6. Chairman's Statement

2016 was an extraordinary year for China Huarong. The Company successfully implemented its “three steps in five years” plan and commenced the implementation of its new five-year (2016–2020) development strategy of innovation and transformation. It was also the year during which the Company closely followed the national development strategy, fully implemented the “13th Five-Year” development plan, and effectively supported and served the real economy. During the year, under the guidance of the MOF, PBOC and CBRC, together with social support and the joint efforts of our employees, China Huarong adhered to the key principle of “making progress while maintaining stability, achieving the success against challenges, transforming innovatively, growing moderately and prioritizing profitability” and conducted its operations innovatively, prudently and efficiently. Our operating results reached a record high with total assets exceeding RMB1 trillion for the first time. China Huarong was recognized as one of the “2016 Top 500 Enterprises in China” and “Top 500 Enterprises in China” by Fortune China Magazine. We continued to pursue sound growth and development by implementing the principles of “energetic development of the state-owned economy, maximizing the value of state-owned capital, and preserving and increasing the value of state-owned assets”.

Our operating results reached record highs, creating satisfactory returns for our Shareholders. In 2016, all operating indicators of China Huarong were sound and stable. Net profit of the Group amounted to RMB23.11 billion, representing an increase of 36.3% compared to 2015. Total assets of the Group as at the end of the year amounted to RMB1,411.97 billion, representing an increase of 62.9% compared to the end of 2015. Our total equity amounted to RMB150.08 billion, representing an increase of 26.3% compared to the end of 2015. Our ROAA, ROAE and earnings per share for 2016 were 2.0%, 18.4% and RMB0.50, respectively, creating satisfactory returns to our Shareholders.

We continued to enhance corporate governance and were enrolled in the three major stock indexes. In 2016, China Huarong made major and substantive progress in its effort to return to the A shares market, and the application materials of its A share listing application were accepted by the CSRC. “Adding the Finishing Touch and Set Sail — China Huarong’s Documentary on its H-share Listing”, which comprehensively summarized the experience of its H-share listing, was successfully published. As China Huarong (stock code: 2799) was enrolled into the Three Major Indexes, being the FTSE China 50, the Hang Seng China H-Financials Index and MSCI China, its international awareness and influence at home and abroad significantly improved, while its value and business development were highly recognized and positively evaluated by the Hong Kong capital market and international investors since its listing in Hong Kong.

We focused on strengthening our core business of distressed asset management, thereby contributing to the transformation and upgrade of the real economy. In 2016, China Huarong grasped market opportunities of “cutting overcapacity, destocking, deleveraging, reducing cost and shoring up weak growth areas” and “debt-to-equity swaps” in the structural reform of the supply side, strengthened our core business of distressed asset management, realized rapid growth in both revenue and business scale, and maintained its leading position in open-market acquisition of asset packages in terms of market share. We continued to optimize the acquisition and restructuring business and innovatively operated the reorganization business for distressed companies. We achieved good results in our asset-light businesses, such as securitization, establishment of funds and structuring, while new changes were made to structural adjustment and transformation promotion. We completed our five-year planning profit target for equity asset management ahead of schedule, and actively promoted participation in a new round of market oriented debt-to-equity swaps based on market principles and fund establishment.

6. Chairman's Statement

We continued to build the financial services platform in line with the national strategy, creating prominent advantages for comprehensive financial services. In 2016, by further leveraging our strengths in our core business of distressed assets management and our comprehensive financial services business. China Huarong actively kept in line with the national development strategy, enhanced the collaborative relationship with local governments and state-owned enterprises and integrated industry and finance through the establishment of multiple integrated financial services platforms. In line with several development strategies such as “the Belt and Road”, the establishments of free trade zones, the “Integration of Beijing, Tianjin and Hebei”, and the “Yangtze River Economic Belt”, to seek further growth, we established several subsidiaries, including Huarong Consumer Finance Co., Ltd. (華融消費金融股份有限公司), Huarong Jinshang Asset Management Co., Ltd. (華融晉商資產管理股份有限公司), Huarong Kunlun Qinghai Asset Management Co., Ltd. (華融崑崙青海資產管理股份有限公司), Huarong Innovation Investment Co., Ltd. (華融創新投資股份有限公司), Huarong Emerging Industry Investment Management Co., Ltd. (華融新興產業投資管理股份有限公司) and China Huarong (Macao) International Holdings Limited (中國華融(澳門)國際股份有限公司). As a result, we further improved our capability in providing comprehensive financial services.

We achieved significant milestones in developing into a “debt financing based AMC” and maintained bonds and notes issuance as a regular funding channel. In 2016, China Huarong was selected as a pilot enterprise for foreign debt scale management reform in 2016 by the NDRC and we took this opportunity to continually enhance our domestic and foreign debt issuances. We achieved new milestones in developing into a “debt financing based AMC” with the enhancement of our financing capability and further reduction of financing costs, which significantly enhanced liquidity management. In 2016, the Company domestic bonds issuances amounted to RMB35 billion and our foreign bonds issuances amounted to USD6 billion, which were over-subscribed by investors with positive evaluation. This represented the firm confidence of the international financial market on the development of the Chinese economy, China’s economic policy and the strength of the China Huarong brand.

We yielded fruitful results with our “core client strategy” and continued to enhance our internationalization process. In 2016, China Huarong further implemented its “core client strategy” by adhering to its position as “a professional asset management operator and an excellent integrated financial services provider”. Throughout the year, we entered into 15 new strategic cooperation agreements and added more than 3,000 new customers. As of the end of 2016, the total number of our customers reached nearly ten thousand and our customer structure was further optimized. With a goal of developing Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan, serving the Greater China, contributing to the national development strategy of “the Belt and Road” and making internal and external collaboration. China Huarong enhanced its expansion of international customers to speed up its internationalization progress through establishing long-term strategic and cooperative relationships with several overseas agencies.

Our risk management was significantly enhanced and our internal management and compliance management were enhanced continuously. In 2016, while maintaining steady growth in our operating results, China Huarong effectively applied the “five-five” risk management principles of “five early actions, five preventions, five remedies, five endeavors and five principles” and continued to implement comprehensive risk management, optimize group risk management structure and enhance internal management and compliance management. We built up a solid and effective “firewall”, “safety net” and “isolation strip” for risk management and continuously enhanced our ability to counteract risks. Our business operations have been running smoothly with risks under control. There were no significant project risks and liquidity risks. All risk indicators were in compliance with regulatory requirements.

6. Chairman's Statement

We continued to fulfill the social responsibilities of a PRC state-owned enterprise and continued to enhance our social influence and brand reputation. In 2016, China Huarong actively performed its social responsibilities and implemented the requirements of targeted poverty alleviation. During the year, we donated RMB6 million to targeted poverty alleviation projects, and provided more support to the development of old revolutionary base areas, ethnic minority areas, border areas and poverty-stricken areas, as well as donations to the poor. We were honored as “a good example for enterprise poverty alleviation in 2016” by the China Foundation for Poverty Alleviation, and we were selected to the feature in the Blue Book of Enterprise Poverty Alleviation (企業扶貧藍皮書) jointly issued by China Foundation for Poverty Alleviation and Chinese Academy of Social Sciences (CASS). China Huarong successfully organized a seminar on financial stability of the International Public AMC Forum (IPAF), which was highly praised by peers from Asian and European countries and regions. The Company was selected as one of the “2016 Top 500 Enterprises of China” and “2016 Top 500 Service Enterprises of China” by the China Enterprise Confederation and the China Enterprises Directors Association, as well as “Top 500 Enterprises in China” by Fortune China Magazine. The Company was also granted various recognitions and awards, such as the Chinese Financial Institution Gold Medal List — “Best AMC of the Year”, the “Best Listed Company” by the Sixth China Securities Golden Bauhinia Awards, “Top 500 Asian Brands” by the Eleventh Asia Brand Association and the title of “China AAA-level Credit Enterprise” by the China Enterprise Credit Evaluation Center. As a result, the Company's social influence and brand reputation reached new heights.

What's past is prologue. Looking back on 2016, taking our successful listing in Hong Kong as our new driving force and starting point, China Huarong achieved novel results and development in opening a new era of growth characterized by market orientation, diversity, comprehensiveness and globalization. Looking at 2017, to speed up the process of economic transformation and upgrading, China will fully deepen the structural reform of the supply side, which is expected to create significant opportunities for the development of the asset management industry. The mission and responsibility are profounding and significant for AMCs. Following the growth model of “innovation + prudence”, China Huarong will adhere to “making progress while maintaining stability, seeking development amidst the challenging environment, enhancing the quality and controlling the risk, creating synergetic development” in accordance with the requirements of state-owned enterprise reform of “good governance, incentive reinforcement, strong core business and efficiency improvement”. We will adhere to the strategy of “controlling our total output, fine-tuning our strategic structure, strengthening our core business, strengthening risk control, furthering classification and enhancing quality of services”, to take the strategic advantage of distressed asset management and leveraging the advantage of our comprehensive financial services under our “one body, two wings” framework, and to focus on the development of our core business of distressed asset management and operation, and strengthen our internal control and risk management. We will expand, consolidate and optimize our business, enhance quality, efficiency and competitiveness to grow ourselves as a first-class AMC. We will effectively support real economic development with improved operating results and superior financial services. We will continue to create value to the nation, society, Shareholders, customers and employees.

China Huarong's future will be even brighter.

China Huarong

7. President's Statement

2016 is the first full fiscal year after China Huarong was listed in Hong Kong and also the year in which we launched our new five-year development strategy of innovation and transformation. For the past year, under the leadership of the management of the Company, the Group practically implemented the strategic decisions of the Board and proactively followed the supervision guidance by regulatory authorities, seized opportunities from economic restructuring and industrial transformation and upgrading, took full advantage of the counter-cyclical feature of our business to continually improve our capability of management of distressed assets and integrated financial services, and effectively strengthened our risk control to manage all challenges, thereby achieving new operating results at the beginning of the new five-year development strategy.

Our asset size and profitability were continually enlarged and strengthened. In 2016, the business development and execution capability of all our business units continually improved. The total assets of the distressed asset management business as at the end of the year reached RMB628.71 billion, representing an increase of 71.8% compared with the end of 2015, and the total income from the distressed asset management business amounted to RMB50.70 billion, contributing to more than 50% of total income, which further reflected the advantages of our core business. The total assets of our financial services business as at the end of the year reached RMB515.15 billion, representing an increase of 39.1% compared with 2015, and total income from financial services amounted to RMB24.45 billion, representing an increase of 4.2%, compared with 2015. The total assets of our asset management and investment business as at the end of the year reached RMB302.72 billion, representing an increase of 118.6% compared with 2015, and total income from the asset management and investment business amounted to RMB21.70 billion, representing an increase of 80.8%, compared with 2015. All of our three major business segments achieved synergistic development and rapid growth.

