and employees to report to Statutory auditors and other controls regarding reporting to Statutory auditors

- a) Directors shall, when being aware of any of the following stipulated under the rules of the Board of Directors, timely and accurately report the matter to Statutory auditors at the meeting of the Board of Directors.
 - (1) Any matter that may have a material damage on the Company
 - (2) Any important matter relating to management
 - (3) Any important matter on internal control
 - (4) Any significant violation against laws, regulations and the Articles of Incorporation
 - (5) Any other matter judged to be important by Directors
- b) Directors shall, if requested by a Statutory auditor to provide explanations on any matter provided in items (1) through (4) in the preceding paragraph, promptly provide detailed explanations, and shall not reject doing so without a rational reason.
- c) The Company shall establish an internal whistle-blowing system that enables Directors and employees to directly report to Statutory auditors of any act of violation against laws, regulations and the Articles of Incorporation and other important compliance matter.

8) Other controls to ensure that audits by Statutory auditors are performed effectively

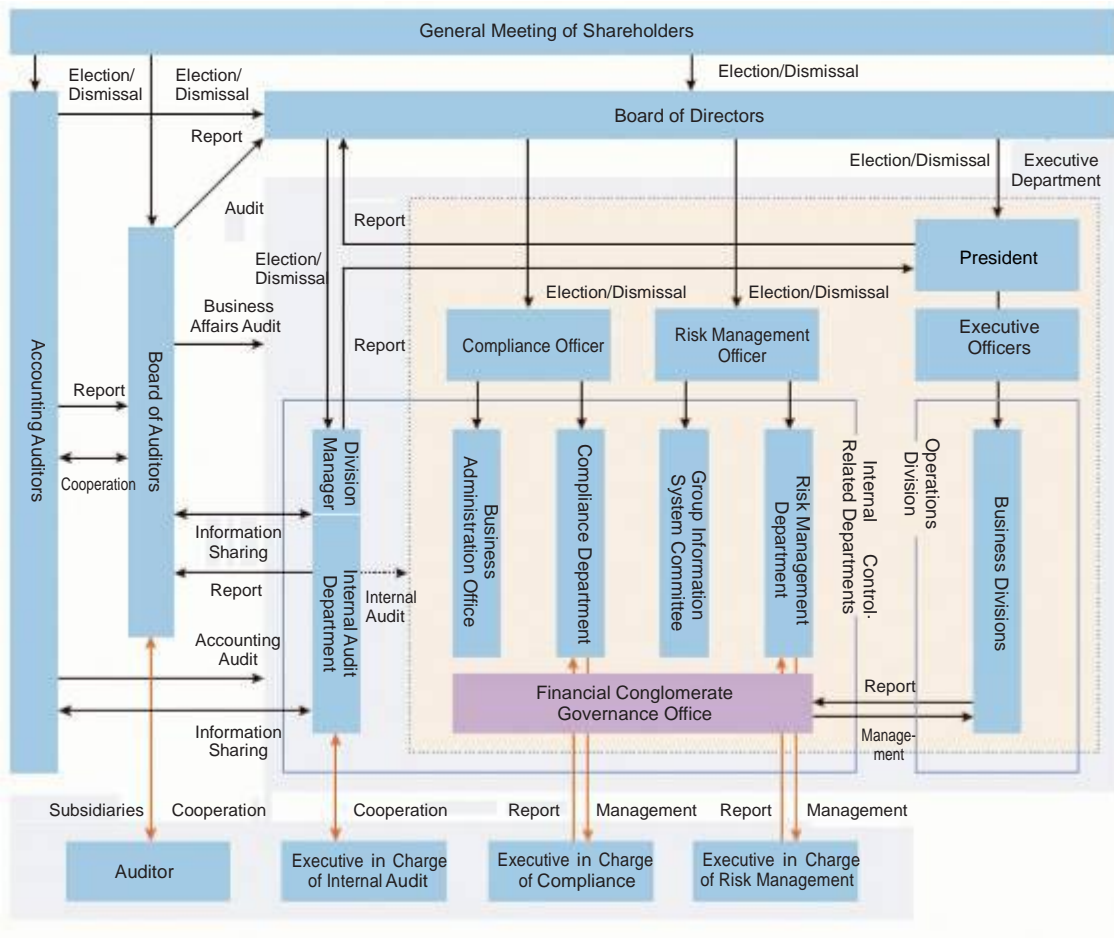

- a) The Company shall ensure that the Representative Director periodically hold meetings with Statutory auditors in an effort to share information on management issues and problems, and promote, as necessary, sharing of information among Statutory auditors, the Internal Auditing Department and Independent auditors.
- b) The Company shall, if requested by Statutory auditors to hold the meeting described in the preceding paragraph, promptly hold such a meeting.

12. RISK MANAGEMENT

As of the date of submission of this Report, the Company has in place a risk management system. In the event of a potential or actual management crisis that would materially impact the existence of the Company, the Risk Management Officer appointed by the Board of Directors, leads gathering of pertinent information, and considers and implements countermeasures and measures to prevent recurrences while reporting and disclosing information to the related parties.

For all the processes involved in the Company's business activities, we have in place a mutual checking framework involving multiple departments aimed at ensuring operations that conform to not only the respective laws and regulations but also with agreements, terms and other rules, all as part of the overall system to maximize compliance efforts. With regard to information management and system risk, the Company has in place a Group Information System Committee chaired by the Risk Management Officer and composed of members appointed from each of the divisions, and exerts efforts in maintaining an overall information system including the management of customer information and reinforcing the system risk management system. In particular, from the perspective of business continuity, the Company has built a system in place to readily respond to any type of contingency through making use of a back-up structure that incorporates dual systems and back-up sites.

Structure of Corporate Governance and Internal Control

13. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION ABOUT CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

1) Internal audits, audits by Statutory auditors, and accounting audits

a) Internal audits

The Company has established an Internal Auditing Department. It is an organization independent from all business administrative divisions and administrative divisions that comprehensively and objectively evaluates the appropriateness of the internal control structure, including legal compliance, appropriateness of operations and proper management of internal control along with other responsibilities. The Department also provides recommendations for improvements regarding issues uncovered in audits and performs follow-ups on actions taken. Audits are conducted with the cooperation from employees and, if necessary, external specialists.

The results of internal audits are reported, without delay after completion of each audit, to the Board of Directors through the Representative Director no less than once every six months, in addition to the regular reports submitted to Statutory auditors.

The Internal Auditing Department is comprised of a dedicated manager and six other employees who are specialists in audits (internal audit, accounting audit, internal control and other), and they perform audits based on generally accepted internal audit standards and practices.

The Internal Auditing Department works organically in collaboration with the Board of statutory auditors. For example, it periodically provides reports to the Board of statutory auditors, separate from reporting to the Board of Directors, after completing each internal audit, exchanges opinions with the Board of statutory auditors, and incorporates requests from the Board in determining audit themes and scopes.

The Internal Auditing Department shares information with the Independent auditors particularly with respect to areas relating to internal control over financial reporting whenever necessary.

b) Audits by Statutory auditors

Statutory auditors are independent of the Company's executive bodies and bear the responsibility of securing trust from the society by establishing a sound corporate governance system based on audits performed over the executive actions of Directors. The Board of statutory auditors of the Company is comprised of four auditors, including two Outside Statutory auditors. Of the four Auditors, three have worked in financial institutions for many years and hold a wide range of expertise in the overall financial industry while one holds extensive knowledge on finance and accounting based on long years of experience in accounting.

In accordance with the Standards for Audits by Statutory auditors, Statutory auditors attend meetings of the Board of Directors and other important corporate meetings, review documents underlying important decisions, and exchange opinions with the Representative Director, Directors and other senior members as necessary. The Statutory auditors perform audits of the Company's internal controls in accordance with the Practice Standards for Internal Controls.

Statutory auditors coordinate with the Internal Auditing Department through periodically exchanging information and opinions as described above.

The Board of statutory auditors receives explanations from Independent auditors regarding the annual audit plan and other matters based on audit reports prepared at the interim and year-end closing periods. The Board of statutory auditors also shares information and holds discussions with the Independent auditors with regard to management issues and problems whenever necessary.

As described above, Statutory auditors, the Internal Auditing Department and Independent auditors work together organically while performing audits to ensure that the Company maintains an appropriate corporate governance system.

c) Independent auditors

Independent auditors for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012 are as follows.

| Name of Certified Public Accountant | | Accounting Corporation to which Accountants Belong |
|--|-------------------|--|
| Designated Unlimited Liability Partner, Engagement Partner | Yoshitaka Asaeda | Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu LLC |
| | Yasuyuki Onaka | |
| | Kunikazu Awashima | |

* The number of years in position is omitted as all auditors have served in the position for no more than 7 years.

Team of participants in accounting audits:

Certified public accountants: 5; assisting accountants: 5; other: 3

As described in previous paragraphs regarding internal audits and audits by Statutory auditors, Independent auditors promote collaboration with the Internal Auditing Department and Statutory auditors.

d) Relationship between auditors and Internal Auditing Department

Statutory auditors and Independent auditors exchange opinions with the Internal Auditing Department and obtain respective materials and information in order to understand auditing risks and information on auditees.

2) Outside Directors and Outside Statutory auditors

a) Number of outside directors and outside statutory auditors

The Company has four Outside Directors and two Outside Statutory auditors.

b) Personal, capital or transactional relationships and other conflicts of interest between Outside Directors/ Outside Statutory auditors and the Company

Ryujiro Shimamoto, Outside Statutory auditor, holds 778 shares of common stock of the Company as of June 28, 2012. Hisashi Hayakawa, Outside Statutory auditor, holds 25 shares of common stock of the Company as of June 28, 2012. Other than the above, there are no personal, capital or transactional relationships and other conflicts of interest between Outside Directors/ Outside Statutory auditors and the Company.

c) Roles and functions of corporate governance

Outside Directors and Outside Statutory auditors, in their objective and neutral positions that present no risk of creating conflicts of interest with general shareholders, monitor or audit as well as provide advice and suggestions from an external perspective by leveraging their respective expertise as well as their wide range of experience and knowledge on high-level management. They are charged with the roles and functions for ensuring adequacy and appropriateness of decision-making and execution of duties by the Board of Directors.

d) Views on elections

In order that Outside Directors and Outside Statutory auditors, in their objective and neutral positions that present no risk of creating conflicts of interest with general shareholders, may monitor or audit as well as provide advice and suggestions from an external perspective by leveraging their respective expertise as well as their wide range of experience and knowledge on high-level management, the Company, when electing Directors and Auditors, focus on their experience as accounting experts, specialized knowledge and independence. By so doing, we believe we can secure adherence to basic principles of corporate governance such as ensuring management transparency and executing management's accountability of providing explanations to third parties.

e) Mutual coordination between supervision or audits by Outside Directors or Outside Statutory auditors and internal audits, audits by Statutory auditors and accounting audits; and relationship with the Internal Control Department

In regard to the coordination between the Internal Auditing Department and the Board of statutory auditors, the Internal Auditing Department works organically by submitting reports regularly to the Board of statutory auditors, separate from the reporting to the Board of Directors, after completing each audit, exchanging opinions with the Board of statutory auditors, and incorporating requests from the Board in determining audit themes and scopes. The Internal Auditing Department shares information with Independent auditors, particularly with respect to areas relating to internal control over financial reporting. The Board of statutory auditors receives explanations from Independent auditors on the annual audit plan and other matters based on the audit reports prepared at interim and year-end fiscal closing periods, and they share information and hold discussions as necessary with regard to management issues and problems. In connection with these practices, Outside Directors and Outside Statutory auditors raise questions regarding reported matters and resolution items and provide comments from an external perspective as necessary.

Outside Directors and Outside Statutory auditors, in order to secure effectiveness of their supervision or audits, and auditors including internal auditors, Statutory auditors and Independent auditors, in order to identify risks associated with performing various audits and confirm information about auditees, share opinions with the Internal Control Department and obtain related materials and information as necessary.