Asset size and revenue of our distressed debt asset management business reached a record high. In 2016, we seized the favorable opportunities of the increasing supply in the distressed asset market to further reinforce the expansion of our distressed asset management business, our core business. Our revenue from the distressed asset management business, and the asset size of our distressed assets as a proportion of the industry reached a record high. In 2016, profit before tax of our distressed asset business amounted to RMB15.89 billion, representing an increase of 33.1% compared with 2015, among which, new investments in our distressed asset management business were RMB348.02 billion, representing an increase of 55.1% compared with 2015, the scale of new investments in the acquisition-and-disposal model increased 83.8% compared with 2015. New investments in the acquisition-and-restructuring model were RMB241.35 billion, and our revenue reached RMB28.51 billion during the year. The revenue from assets of debt-to-equity swap(s) amounted to RMB3.14 billion in the year.

We continuously improved our organizational structure and financial services portfolio. In 2016, in accordance with national development strategies, we persisted in serving the real economy and proactively promoted our "core client strategy", and effectively improved our ability and level of customer service through strengthening the institutional layout and implementing the policy of supporting key customers. We completed the institutional layout in the Tianjin and Fujian Free Trade Zones, and established institutional platforms by cooperating with local governments. We had a comprehensive plan to form valid business interconnections between institutions of Huarong based in Hong Kong and institutions in the Pearl River Delta region and we also established Huarong (Macau), an international subsidiary. Our international business platform achieved new progress. The proportion of our business in national key industries, such as environmental protection, healthcare, new energy and new material industries etc., as well as strategic emerging industries showed an upward trend. We supported the development of the real economy and pushed for mergers and restructuring and resource integration, which fully demonstrated our operating principle of "Following the Communist Party of China and the Government's Lead and Operating in Accordance with Market Rules".

Liquidity management became more prudent. In 2016, the total amount of corporate bonds issued, the frequency of bond issuances and the types of bonds issued by the Company all increased significantly, while financing costs effectively decreased, and we made new progress in developing into a "debt financing based AMC". The matching of the maturity of liabilities with assets of the Company was reasonable, and the pressure of repayment with liquidity assets was low in the short and/or medium term. The liquidity was in good condition.

Comprehensive risk management and internal control systems were continuously enhanced. In 2016, the Company continuously implemented comprehensive risk management, and risk management instruments such as risk appetite, risk limit management, authorization, classification of asset risks, and measurement of impairment of assets were effectively applied. The Group's risk management and control structure was further optimized, with a proper bottom line for risk appetite effectively set up, internal control system and process establishment were further intensified, and a comprehensive risk management system adapted to the "new normal" of the economy, regulatory authority's requirement and the Company's business development was initially formed. Various businesses were stably developed, and associated risks were controllable. The Company actively implemented the risk management concept, adjusted and optimized risk assessment focus and implemented risk management and control accountability at various levels. As a result, each risk control indicator meets regulatory requirement. The internal control system was further established, compliance risk management was further strengthened, an expert review system was implemented, and the Group's review and approval system was improved. The collateral management system was initially established at the Company's level, the development concept of "technology leading the future" was thoroughly implemented, and a series of key information technology projects were completed.

2017 is a critical year for implementing the "13th five-year plan" and a year for deepening the structural reform of the supply side. The development of the financial industry is subject to new challenges from domestic and international situations, and management will earnestly implement various decisions and deployments of the Board, work in a sturdy and innovative manner, set clear objectives and responsibility, improve execution, form more systemic, scientific and efficient strategic implementation mechanisms, strive to create new competitive advantages and more outstanding operation results, and contribute to developing a first-class AMC with "scientific governance, systematic management, excellent core business, integrated operation and outstanding results".

Chairman of the Board of Supervisors and
Deputy Party Secretary of China Huarong

8. Statement of Chairman of the Board of Supervisors

In 2016, in line with the new trends and requirements of the national macro-economic development, China Huarong closely adhered to the structural reform of the supply side, played a unique role of financial asset management companies in implementing the five initiatives of “cutting overcapacity, destocking, deleveraging, reducing cost and shoring up weak growth areas” and continuously raised the capability of services for the real economy. The asset size of the Company exceeded RMB1 trillion with its operating performance steadily enhanced. The Company enhanced its internal management constantly and emphasized on risk prevention, various regulatory indicators of which met the requirements. The Company was successfully recognized as one of the “Top 500 Enterprises of China in 2016” and China Huarong (stock code: 2799) was enrolled in the major indexes in the Hong Kong capital market, including the “FTSE China 50”, which further strengthened the growth quality, the development capacity and the international influence of the Company.

With the appropriate leadership of the Shareholders’ General Meetings and the support of all the Shareholders, the Board and the senior management of the Company, the Board of Supervisors, for the purpose of promoting the Company’s standardized operation, insisted on issue-oriented and result-oriented management, adhered to perform its duties in compliance with the law and dedicate itself to the work, actively enhanced its communication and coordination with external regulatory authorities, Shareholders, the Party committee, the Board of Directors, the senior management and the Company. With the focus on risk supervision and key tasks of special supervision, the Board of Supervisors focused on the implementation of the Company’s innovation and development strategies, the execution of the annual operation plan and the demand of standardized operation and steady growth upon listing, to implement various supervision activities in a practical, thorough and detailed way, and perform its supervision duties with independence, professionalism and effectiveness. The Board of Supervisors strengthened the institutionalization, standardization, process and refinement of its work, to fully execute its function of checks and balances in the corporate governance structure, to serve the transformation, to promote the development, and to earnestly protect the legitimate interests of the Company, Shareholders, employees and other stakeholders.

In 2017, the Company will, based on deepening reforms of China, carry forward the “Four Comprehensive Strategies”, insist on “Innovation + Prudence”, strengthen internal control and management, and firmly promote the “Ten Strategic Restructurings” to make new achievements. The Board of Supervisors will uphold the working philosophy of “to be aware of and to take responsibility” to make new efforts for the Company to achieve steady, healthy and sustainable development and to make new contributions to promote the Company to become stronger and better while continuously expanding the width and depth of its work, and improving pertinence, professionalism, timeliness and effectiveness by keeping abreast of time, innovation, overall perspective, grasping key points, and focusing on new situations and issues.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.1 Economic, Financial and Regulatory Environment

In 2016, unplanned and unexpected international political and economic events i.e. “black swan” events occurred frequently. The situation was intricate, and protectionism rose against globalization, international trade and investment, which caused various degrees of influence on the global market and the development of countries around the world. Under such restless circumstances, economic development trends for each country differed. Among others, the U.S. economy showed a clear sign of recovery and the U.S. dollar entered an interest rate hike cycle. European political disturbance occurred repeatedly, and the economies were still weighed down by debt problems. Japan’s weak economic growth showed no significant improvement, and Japan continued to adopt an easy monetary policy. The economies of some emerging-market countries began to stabilize, but they still faced adjustment and transition pressure.

2016 is the first year of China’s “13th Five-Year Plan”. Under the circumstances of deep global adjustment, China’s economic operation maintained within a reasonable range, and growth stability was enhanced with a slow but steady increase and turn for the better during the year. Among others, the positive trend of the benefit of industrial enterprise was further consolidated, employment and price maintained stable in general, and stable increase was seen in the income of residents. The economic development quality and benefits were improved continuously, and structure was sustainably optimized, while the supporting role of innovation for development was increasing. The proportion of the services industry continuously increased and the contribution of consumption for growth continuously improved. The stable economic development environment created good conditions for further deepening reform, promoting economic structural adjustment and industry transition and upgrading.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

Due to various factors and changing conditions both domestic and abroad, China's economic development is still facing challenges. The PRC government undertook "structural reform of the supply side" as the core line, moderately expanded total demand, firmly promoted reform, actively managed risks and challenges to keep economic and social development smooth and stable, which was a good start to its "13th Five-Year Plan". As a state-owned large-sized financial enterprise, the Company actively grasped strategic development opportunities brought about by the "structural reform of the supply side", and fully implemented the unique functions of the distressed assets management and comprehensive financial services business to strive to vitalize stock, which played a great role in maintaining stable operation and healthy development of economy and finance.

In March 2016, the CBRC promulgated the Notice on Regulating the Acquisitions of Distressed Assets by Financial Asset Management Companies (《關於規範金融資產管理公司不良資產收購業務的通知》) to specify the requirements on the means of acquisition of distressed assets and truthfulness of transfer of assets by financial asset management companies, which is of great significance in promoting the compliance management and healthy and long-term development of distressed assets. The State Council issued Opinions on Actively and Steadily Reducing the Leverage Ratio of Enterprises (《關於積極穩妥降低企業槓桿率的意見》) in September 2016, launching the new round of the market-oriented debt-to-equity swap. China specified the policy on debt-to-equity swap, and put forward a clear view that it supports AMCs to carry on the DES business, providing the Company with policy support and market opportunity to develop its business, so that the core business of distressed assets management can be stronger, better and bigger.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.2.1.1 Total income

Total income of the Group increased by 26.3% from RMB75,385.8 million in 2015 to RMB95,207.7 million in 2016, mainly due to the increases of income from distressed debt assets classified as receivables, investment income, interest income, commission and fee income and fair value changes on other financial assets, fair value changes on distressed debt assets and net gains on disposal of associates.

The table below sets forth the components of total income of the Group for the periods indicated.

	For the year ended December 31,
	2016	2015	Change	in percentage
	(in millions of RMB, except for percentages)
Income from distressed debt assets classified as receivables	25,140.0	23,095.0	2,045.0	8.9%

Total income of the Group increased by

26.3%

from RMB75,385.8 million in 2015 to RMB95,207.7 million in 2016

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.2.1.1.1 Income from distressed debt assets classified as receivables

Income from distressed debt assets classified as receivables represents acquisition-and-restructuring income of the Group generated from loans and distressed debts acquired from financial institutions and the distressed debt acquired from non-financial enterprises. Income from distressed debt assets classified as receivables of the Group increased by 8.9% from RMB23,095.0 million in 2015 to RMB25,140.0 million in 2016. In 2015 and 2016, income from distressed debt assets classified as receivables represented 30.6% and 26.4% respectively of our total income. The increase in income was primarily due to the Group's persistence on strengthening, perfecting and expanding its core business, the distressed assets business, and the consistent increase in the scale of distressed debt assets classified as receivables.

The annualized return on monthly average gross amount of distressed debt assets classified as receivables of the Group in 2016 is 12.1%, which represents a slight drop from 12.5% in 2015.

9.2.1.1.2 Fair value changes on distressed debt assets

Fair value changes on distressed debt assets consist of (i) net gain or loss generated from the disposal of distressed debt assets which are designated as at fair value through profit or loss in consolidated statements of financial position, and (ii) unrealized fair value changes on such distressed debt assets. Such income is derived from the acquisition-and-disposal business of the Group.

Fair value changes on distressed debt assets of the Group increased by 135.3% from RMB1,637.3 million in 2015 to RMB3,852.3 million in 2016. Income increased mainly because we actively grasped the favorable opportunities arising from the increase in the supply of distressed debt assets by accelerating the acquisition and disposal of assets so as to achieve a relatively large increment of value of the acquired assets through a diversity of management and operation measures.

9.2.1.1.3 Fair value changes on other financial assets

Changes in fair value of other financial assets include (i) financial assets held for trading, and (ii) other financial assets designated at fair value through profit or loss from the Company and relevant subsidiaries. Fair value changes on other financial assets increased by 72.7% from RMB3,347.1 million in 2015 to RMB5,782.1 million in 2016. The increase in income was primarily due to an increase in the gains on the disposal of and in fair value from financial assets, including shares, bonds and equity instruments held by the Group.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.2.1.1.4 Interest income

The table below sets forth the components of the interest income of the Group for the years indicated.

	For the year ended December 31,
	2016	2015	Change	Change in percentage
	(in millions of RMB, except for percentages)
Loans and advances to customers	6,657.8	5,573.4	1,084.4	19.5%
Finance lease receivables	5,522.1	5,450.7	71.4	1.3%
Deposits with financial institutions	1,866.6	1,070.9	795.7	74.3%
Financial assets held under resale agreements	1,758.7	1,307.7	451.0	34.5%
Balances with the central Bank	444.5	356.5	88.0	24.7%
Placements with financial institutions	194.4	307.9	(113.5)	(36.9%)
Total interest income	16,444.1	14,067.1	2,377.0	16.9%

The interest income of the Group increased by 16.9% from RMB14,067.1 million in 2015 to RMB16,444.1 million in 2016. In 2015 and 2016, the interest income accounted for 18.7% and 17.3% of its total income, respectively. The increase in income was mainly due to increases in loans and advances to customers, interest income from deposits with financial institutions, and financial assets held under resale agreements.

Interest income from loans and advances to customers of the Group increased by 19.5% from RMB5,573.4 million in 2015 to RMB6,657.8 million in 2016, primarily due to an increase in loans and advances to customers of the Group by 45.1% from RMB83,455.4 million as at December 31, 2015 to RMB121,065.4 million as at December 31, 2016. The growth of loans and advances to customers of our Group is mainly because, (i) Huarong Xiangjiang Bank's business developed steadily as both the corporate loans and personal loans businesses grew; and (ii) the personal loans business of Huarong Consumer Finance started operating.

The interest income of the Group from finance lease receivables increased by 1.3% from RMB5,450.7 million in 2015 to RMB5,522.1 million in 2016. The increase was mainly because the stable development of financial leasing business of Huarong Financial Leasing (partially offset by the effect of the "replacement of business tax by value-added tax"), which resulted in an increase in the total amount of finance lease receivables of 18.0% from RMB82,803.9 million as at December 31, 2015 to RMB97,704.2 million as at December 31, 2016.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.2.1.1.5 Investment income

The table below sets forth the components of the investment income of the Group for the years indicated.

	For the year ended December 31,
	2016	2015	Change	Change in percentage
(in millions of RMB, except for percentages)
Interest income from other financial assets classified as receivables	16,751.2	10,496.5	6,254.7	59.6%
Disposal income from available-for-sale financial assets	3,682.0	5,959.7	(2,277.7)	(38.2%)
Interest income from available-for-sale debt securities	1,622.9	755.1	867.8	114.9%
Interest income from held-to-maturity debt securities	1,311.2	1,002.5	308.7	30.8%

Others	11.5	56.9	(45.4)	(79.8)%
Total investment income	24,678.4	19,167.3	5,511.1	28.8%

Investment income of the Group increased by 28.8% from RMB19,167.3 million in 2015 to RMB24,678.4 million in 2016. In 2015 and 2016, the investment income of the Group accounted for 25.4% and 25.9% of its total income, respectively. The increase was mainly due to the expansion of investment business and the increase in other financial assets classified as receivables since the Group actively served the real economy and strengthened the core business, partially offset by decrease in disposal income from available-for-sale financial assets. Interest income from other financial assets classified as receivables increased by 59.6% from RMB10,496.5 million in 2015 to RMB16,751.2 million in 2016. Revenue from disposal of available-for-sale financial assets decreased by 38.2% from RMB5,959.7 million in 2015 to RMB3,682.0 million in 2016, primarily attributable to higher revenue of disposals of debt-to-equity swaps in 2015 due to market conditions.

Fund management and other business	74.9	34.8	40.1	115.2%
Total commission and fee income	12,920.1	10,398.0	2,522.1	24.3%

Commission and fee income of the Group increased by 24.3% from RMB10,398.0 million in 2015 to RMB12,920.1 million in 2016, accounting for 13.8% and 13.6% of the total income in 2015 and 2016, respectively. The increase was mainly due to the increase in commission and fee income from the asset management business, which was partially offset by the income decrease in the securities and futures business.

Commission and fee income from the asset management business increased by 55.2% from RMB5,358.3 million in 2015 to RMB8,314.2 million in 2016, mainly due to the rapid development of the asset management business of the Group, resulting in a significant increase in the corresponding income from this service.

Commission and fee income from securities and futures business decreased by 17.4% from RMB2,690.9 million in 2015 to RMB2,221.8 million in 2016, primarily as a result of fluctuation in the securities market.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.2.1.1.7 Other income and net gains or losses

The following table sets forth the components of other income and net gains or losses of the Group for the years indicated.

	For the year ended December 31,
	2016	2015	Change	Change in percentage
	(in millions of RMB, except for percentages)
Revenue from properties development	2,837.6	2,160.3	677.3	31.4%

Total other income and net gains or losses	4,363.0	3,246.6	1,116.4	34.4%

Other income and net gains or losses of the Group increased by 34.4% from RMB3,246.6 million in 2015 to RMB4,363.0 million in 2016, mainly due to the increase in revenue from properties development of Huarong Real Estate.

9.2.1.2 Total expenses

The table below sets out the components of the total expenses of the Group for the years indicated.

	For the year ended December 31,
	2016	2015	Change	Change in percentage
	(in millions of RMB, except for percentages)
Interest expense	(31,416.8)	(25,902.2)	(5,514.6)	21.3%

Total expenses	(61,456.5)	(50,938.8)	(10,517.7)	20.6%

Total expenses of the Group increased by 20.6% from RMB50,938.8 million in 2015 to RMB61,456.5 million in 2016, mainly came from the increase in interest expenses, impairment losses on assets and operating expenses.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.2.1.2.1 Interest expense

The table below sets forth the major components of the interest expense of the Group for the years indicated.

	For the year ended December 31,
	2016	2015	Change	Change in percentage
(in millions of RMB, except for percentages)
Borrowings	(19,188.5)	(16,623.3)	(2,565.2)	15.4%
Bonds and notes issued	(7,639.5)	(4,522.3)	(3,117.2)	68.9%
Due to customers	(2,708.4)	(2,857.6)	149.2	(5.2%)
Financial assets sold under repurchase agreements	(768.6)	(843.2)	74.6	(8.8%)
Deposits from financial institutions	(440.6)	(649.0)	208.4	(32.1%)
Placements from financial institutions	(352.3)	(147.6)	(204.7)	138.7%
Amounts due to the MOF	(124.4)	(204.6)	80.2	(39.2%)
Borrowings from central bank	(24.8)	(1.4)	(23.4)	1,671.4%
Other liabilities	(169.7)	(53.2)	(116.5)	219.0%
Total interest expense	(31,416.8)	(25,902.2)	(5,514.6)	21.3%

Interest expense of the Group increased by 21.3% from RMB25,902.2 million in 2015 to RMB31,416.8 million in 2016. In 2015 and 2016, the interest expense accounted for 50.8% and 51.1% of the total expenses, respectively. The increase in interest expense was mainly due to increase in the scale of external financing to support business development by the Group.

Interest expense of bonds and notes issued of the Group increased by 68.9% from RMB4,522.3 million in 2015 to RMB7,639.5 million in 2016, mainly because the Group actively extended financing channels and the development of “debt financing based AMC” achieved significant results. Bonds and notes issued increased by 69.9% from RMB143,053.8 million as at December 31, 2015 to RMB243,075.2 million as at December 31, 2016.

The interest expense of borrowings of the Group increased by 15.4% from RMB16,623.3 million in 2015 to RMB19,188.5 million in 2016, primarily due to the increased borrowing scale of the Group in order to support its business development.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.2.1.2.2 Commission and fee expense

For the year ended December 31
	2016	2015	Change	Change in percentage
(in millions of RMB, except for percentages)
Securities and futures business	(489.4)	(676.2)	186.8	(27.6%)
Asset management business	(351.4)	(141.7)	(209.7)	148.0%
Banking business and others	(195.1)	(127.4)	(67.7)	53.1%
Total commission and fee expense	(1,035.9)	(945.3)	(90.6)	9.6%

Commission and fee expense of the Group increased by 9.6% from RMB945.3 million in 2015 to RMB1,035.9 million in 2016, mainly due to the corresponding increase of commission and fee expenses as a result of the stable development of the asset management business.

9.2.1.2.3 Operating expenses

The table below sets forth the components of the operating expenses of the Group for the years indicated.

For the year ended December 31,
	2016	2015	Change	Change in percentage
(in millions of RMB, except for percentages)
Employee benefits	(5,090.3)	(4,178.5)	(911.8)	21.8%
Tax and surcharges	(1,625.7)	(2,939.4)	1,313.7	(44.7%)
Cost of properties development	(1,459.5)	(1,278.3)	(181.2)	14.2%
Others	(4,111.3)	(3,091.3)	(1,020.0)	33.0%
Including:
Rentals	(594.7)	(326.0)	(268.7)	82.4%
Depreciation of property and equipment	(366.7)	(348.9)	(17.8)	5.1%
Amortization	(203.5)	(134.5)	(69.0)	51.3%
Depreciation of investment properties	(50.0)	(50.2)	0.2	(0.4%)
Auditor's remuneration	(20.6)	(12.0)	(8.6)	71.7%
Total operating expenses	(12,286.8)	(11,487.5)	(799.3)	7.0%

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

Operating expenses of the Group increased by 7.0% from RMB11,487.5 million in 2015 to RMB12,286.8 million in 2016. Operating expenses in 2015 and 2016 accounted for 22.6% and 20.0% of the total expenses, respectively, mainly came from increases in employee benefits, cost of properties development and other operating expenses and was partially offset by the decrease in tax and surcharges.