3) Remuneration of executives

1. Total remuneration by executive category, total remuneration by type and total number of applicable executives

 - Remuneration and bonus of each director shall be decided by the Board of Directors, provided however, that in case the Board of Directors entrusts the decision to the discretion of the Representative Director, the decision shall be made by the Representative Director.
 - Remuneration and bonus of each auditor shall be determined based on discussions by the auditors.
- 2) Remuneration of executives (excluding bonuses of executives) shall be revised, as a general rule, once a year within three months after the fiscal closing.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of
SBI Holdings, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of SBI Holdings, Inc. (the "Company") and its consolidated subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the "Group") which comprise the consolidated balance sheet as at 31 March 2012, the consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive income, changes in net assets, and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Group as at 31 March 2012, and their financial performance and their cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The additional information in sections A2 and A3 of the consolidated financial information is presented for the purpose of additional disclosure and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. This additional information is the responsibility of the Company's management. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, such information is fairly stated in all material respects when considered in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

I. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The Consolidated Financial Statements of SBI Holdings, Inc. (the “Company”) and its consolidated subsidiaries (hereinafter referred to as the “Group”) were prepared in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in Japan (“JGAAP”) and were presented by reference to the “Rules Governing Term, Form and Preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements” (Finance Ministerial Order the 28th, 1976, which is hereinafter referred to as the “Consolidated Financial Statements Rule”). The Consolidated Financial Statements of the Group has been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments such as certain investments and derivatives, which are stated at fair value, the details of which are listed below.

The Consolidated Financial Statements are presented in Japanese Yen (“Yen” or “¥”).

II. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Accounting policies

(1) Scope of consolidation and application of equity method

- (a) Under the control or influence concept, those companies in which the Group, directly or indirectly, is able to exercise control are consolidated, and those companies over which the Group has the ability to exercise significant influence are accounted for using the equity method.
- (b) All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. All material unrealized profit or loss resulting from intercompany transactions is eliminated.
- (c) Basis for exclusion from scope of consolidation
 - (i) Small size entities of which total assets, sales, and proportional share of net income and retained earnings are considered to be immaterial are excluded from consolidation. Investments in partnerships which are classified as subsidiaries under Practical Issues Task Force (“PITF”) No. 20 — “Practical Solution on Application of Control”, issued on 8 September 2006, are excluded from consolidation as the effect of consolidation may be misleading to investors, in accordance with the item (ii) of Article 5(1) of the Consolidated Financial Statements Rule.
 - (ii) Venture capital investments are excluded from the scope of consolidation since the purpose of investments are not for exercising control but to foster the development of venture capital portfolios.
- (d) Basis for not applying equity method
 - (i) Small size entities of which proportional share of net income and retained earnings are considered to be immaterial individually and collectively are not accounted for using equity method.
 - (ii) Venture capital investments are not accounted for using equity method since the purpose of investments are not for exercising significant influence but to foster the development of venture capital portfolios.
- (e) Consolidated financial statements are prepared based on the financial statements of each reporting entity and adjustments are made when their year end dates are different over 3 months.

(2) Valuation method of significant assets

(a) Trading instruments

Trading instruments, which are held for the purpose of earning capital gains in the near term, are reported at fair value, with the related unrealized gains and losses included in income.

(b) Available-for-sale securities (consist of investment securities and operational investment securities other than investments in funds), which are not classified as trading instruments:

(i) Listed securities

Listed securities are measured at fair value, with fair value gains and losses, net of applicable taxes, reported as “unrealized gains (losses) on available-for-sales securities”, a separate component of net assets. The cost of securities sold is determined based on the moving average cost method.

(ii) Unlisted securities

Unlisted securities are principally stated at cost less impairment, determined by the moving average cost method. However, unlisted available-for-sale securities held by certain overseas subsidiaries adopting International Financial Reporting Standards are measured at fair value.

(c) Investments in funds

For the investments in funds other than those included in the scope of consolidation, the Company’s proportionate share in the net assets of the funds is calculated based on the funds’ annual financial statements or interim financial statements and is presented as “Operational investment securities” (Current assets) or “Investment securities” (Non-current assets).

(d) Derivative contracts

Derivative contracts are measured at fair value.

(e) Real estate inventories

Real estate inventories are measured at the lower of cost or net realizable value.

(3) Depreciation method of depreciable assets

(a) Property and equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation of property and equipment by the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries is computed using the declining-balance method over the estimated useful lives of assets while the straight-line method is applied to buildings acquired after 1 April 1998. The range of useful lives is principally from 5 to 50 years for buildings, and from 4 to 20 years for furniture and fixtures. Most overseas consolidated subsidiaries apply the straight-line method. Leased assets are depreciated by the straight-line method over the lease terms with residual value of zero.

(b) Land

Land is stated at cost less impairment.

- (c) Intangible assets
 - (i) Software used for internal purposes is amortized using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the software (5 years).
 - (ii) Software for sale is amortized using the straight-line method over the estimated saleable period of the software, which is 3 years or less.
 - (iii) Leased assets are depreciated by using straight-line method over the lease terms with residual value of zero

(4) Recognition and measurement of significant provisions and allowances

- (a) Allowance for investment losses

Allowance for investment losses for operational investment securities and investment securities are provided based on the estimated losses of the investments and the financial condition of the investees.

- (b) Allowances for doubtful accounts

Allowance for doubtful accounts is provided based on the Group's past credit loss experience and an evaluation of the recoverability of the outstanding receivables including notes and accounts receivable-trade, operational loans receivable, loans on margin transactions and other loans receivable.

- (c) Provision for bonuses

The Group provided provisions for bonuses to employees based on the estimation of current year portion of future payments.

- (d) Employees' retirement benefits

The Group recorded liabilities for employees' retirement benefits based on the projected benefit obligations and plan assets at the balance sheet date. Simplified method was used and under such method, the liabilities were recognized and measured by assuming all the employees voluntarily retired at the end of the year.

- (e) Statutory reserve for securities transactions liabilities/financial products transactions

Pursuant to Article 46-5 of the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act, certain consolidated subsidiary provides statutory reserve against possible losses resulting from execution errors related to securities business transactions. The amount is calculated in accordance with Article 175 of the "Cabinet Office Ordinance concerning Financial Instruments Business".

- (f) Statutory reserve for price fluctuation

The Group provides statutory reserve against possible losses resulting from stock price fluctuations in accordance with Article 115 of the Insurance Business Act.

(5) Recognition for net sales and cost of sales

Net sales and cost of sales

The Group's net sales primarily consist of fees from funds, revenue from operational investment securities, revenue from real estate business, and revenue from securities transactions. The costs of sales principally consist of the cost of operational investment securities, the related provision of allowance for investment losses, and cost of real estate business.

(a) Revenue and cost of operational investment securities

Revenue from operational investment securities includes all of the revenue which is related to or generated by operational investment securities and securities held by funds. Cost of operational investment securities consists of the carrying value on the sale of operational investment securities and securities held by funds, and write down of operational investment securities and securities held by funds.

(b) Fees from funds

Fees from funds consist of establishment fees for fund organization, management fees, and success fees from funds which are not within the scope of consolidation and managed by the Group. Management fees from funds are recognized over the period of the fund management agreement. Establishment fees and success fees from funds are recognized when those revenue amounts are determined and the services are provided.

(c) Revenue from construction projects

When the total construction revenue, total construction costs and the stage of completion of the contract can be reliably measured at the balance sheet date, the percentage-of-completion method is applied. The stage of completion is assumed to be the portion of the project's costs incurred to the balance sheet date divided by total estimated costs, "cost-to-cost method". If the outcome of a construction contract cannot be reliably estimated at the balance sheet date, the completed contract method is applied.

(d) Revenue from securities transactions

Revenue from securities transactions primarily consists of brokerage commissions from securities transactions, fees from underwriting activities and offering of securities for initial public offerings and fees for placements and sales of securities.

(e) Revenue from finance lease transactions

Revenue and cost of finance lease transactions are recognized when payments are received.

(f) Financial charges and cost of funding

Financial charges and cost of funding, which consist of interest expense for margin trading transactions and costs from repurchase agreement transactions, etc. which are related to the investment banking businesses, are recorded as cost of sales. As for certain consolidated subsidiaries, interest expense other than financial charges is classified as interests related to operating assets (e.g. leases receivable and lease investment assets, etc.) or to non-operating assets. Interest expense (cost of funding) related to operating asset is classified as cost of sales. During the development of a project, interest expense related to long term and large scale real estate development is included in the cost of the real estate inventories.

(6) Translations of significant assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Japanese Yen using the exchange rates at the balance sheet date, and the translation adjustment is recognized as foreign exchange gains or losses. The balance sheets of the consolidated foreign subsidiaries are translated into Japanese Yen using their exchange rate as at the balance sheet date except for net assets, which are translated at the historical rates. Revenue and expense accounts of consolidated foreign subsidiaries are translated into Japanese Yen using the average exchange rate of the year. Differences arising from such translation are shown as “Foreign currency translation adjustments”, as a separate component under “Net assets” except for the portion pertaining to the minority shareholders, which is included under “Minority interests” as a separate component under “Net assets”.

(7) Accounting for significant lease transactions

In March 2007, the Accounting Standards Board of Japan (“ASBJ”) issued ASBJ Statement No.13, “Accounting Standard for Lease Transactions,” which revised the previous accounting standard for lease transactions issued in June 1993. The revised accounting standard for lease transactions was effective for fiscal years beginning on or after 1 April 2008.

(a) Lessee

ASBJ Statement No. 13 requires that all finance lease transactions be capitalized to recognize leased assets and lease obligations in the balance sheet. In addition, leases which existed at the transition date and did not transfer ownership of the leased assets to the lessee continue to be accounted for as operating lease transactions with certain “as if capitalized” information disclosed in the notes to the lessee’s financial information.

The Group continues to account for leases which existed at the transition date that did not transfer ownership of the leased assets to the lessee as operating lease transactions.

(b) Lessor

ASBJ statement No. 13 requires that all finance leases be recognized as leases receivable, and that all finance leases that are deemed not to transfer ownership of the assets leased to other parties under operating leases be recognized as lease investment assets. For the finance leases which existed at the transition date and did not transfer ownership of the assets leased to other parties under operating leases, the book value of the leased assets (after deducting accumulated depreciation) at the transition date is used as the beginning value of the lease investment assets.

The Group adopted ASBJ statement No. 13 on 1 April 2008. Leases receivable and lease investment assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed by using the straight-line method over the useful life with residual value of zero.

(8) Accounting for significant hedging transactions

(a) Accounting for hedges

The Group applies deferred hedge accounting when certain criteria are met. Foreign currency forward contracts are used to hedge foreign currency exposures in the Group. Receivables, payables and investment securities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the contracted rates if the forward contracts are qualified for hedge accounting. Interest rate swaps, which are qualified for hedge accounting and met the specific matching criteria, are not revaluated at fair market value. The differential paid or received under the swap agreements is recognized and included in interest expense or income.

- (b) Hedging instruments and hedged item
 - (i) Hedging instruments – foreign currency forward contracts
Hedged items – foreign currency denominated receivables and payables and investment securities.
 - (ii) Hedging instruments – interest rate swap contracts
Hedged items – loans and bonds payables
- (c) Hedging policy
 - (i) For foreign currency-denominated transactions, the foreign currency forward contracts are used to hedge foreign currency exposures in the Group.
 - (ii) For interest expense on borrowing, interest rate swap contract is utilized to mitigate the volatility of interest rates.
- (d) Assessment of effectiveness between the hedging instrument and the hedged item
 - (i) The Group does not assess hedge effectiveness of foreign currency forward contracts which qualify for hedge accounting and meet specific matching criteria.
 - (ii) The Group assesses hedge effectiveness by comparing the cumulative changes in the fair value of the hedged items and the hedging instruments during the period from commencement of hedging to the point of assessing effectiveness, based on changes in both amount and others. The Group does not assess hedge effectiveness of interest rate swaps which qualify for hedge accounting and meet specific matching criteria.