Employee benefits of the Group increased by 21.8% from RMB4,178.5 million in 2015 to RMB5,090.3 million in 2016, which was mainly due to (i) the increase of employee headcounts; (ii) establishment of new institutions; and (iii) the increase of minimum contributions to social security and housing fund.

Tax and surcharges of the Group decreased by 44.7% from RMB2,939.4 million in 2015 to RMB1,625.7 million in 2016, primarily because: since the overall implementation of “replacing business tax with value-added tax” from May 1, 2016, the Group has ceased to pay business tax, and our business tax from January to April in 2016, and surcharges tax for the whole year were reviewed for the item of tax and surcharges.

9.2.1.2.4 Impairment losses on assets

The table below sets forth the components of impairment losses on assets of the Group for the years indicated.

	For the year ended December 31,			Change in percentage
	2016	2015	Change
	(in millions of RMB, except for percentages)
Distressed debt assets classified as receivables	(10,774.5)	(8,052.5)	(2,722.0)	33.8%
Other financial assets classified as receivables	(3,351.2)	(2,570.0)	(781.2)	30.4%
Loans and advances to customers	(1,271.4)	(824.7)	(446.7)	54.2%
Available-for-sale financial assets	(786.5)	(786.0)	(0.5)	0.1%
Finance lease receivables	(445.8)	(298.0)	(147.8)	49.6%
Other assets	87.6	(72.6)	(14.9)	20.5%
Total	(16,717.0)	(12,603.8)	(4,113.2)	32.6%

Impairment losses on assets of the Group increased by 32.6% from RMB12,603.8 million in 2015 to RMB16,717.0 million in 2016, mainly due to the increase in provisions made by the Group pursuant to the applicable accounting policy with an aim to continuously strengthen its risk control and maintain its risk tolerance according to the general economic situation.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

	2016	2015
Distressed asset management	20.7%	20.6%
Financial services	20.3%	24.9%
Asset management and investment	36.2%	22.7%

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

Distressed asset management is the core business of the Group and an important source of income and profit of the Group. Total income from the Group's distressed asset management business segment increased by 24.7% from RMB40,648.4 million in 2015 to RMB50,695.6 million in 2016. Profit before tax increased by 33.1% from RMB11,940.1 million in 2015 to RMB15,890.6 million in 2016. During the year, the Pre-tax ROAE of our distressed asset management segment remained stable with a slight increase, mainly because the Group made the most of its industry leading position, keeping the distressed asset management core business consistently at a relatively high income level.

The financial services business is an important integral part of the Group's integrated asset management business. During the year, financial services segment overcame unfavorable factors, such as the slowdown of economic growth and market fluctuation, and recorded an increase in total income of 4.2% from RMB23,463.2 million in 2015 to RMB24,450.0 million in 2016 and a decrease in profit before tax of 3.6% from RMB7,247.1 million in 2015 to RMB6,986.6 million in 2016 and its pre-tax ROAE remained stable in general.

The Group's asset management and investment business is a natural extension and supplement of its distressed asset management business and serves as an important platform for providing the Group's clients with a comprehensive array of diversified asset management, investment and financing services. During the year, the Group achieved a relatively rapid growth in the asset management and investment business. Total income from the asset management and investment segment increased by 80.8% from RMB12,003.0 million in 2015 to RMB21,701.7 million in 2016. Profit before tax increased by 148.6% from RMB3,089.3 million in 2015 to RMB7,678.7 million in 2016. Pre-tax ROAE increased from 22.7% in 2015 to 36.2% in 2016.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.2.2.1 Assets

As of December 31, 2015 and 2016, the Group's total assets amounted to RMB866,546.4 million and RMB1,411,969.3 million, respectively, representing an increase of 62.9%. The Group's major assets consist of: (i) investment classified as receivables; (ii) deposits with financial institutions; (iii) available-for-sale financial assets; (iv) loans and advances to customers; (v) financial assets designated as at fair value through profit or loss; and (vi) finance lease receivables.

9.2.2.1.1 Deposits with financial institutions

As of December 31, 2015 and 2016, the Group's deposits with financial institutions amounted to RMB76,896.3 million and RMB154,329.9 million, respectively, representing an increase of 100.7%, mainly due to the expansion of external financing for the business development of the Group and certain projects had not been fully used as of the end of the year.

9.2.2.1.2 Financial Assets Held for Trading

As of December 31, 2015 and 2016, the Group's financial assets held for trading amounted to RMB13,004.0 million and RMB87,731.3 million, respectively, representing an increase of 574.6%, mainly due to the rapid increase in the investment scale of securities held by subsidiaries such as Huarong Securities.

9.2.2.1.3 Financial assets designated as at fair value through profit or loss

As of December 31, 2015 and 2016, the Group's financial assets designated as at fair value through profit or loss amounted to RMB85,458.2 million and RMB95,167.3 million, respectively, representing an increase of 11.4%, mainly due to (i) the increase in acquisitions of distressed asset portfolio by the Company to capture favorable opportunities arising from the increase in the supply market of distressed assets, resulting in an increase in distressed assets held under the acquisition-and-disposal business as of the end of the year; and (ii) the structured product transactions resulting in a significant increase in the balance of relevant business assets held by the Group as of the end of the year.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.3.1.1.2.1 Acquisition-and-disposal model

As a major participant of the primary market for distressed debt assets, the Company acquires packages of distressed assets in batches from financial institutions through public bidding or negotiated transfers. To maximize the recovery value of the distressed assets, the Company chooses different disposal methods for these assets based on subjective and objective factors, such as the characteristics of the distressed assets, the conditions of the debtors and the conditions of the collateral. Disposal methods include: interim participation in operations, asset restructuring, debt-to-equity swaps, individual transfer, package-and-transfer, discounted collection from debtors, liquidation, regular collection, collection through litigation, receipts of other assets in satisfaction of debts and debt restructuring. Our core competitive advantage under the acquisition-and-disposal model is our ability to price and dispose of distressed assets.

9.3.1.1.2.2 Acquisition-and-restructuring model

The Company was the first AMC to carry out businesses on a large scale based on the acquisition-and-restructuring model. Focusing on enterprises with temporary liquidity issues, the Company adopts flexible and customized restructuring approaches to reassess the debtors' credit risks, front-load the elimination of credit risks, redeploy distressed debt assets with operational value and restore the debtors' enterprise credit profile. We carry out assessments on the price and operational value of the debtors' core assets in order to realize value discovery and enhancement for these assets and achieve high returns with controlled risks. The Company's core competitive advantage under the acquisition-and-restructuring model is the ability to discover, reassess and enhance the overall value of the distressed assets.

Remuneration policy

Based on the strategies, business development and talent recruitment of the Group, the remuneration policy of the Group is formulated to maximize operation efficiency. A “performance-based” remuneration system is adopted to achieve our operation targets. Salaries are reasonably determined according to the duties, competence and contributions of employees under the employee remuneration management system with the principles of “position-based salary and performance-based bonus”. The profit-based incentive system was further optimized. Remuneration is determined on the basis of matching profits and risks, balancing of long-term and short-term incentives. The Group has established a healthy and competitive remuneration management system based on its operating results and the principle of fairness.

Training

In 2016, based on the Group’s trainings which follow the training concepts of “developing generalized training system”, “developing cadres” and “developing talents”, the Group established a multi-level, diversified and comprehensive training system which covers a wide range of areas and mixed businesses and provides integrated training programs. Highly practical training programs in respect of different business lines with essential contents were provided to different levels of employees in various forms, including on-site training such as system introduction, case studies, seminars, training of knowledge and skills and research, and sharing knowledge through platforms such as online colleges. 9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.4 Risk Management

In 2016, the Group continued to promote the establishment of its comprehensive risk management system and improve the risk management of the Group. Through setting up proper risk appetite and adhering to risk tolerance, the Group strengthened the risk management of its subsidiaries, the establishment of internal control system as well as the management and control of procedure, and accelerated the construction of risk management system and data sorting. In 2016, the risk management level of the Group has been improved continuously and the risk management is effective and helpful, which provides a solid guarantee for the smooth operation of each business activity.

9.4.1 Comprehensive Risk Management System

In 2016, the Group continued to improve the risk management structure of the Group, and formulated the 2016 Risk Appetite Policy (《2016年風險偏好政策》). The policy covered all levels and risk types of the Group and set up a bottom line for the balance of risks and profit to guide each level and business line of the Group to fulfill the objectives of a prudent, stable risk appetite and further the guidance to the subsidiaries to clarify their own bottom line for risk appetite and policy requirements. In accordance with the working principles of “solid progress and managing for efficiency”, the Group continued to supplement, improve, adjust and optimize planning project, and orderly implement the five-year plan for the comprehensive risk management system from 2014 to 2018. The Group adhered to the authorization policy of categorized management and dynamic adjustments and emphasized the assessment policy of the subsidiaries which focused on “cash flow” thereof, so as to fully leverage the guiding and conducting function of evaluation. By carrying out management regulations relating to provision for impairment and connected transactions of subsidiaries, the Group enhanced the risk-resisting ability of subsidiaries. The Group also accelerated the construction of risk management system and completed the design of risk database so as to improve the level of risk management.

9.4.2 Structure of Risk Management

The Group has set up a risk management framework which is a three-dimensional risk management system consisting of three hierarchies within our corporate governance structure, three tiers of professional teams specialized in risk management and three lines of defense in our practical operations. The three hierarchies within our corporate governance structure refer to the Board, the senior management, and the Board of Supervisors. The Group’s three tiers of professional teams specialized in risk management refer to the chief risk officer of the Group; the risk management department and other departments of the Group involved in risk management; and the chief risk officers or risk directors of the business departments of the Head Office, the Company Branches and the subsidiaries. The three lines of defense in operations refer to the three lines of defense in respect of risk management comprised of the business departments, the risk management department and other risk management related functional departments of the Group and the audit department of the Group. In 2016, the Group continuously improved risk management organization system, revised the Management Measures on Chief Risk Officer (《風險總監管理辦法》), conducted risk management professional trainings and strengthened risk management talent team construction.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.4.3 Credit risk management

Credit risk refers to the risk of loss due to the failure of debtors or counterparties to perform their contractual obligations or deterioration of its credit condition. Credit risk of the Group is mainly related to the distressed debt asset management business, trust business, securities business, financial leasing business and banking business of the Group.

In 2016, the Group focused on enhancing monitoring and management of project risks and further improved the management quality of credit risks by elaborating on post-project management requirements, regularly conducting off-site inspection, intensifying dynamic valuation and day-to-day management of collaterals. In addition to strengthening regular evaluation of assets quality, the Group carefully calculated and measured project risks, which is well prepared for risks mitigation.

In 2016, the Group has continually worked on the establishment of measures and tools of credit risk management and completed the establishment of internal rating system of credit risks. The Group improved its limit management mechanism, limit management requirements and system monitoring means. In accordance with the change of the national industry policy and regulatory requirements, the Group updated the negative list of business access on a timely basis and strengthened the management of business access. The Group enhanced risk asset preservation, clarified the target of risk mitigation, guided the business units to mitigate risks substantially and innovatively and standardized the identification of project risk conversion. The Group evaluated the effectiveness of risk mitigation based on reasonable quantified measurement and achieved effective disposal of risk assets.

9.4.4 Market Risk Management

Market risk refers to the situation where the Group's business may suffer losses due to adverse movements in market prices, such as interest rates, exchange rates and stock and commodity prices. The Group's market risks primarily relate to its equity investment business, acquisition-and-disposal business, stocks, funds, bonds, wealth management and changes in interest rates.

In 2016, the Group has formulated the Provisional Management Measures for Classifying Trading Accounts and Non-trading Accounts (《交易賬戶和非交易賬戶劃分管理暫行辦法》) according to regulatory requirements and started classification of accounts. The operating assets measured by fair value were regularly evaluated, so as to accurately reflect the real value of assets and to reasonably measure the market risk of the Company during its business operations.

In respect of interest rate risk, the Group actively formulated response plans for market-based reform of interest rates, established related management measures, optimized interest rate structure, and improved the differential pricing management regarding to assets-based businesses. We manage interest risks through measures including flexibly controlling the duration and frequency of financing facilities and strengthening the matching between the duration of liabilities and assets.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

With respect to the risk of exchange rate, the Group closely monitored the changes in exchange rate. The Group mainly operates in China and its accounts are denominated in RMB. The Group has flexibility to flexibly remit the proceeds from its overseas listing when the exchange rate is favorable. The balance of the proceeds from listing will be remitted when the exchange rate is favorable and will be used to strengthen the distressed asset management business, to improve our integrated financial services platform and to develop our asset management and investment business. The proceeds from overseas U.S. dollar bonds issued by our overseas subsidiaries and the U.S. dollar borrowings of our overseas subsidiaries were used on investment assets denominated in US dollar or HK dollar, which was pegged to the US dollar. The denominated currencies of our assets and liabilities are basically the same, therefore exchange rate risk is insignificant.

With respect to the price risks of listed stocks, according to the principle of prudent valuation, controllable risk and available profits, the Group closely monitored the impact of domestic and overseas macro-economic condition, flow of funds, industry's cyclical changes, operating environment of capital market as well as latest policies from regulators on the operations, financial conditions and valuation of such listed companies, and set different transacting combination for different assets, whose values were monitored daily and Huarong Securities was engaged for its portfolio management. In addition, for equity assets of policy-oriented listed companies, we conducted timely information disclosure and market value management under the premise of compliance with regulatory requirements.

9.4.5 Liquidity Risk Management

Liquidity risk refers to the risks associated with failure to obtain sufficient funds promptly or at reasonable cost to repay debts or other obligations or support the asset growth or other business development, including financing liquidity risks and market liquidity risks. Financing liquidity risk refers to the situation where the Group fails to meet the funding requirement effectively without affecting daily operations or financial conditions. Market liquidity risk refers to the situation where the Group fails to dispose of assets at a reasonable market price to obtain funds due to the limited depth of the market or market fluctuations. The Group's liquidity risks arise primarily from the delay in payment by its debtors, mismatch of asset and liability structure, difficulty in asset monetization, operational loss, insufficient liquidity reserve and insufficient financing to support business development.

Actively implementing requirements on liquidity management from regulatory institutions, the Group has adopted a centralized liquidity management system to enhance the structure of its liquidity risk management. By focusing on asset and liability management, the Group maintained the mismatch of assets and liabilities at an acceptable liquidity risk level. Maximum leverage ratio was determined in accordance with regulatory requirements to effectively control leverage and to guarantee its long-term liquidation.

The Group monitored the maturity mismatch between assets and liabilities, and implemented liquidity management through cash flow forecasts and controls. With respect to asset management, the Group established the system of working capital plan, adopted transfer pricing method and other measures to expedite the turnover of funds, and maintained fund positions at a reasonable level. With respect to liability management, external financing was centrally managed and efforts were made to explore more important financing channels from direct bank borrowings to financial bond offerings, long-term financing and interbank market borrowings. Other less important financing channels included interbank advances and pledge-oriented buyback. The structure of the Group's liabilities was optimized through the increase of the proportion of medium and long-term borrowing and the addition of market financing methods in terms of the maturity and types of borrowings.

The methods for monitoring and controlling liquidity risks of the Group include indicator monitoring, alert management, stress tests and contingency plans. The Group strengthened the centralized management of its funding and liquidity, enhanced the maturity alert of assets and liabilities by setting and monitoring indicators in accordance with regulatory requirements for dynamic supervision and control of liquidity risk. Management of liquidity risk was also formulated on the basis of regular stress tests.

9.4.6 Management of Operational Risks

Operational risk refers to the risk of losses resulting from an inadequacy or deficiency relating to the internal process, staff or IT system, or risks caused by external events during the ordinary business operations management, including legal risks. The Group's operational risks mainly arise from internal fraud, external fraud, employment practices and accidents on our premises, business activities of customers or related to our products, damage to physical assets, incidents related to IT system and incidents related to execution, delivery and process management.

The Group has strictly implemented all regulatory requirements, continuously improved the organization structure of internal controls, enhanced system management and reinforced business control measures to cultivate a good internal control culture.

The Group has developed an organization structure and authorization system of clear hierarchies, reasonable job allocation and definite reporting order. A three-lines defense system of internal controls comprising operation management department, risk management department and internal audit department was formed. Units at all levels and each of the defense lines reinforced each other and worked together to develop business and prevent and control risks. In 2016, the Group revised the Internal Control Manual (《内部控制手册》) and its supporting document Risk Control Matrix (《风险控制矩阵》), formulated the Internal Control Appraisal Manual (《内部控制评价手册》) and Internal Control Deficiency Identification Standards (《内部控制缺陷认定标准》) and strengthened risk controls in the key segments of the process to ensure the efficiency of internal controls of the Company.

For more details about the internal control of the Group, please refer to “13. Internal Control”.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.4.9 Internal Audit

The Group has adopted an internal audit system and has professional auditors responsible for the independent and objective supervision, examination and evaluation of the Group's conditions such as revenues and expenditures, business activities, risk conditions and internal control. The auditors shall report to the Board or the Audit Committee of the Board and the Board of Supervisors if material problems are discovered during audits.

In 2016, the Group has duly performed its audit duties. To prevent risks and to promote efficiency, the Group conducted routine audits, special audits, economic responsibility audits and evaluation of internal control. The Group also sought to optimize the internal audit management system and improved the professional quality of the audit team as well as thoroughly completed the audit plan for the year by organized planning and effective implementation.

Improvement of the internal audit and management systems. The Group has conducted the reforms of internal audit, established a relatively independent and vertically managed internal audit and management which is applicable to financial holding groups. The Group improved and consolidated its audit and management systems to further specify the objectives of and improve the applicability of the documents of the systems. The Group has optimized the internal audit examination system to further enhance the daily supervision and management of the internal audit of its branches and subsidiaries.

Regular audits and special audits. The Group has conducted regular and special audits of major projects, businesses and financial matters, internal management and internal control of its branches and subsidiaries. The Group has also conducted economic responsibility audits of the middle and senior management during their term of office.

Evaluation of internal control. The Group has evaluated the efficiency of its internal control by completing self-evaluation, onsite examination and special inspection on risk management, internal supervision, financial management, business operation and information exchange and put forward recommendations for improvement of internal control.

Strengthening of internal audit structure. The Group has strengthened its internal audit team by organizing trainings on laws and regulations, internal audit system and business knowledge. The Group has also improved audit technology and methods to develop an off-site audit system covering all lines of business. The Group has reallocated and organized the audit resources and highlighted the audit focus to enhance the audit level so as to improve the overall level of its internal audit.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

9.6 Outlook

In 2017, the continued rise of de-globalization, international trade and investment protectionism will have certain effects on international policy coordination, trade liberalization, and the movement of capital and labour. There are still uncertainties in economic development prospects, while global economic growth experienced a slow recovery. In relation to China, the key direction of China's policy will be stability-oriented, and macro-economic control will continue to adopt the combination of prudent monetary policy and proactive fiscal policies, further enhance exchange rate flexibility and increase prevention and control of financial risks in order to substantially advance the structural reform of the supply side.

The potential for economic growth in China is still huge in the long run. There is still much room for development in a new-type urbanization, service industry, high-end manufacturing and consumption upgrading. It is expected that Chinese multi-area reforms will have new initiatives and new breakthroughs in 2017. On one hand, China will promote "eliminating excessive capacity, clearing inventory, deleveraging, reducing costs and shoring up weakness", reform of the supply side in agriculture, focus on boosting the development of the real economy, and promote stable and healthy development of the real estate market. On the other hand, China will accelerate the reforms of state-owned enterprises, finance and taxation, finance and endowment insurance system.

9. Management Discussion and Analysis

In order to propel the structural reform of the supply side, concrete policies and measures such as securitization of distressed assets and debt-to-equity swaps were implemented, which will provide broader space for the development of the Company's core business, distressed assets management business, including acquisition of distressed assets, debt-to-equity swaps, restructuring of distressed companies and asset securitization businesses. The firm implementation of "the Belt and Road" will create significant opportunities for international businesses of the Company. Meanwhile, with the steady growth of Chinese economy, integrated financial services of the Company is provided with more extended market.

In face of opportunities and challenges in 2017, China Huarong will provide a strong support on deepening the structural reform of the supply side by combining with the needs for financial services required in the processes of promoting "eliminating excessive capacity, clearing inventory, deleveraging, reducing costs and shoring up weakness", transformation and update of traditional industries and transition of the new and old kinetic energy as well as taking advantage of our professional strengths in distressed assets management and integrated financial services. Firstly, the Company will manage to play an important role in reducing the size and ratios of distressed assets of financial institutions, enhancing the efficiency of social asset utilization and mitigating systematic risks in economy and finance through proactively leveraging our advantage in the distressed asset management business, our core business. Secondly, the Company will utilize a comprehensive products system which covers the whole life cycles and the entire value chain of the corporate clients to support the transformation and development of real economy by taking full advantage of integrated financial services. Thirdly, the Company will strive to set up acquisition funds for overseas distressed assets and develop acquisition-and-disposal overseas distressed assets business by actively focusing on global industrial structural layout and adjustments of industry chain as well as grasping favourable opportunities in the adjustment of the international market.