(9) Accounting for amortization of goodwill

Goodwill is amortized using the straight-line method to allocate the cost over the expected beneficial period, or over 20 years if the beneficial period could not be reasonably estimated. However, goodwill could be recognized as an expense as incurred if the amount is immaterial.

(10) Cash and cash equivalents stated in the consolidated statement of cash flows

Cash and cash equivalents stated in the consolidated statement of cash flows are cash and deposits or short-term investment securities that are readily convertible into cash, and are not exposed to significant risk of changes in value, all of which will mature or become due within three months from the date of acquisition.

2. Other significant accounting policies for consolidated financial statements

(1) Business Combination

For the period beginning on 1 April 2010:

In December 2008, the ASBJ issued a revised accounting standard for business combinations, "Accounting Standard for Business Combinations" (ASBJ Statement No.21 issued on 26 December 2008), "Accounting Standard for Consolidated Financial Statements" (ASBJ Statement No.22 issued on 26 December 2008), "Partial amendments to Accounting Standard for Research and Development Costs" (ASBJ Statement No.23 issued on 26 December 2008), "Revised Accounting Standard for Business Divestitures" (ASBJ Statement No.7 (Revised 2008) issued on 26 December 2008), "Revised Accounting Standard for Equity Method of Accounting for Investments" (ASBJ Statement No.16 (Revised 2008) released on 26 December 2008) and "Revised Guidance on Accounting Standard for Business Combinations and Accounting Standard for Business Divestitures" (ASBJ Guidance No.10 (Revised 2008) issued on 26 December 2008), hereinafter referred to as "revised standards". The revised standards were effective for the business combinations transactions undertaken on or after 1 April 2010 and are applied prospectively.

Major accounting changes under the revised accounting standards are as follows:

- (i) The previous accounting standard for business combinations allowed companies to apply the pooling of interests method of accounting when certain specific criteria were met such that the business combination was essentially regarded as a uniting of interests. The revised standards requires accounting for such business combination by the purchase method and the pooling of interests method of accounting is no longer allowed.
- (ii) The previous accounting standard accounted for the research and development costs to be charged to income as incurred. Under the revised standards, an in-process research and development (IPR&D) acquired by a business combination is capitalized as an intangible asset.
- (iii) Under the previous accounting standard, a bargain purchase (negative goodwill) is capitalized and was amortized within 20 years. Under the revised standards, a bargain purchase was recognized as profit on the acquisition date.
- (iv) Under the previous accounting standard, when a parent obtained control over a subsidiary by a step acquisition, goodwill was measured on the date the parent obtained control as the difference between (a) the aggregate carrying amount of any previously held equity interests and the purchase consideration and (b) the net amount of the fair value of assets and the liabilities attributable to the parent on the date the parent obtains control. Under the revised standards, the acquirer should remeasure its previously held equity interests in the acquiree at its acquisition-date fair value and recognize any resulting gain or loss. Goodwill is measured at the acquisition date as the difference between (1) the aggregate of the acquisition date fair value of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the entity acquired and the acquisition-date fair value of any previously held equity interests in the entity acquired and (2) the net of the acquisition-date fair value of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed.

(2) Accounting for investments in funds

For the investments in funds categorized as subsidiaries but not within the scope of consolidation, the Company's proportionate share in the net assets and revenue/expenses of those funds is calculated based on the funds' annual financial statements or semi-annual financial statements and is presented as "Investment securities" (Non-current assets) and revenue/expenses, respectively.

For the investments in funds held for operational investment purpose, which are not categorized as subsidiaries, the Company's proportionate share in the net assets and revenue/expenses of those funds is calculated based on the funds' annual financial statements or interim financial statements and is presented as "Operational investment securities" (Current assets) and revenue/expenses, respectively.

For the investment in funds other than those held for operational investment purpose, which are not categorized as subsidiaries, the Company's proportionate share in the net assets and revenue/expenses of those funds is calculated based on the funds' annual financial statements or interim financial statements and is presented as "Investment securities" (Non-current assets) and non-operating income/expenses, respectively.

(3) Deferred charges

(a) Stock issuance costs

Stock issuance costs are amortized over 3 years by using straight-line method.

(b) Bond issuance costs

Bond issuance costs are amortized over the bond term by using straight-line method.

(c) Deferred operating costs under Section 113 of the Insurance Business Act

These deferred operating costs can be amortized within 10 years according to section 113 of the Insurance Business Act of Japan.

(4) Accounting for consumption tax

The amounts in the consolidated financial statements are presented without consumption or local consumption taxes.

(5) Cash segregated as deposits

Cash segregated as deposits are mainly client's trust money and cash deposited as collateral under the regulatory requirement, and stated at cost.

(6) Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables including notes and accounts receivable-trade, operational loans receivable and other loans receivable are measured at historical cost less allowance for doubtful accounts. The carrying amount of loans and receivables is reduced through the use of an allowance account. Margin loans receivable are stated at amounts equal to the purchase amounts of the relevant securities, which are collateralized by customers' securities and customers' deposits. (See the accounting policy in respect of allowance for doubtful accounts).

(7) Deposits from customers and guarantee deposits received

Deposits received are mainly deposits received from customers and guarantee deposits received which are recognized at cost.

(8) Impairment losses on non-current assets

The Group reviews their non-current assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstance indicate that the carrying amount of an asset or asset group may not be recoverable.

An impairment loss is recognized if the carrying amount of an asset or asset group exceeds the sum of the undiscounted future cash flows expected to result from the continued use and eventual disposition of the asset or asset group.

The impairment loss is measured as the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of the discounted cash flows from the continued use and eventual disposition of the asset or the net selling price at disposition.

(9) Asset retirement obligation

Asset retirement obligation is recognized when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. The asset retirement obligation is measured at the present value.

(10) Borrowings

Borrowings are stated at cost, which represent the loans payable and bonds payable outstanding at balance sheet date.

(11) Retail margin trading liabilities

Retail margin trading liabilities are stated at cost.

(12) Stock options

ASBJ Statement No. 8, "Accounting Standard for Stock Options" and related guidance are applicable to stock options granted on and after 1 May 2006. This standard requires companies to recognize compensation expense for employee stock options based on the fair value at the date of grant and expense over the vesting period as consideration for receiving goods or services.

The standard also requires companies to account for stock options granted to non-employees based on the fair value of either the stock options granted or the goods or services received. In the consolidated balance sheets, the stock option is presented as a stock acquisition right as a separate component of equity until exercised.

The standard covers equity-settled share-based payment transactions but does not cover cash-settled share-based payment transactions. The standard allows the stock options granted by unlisted companies to be measured at their intrinsic value if their fair values cannot be reliably estimated. The Group applied this accounting standard for stock options granted after 1 May 2006.

(13) Bonuses to directors and statutory auditors

Bonuses to directors and statutory auditors are accrued at the balance sheet date.

(14) Income taxes

The provision for income taxes is computed based on the pretax income included in the consolidated statements of operations.

The asset and liability approach is used to recognize deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between the carrying amounts and the tax bases of assets and liabilities.

Deferred taxes are measured by applying currently enacted tax laws to the temporary differences.

A valuation allowance is provided for deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that these items will either expire before the Group is able to realize their benefits, or that future deductibility is uncertain.

(15) Per share information

Basic net income per share is computed by dividing net income available to common shareholders by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding for the period.

Diluted net income per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities were exercised or converted into common stock. Diluted net income per share of common stock assumes full conversion of the outstanding convertible notes and bonds at the beginning of the year (or at the time of issuance) with an applicable adjustment for related interest expense, net of tax, and full exercise of outstanding warrants.

Cash dividends per share presented in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations are dividends attributable to the respective years including dividends to be paid after the end of the year.

III. NEW AND REVISED ACCOUNTING STANDARDS ISSUED BUT NOT YET EFFECTIVE

Revision of Accounting Standard for Consolidated Financial Statements (ASBJ Statement No.22) and related Implementation Guidance and Practical Solution (revised on 25 March 2011, the "Revised Standards")

Before revision of accounting standard, special purpose company under certain condition was not presumed to be subsidiary of investor or company which transfers its assets to the special purpose company. Under the Revised Standards, only company which transfers its asset can apply the presumption. The Group plans to apply the Revised Standards from the beginning of fiscal year ending 31 March 2014.

Since no entities have not been presumed to be subsidiary under the current accounting standard, no significant affect on the consolidated financial statements.

IV. CHANGES IN PRESENTATION

The following presentation changes are reflected on respective consolidated statement of operations:

1. "Amortization of stock issuance costs" and "Amortization of bond issuance costs", which were separately presented for the year ended 31 March 2011 were included in "Others" line of "Non-operating expense" in the consolidated statement of operations for the year ended 31 March 2012 as the amounts were immaterial. As a result, "Amortization of stock issuance costs" and "Amortization of bond issuance costs" for the year ended 31 March 2011 of ¥ 50 million and ¥ 90 million, respectively were reclassified into "Others" line of "Non-operating expense".
2. "Reversal of allowance for doubtful accounts" and "Gains on the changes in interests in consolidated subsidiaries and equity method investees", which were separately presented in the consolidated statement of operations for the year ended 31 March 2011 were included in "Others" line of "Extraordinary income" in the consolidated statement of operations for the year ended 31 March 2012 as the amount were immaterial. As a result, "Reversal of allowance for doubtful accounts" and "Gains on the changes in interests in consolidated subsidiaries and equity method investees" for the year ended 31 March 2011 of ¥ 68 million and ¥ 63 million, respectively were reclassified into "Others" line of "Extraordinary income".
3. "Losses on the changes in equity interests in consolidated subsidiaries and equity method investees" and "Losses on retirements of non-current assets", which were separately presented in the consolidated statement of operations for the year ended 31 March 2011 were included in "Others" line of "Extraordinary expense" in the consolidated statement of operations for the year ended 31 March 2012 as the amounts were immaterial. As a result, "Losses on the changes in equity interests in consolidated subsidiaries and equity method investees" and "Losses on retirements of non-current assets" for the year ended 31 March 2011 of ¥ 23 million and ¥ 193 million, respectively were reclassified into "Others" line of "Extraordinary expense".

V. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Application of Accounting Standard for Accounting Changes and Error Corrections

The Company has applied “Accounting Standard for Accounting Changes and Error Corrections” (ASBJ Statement No. 24 issued on 4 December 2009) and “Guidance on Accounting Standard for Accounting Changes and Error Corrections” (ASBJ Guidance No.24 issued on 4 December 2009) to the accounting changes and error corrections which have been made after 31 March 2011.

Stock Benefit Trust

At the board meeting held on 29 September 2011, the Directors of the Company resolved to introduce “Stock Benefit Trust (Employee Stockholding Association Purchase-type)” (hereinafter the “Plan” and the “Trust”).

The purpose of the Plan is to improve employees’ welfare and to increase their motivations for work and awareness of the Company’s stock performance through its steady provision of the stock to the employee stockholding association and distribution of the profit created by trust property management in order to increase the Company’s corporate value.

Accounting for the Trust is based upon the assumption that the Company and the Trust are inseparable. The Company’s stock held by the Trust is accounted for as treasury stock while the Trust’s assets and liabilities as well as its income and expenses are included in the Group’s consolidated financial statements. The number of the stocks held by the Trust is included in the number of treasury stock and not included in the number of shares outstanding for the calculation of per share information. The number of treasury stock held by the Trust as at 31 March 2012 was 70,604 shares.

Adoption of the Consolidation Tax Fillings

The Company and certain subsidiaries made an application for the consolidation tax fillings to the tax authority in December 2011. The application was approved, and the consolidation tax fillings will be adopted from the fiscal year beginning on 1 April 2012. Preparing for the adoption, the financial statements for this fiscal year are presented in accordance with “Tentative Solution for the Deferred Tax Accounting on Application of Tax Consolidation (part 1)” (Practical Issues Task Force No.5, revised on 18 March 2011) and “Tentative Solution for the Deferred Tax Accounting on Application of Tax Consolidation (part 2)” (Practical Issues Task Force No.7, 30 June 2010).

|---|----------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| | 2011 (millions of Yen) | 2012 (millions of Yen) |
| Research and development costs included in selling, general and administrative expenses | 542 | 1,156 |

5. The Group recorded the following impairment losses:

For the year ended 31 March 2011

| Business | Category | Items | Location | Impairment loss amount (Millions of yen) |
|---|--|---|-----------------|--|
| Brokerage & Investment Banking Business | Assets for on-line securities operation system | Buildings, furniture and fixtures, software and leased assets | Tokyo | 350 |
| Financial Services Business | Assets for operation of car related information site | Buildings, furniture and fixtures and software, etc. | Tokyo | 150 |
| Others | Assets for health care related business | Buildings, furniture and fixtures and software, etc. | Tokyo, etc. | 360 |

(1) Grouping of assets

The grouping of assets was generally based on the smallest cash-generating unit that generates cash inflows that are independent of the cash inflows from other group. The grouping of lease property and unutilized assets was based on individual asset.

(2) Background to recognize impairment loss

In the Brokerage & Investment Banking Business, implementation of a new online securities operation system necessitated the disposal of the assets used for the prior operation system. Since the recoverable amount was less than the carrying amount, the difference between the recoverable amount and the carrying amount of the assets was recognized as an impairment loss. The amounts of impairment losses for buildings, furniture and fixtures, software and leased assets were ¥2 million, ¥16 million, ¥36 million and ¥295 million, respectively.

In the Financial Services Business, the difference between the recoverable amount and the carrying amount of assets used for the operation of car related information site was recognized as an impairment loss due to no expectation of initially expected profits. The amounts of impairment losses for buildings, furniture and fixtures, software and other assets were ¥3 million, ¥7 million, ¥138 million and ¥2 million, respectively.

In the Health Care Related Business, the difference between the recoverable amount and the carrying amount of assets used for health care operation was recognized as an impairment loss due to no expectation of initially expected profits. The amounts of impairment losses for buildings, furniture and fixtures, software and other assets were ¥29 million, ¥86 million, ¥233 million and ¥10 million, respectively.

(3) Calculation of recoverable amount

For the assets to be disposed of, the recoverable amount is the net sales value of zero. For the other assets, the recoverable amount is the value in use based on the future cash flow.

For the year ended 31 March 2012

| Business | Category | Items | Location | Impairment loss amount |
|---|---------------------------------------|--|-----------------|-------------------------------|
| | | | | (Millions of yen) |
| Financial Services Business | Assets for credit card business, etc. | Buildings, furniture and fixtures and software, etc. | Tokyo | 105 |
| Housing and Real Estate Business. | Lease property | Buildings and land, etc. | Aichi, Fukuoka | 128 |

(1) Grouping of assets

The grouping of assets was generally based on the smallest cash-generating unit that generates cash inflows that are independent of the cash inflows from other group. The grouping of lease property and unutilized assets was based on individual asset.

(2) Background to recognize impairment loss

In the Financial Services Business, the difference between the recoverable amount and the carrying amount of assets used for credit card business, etc was recognized as an impairment loss due to no expectation of initially expected profits. The amounts of the impairment losses for buildings, furniture and fixtures, software and other assets were ¥2 million, ¥14 million, ¥78 million and ¥9 million, respectively.

In the Housing and Real Estate Business, the difference between the recoverable amount and the carrying amount of assets was recognized as an impairment loss due to the significant decrease for price of lease property. The amounts of impairment losses for buildings and land were ¥47 million and ¥80 million, respectively.

(3) Calculation of recoverable amount

For lease property, the recoverable amount is calculated with net sales value by using real estate valuation. For the other assets, the recoverable amount is calculated with the value in use based on the future cash flow.

XII. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

1. Details of the financial instruments

(1) Group Policy for Financial Instruments

The Group engages in a wide range of financial related businesses, such as investment business, fund management business, securities business, leasing business, loan business, credit card business and insurance businesses, to avoid excessive concentration of risk on specific entities or businesses. To operate these businesses, the Group raises funds by indirect financing such as bank borrowing, direct financing such as bond issuance and equity financing, and transaction with securities financing companies. The Group also considers the market environment and maintains an appropriate strategy for short and long term financing.

The Group and certain consolidated subsidiaries utilize derivative instruments, including foreign currency forward contracts, interest rate swaps, index futures, and foreign currency spot contracts.

The Group entered into foreign currency forward contracts and interest swap transactions primarily to hedge foreign exchange risk and to manage its interest rate exposures on borrowings, respectively. The Group does not hold or issue them for speculative purpose. Index futures and commodity futures were entered for the purpose of day trading or capping of the size of their transactions. Index futures were mainly daily trading under limited trading scale. Foreign currency spot contracts were entered into for managing the exposures on foreign currency brokerage transactions. The transaction was conducted with individually counterparties based on the Group's "Position Management Rule."

(2) Nature and Extent of Risks Arising from Financial Instruments

Financial assets held by the Group primarily consist of investment-related assets, securities-related assets and financing-related assets.

Investment-related assets include short-term investment securities, operational investment securities, and investment securities, which primarily represent investment in stocks and funds. These assets are held through the Company or certain consolidated subsidiaries (including the consolidated investment funds) of the Company for the purpose of fostering the development of venture capital portfolio companies or earning capital gains. These assets are exposed to the issuer's credit risk and the stock price fluctuation risk. Furthermore, unlisted equity securities are exposed to liquidity risk and investment assets denominated in foreign currency are exposed to the risk of exchange fluctuations.

Securities-related assets consist of trading instruments, margin transaction assets, short-term guarantee deposits and cash segregated as deposits. These assets are exposed to the credit risk and the interest rate risk of the brokerage customers of some of the consolidated subsidiaries, securities financing companies, and financial institutions.

Financing-related assets consist of operational loans receivable, leases receivable and lease investment assets and accounts receivable. These assets include real estate loans for domestic companies and individuals, unsecured personal loans, leases receivable and lease investment assets for operational companies and the receivable arising from the sales of leasing business or credit card business. These assets are exposed to the interest rate risk and credit risk of accounts such as default due to worsening economic conditions with higher credit risk exposure.

Financial liabilities of the Group primarily consist of loans payable, bonds payable and securities-related liabilities. The loans payable of the Group are exposed to liquidity risk from changes in the pricing policy of the financial institutions to the Group. Also, the bonds payable are monitored due to liquidity risk from market conditions or reducing credit rating of the Group.

Securities-related liabilities consist of margin transaction liabilities, loans payable secured by securities on repurchase agreement transactions, guarantee deposits received from margin transactions, and deposits from customers. The financing environment of the security business operated by the Group's certain subsidiaries is affected by the business policy of security financing companies and its investment strategy. The Group exercises control by matching the financing with the related security assets.

The Group enters into foreign currency forward contracts and interest swap transactions primarily to hedge foreign exchange risk associated with receivables, payables and securities denominated in foreign currencies and to manage its interest rate exposures on borrowings, respectively.

The Group manages index futures as a part of investment business which is exposed to market risk. Because the counterparties of foreign currency forward contracts and interest rate swap agreements are limited to creditworthy major Japanese financial institutions and index futures are traded in the public market, the credit risk arising from default is considered to be minimal.

The Group also enters into foreign currency spot contracts in the course of ordinary operations, and for hedging risks arising from the business. The transactions are subject to interest rate risks and foreign currency risks as well as exposed to credit risks with customers and credit and settlement risks with counterparties.

(3) Risk Management System over Financial Instruments

In order to maintain financial strength and appropriate operational procedures, the Company has risk management policies to identify, analyze and manage the relevant risks integrally. The management policies for credit risk, market risk, and liquidity risk are as follows:

Credit risk management

- (a) Accurately analyze financial conditions of investees/debtors and quantity relevant credit risk.
- (b) Appropriately manage the Group's own capital and the related risks by periodic monitoring.
- (c) Under foreign investments or lending transaction, the Group identifies intrinsic risk of investees/debtors through with domestic/foreign offices as well as overseas partners followed by periodic monitoring.
- (d) Recognize investment risk as significant risk to be controlled among various credit risks and perform detailed analysis of fluctuation in risk associated with operational investment securities.

Market risk management

- (a) Understand underlying currency and term of assets and quantify market risk.
- (b) Appropriately manage the balance between the Group's own capital and its related risk by periodic monitoring.
- (c) Never enter into derivative transactions for speculative purposes in absence of established operating rules.

Liquidity risk management

- (a) Secure various financing arrangements such as bank overdraft facility, bond issuance registration or stock issuance.
- (b) Collect information on the Group's working capital requirement and understand the cash flow positions.
- (c) Obtain reports from the department responsible for cash management based upon the liquidity risk management policies stated in (a) and (b) above to monitor cash flow risks.

Under these policies, the Company assigns a risk management officer who is in charge of risk management and sets up a risk management department in line with the risk management rules and the group risk control rules in order to properly analyze and control these risks. The risk management department analyzes and monitors the Group's risk on a timely basis.

(4) Fair Values of Financial Instruments

Fair values of financial instruments are based on quoted market price. If quoted market price is not available, fair values are calculated with valuation techniques which are considered to be reasonable. As the fair value determination takes variable factors into consideration, such fair values may fluctuate by using different assumptions. Please see section "XIV. DERIVATIVE CONTRACTS" for the detail of fair value of derivatives.

2. Fair value of financial instruments

The tables below presents the carrying amounts, the fair value of the financial instruments, and the difference between the carrying amounts and fair value as at 31 March 2011 and 2012.

The tables below do not include assets and liabilities which cannot be measured at fair value due to difficulties in determining fair value (refer to Note2).

NOTES:

(1) Calculation of fair value of financial instruments, investment securities and derivatives

(a) Assets

- (i) (1) Cash and deposits, (5) Cash segregated as deposits, and (9) Short-term guarantee deposits

The fair values are measured at the carrying values as they approximate the carrying values because of their short maturities.

- (ii) (2) Notes and accounts receivable—trade

With respect to notes and accounts receivable with short maturities, fair values are measured at the carrying values as they approximate the carrying values.

The fair values of receivables settled over long-term period such as installment sales receivable are measured at the present value of the future cash inflow discounted at the discount rate considering government risk free rates and credit risk rates.

- (iii) (3) Leases receivable and lease investment assets

The fair values of leases receivable and lease investment assets are measured at the present value of the future cash inflow discounted at the discount rate considering government risk free rates and credit risk rates.

- (iv) (4) Short-term investment securities, operational investment securities and investment securities and (7) Trading instruments

The fair values of equity securities are measured at the quoted market price of the stock exchange. The fair values of bonds are measured at the quoted market price of the stock exchange or the quoted price provided by financial institutions. The fair values of investment trusts are measured at the price quoted by financial institutions. The fair values of investments in funds are measured at the fair values of partnership net assets based on the Group's percentage share in the contributed capital, if such fair values are available. Unlisted available-for-sale securities held by certain overseas subsidiaries adopting International Financial Reporting Standards are measured at fair value.

- (v) (6) Operational loans receivable

The fair values of operational loans receivable are measured at the present value of the future cash inflows, which are classified into different types of receivables and discounted at the rate determined by reference to an appropriate index such as a government bond yield adjusted with relevant credit risk.

As the estimated credit losses are provided based on the individual assessment of recoverability of loans receivable held by certain consolidated subsidiaries with corporate restructuring business, the fair values are measured at the carrying values less allowance for doubtful accounts since they approximate the measured values.