12.17 Joint Company Secretaries

The Board secretary and one of the joint company secretaries, Mr. Hu Jianjun is an employee of the Company. He is very familiar with the internal management and business operations of the Company. In addition, the Company has appointed Mr. Ngai Wai Fung as another joint company secretary to work closely with and provide assistance to Mr. Hu in discharging his duties and responsibilities as a joint company secretary and acquiring relevant experience within the meaning of Rule 3.28 of the Listing Rules. Mr. Ngai is a director and the chief executive officer of SW Corporate Services Group Limited, a corporate service provider. In respect of corporate governance, the Listing Rules and other applicable laws and regulations related to the Company and other matters, Mr. Ngai will contact Mr. Hu, and Mr. Hu will be responsible for reporting to the Board and/or chairman of the Board. The relevant professional trainings that each of Mr. Hu and Mr. Ngai participated in during the Reporting Period has reached to 15 hours, which is in compliance with the requirements of Rule 3.29 of the Listing Rules.

13. Internal Control

13.1 Statement of the Board in Relation to Internal Control Responsibilities

The Board is responsible for the establishment and implementation of a sound and effective internal control system, and the evaluation of its effectiveness. The Company has established a sound internal control governance structure. The Board has set up the Audit Committee, Risk Management Committee and Related Party Transaction Committee to supervise and review work concerning risk management, internal control, related party transactions and intra-group transactions. The Board of Supervisors oversees the internal control system established and implemented by the Board and senior management. The senior management is responsible for the daily operation of internal controls of the Company. The Company's branches and subsidiaries have also set up functional departments for internal control and management, which are responsible for organizing and coordinating the establishment, implementation and daily operation of internal controls. The internal audit department is responsible for conducting regular audits on the operation of internal controls.

The basic objectives of the Company's internal control were to provide reasonable assurance for the achievement of the effectiveness of corporation operation, the feasibility of the report and the compliance of operation. Internal control could only provide the reasonable guarantee to achieve above objectives due to its inherent limitation. In addition, there were risks to predict the effectiveness of future internal control based on assessment results of internal control, because internal control may become inappropriate or the extent to which control policies and procedures are followed may be reduced as conditions change.

Pursuant to relevant regulatory requirements set out in the Basic Internal Control Norms for Enterprises and its implementation guidelines jointly promulgated by the five ministries including the MOF and relevant system from CBRC, the Company improved the evaluation system of internal control, adopted an implementation plan for internal control assessment for 2016, which has defined the scope, procedures and methods of internal control assessment, and actively conducted on-site tests and assessments of internal controls.

The internal control assessment of the Company for 2016 covered all major departments at the Company's headquarters, branches, subsidiaries and major products and business lines, and consisted of comprehensive self-assessment and key re-evaluation. No significant or material deficiencies in internal controls were identified during the assessment while certain matters which needed to be addressed did not have any substantial impact on the operations and management of the Company. The Company pays great attention to the matters to be addressed and will implement rectification measures.

13.2 Basis of Establishment of the Internal Control Management System of the Company

During the Reporting Period, the Board continued to enhance and optimize the internal control management system in line with the internal control objectives of operating effectiveness, reporting reliability and operating compliance, in accordance with requirements of the Basic Internal Control Norms for Enterprises and its implementation guidelines, the Measures on the Internal Control of Financial Asset Management Companies, the Guidelines on the Internal Control of Commercial Banks, the Corporate Governance Code and the Corporate Governance Report set out in Appendix 14 to the Listing Rules and other regulatory requirements.

13. Internal Control

13.3 Establishment of Internal Control Management System

During the Reporting Period, the Company earnestly implemented regulatory requirements, further improved the establishment of internal control based on current organization chart and management mechanism, enhanced system management and strengthened its operational control measures and enhanced the establishment of its internal control culture so as to set up a sound and long-term mechanism of internal control.

The Company closely monitored changes in external regulatory laws and regulations to constantly improve structural system management, and re-arranged major businesses and management processes based on changes in external regulatory requirements and business development. The Company has revised Internal Control Manual and related Risk Control Matrix, and strengthened risk control of key links in the processes.

The Company has established Evaluation Manual of Internal Control and Identification Standards for Internal Control Defects to promote the effective implementation of internal control, standardize the evaluation of internal control and provide favorable safeguard for its implementation in an orderly manner.

The Company enhanced the establishment of its internal control culture, and increased performance ability and internal control awareness of its internal control managers through measures including trainings, investigation, examination and evaluation, to improve the effectiveness of internal control.

13.4 Internal Control Measures for Sanctions Risk

To ensure that the Group abide by its undertakings to the Hong Kong Stock Exchange as disclosed in the Prospectus that the Group or Relevant Persons would not be subject to any sanctions, the Group has improved internal control policies and procedures, and implemented the following measures:

1. The Group has revised the Administrative Measures on Compliance Risk (《合規風險管理辦法》) to specify the scope of duties in respect of the prevention and control of sanctions risks for the legal and compliance departments of the Group.
2. The Group has compiled the compliance operational handbook and compliance review manual to regulate operating procedures of the Company and to identify and highlight relevant compliance issues on preventing sanctions risks.
3. The Group has compiled the Questionnaire on Due Diligence Investigation in respect of Sanctions and Export Control of Investees (《關於投資對象受制裁及出口管制情況的盡職調查問卷》) and issued it to all units of the Group as a basic tool of due diligence investigation on sanctions risks.
4. The Group has prepared the Commitment Letter of Sanctions Risk Control (《制裁風險控制承諾函》) and issued it to all units of the Group as basic tools of sanctions risks control.

13. Internal Control

5. The Group reviews sanctions risks for every potential investment opportunity including the DES Companies. Through reviewing the public list of sanctioned parties and countries of the United States, the European Union, the United Kingdom and the United Nations, the Company identifies the sanctions risks for potential investment opportunity in a timely manner and strictly complied with the Company's requirements on the prevention of OFAC sanctions risks when establishing and conducting new equity investment businesses. Since the listing of the Group, new equity investment projects managed by the Group have not been subject to OFAC sanctions risks.
6. The Group has conducted sanctions risk assessment, and carried out self-assessment of relevant issues in respect of sanctions risks. The Group has not identified any issues related to sanctions risks.
7. The proceeds of the Group from the global offering have been deposited into a bank account separated from other funds of the Group, and such proceeds have not been provided to the Subject Companies. In the future, the Group will manage all other funds raised through the Hong Kong Stock Exchange in the same manner as mentioned above.
8. The Group has no present intention to undertake in any future business that would cause the Group or Relevant Persons to violate or become a target of sanctions laws of the United States, the United Kingdom, the European Union or the United Nations. If the Group identifies any sanctions risks, the Group will comply with its undertaking to the Hong Kong Stock Exchange as disclosed in the Prospectus that the Group will not expose itself or Relevant Persons to the risk of being sanctioned, and will disclose relevant information on the website of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the website of the Company.
9. The Company has engaged Kirkland & Ellis as the annual international legal advisor after the listing, to provide assistance to the Company in evaluating sanctions risks of the Group every six months. The Group has engaged Goldman Sachs (Asia) L.L.C. and China International Capital Corporation Hong Kong Securities Limited (中國國際金融香港證券有限公司) as its compliance advisors after the listing.

13.5 Internal Control Measures for Excluded DES Companies

The Group has taken the internal control measures for the Excluded DES Companies as disclosed in the Prospectus. The details are as follows:

1. As for the Excluded DES Companies, we have appointed designated project managers to identify and monitor any material legal disputes and non-compliance risks of such companies. Based on the information available to the Group, such enterprises have not encountered any risk of material legal dispute and compliance risk since the Listing Date.

13. Internal Control

2. The Group will evaluate the risks that may be brought by the Excluded DES Companies on a regular basis based on information available. If any potential risk is identified, the Company will seek an opinion issued by its reputable external legal counsels with relevant expertise and experience and take appropriate measures accordingly.
3. The Group has fully commenced the disposal plan for the Excluded DES Companies. For the disposal of the Excluded DES Companies, please see “14.19. Disposal of Equity in Excluded DES Companies”.
4. The Group will not increase its investments in the Excluded DES Companies or increase our portfolio of DES Assets for which we cannot obtain sufficient information for the value estimation due to restrictions from the Protection of State Secret Laws.
5. The Group will review new laws and regulations on protection of state secrets on a regular basis.
6. The Group will review and update the internal control measures and policies for the Excluded DES Companies on a regular basis.

13.6 Future Businesses of DES Companies and Investment Plans Involving DES Companies

The DES Assets currently held by the Group are mainly assets acquired as a result of equity swaps of distressed debt assets of a number of medium and large state-owned enterprises according to the national policies prior to our restructuring. According to the operating plans of the Group for such assets, the Group appreciated the importance of leveraging on mergers and acquisitions opportunities to realize asset liquidity and achieve gains from equity restructuring, disinvest from highly competitive industries or such companies with limited potential for asset appreciation, take advantage of our strengths in integrated financial services, enhance internal business collaboration, improve the level and return of market value management and enhance the management of equity assets, in order to increase the overall gain from equity assets management and seek greater social benefits.

In the future, the Group will pay greater attention to the policy direction on the reforms of state-owned enterprises and financial systems, quickly grasp opportunities arising from active market conditions and increase its efforts to overcome market challenges. Leveraging on DES enterprises and other investment opportunities in the market, the Company will strive to obtain sufficient project-related information through comprehensive due diligence, and carefully assess potential risks of the projects, including sanctions risk, in order to expand its equity investment business effectively through reasonable and objective evaluation and market-oriented approaches.

In its pursuit of the healthy development of the DES business, the Group will prudently prevent risks and strictly implement control procedures in order to avoid any investments in DES Companies which may expose itself or the Relevant Persons to sanctions risks.

16. Significant Events

16.1 Material Litigation and Arbitration

As a large-scale financial asset management company, it is in the nature of our business that we are engaged in litigations and other legal proceedings from time to time. For example, there were cases where we have recovered distressed debts by initiating legal proceedings as part of our process to dispose distressed assets in the ordinary course of our business.

During the Reporting Period, we were involved in various unresolved litigation matters. For example, as of December 31, 2016, unresolved legal proceedings of which the amount in dispute exceeded RMB10 million and in which the Company was a defendant had an aggregate alleged amount of approximately RMB232 million and unresolved legal proceedings of which the amount in dispute exceeded RMB10 million and in which the Company was a plaintiff had an aggregate alleged amount of RMB20.779 billion. We believe that we have made full accrual allowance for the potential losses arising from unresolved legal proceedings and that none of such legal proceedings, individually or in aggregate, would have a material adverse impact on the business, financial condition and results of operations of the Company.