- (vi) (8) Margin transaction assets

With respect to receivables from customers of margin transaction assets, the fair values are measured at the carrying value as the interest rates of the loans are floating rate and reflect the market interest rate within a short period so that, unless the borrower's credit condition changes significantly, the fair values are considered to approximate the carrying value.

Of these receivables, the fair values of those without set maturity date due to certain conditions such as the placing of a cap on the amount of loans which does not exceed the value of pledged assets, are measured at the carrying value. Based on the expected repayment term and the terms of interest, the fair values are considered to approximate the carrying values. With respect to cash collateral pledged for securities borrowing on margin transaction, the fair values are measured at the carrying value because of their short maturities.

(b) Liabilities

The fair values of liabilities other than (7) Bonds payable and (8) Long-term loans payable are measured at the carrying values as they approximate the carrying values because of their short maturities.

(i) (7) Bonds payable

With respect to bonds payable with floating interest rates, the fair values are measured at the carrying value as the interest rates of the debt reflect the market interest rate within a short period and as the credit condition of companies that obtained the debt are not expected to change significantly.

With respect to bonds payable with fixed interest rates, the fair values are measured at the present value of the future cash outflows considering remaining periods and discount rate adjusted with credit risks.

With respect to bonds payable with maturity of within one year, the fair values are measured at the carrying values as they approximate the carrying values because of their short maturities.

(ii) (8) Long-term loans payable

With respect to long-term loans payable with floating interest rates, the fair values are measured at the carrying value as the interest rates of the debt reflect the market interest rate within a short period and as the credit conditions of consolidated subsidiaries that obtained the debt are not expected to change significantly.

With respect to long-term loans payable with fixed interest rates, the fair values are measured at the present value of the future cash outflows, where the sum of principal and interest at certain intervals, or the sum of principal and interest determined using interest swap rates for which the special hedge accounting treatment is used, is discounted at the discount rate that may be applicable for similar types of debt.

(c) Derivatives

The information of the fair value for derivatives is included in section "XIV. DERIVATIVE CONTRACTS".

- (2) The following securities were stated at cost because the fair values could not be reliably determined. They were excluded from “Assets-(iv) (4) Short-term investment securities, operational investment securities and investment securities” of “Fair value of financial instruments”.

3. Impact from the change of income tax rate

“Act for Partial Revision of the Income Tax Act, etc. for the Purpose of Creating a Taxation System Responding to Changes in Economic and Social Structures” (Act No.114 of 2011) and “Act on Special Measures for Securing the Financial Resources Necessary to Implement Measures for Reconstruction following the Great East Japan Earthquake” (Act No. 117 of 2011) were newly promulgated on 2 December 2011. These reform acts reduce the effective tax rate used for the calculation of deferred tax assets and liabilities from 40.69% to 38.01% and 35.64% for those temporary differences expected to reverse within the three fiscal years beginning on or after 1 April 2012 and for the fiscal years beginning on or after 1 April 2015, respectively. The Tax Reform also set a ceiling on annual deduction for unused tax carry-forward losses to 80% of annual taxable income for the consolidated fiscal years beginning on or after 1 April 2012. These changes lead to a decrease in net deferred tax assets by ¥2,265 million and an increase in income tax deferred by ¥2,260 million.

Business transfer

Sale of Shares of SBI VeriTrans

(1) Summary of business transfer

- (i) Name of the company to which the Company sold investments

Wheel, Inc. (Consolidated subsidiary of Digital Garage Inc.)

- (ii) Business of company to which the Company sold investments

Settlement services, etc.

- (iii) Date of business transfer

30 March 2012

- (iv) Reason of business transfer

A main business segment of Digital Garage Inc. and its consolidated subsidiary (hereinafter referred to as "Digital Garage Group") is the integration of advertising/promotion functions with settlement services. In order for Digital Garage Group to further expand this core business (settlement function), the Group realized that the best option was to make SBI VeriTrans Co., Ltd. (which has an expanding settlement service business both in Japan and rest of Asia), one of its subsidiaries, thus the Group transferred all its interest in SBI VeriTrans Co., Ltd. to Digital Garage Group.

- (v) Other matters including legal structure of business separation

Transfer of shares by cash as consideration

XIX. SEGMENT INFORMATION

1. Overview of reportable segments

Separate financial information of the Group's components is available and reviewed regularly by the board of directors for the purposes of allocation of financial resources and performance evaluation.

The Group engages in a wide range of business activities, mainly the financial service business. Based on the similarities of economic characteristics of business or nature of services, "Asset Management Business", "Brokerage and Investment Banking Business", "Financial Services Business", "Housing and Real Estate Business" are determined as reportable segments.

"Asset Management Business" primarily consists of fund management and investment in internet technology, biotechnology, environment energy and financial-related venture companies.

"Brokerage and Investment Banking Business" primarily consists of financial businesses, such as trustee of securities trading, underwriting and offering for sale of IPO shares, offering for subscription or sale of stocks, foreign currency spot contracts, and other financial instrument trading business.

"Financial Services Business" primarily consists of financial-related businesses, such as property and casualty insurance business, credit card business and the provision of information regarding financial products.

"Housing and Real Estate Business" primarily consists of developing and trading of investment property, financing business related to the granting of mortgage loans, operating web sites related to the provision of intermediate service, comparison and real estate appraisal service.

2. Measurement of reportable segment profits or losses and segment assets

The accounting treatment of reportable segments is same as adopted in preparation of consolidated financial statements.

The segment income is based on operating income. The inter-segment revenue and amounts of transferring to other accounts are based on market price.

XXV. EVENTS AFTER THE REPORTING PERIOD

Stock split, adoption of share unit system and partial amendment to the articles of incorporation

At the Company's 14th business year's shareholders meeting held on 28 June 2012, the adoption of share unit system and partial amendment to the articles of incorporation was resolved.

In addition, at the board of directors' meeting held on 26 April 2012, the implementation of stock split was resolved subject to the above shareholder's approval on partial amendment to the articles of incorporation.

1. The purpose of stock split, adoption of share unit system and partial amendment to the articles of incorporation

Based on the requests from the Japanese Stock Exchanges Conference to define the trading unit at 100 or 1,000 shares, the Company determined to adopt a share unit system and prescribed the share unit as 100 shares.

Since the Tokyo Stock Exchange set the preferable range of investment unit as ¥50,000 or more and less than ¥500,000 in accordance with the article 445 of the listing rule, the Company determined to conduct a 1 for 10 stock split to meet the aforementioned range considering the recent stock price.

2. The outline of stock split

Stock split will be conducted at the rate of 10 shares for each outstanding share based on the shareholders registered as at 30 September 2012.

3. The adoption of share unit system

Share unit will be prescribed as 100 shares.

The adoption of share unit and stock split would result in holders of shares less than a unit. The Company will establish a system to enable shareholders less than one share to demand the Company to purchase their shares less than one unit or to sell the shares to make the shares to a unit effective from on or after 1 October 2012.

4. The effective date of stock split and the adoption of share unit

The effective date of stock split and the adoption of share unit will be at 1 October 2012

If the above stock split was conducted at the beginning of the year ended 31 March 2011, the per-share information for the year ended 31 March 2011 and 2012 would have been as follows:

Notes:

- (1) Average interest rates were calculated using the weighted-average interest rate based on year-end borrowing balances.
- (2) Average interest rate on lease obligation is not stated since the part of lease obligation on balance sheet includes interest portion of minimum lease payments.
- (3) Annual maturities of long-term loans payable and lease obligation, excluding current-portion, as at 31 March 2012 for the next five years are as follows:

| | 1 to 2 years (millions of Yen) | 2 to 3 years (millions of Yen) | 3 to 4 years (millions of Yen) | 4 to 5 years (millions of Yen) |
|----------------------------------|---------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| Long-term loans payable. | 2,936 | 6,161 | 6,970 | 697 |
| Lease obligation | 1,784 | 1,447 | 812 | 137 |

3. Supplementary schedules of asset retirement obligation

As the amounts of the asset retirement obligation as at 31 March 2011 and 2012 were less than 1% of total liabilities and net assets, the breakdown of the asset retirement obligation was omitted in accordance with article 92-2 of Consolidated Financial Statements Rule.

A3. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL DIFFERENCES BETWEEN INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“IFRS”) AND ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES GENERALLY ACCEPTED IN JAPAN (“JGAAP”)

The Consolidated Financial Statements of the Group are prepared in accordance with JGAAP which differs in certain aspects from IFRS. For the purpose of this summary, JGAAP refer to the accounting policies applied by the Group in preparing the underlying consolidated financial statements in accordance with the prevailing JGAAP for the year ended 31 March 2012. IFRS refers to IFRSs, IASs, IFRICs and SICs that are effective for annual financial period beginning on or after 1 April 2011.

This summary is not intended to provide the effect on the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Group under IFRS 1 First-time Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards. Part (1) of this summary provides information about the GAAP differences that, in the opinion of the directors, would have a material effect on recognition and measurement of the Group. Part (2) of this summary identifies the key areas how JGAAP consolidated financial statements of the Group differ from IFRS in respect of classification, presentation and disclosure requirements. For classification, presentation and disclosure issues relating to recognition and measurement differences already covered in the Part (1), such items are not included in Part (2). In addition, Part (2) does not cover disclosure made under JGAAP which is not required under IFRS. Instead, it focuses on disclosure which is required under IFRS that is not included in the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Group.

Part (1)

This summary provides information about the GAAP differences that, in the opinion of the directors of the Company, would have a material effect on total assets, total liabilities, total equity and total comprehensive income (loss) of the Group.

Material quantifiable GAAP differences are summarized as follows:

(Amounts in millions of Japanese Yen, rounded down to the nearest million unless otherwise stated)

(i) Consolidation — small size entities

Under IFRS, a subsidiary or fund that is controlled by its parent should be consolidated in the parent's consolidated financial statements.

Under JGAAP, an entity that is controlled by its parent is, in principle, consolidated in the parent's consolidated financial statements. There is a specific exemption which allows small size entities to be excluded from consolidation. When meeting the specific exemption, the Group recognizes and measures the small size entities using equity method or at cost less impairment, if any or at the Group's proportionate share in the equity of those entities.

As at 31 March 2011 and 2012, there were 56 and 45 small size entities controlled by the Group, respectively. The Group has quantified the effect of consolidating these small size entities under IFRS.

(ii) Consolidation — venture capital investments

Under IFRS, a subsidiary or fund that is controlled by its parent should be consolidated in the parent's consolidated financial statements.

Under JGAAP, investments must be excluded from consolidation if such investments are held by investment companies and certain conditions have been satisfied. Such investments should be measured at cost less impairment, if any.

As at March 31 2011 and 2012, there were 13 and 13 investee companies which the Group owned more than 50% equity interests that had been excluded from consolidation under JGAAP. The Group has quantified the effect of consolidating these venture capital investments under IFRS.

(iii) Business combination — identifiable intangible assets

Under IFRS, the acquirer is required to recognize, separately from goodwill, the identifiable intangible assets acquired in a business combination at fair value on the acquisition date. An asset meets the identifiability criteria if it is either separable or arises from contractual or other legal rights.

Under JGAAP, part of the purchase price may be allocated to intangible assets which either arise from contractual or other legal rights, or are capable of being separated and sold. The Group has not recognized any intangible assets separately from goodwill.

Effective from 1 April 2010, there is no major GAAP difference between IFRS and JGAAP on "business combination — identifiable intangible assets" since the Group has adopted new accounting policies for business combination prospectively. The Group has quantified the GAAP difference in respect of business combinations occurred during the year ended 31 March 2010 and the cumulative effect of the GAAP differences prior to 1 April 2010 has been carried forward.

(iv) Changes in parent's ownership interest in subsidiaries

Under IFRS, changes in a parent's ownership interests in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions. No goodwill, nor gain or loss is recognized.

Under JGAAP, acquisition of additional interests in a subsidiary gives rise to recognition of additional goodwill which is measured as the excess of the purchase consideration over the carrying amount of the net assets acquired. Disposal of partial interests in a subsidiary gives rise to a gain or loss which is measured as the difference between the proceeds received and the carrying amount of the net assets attributable to interests being disposed of.

Goodwill recognized upon acquisition of additional interests in subsidiaries are eliminated and adjusted to equity under IFRS. Gain or loss recognized upon disposal of partial interests under JGAAP are reversed and adjusted to equity under IFRS.

(v) Business combination — step acquisition

Under IFRS, for a business combination achieved in stages, the acquirer should remeasure its previously held equity interests in the acquiree at its acquisition-date fair value and recognize any resulting gain or loss. Goodwill is measured at the acquisition date as the difference between (1) the aggregate of the acquisition date fair value of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the entity acquired and the acquisition-date fair value of any previously held equity interests in the entity acquired and (2) the net amount of the acquisition-date fair value of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed.

Under JGAAP, when a parent obtains control over a subsidiary by step acquisition, goodwill is measured on the date the parent obtains control as the difference between (1) the aggregate carrying amount of any previously held equity interests and the purchase consideration and (2) the net amount of the fair value of assets and the liabilities attributable to the parent on the date the parent obtains control.

Effective from 1 April 2010, there is no major GAAP difference between IFRS and JGAAP on “business combination — step acquisition” since the Group has adopted new accounting policies for business combination prospectively. The Group has quantified the GAAP difference in respect of business combinations occurred during the year ended 31 March 2010 and the cumulative effect of the GAAP differences prior to April 2010 has been carried forward.

(vi) Business combination - goodwill

Under IFRS, goodwill is not amortized but is subject to annual impairment test. Goodwill is reviewed for impairment at least annually at the same time each year and whenever there is an impairment indication. When the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (“CGU”) containing goodwill (the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use of that CGU) is less than the carrying amount of that CGU, an impairment loss is recognized as the excess of the carrying amount over the recoverable amount. Reversal of previous impairment of goodwill is prohibited.

Under JGAAP, goodwill is amortized over a period of not more than 20 years using the straight-line method. Goodwill is not reviewed for impairment unless there is an indication of impairment. If an indication of impairment has been identified, the impairment loss is measured using a two-step approach. First, the entity should compare the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to be generated by the CGU and the disposal value of the assets within that CGU. Second, if the amount of the sum of undiscounted cash flows and disposal value of the CGU is less than the carrying amount of the CGU, an impairment loss should be recognized. The amount of impairment loss should be the excess of the carrying amount of the CGU over the discounted cash flows that are expected to be generated from the CGU and disposal value of CGU within that disposal group.

The amortization of goodwill recognized under JGAAP is reversed under IFRS and the total goodwill balance is tested for impairment on an annual basis. Impairment loss is recognized as the excess of the carrying amount over the recoverable amount.

(vii) Non-fair valued available-for-sale investments

Under IFRS, available-for-sale equity investments are measured at fair value with fair value gains/losses recognized as other comprehensive income unless the fair value cannot be measured reliably, i.e. under the circumstances that (a) the variability in the range of reasonable fair value estimates is significant or (b) the probabilities of the various estimates within the range cannot be reasonably assessed in estimating fair value. In such cases, the available-for-sale equity investments are stated at cost less impairment. Available-for-sale debt investments are measured at fair value with fair value gains/losses recognized as other comprehensive income.

Available-for-sale investments (including those stated at fair value and at cost less impairment) are impaired when there is an objective evidence of impairment. For available-for-sale equity investments stated at cost, the amount of impairment loss is the difference between the carrying amount of the available-for-sale investments and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset.

Impairment loss on available-for-sale equity investments measured at fair value will be recognized in profit or loss. An increase in fair value subsequent to impairment loss is recognized directly in other comprehensive income. Impairment loss on available for sale equity investments measured at cost are not reversed in subsequent periods. For available for sale debt investments, if, the amount of impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognized, the previously recognized impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed what the amortized cost would have been had the impairment not be recognized.

Under JGAAP, available-for-sale equity investments with quoted market price are measured at fair value. Available-for-sale equity investments that do not have quoted market prices are stated at cost less impairment. For available-for-sale debt investments, JGAAP requires an entity to measure them at fair value including those investments that do not have quoted market price. JGAAP allows using the appraisal price or brokerage/indicative price to measure the fair value of these investments if they do not have quoted market prices. However, in exceptional circumstances where there are practical difficulties to fair value such investments, for example, the cost of estimating the fair value is weighted over the benefit to the users of the financial statements, the management can justify stating these debt investments at cost less impairment, if any. Impairment loss is recognized in profit or loss when the fair value declines significantly and cannot be reversed for equity securities.

As at 31 March 2011 and 2012, the Group has investments in 305 and 215 non-fair valued entities with less than 20% interests including those held by subsidiaries with carrying amounts of ¥28,828 million and ¥32,445 million that would need to be measured at fair value under IFRS, respectively. Prior to the year ended 31 March 2011, the Group was not able to quantify, on practical grounds, the difference arising from different accounting treatment by JGAAP and IFRS for these non-fair valued investments. The reason was that there was limitation to assess whether fair value of these investments can be reliably measured or not as these investee entities do not necessarily provide the relevant financial information to the Group which enables the Group to carry out a proper valuation. Therefore, the Group experienced practical difficulties to quantify the financial effects of these non-fair valued investments under IFRS. The Group has adjusted its financial reporting system to allow the disclosure of the financial effect for this item starting from 31 March 2011. The Group has quantified the GAAP difference for their non-fair valued available-for-sale investments as at 31 March 2011 and 2012 in accordance with the Group policies which are comparable to the International Private Equity and Venture Capital Valuation Guidelines. Since the Group found it impractical to retrospectively quantify the difference as at 31 March 2010, the GAAP difference quantified as at 31 March 2011 is presented in "Total assets, equity and comprehensive income (loss) for the year as adjusted for the above material quantifiable effects".

(viii) Investments in associates/affiliates

Under IFRS, investments in associates should be accounted for using the equity method, except for investments in associates held by venture capital organizations or mutual funds, unit trusts and similar entities that upon initial recognition, are designated as at fair value through profit or loss in accordance with the requirements of IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement.

Under JGAAP, investments in affiliates (equivalent to investments in associates under IFRS) are, in principle, accounted for using equity method. There is a specific exemption which allows small size entities under significant influence of the investor to be excluded from application of equity method and such investments are measured at cost less impairment. Investments under significant influence of the Group must be excluded from equity accounting if such investments are held by investment companies and certain conditions have been satisfied. The Group recognizes all such investments held by investment companies at cost less impairment, if any.

As at 31 March 2011 and 2012, the Group invested in approximately 65 and 52 entities over which it was able to exercise significant influence. The Group has quantified the effect resulting from equity accounting of these investments in associates/affiliates under IFRS.

(ix) Statutory reserve

Under IFRS, a provision should be recognized when the Group has a present obligation as a result of a past event, and it is probable that there will be an outflow of economic benefits and the amount can be reliably estimated. A provision should only be made to the extent an obligation arose from past event.

Under JGAAP, statutory liability reserve is provided for possible losses resulting from execution errors made by the Group and is recognized as an expense in accordance with Article 46-5 of the Japanese Financial Instruments and Exchange Act.

The statutory liability reserve recognized under JGAAP does not meet the recognition criteria for provision under IFRS and therefore the amount is reversed. Since it is a legal requirement in Japan, the statutory reserve required is recognized under IFRS within equity.

(x) Deferred charges

Under IFRS, deferral of operating costs is prohibited. The operating costs should be recognized as expenses immediately when incurred.

Under JGAAP, a newly established insurance company is allowed to defer its operating costs incurred within the first 5 years after its establishment. The deferred operating costs can be amortized within 10 years according to Section 113 of the Insurance Business Act of Japan.

The deferred operating costs under JGAAP are derecognized and expensed as incurred under IFRS.

(xi) Securitization

Under IFRS, a financial asset is derecognized, when, and only when, either the contractual rights to the asset's cash flows expire, or the asset is transferred and the transfer qualifies for derecognition. The decision whether a transfer qualifies for derecognition is made by applying a combination of risks and rewards and control tests. The risks and rewards tests seek to establish whether, having transferred a financial asset, the entity continues to be exposed to the risks of ownership of that asset and/or continues to enjoy the benefits that it generates. The control tests are designed with a view to understand which entity controls the asset, i.e. which entity can direct how the benefits of that asset are realized.

Under JGAAP, financial assets are derecognized based on the financial component approach when control is transferred to a third party. Financial assets are derecognized when the contractual rights of the financial assets are exercised, when those rights are lost, or when the control of those rights has been passed to other parties.

Certain derecognized mortgage loans upon securitization under JGAAP which do not meet the derecognition criteria under IFRS were reversed and the corresponding borrowings are recognized.

(xii) Deferred tax

Deferred tax should be recognized for additional temporary differences resulting from the GAAP differences described as per notes (i) to (xi) above.

Additional deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are recognized under IFRS.

Part (2)

This summary identifies, in the opinion of the directors of the Company, the key areas how the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Group differs from IFRS in respect of classification, presentation and disclosure requirements.

A. PRIMARY STATEMENTS

1. Consolidated statement of financial position/consolidated balance sheet

Under IFRS, the financial position of an entity (together with subsidiaries) is presented in the consolidated statement of financial position.

Under JGAAP, the financial position of an entity (together with subsidiaries) is presented in the consolidated balance sheet. The content of a consolidated statement of financial position and consolidated balance sheet is similar except for the differences set out below.

(i) Line items to be presented in the consolidated statement of financial position

Under IFRS, the consolidated statement of financial position should include, among others, a separate line item that presents the amount of investment property.

Under JGAAP, investment property is included in the line item of property and equipment in the consolidated balance sheet.

(ii) Allowance for impaired assets

Under IFRS, the net carrying amount of each significant category of receivables (gross receivables less allowances for impairment) is presented on the consolidated statement of financial position. The amount of allowances for impairment is disclosed in the notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Under JGAAP, gross amounts of each category of receivables and total amount of allowances for impaired assets, including all classes of receivables, are separately presented on the consolidated balance sheet.

(iii) Insurance contracts

Under IFRS, an insurer should not offset reinsurance assets against the related insurance liabilities.

Under JGAAP, the reinsurance assets and the related insurance liabilities are presented in accordance with the Insurance Business Act. The unearned premium reserves is shown as net amount and the reserves for outstanding losses and claims (insurance liabilities) are netted off with the reinsurer's share of outstanding losses (corresponding reinsurance assets) and are included in the "current liabilities — others" in the consolidated balance sheet.

(iv) Deferred tax

Under IFRS, deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current on the consolidated statement of financial position.

Under JGAAP, deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as current or non-current based on the classification of the related assets and liabilities. A deferred tax asset related to tax loss carry forward, which is not related to specific assets and liabilities, is classified as current or non-current depending on the timeframe of the expected utilization.

2. Consolidated statement of operations/comprehensive income

(i) Items of gains or losses

Under IFRS, gains or losses from sales of investments held for trading purpose should be presented on a net basis.

Under JGAAP, the Group presents gross sales proceeds from sales of operational investment securities as “Net sales” and the carrying amounts of the operational investment securities as “Cost of sales”.

(ii) Non-controlling interests/minority interests

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose separately profit or loss and total comprehensive income for the period attributable to owners of the parent and non-controlling interests.

Under JGAAP, profit or loss attributable to non-controlling interests is presented as a deduction from income (loss) for the period after tax in the consolidated statement of operations. Starting with consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2011, the Group adopted, prospectively, JGAAP's new accounting standard for presenting total comprehensive income for the period attributable to owners of the parent and non-controlling interests.

However, there still remains GAAP difference between IFRS and JGAAP on the presentation of profit or loss attributable to owners of the parent and non-controlling interests.

(iii) Extraordinary items

Under IFRS, the presentation of extraordinary items on the consolidated income statement, consolidated statement of comprehensive income or in the notes to the consolidated financial statements is prohibited.

Under JGAAP, extraordinary income or expense is required to be disclosed on the consolidated statement of operations. Extraordinary income or expense includes non-recurring items.

(iv) Earnings per share

Under IFRS, an entity should present basic and diluted earnings per share on the face of the consolidated income statement or the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, as appropriate. Other information, including the numerator and denominator used for the purposes of calculating basic and diluted earnings per share is disclosed in the notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Under JGAAP, basic and diluted earnings per share and other information for the purposes of calculating earnings per share is disclosed in the notes.

3. Consolidated statement of changes in equity/ consolidated statement of changes in net assets

(i) Reconciliation of changes in equity/changes in net assets

Under IFRS, an entity should present a reconciliation between the carrying amount at the beginning and the end of the period for each component of equity including the effect of retrospective adjustments, if any.

Under JGAAP, reconciliation between the carrying amount at the beginning and the end of the period for each component of shareholders' equity and each component of valuation and translation adjustments are presented in the consolidated statement of changes in net assets. While the small size entities controlled by its parent are excluded from consolidation when meeting the specific exemption, such small size entities are required to be consolidated if they no longer meet the exemption. The effect to shareholders' equity resulting from the inclusion and exclusion of these entities are reported as adjustments.

4. Consolidated statement of cash flows

(i) Investments in subsidiaries

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose the aggregate cash flows arising from obtaining or losing control of subsidiaries or other businesses and classify such cash flows as investing activities. An entity should disclose each of the following, in aggregate, in respect of both obtaining and losing control of subsidiaries or other businesses during the period:

- (a) the total purchase or disposal consideration paid or received;
- (b) the portion of the purchase or disposal consideration discharged by means of cash and cash equivalents;
- (c) the amount of cash and cash equivalents in the subsidiaries or other businesses acquired or disposed of over which control is obtained or lost; and
- (d) the amount of the assets and liabilities other than cash or cash equivalents in the subsidiaries or other businesses acquired or disposed of over which control is obtained or lost, summarized by each major category.

Under JGAAP, there is no specific requirement in relation to disclosure of cash flow effects of obtaining or losing control of subsidiaries set out in (a) to (d) above.

(ii) Changes in ownership interests in subsidiaries

Under IFRS, cash flows arising from changes in ownership interests in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control should be classified as cash flows from financing activities.

Under JGAAP, an entity classifies its cash flows arising from changes in ownership interests in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control as cash flows from investing activities.

While the small size entities controlled by its parent are excluded from consolidation when meeting the specific exemption, such small size entities are required to be consolidated if they no longer meet the exemption. The cash flow effect resulting from the inclusion and exclusion of these entities are reported as adjustment to cash and cash equivalents.

B. NOTES DISCLOSURE

(i) Business combinations

Both IFRS and JGAAP require disclosure that enables users to understand the effect of a business combination, including the name and a description of the acquiree, acquisition date, percentage of voting power acquired, reason for the business combination, acquisition related costs, fair value of consideration transferred, certain information about assets acquired and liabilities assumed and amount of goodwill recognized. Such disclosure should be presented for each material business combination transaction.

Under IFRS, the following additional disclosure is required for each material business combination:

- a qualitative description of the factors that make up the goodwill recognized
- the acquisition-date fair value of each major class of consideration, such as:
 - (a) cash;
 - (b) other tangible or intangible assets, including a business or subsidiary of the acquirer;
 - (c) liabilities incurred, for example, a liability for contingent consideration; and
 - (d) equity interests of the acquirer, including the number of instruments or interests issued or issuable and the method of determining the fair value of those instruments or interests.
- amount and description for contingent consideration arrangements and indemnification assets
- fair value and contractual amount of major category of receivables of the acquiree
- amount of non-controlling interest and the measurement basis

Under JGAAP, total amounts of current assets, current liabilities, non-current assets and non-current liabilities are disclosed.

(ii) Goodwill

Under IFRS, the entity should disclose a reconciliation of the carrying amount of goodwill showing separately:

- (i) the gross amount and accumulated impairment losses at the beginning of the reporting period;
- (ii) additional goodwill recognized during the reporting period (except those included in a disposal group);
- (iii) adjustments resulting from the subsequent recognition of deferred tax assets during the reporting period;
- (iv) goodwill included in a disposal group and goodwill derecognized during the reporting period without having previously been included in a disposal group;
- (v) impairment losses recognized during the reporting period;
- (vi) net exchange rate differences arising during the reporting period;
- (vii) any other changes in the carrying amount during the reporting period; and
- (viii) the gross amount and accumulated impairment losses at the end of the reporting period.

Under JGAAP, an entity should disclose the amortization period and method of goodwill. There is no other disclosure requirement.

(iii) Capital Management

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose information that enables users of its financial statements to evaluate the Group's objectives, policies and processes for managing capital, which include qualitative information about its objectives, policies and processes for managing capital, summary quantitative data about what it manages as capital, any changes in the qualitative information and summary quantitative data from the previous period and whether during the period it complied with any externally imposed capital requirements to which it is subject to.

Under JGAAP, there is no such disclosure requirement.

(iv) Property and equipment and intangible assets

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose, for each class of property and equipment, (i) the gross carrying amount and the accumulated depreciation and amortization (aggregated with accumulated impairment losses) at the beginning and end of the period and (ii) a reconciliation of the carrying amount at the beginning and end of the period showing additions, impairment, depreciation and any other changes separately.

For each class of intangible assets, the Group should disclose the gross carrying amount and any accumulated amortization (aggregated with accumulated impairment losses) at the beginning and end of the period, a reconciliation of the carrying amount at the beginning and end of the period, a description, the carrying amount and remaining amortization period of any individual intangible asset that is material to the financial statements of the Group and the existence and carrying amounts of intangible assets whose title is restricted.

Under JGAAP, the above disclosures are not required to be disclosed in the consolidated financial statements. A reconciliation of the carrying amounts of property and equipment and intangible assets at the beginning and end of the period of the Company are required to be disclosed.

(v) Financial instruments

(a) Classification of financial instruments

IFRS (IAS39) requires disclosure by the class of financial instruments. Financial instruments are classified into financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (including held for trading and designated upon initial recognition), held-to-maturity investments, loans and receivables and available-for-sale financial assets. Financial liabilities are classified into financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (including held for trading and designated upon initial recognition) and financial liabilities measured at amortized cost. An entity should group financial instruments into the above classes that are appropriate to the nature of the information disclosed and after taking into account the characteristics of those financial instruments and provide sufficient information to permit reconciliation of the amounts under each class of financial assets and financial liabilities to the line items presented in the consolidated statement of financial position.

Under JGAAP, investment securities are classified as trading assets or securities other than for trading purpose (available for sale securities). Information about acquisition costs and fair value (if any) of investment securities is provided. Trading assets are presented in the consolidated balance sheet as a separate line item. Securities other than for trading purpose are presented in the consolidated balance sheet as operational investment securities, short-term investment securities and investment securities.

(b) Fair value

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose the fair value of each class of financial assets and liabilities in a way that permits it to be compared with its carrying amount. In addition, an entity should disclose for each class of financial instruments the methods and, when a valuation technique is used, the assumptions applied in determining the fair values of each class of financial assets or financial liabilities.

Under IFRS, for financial instruments measured at fair value, an entity should classify those financial instruments using a 3-level fair value hierarchy and disclose such information for each class of financial instruments measured at fair value.

Under JGAAP, securities with quoted prices are measured at fair value. Fair value information of all financial assets and liabilities as at March 31, 2011 and 2012 (other than the assets and liabilities which cannot be measured at fair value due to difficulty of determining fair value) is provided.

Under JGAAP, there is no requirement to classify financial instruments measured at fair value under a 3-level fair value hierarchy or to disclose the valuation methods, valuation technique and the assumptions used.

(c) Nature and extent of risks arising from financial instruments

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose both qualitative and quantitative information in respect of each type of risk arising from financial instruments, including credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk (currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk). Such disclosure includes, among others, maximum credit risk exposure, maturity analysis of financial instruments, and sensitivity analysis for each type of market risk to which the Group is exposed to at the end of the reporting period.

Under JGAAP, limited disclosure for the years ended March 31, 2011 and 2012 is provided.

(d) Items of income, expenses, gains or losses

Under IFRS, the Group should disclose net gains or net losses, total interest income and total interest expenses for each class of financial instruments that are not measured at fair value through profit or loss.

Under JGAAP, there is no such disclosure requirement.

(e) Derivative contracts

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose the remaining contractual maturities for those derivatives financial liabilities for which contractual maturities are essential for an understanding of the timing of the cash flows.

Under JGAAP, there is no such disclosure requirement.

(f) Impairment

Under IFRS, when financial assets are impaired by credit losses and an entity records the impairment in a separate account rather than directly reducing the carrying amount of the asset, it needs to disclose a reconciliation of changes in that account during the period for each class of financial assets.

Under JGAAP, no such disclosure is required for the consolidated financial statements of the Group. These disclosures are only applicable to the Company's financial statements.

(g) Credit risk

Under IFRS, an entity shall disclose the information about the credit quality of financial assets that are neither past due nor impaired and an analysis of the age of financial assets that are past due as at the end of the reporting period but not impaired

There exists no relevant requirement under J-GAAP.

(vi) Income taxes

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose the aggregate current and deferred tax relating to items that are charged or credited directly to equity, an explanation of the relationship between tax expense and accounting profit using either a numerical reconciliation (i) between tax expense (income) and the product of accounting profit multiplied by the applicable tax rate or (ii) between average effective tax rate and the applicable tax rate. It should also disclose the basis on which the applicable tax rate is computed; an explanation of changes in the applicable tax rate; and the amount of deductible temporary differences, unused tax losses, and unused tax credits for which no deferred tax asset is recognized.

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose the amount of the deferred tax assets and liabilities recognized in respect of each type of temporary differences, and in respect of each type of unused tax losses and unused tax credits.

Under JGAAP, an entity is required to disclose a reconciliation between the normal effective statutory tax rate and the actual effective tax rate, and the major components of deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities.

(vii) Revenue

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose the amount of each significant category of revenue recognized during the period, including revenue arising from the sale of goods, rendering of services, interest, royalties and dividends.

Under JGAAP, there is no specific guidance on disclosure requirements. However, the amount of sale of goods and the rendering of services are required to be disclosed separately and the details of revenue are disclosed in the notes if the amounts are material. The components of revenue are disclosed in the statements of operations.

(viii) Leases

Under IFRS, for finance leases, a lessor should disclose a reconciliation between the gross investment in the lease at the end of the reporting period and the present value of minimum lease payments receivable at the end of the reporting period. In addition, it should disclose the gross investment in the lease and the present value of the minimum lease payments receivable at the end of the reporting period, for period not later than one year, later than one year and not later than five years and later than five years.

Under JGAAP, an entity provides similar disclosure as required under IFRS except that it should disclose the gross investment in the lease and the present value of minimum lease payments receivable at the end of the reporting period for each of the first five years and after five years.

Under IFRS, for finance leases, a lessee should disclose a reconciliation between the total of future minimum lease payments and their present value and the total of future minimum lease payments at the end of the reporting period, and their present value, for period not later than one year, later than one year and not later than five years and later than five years.

A lessor should disclose a reconciliation between the gross investment in the lease and the present value of minimum lease payments receivable at the end of the reporting period, unearned finance income, and the gross investment in the lease and the present value of minimum lease payments receivable at the end of the reporting period, for period not later than one year, later than one year and not later than five years and later than five years.

Under JGAAP, there is no such disclosure requirement.

(ix) Investment in associates/ affiliates

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose the summarized financial information of associates, including the aggregate amount of assets, liabilities, revenues and profit or loss and the investor's share of the profit or loss of associates accounted for using the equity method.

Under JGAAP, there is no such disclosure requirement.

(x) Investment in subsidiaries

Under IFRS, an entity should disclose the nature of relationship with its subsidiaries, a schedule that shows the effects of any changes in a parent's ownership interest in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control on the equity attributable to owners of the parent and the gain or loss when the entity lost the control of a subsidiary.

Under JGAAP, there is no such disclosure requirement.

(xi) Related Party Transactions

Under IFRS, all material related party transactions/balances should be disclosed.

Under JGAAP, related party transactions are required to be disclosed when the size of such transactions/balances reached a pre-determined benchmark by reference to the relevant line items on the consolidated statement of operations/consolidated balance sheet.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of
SBI Holdings, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of SBI Holdings, Inc. (the "Company") which comprise the balance sheet as at 31 March 2012, and the statements of operations and changes in net assets for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at 31 March 2012, and its financial performance for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The additional information in section B2 of the financial information is presented for the purpose of additional disclosure and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. This additional information is the responsibility of the Company's management. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, such information is fairly stated in all material respects when considered in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

I. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The Financial Statements of the SBI Holdings, Inc. (the “Company”) were prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan (“JGAAP”) and were presented by reference to the “Rules Governing Term, Form and Preparation of Financial Statements” (Finance Ministerial Order the 59th, 1963, which is hereinafter referred to as the “Financial Statements Rule”). The Financial Statements of the Company has been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain investments which are stated at fair value, the detail of which are listed below.

II. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Valuation method of securities

(a) Stocks of subsidiaries and affiliates

Stocks of subsidiaries and affiliates are stated at cost determined by the moving-average cost method.

(b) Available-for-sale securities (consist of investment securities and operational investment securities)

(i) Listed securities

Listed securities are measured at fair value, with fair value gains and losses, net of applicable taxes, reported as “unrealized gains (losses) on available-for-sale securities”, a separate component of net assets. The cost of securities sold is determined based on the moving-average cost method.

(ii) Unlisted securities

Unlisted securities are stated at cost less impairment, determined by the moving average cost method.

(c) Investments in funds

For the investments in funds which are categorized as subsidiaries and within the scope of consolidation, the Company’s proportionate share in the net assets of the funds is calculated based on the funds’ provisional financial statements as at the Company’s balance sheet date, and is presented as “Investments in other securities of subsidiaries and affiliates” (Non-current assets).

For the investments in funds which are categorized as subsidiaries but not within the scope of consolidation, the Company’s proportionate share in the net assets of the funds is calculated based on the funds’ annual financial statements or interim financial statements, and is presented in “Investments in other securities of subsidiaries and affiliates” (Non-current assets).

For the investments in funds which are not categorized as subsidiaries, the Company’s proportionate share in the net assets of the funds is calculated based on the funds’ annual financial statements or interim financial statements, and is presented as “Operational investments securities” (Current assets).

The Company’s proportionate share of the stocks of subsidiaries and affiliates which are held by the funds, is presented as “Stocks of subsidiaries and affiliates” (Non-current assets).

2. Valuation method of inventories

Real estate for sale

Real estate for sale is measured at the lower of cost or net realizable value.

3. Depreciation method of depreciable assets

(a) Property and equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed using the declining balance method over the estimated useful lives of assets while the straight-line method is applied to buildings. The range of useful lives is principally from 5 to 50 years for buildings, from 4 to 20 years for furniture and fixtures, and from 5 to 6 years for vehicles.

(b) Intangible assets

Intangible assets are amortized using the straight line method. Amortization of software used for internal purposes is computed using the straight line method over the estimated useful life of the software (5 years).

4. Deferred charges

(a) Stock issuance costs

Stock issuance costs are amortized over 3 years by using the straight-line method.

(b) Bond issuance costs

Bond issuance costs are amortized over the bond term by using straight-line method.

5. Recognition and measurement of significant provisions and allowances

(a) Allowance for investment losses

Allowance for investment losses for operational investment securities and investment securities are provided based on the estimated losses of the investment and the financial condition of the investees.

(b) Allowance for doubtful accounts

Allowance for doubtful accounts is provided based on the Company's past credit loss experience and an evaluation of the recoverability of the outstanding receivables including notes and accounts receivable-trade, and operational loans receivable.

6. Recognition of net sales and cost of sales

(a) Revenue and cost of operational investment securities

Revenue from operational investment securities consists of proceeds from the sales of operational investment securities and securities held by funds and interest and dividend income from these securities. Cost of operational investment securities consists of the cost of operational investment securities and securities held by funds, fee related to securities transaction and write down of operational investment securities and securities held by funds.

(b) Dividend income

Dividends from subsidiaries and affiliates are recorded as dividend income which is included in net sales in the statement of operations.

7. Translations of significant assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Japanese Yen using the exchange rates at the balance sheet date. The resulting translation gain or loss is recognized in income.

8. Accounting for significant hedging transactions

(a) Accounting for hedges

Foreign currency forward contracts are used to hedge foreign currency exposures and receivables, payables and investment securities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the contracted rates if the forward contracts are qualified for deferred hedge accounting.

(b) Hedging instruments and hedged item

(i) Hedging instruments

Foreign exchange forward contracts

(ii) Hedged item

Foreign currency-denominated receivables and payables.

There were no foreign currency forward contracts outstanding at the end of the year.

(c) Hedging policy

For foreign currency denominated transactions, the foreign currency forward contracts are used to hedge foreign currency exposures.

(d) Assessment of effectiveness between the hedging instruments and the hedged items

The Company does not assess hedge effectiveness of foreign exchange forward contracts which meet specific matching criteria and qualify for hedge accounting.

9. Other significant accounting policies for financial statements

(a) Accounting for investments in funds

For the investments in funds which are categorized as subsidiaries and within the scope of consolidation, the Company's proportionate share in the net assets and revenue/expenses of the funds are calculated based on the funds' provisional financial statements as at the Company's balance sheet date, and are presented in "Investments in other securities of subsidiaries and affiliates" (Non-current assets) and revenue/expenses respectively.

For the investments in funds categorized as subsidiaries but not within the scope of consolidation, the Company's proportionate share in the net assets and revenue/expenses of the funds is calculated based on the funds' annual financial statements or interim financial statements, and is presented in "Investments in other securities of subsidiaries and affiliates" (Non-current assets) and revenue/expenses respectively.

For the investments in funds which are not categorized as subsidiaries, the Company's proportionate share in the net assets and revenue/expenses of the funds is calculated based on the funds' annual financial statements or interim financial statements, and is presented as "Operational investments securities" (Current assets) and revenue/expenses respectively.

The Company's proportionate share for the stocks of subsidiaries and affiliates held by the funds, is presented as "Stocks of subsidiaries and affiliates" (Non-current assets), while the Company's proportionate share relating to the gains/losses from disposal of investment in subsidiaries and affiliates held by the funds, is presented as "Gains/losses on disposal of investment in subsidiaries and affiliates" (Extraordinary income/expense).

(b) Accounting for consumption taxes

The amounts in the financial statements are presented without consumption or local consumption taxes. Nondeductible consumption taxes are recorded as selling, general and administrative expenses.

III. CHANGES IN PRESENTATION

The following presentation changes are reflected on respective statement of operations:

"Commission fee" was included in "Others" line of "Non-operating expense" for the year ended 31 March 2011 and was separately presented for the year ended 31 March 2012, as the amount exceeds 10 percent of total amount of non-operating expenses. As a result, "Others" line of "Non-operating expenses" for the year ended 31 March 2011 of ¥512 million was reclassified into "Commission fee" of ¥457 million and "Others" of ¥54 million, respectively.

"Losses on retirements of non-current assets" and "Losses on valuation of investment securities", which were separately presented for the year ended 31 March 2011 was included in "Others" line of "Extraordinary expense" for the year ended 31 March 2012, as the amounts were less than 10 percent of total amount of extraordinary expense. IV. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Application of Accounting Standards for Accounting Changes and Error Collections

The Company has applied "Accounting Standard for Accounting Changes and Error Corrections" (ASBJ Statement No. 24 issued on 4 December 2009) and "Guidance on Accounting Standard for Accounting Changes and Error Corrections" (ASBJ Guidance No.24 issued on 4 December 2009) to the accounting changes and error corrections which have been made after 31 March 2011.

Stock Benefit Trust

At the board meeting held on 29 September 2011, the Directors of the Company resolved to introduce “Stock Benefit Trust (Employee Stockholding Association Purchase-type)” (hereinafter the “Plan” and the “Trust”).

The purpose of the Plan is to improve employees’ welfare and to increase their motivations for work and awareness of the Company’s stock performance through its steady provision of the stock to the employee stockholding association and distribution of the profit created by trust property management in order to increase the Company’s corporate value.

Accounting for the Trust is based upon the assumption that the Company and the Trust are inseparable. The Company’s stock held by the Trust is accounted for as treasury stock while the Trust’s assets and liabilities as well as its income and expenses are included in the Company’s financial statements. The number of the stocks held by the Trust is included in the number of treasury stock and not included in the number of shares outstanding for the calculation of per share information.

The number of treasury stock held by the Trust as at 31 March 2012 was 70,604 shares.

Adoption of the Consolidation Tax Fillings

The Company and certain subsidiaries made an application for the consolidation tax fillings to the tax authority in December 2011. The application was approved, and the consolidation tax fillings will be adopted from the fiscal year beginning on 1 April 2012. Preparing for the adoption, the financial statements for this fiscal year are presented in accordance with “Tentative Solution for the Deferred Tax Accounting on Application of Tax Consolidation (part 1)” (Practical Issues Task Force No.5, revised on 18 March 2011) and “Tentative Solution for the Deferred Tax Accounting on Application of Tax Consolidation (part 2)” (Practical Issues Task Force No.7, 30 June 2010).

XII. EVENTS AFTER THE REPORTING PERIOD

Stock split, adoption of share unit system and partial amendment to the articles of incorporation

At the Company's 14th business year's shareholders meeting held on 28 June 2012, the adoption of share unit system and partial amendment to the articles of incorporation were resolved.

In addition, at the board of directors' meeting held on 26 April 2012, the implementation of stock split was resolved subject to the above shareholder's approval on partial amendment to the articles of incorporation.

1. The purpose of stock split, adoption of share unit system and partial amendment to the articles of incorporation

Based on the requests from the Japanese Stock Exchanges Conference to define the trading unit at 100 or 1,000 shares, the Company determined to adopt a share unit system and prescribed the share unit as 100 shares.

Since the Tokyo Stock Exchange set the preferable range of investment unit as ¥50,000 or more and less than ¥500,000 in accordance with the article 445 of the listing rule, the Company determined to conduct a 1 for 10 stock split to meet the aforementioned range considering the recent stock price.

2. The outline of stock split

Stock split will be conducted at the rate of 10 shares for each outstanding share based on the shareholders registered as at 30 September 2012.

3. The adoption of share unit system

Share unit will be prescribed as 100 shares.

The adoption of share unit and stock split would result in holders of shares less than a unit. The Company will establish a system to enable shareholders less than one share to demand the Company to purchase their shares less than one unit or to sell the shares to make the shares to a unit effective from on or after 1 October 2012.

4. The effective date of stock split and the adoption of share unit

The effective date of stock split and the adoption of share unit will be at 1 October 2012. If the above stock split was conducted at the beginning of the year ended 31 March 2011, the per-share information for the year ended 31 March 2011 and 2012 would have been as follows:

| | Year ended 31 March | |
|------------------------------------|---------------------|-----------------|
| | 2011 | 2012 |
| | (Yen) | (Yen) |
| Net assets per share | 1,604.44 | 1,640.61 |
| Net income per share | 47.38 | 72.61 |
| Diluted net income per share | 47.33 | 72.60 |