16.2 Major Acquisition and Disposal of Assets and Merger

During the Reporting Period, the Company did not enter into any material acquisition or disposal of assets or mergers of enterprises.

16.3 Use of Funds by the Controlling Shareholders and Other Related Parties

The controlling shareholder and other related parties have not used the funds of the Company.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Shareholders of China Huarong Asset Management Co., Ltd
(Incorporated in the People's Republic of China with limited liability)

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of China Huarong Asset Management Co., Ltd. (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as "the Group") set out on pages 168 to 327, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at December 31, 2016, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss, consolidated statement of other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at December 31, 2016, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing ("ISAs"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("the Code"), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independent Auditor's Report

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

Impairment of financial assets that are subject to credit risk exposure

Financial assets including loans and advances to customers, finance lease receivables, and financial assets classified as receivables are exposed to credit risk and therefore are subject to regular impairment assessment. These financial assets altogether accounted for approximately 53% of the total assets of the Group. The management of the Group exercises significant judgements when determining both the timing of recognition and the estimation of the size of any allowance for impairment losses of these financial assets.

Because of the significance of these judgements and the importance of these financial assets to the Group, the audit of impairment loss allowance on these financial assets is a key area of focus.

Please refer to notes V.23, 24 and 27 respectively to the consolidated financial statements for details of these financial assets.

Our procedures in relation to impairment loss allowance on the financial assets that are subject to credit risk exposure included the following principal procedures:

- We tested the controls over impairment assessment and provision estimate;
- We selected samples on the credit review performed by the Group and reviewed the assumptions used including the expected future cash flows from customers or counterparties and the realization of collateral held;
- We recalculated the provision and compared the results with those estimated by the Group;
- For the financial assets collectively assessed for impairment loss, we understood the impairment estimation methods used by the Group and evaluated the appropriateness of the critical assumptions used in the impairment estimation methods.

Independent Auditor's Report

Key audit matter

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

Valuation of financial instruments with unobservable inputs

The valuation of certain Group's financial instruments is based on unobservable inputs which involves significant management judgement.

The Group's financial instruments measured at fair value with unobservable inputs mainly included financial assets designated as at fair value through profit or loss and available-for-sale financial assets. In total, they accounted for approximately 12% of the total asset of the Group.

Please refer to note V. 21, 25 and 58 respectively to the consolidated financial statements for details of these financial assets and their fair value hierarchy.

Our procedures in relation to valuation of financial instruments with unobservable inputs included the following principal procedures:

- We tested the controls over financial instrument valuation process;
- We selected samples and checked the appropriateness of the valuation methods used and evaluated the assumptions used in those methods;
- We recalculated fair value estimates and compared the results to the Group's valuations and investigated significant differences, if any;
- For significant financial instruments, we used our own internal valuation experts to review and assess the valuation assumptions used, including considering alternative valuation methodologies used by other market participants, and the appropriateness of the data inputs used.

Independent Auditor's Report

Key audit matter

Consolidation of structured entities
The management of the Group made significant judgments to assess whether the Group has the power on and is exposed to significant variable returns from structured entities to determine whether or not it has control over the structured entities.

Due to the significance of these structured entities to the Group and the uncertainty inherent in these judgments, this is considered as a key audit matter.

Please refer to note V. 30 to the consolidated financial statements for details of these consolidated structured entities.

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

Our procedures in relation to consolidation of structured entities included the following principal procedures:

- We obtained and evaluated the management's consideration regarding consolidation of the structured entities that the Group holds an interest;
- We reviewed the terms of the relevant contracts, considered the returns of the underlying assets, and assessed the Group's power on and the exposure to the variability of returns from the structured entities;
- We assessed the adequacy of the disclosures in the consolidated financial statements.

Other Information

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Independent Auditor's Report

Responsibilities of Directors and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

Independent Auditor's Report

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Independent Auditor's Report

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in the independent auditor's report is Mr. Shi Chung Fai.

II. APPLICATION OF INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“IFRSs”)

The Group had applied the following amendments to IFRSs issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) for the first time in current year:

Amendments to IFRSs	Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2012–2014 Cycle
Amendments to IFRS 11	Accounting for Acquisitions of Interests in Joint Operations
Amendments to IAS 1	Disclosure Initiative
Amendments to IAS 16 and IAS 38	Clarification of Acceptable Methods of Depreciation and Amortization
Amendments to IFRS 10, IFRS 12 and IAS 28	Investment Entities: Applying the Consolidation Exception

The application of these amendments to IFRSs in the current year has had no material impact on the Group’s financial performance and position for the current and prior years and/or the disclosures set out in these consolidated financial statements.

II. APPLICATION OF INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“IFRSs”) (continued)

Except for the following new IFRSs, directors of the Company are of the view that the application of these revised but not yet effective IFRSs is unlikely to have a significant impact on the consolidated financial statements:

IFRS 9 Financial Instruments

IFRS 9 introduces new requirements for the classification and measurement of financial assets, financial liabilities, general hedge accounting and impairment requirements for financial assets.

Key requirements of IFRS 9 which are relevant to the Group are:

- All recognized financial assets that are within the scope of IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement are subsequently measured at amortized cost or fair value. Specifically, debt investments that are held within a business model whose objective is to collect the contractual cash flows, and that have contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal outstanding are generally measured at amortized cost at the end of subsequent accounting periods. Debt instruments that are held within a business model whose objective is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets, and that have contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding, are measured at FVTOCI. All other debt investments and equity investments are measured at their fair value at the end of subsequent accounting periods. In addition, under IFRS 9, entities may make an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value of an equity investment (that is not held for trading) in other comprehensive income, with only dividend income generally recognized in profit or loss.
- With regard to the measurement of financial liabilities designated as at fair value through profit or loss, IFRS 9 requires that the amount of change in the fair value of the financial liability that is attributable to changes in the credit risk of that liability is presented in other comprehensive income, unless the recognition of the effects of changes in the liability’s credit risk in other comprehensive income would create or enlarge an accounting mismatch in profit or loss. Changes in fair value of financial liabilities attributable to changes in the financial liabilities’ credit risk are not subsequently reclassified to profit or loss. Under IAS 39, the entire amount of the change in the fair value of the financial liability designated as at fair value through profit or loss was presented in profit or loss.
- In relation to the impairment of financial assets, IFRS 9 requires an expected credit loss model, as opposed to an incurred credit loss model under IAS 39. The expected credit loss model requires an entity to account for expected credit losses and changes in those expected credit losses at reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition. In other words, it is no longer necessary for a credit event to have occurred before credit losses are recognized.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

For the year ended December 31, 2016

(Amounts in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

Key requirements of IFRS 9 which are relevant to the Group are: (continued)

- The new general hedge accounting requirements retain the three types of hedge accounting mechanisms currently available in IAS 39. Under IFRS 9, greater flexibility has been introduced to the types of transactions eligible for hedge accounting, specifically broadening the types of instruments that qualify for hedging instruments and the types of risk components of non-financial items that are eligible for hedge accounting. In addition, the effectiveness test has been overhauled and replaced with the principle of an ‘economic relationship’. Retrospective assessment of hedge effectiveness is also no longer required. Enhanced disclosure requirements about an entity’s risk management activities have also been introduced.

Based on the Group’s financial instruments and risk management policies as at December 31, 2016, application of IFRS 9 in the future may have a material impact on the classification and measurement of the Group’s financial assets. The Group’s available-for-sale financial assets, including those currently stated at cost less impairment, will either be measured as fair value through profit or loss or be designated as FVTOCI. In addition, the expected credit loss model may result in early provision of credit losses which are not yet incurred in relation to the Group’s financial assets measured at amortized cost.

IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers

IFRS 15 was issued which establishes a single comprehensive model for entities to use in accounting for revenue arising from contracts with customers. IFRS 15 will supersede the current revenue recognition guidance including IAS 18 Revenue, IAS 11 Construction Contracts and the related Interpretations when it becomes effective.

The core principle of IFRS 15 is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Specifically, the Standard introduces a 5-step approach to revenue recognition:

- Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer.
- Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract.
- Step 3: Determine the transaction price.
- Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract.
- Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation.

Under IFRS 15, an entity recognizes revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when ‘control’ of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer. Far more prescriptive guidance has been added in IFRS 15 to deal with specific scenarios. Furthermore, extensive disclosures are required by IFRS 15.

In 2016, IASB issued clarifications to IFRS 15 in relation to the identification of performance obligations, principle versus agent considerations, as well as licensing application guidance.

The directors of the Company anticipate that the application of IFRS 15 in the future may have an impact on the amounts reported as the timing of revenue recognition may be affected/and the amounts of revenue recognized are subject to variable consideration constraints, and more disclosures relating to revenue is required. However, it is not practicable to provide a reasonable estimate of the effect of IFRS 15 until the Group performs a detail review. In addition, the application of IFRS 15 in the future may result in more disclosures in the consolidated financial statements.

IFRS 16 Leases

IFRS 16 introduces a comprehensive model for the identification of lease arrangements and accounting treatments for both lessors and lessees. IFRS 16 will supersede the current lease guidance including IAS 17 Leases and the related interpretations when it becomes effective.

IFRS 16 distinguishes leases and service contracts on the basis of whether an identified asset is controlled by a customer. Distinctions of operating leases (off balance sheet) and finance leases (on balance sheet) are removed for lessee accounting, and is replaced by a model where a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability have to be recognized for all leases by lessees (i.e. all on balance sheet) except for short-term leases and leases of low value assets.

The right-of-use assets is initially measured at cost and subsequently measured at cost (subject to certain exceptions) less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at that date. Subsequently, the lease liability is adjusted for interest and lease payments, as well as the impact of lease modifications, amongst others.

Under IAS 17, the Group has already recognized an asset and a related finance lease liability for finance lease arrangement and prepaid lease payments for leasehold lands where the Group is a lessee. The application of IFRS 16 may result in potential changes in classification of these assets depending on whether the Group presents right-of-use assets separately or within the same line item at which the corresponding underlying assets would be presented if they were owned.

In contrast to lessee accounting, IFRS 16 substantially carries forward the lessor accounting requirements in IAS 17, and continues to require a lessor classify a lease either as an operating lease or a finance lease. Furthermore, extensive disclosures are required by IFRS 16.

As at December 31, 2016, the Group has non-cancellable operating lease commitments of RMB2,076 million as disclosed in note V.53. A preliminary assessment indicates that these arrangements will meet the definition of a lease under IFRS 16, and hence the Group will recognize a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability in respect of all these leases unless they qualify for low value or short-term leases upon the application of IFRS 16. In addition, the application of new requirements may result in changes in measurement, presentation and disclosure as indicated above. However, it is not practicable to provide a reasonable estimate of the financial effect until the directors of the Company complete a detailed review.

III. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Statement of compliance

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRSs issued by the IASB. In addition, the consolidated financial statements include applicable disclosures required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (“Listing Rules”) and by the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

2. Basis of preparation

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair values and certain non-financial assets which are stated at deemed cost, as explained in the accounting policies set out below. Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in the consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 2 Share-based Payment, leasing transactions that are within the scope of IAS 17 Leases, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realizable value in IAS 2 Inventories or value in use in IAS 36 Impairment of Assets.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorized into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

The principal accounting policies are set out below.

III. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

3. Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporates the financial statements of the Company and the entities (including structured entities) controlled by the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved if and only if the Company has all the following: (a) power over the investee, (b) exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee, and (c) the ability to use its power over the investee to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

When the Group has less than a majority of the voting rights of an investee, it has power over the investee when the voting rights are sufficient to give it the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee unilaterally. The Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Group's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- the size of the Group's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of holdings of the other vote holders;
- potential voting rights held by the Group, other vote holders or other parties;
- rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- any additional facts and circumstances that indicate that the Group has, or does not have the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made, including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meetings.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Company loses control of the subsidiary. Income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the equity holders of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income and expenses of a subsidiary is attributed to the equity holders of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

3. Basis of consolidation (continued)

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies.

All intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income and expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in existing subsidiaries that do not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Group's relevant components of equity including reserves and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted after re-attribution of the relevant equity component, and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognized directly in equity and attributed to the equity holders of the Company.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, a gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss and is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the previous carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary attributable to the owners of the Company. All amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income in relation to that subsidiary are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities of the subsidiary (i.e. reclassified to profit or loss or transferred to another category of equity as specified/permitted by applicable IFRSs). The fair value of any investment retained in the former subsidiary at the date when control is lost is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition for subsequent accounting under IAS 39, when applicable, the cost on initial recognition of an investment in an associate or a joint venture.

4. Business combinations

Acquisitions of businesses are accounted for using the acquisition method. The consideration transferred in a business combination is measured at fair value, which is calculated as the sum of the acquisition-date fair values of the assets transferred by the Group, liabilities incurred by the Group to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group in exchange for control of the acquiree. Acquisition-related costs are generally recognized in profit or loss as incurred.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

(Amounts in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

4. Business combinations (continued)

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognized at their fair value, except that:

- deferred tax assets or liabilities, and assets or liabilities related to employee benefit arrangements are recognized and measured in accordance with IAS 12 Income Taxes and IAS 19 Employee Benefits respectively;
- liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share-based payment arrangements of the Group entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with IFRS 2 Share-Based Payment at the acquisition date; and
- assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with IFRS 5 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations are measured in accordance with that Standard.

Goodwill is measured as the excess of the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree, and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree (if any) over the net amount of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed as at acquisition date.

If, after reassessment, the net of the acquisition-date amounts of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed exceeds the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held interest in the acquiree (if any), the excess is recognized immediately in profit or loss as a bargain purchase gain.

Non-controlling interests that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to a proportionate share of the relevant entity's net assets in the event of liquidation may be initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the recognized amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on a transaction-by-transaction basis. Other types of non-controlling interests are measured at their fair value or, when applicable, on the basis specified in another IFRS.

When a business combination is achieved in stages, the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to fair value at the acquisition date (i.e. the date when the Group obtains control), and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is recognized in profit or loss. Amounts arising from interests in the acquiree prior to the acquisition date that have previously been recognized in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss where such treatment would be appropriate if that interest were disposed of.

4. Business combinations (continued)

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Group reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted during the measurement period (see above), or additional assets or liabilities are recognized, to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognized at that date.

5. Goodwill

Goodwill arising on an acquisition of a business is carried at cost as established at the date of acquisition of the business (see note III. 4 above) less accumulated impairment losses, if any.

For the purposes of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units (or groups of cash-generating units) that is expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, which represent the lowest level at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes and not larger than an operating segment.

A cash-generating unit (or group of cash-generating units) to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill and then to the other assets on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit (or group of cash-generating units). Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognized directly in profit or loss. An impairment loss recognized for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

On disposal of the relevant cash-generating unit, the attributable amount of goodwill is included in the determination of the profit or loss on disposal.

The Group's policy for goodwill arising on the acquisition of an associate and a joint venture is described in note III. 6 below.

6. Investments in associates and joint ventures

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence and that is neither a subsidiary nor an interest in a joint venture. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint arrangement. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The results and assets and liabilities of associates or joint ventures are incorporated in the consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting. The financial statements of associates or joint ventures used for equity accounting purpose are prepared using uniform accounting policies as those of the Group for like transactions and events in similar circumstances. Under the equity method, investments in associates or joint ventures are initially recognized in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognize the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associates or joint ventures. When the Group's share of losses of an associate or a joint venture exceeds the Group's interest in that associate or joint venture (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate or joint venture), the Group discontinues recognizing its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognized only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of that associate or joint venture.

An investment in an associate or a joint venture is accounted for using the equity method from the date on which the investee becomes an associate or a joint venture. On acquisition of the investment in an associate or a joint venture, any excess of the cost of the investment over the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the investee at the date of acquisition is recognized as goodwill, which is included within the carrying amount of the investment. Any excess of the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities over the cost of the investment, after reassessment, is recognized immediately in profit or loss in the period in which the investment is acquired.

The requirements of IAS 39 are applied to determine whether it is necessary to recognize any impairment loss with respect to the Group's investment in an associate or a joint venture. When necessary, the entire carrying amount of the investment (including goodwill) is tested for impairment in accordance with IAS 36 Impairment of Assets as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount (higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal) with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognized forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognized in accordance with IAS 36 to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

6. Investments in associates and joint ventures (continued)

The Group discontinues the use of the equity method from the date when the investment ceases to be an associate or a joint venture, or when the investment (or a portion thereof) is classified as held for sale. When the group retains an interest in the former associate or joint venture and the retained interest is a financial asset, the Group measures the retained interest at fair value at that date and the fair value is regarded as its fair value on initial recognition in accordance with IAS 39. The difference between the carrying amount of the associate or joint venture at the date the equity method was discontinued, and the fair value of any retained interest and any proceeds from disposing of a part interest in the associate or joint venture is included in the determination of the gain or loss on disposal of the associate or joint venture. In addition, the Group accounts for all amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income in relation to that associate or joint venture on the same basis as would be required if that associate or joint venture had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. Therefore, if a gain or loss previously recognized in other comprehensive income by that associate or joint venture would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities, the Group reclassifies the gain or loss from equity to profit or loss (as a reclassification adjustment) when the equity method is discontinued.

The Group continues to use the equity method when an investment in an associate becomes an investment in a joint venture or an investment in a joint ventures becomes an investment in an associate. There is no remeasurement to fair value upon such changes in ownership interests.

When the Group reduces its ownership interest in an associate or a joint venture but the Group continues to use the equity method, the Group reclassifies to profit or loss the proportion of the gain or loss that had previously been recognized in other comprehensive income relating to that reduction in ownership interest if that gain or loss would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities.

When a group entity transacts with its associate or joint ventures of the Group, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the associate or joint venture are recognized in the Group's consolidated financial statements only to the extent of interests in the associate or joint venture that are not related to the Group.

7. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash consists of cash on hand and deposits which is not subject to any restriction for use. Cash equivalents refer to short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

III. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

8. Foreign currency transactions

The functional currency of the Company and its subsidiaries operating in Mainland China is RMB. The Company's subsidiaries operating outside Mainland China choose their functional currency on the basis of the primary economic environment in which they operate.

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recorded in the respective functional currency (i.e. the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates) at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the end of the reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the retranslation of monetary items, are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

Exchange differences arising on the retranslation of non-monetary items carried at fair value are included in profit or loss for the period except for exchange differences arising on the retranslation of non-monetary items in respect of which gains and losses are recognized directly in other comprehensive income, in which case, the exchange differences are also recognized directly in other comprehensive income.

For the purposes of presenting the consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Group's foreign operations are translated into the presentation currency of the Group at the rate of exchange prevailing at the end of the reporting period, and their income and expenses are translated at a rate that approximates the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity (attributed to non-controlling interests as appropriate).

Goodwill and fair value adjustments to identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed through acquisition of a foreign operation are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign operation and translated at the rate of exchange prevailing at the end of reporting period. Exchange differences arising are recognized in other comprehensive income.

9. Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized in the consolidated statement of financial position when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognized immediately in profit or loss.

9.1 Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortized cost of a financial asset or liability and of allocating the interest income or expense over the period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts or payments through the expected life of the financial instrument or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Group estimates cash flows considering all contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider future credit losses. The calculation includes all fees and points paid or received between parties to the contract that are an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and all other premiums or discounts.

9.2 Classification, recognition and measurement of financial assets

The Group's financial assets are classified into one of the four categories, including financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, held-to-maturity investments, available-for-sale financial assets and loans and receivables. Investment securities comprise held-to-maturity investments, available-for-sale financial assets and financial assets classified as receivables. The classification depends on the nature and purpose of the financial assets and is determined at the time of initial recognition. All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognized and derecognized on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place.

9. Financial instruments (continued)

9.2 Classification, recognition and measurement of financial assets (continued)

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL")

Financial assets at FVTPL have two subcategories, including financial assets held for trading and those designated as at FVTPL on initial recognition.

A financial asset is classified as held-for-trading if:

- it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling it in the near term; or
- on initial recognition it is a part of an identified portfolio of financial instruments that the Group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument.

A financial asset other than a financial asset held for trading may be designated as at FVTPL upon initial recognition if:

- such designation eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition inconsistency that would otherwise arise; or
- the financial asset forms part of a group of financial assets or financial liabilities or both, which is managed and its performance is evaluated on a fair value basis, in accordance with the Group's documented risk management or investment strategy, and information about the grouping is provided internally on that basis; or
- it forms part of a contract containing one or more embedded derivatives, and IAS 39 permits the entire combined contract (asset or liability) to be designated as at FVTPL.

Financial assets at FVTPL are stated at fair value, with changes in fair value arising from remeasurement recognized directly in profit or loss in the period in which they arise. Any interest income arising from financial assets at FVTPL is also included in fair value changes of such assets.

Held-to-maturity investments

Held-to-maturity investments are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturities that the Group has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity. Subsequent to initial recognition, held-to-maturity investments are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any identified impairment losses.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Financial assets classified as loans and receivables by the Group include balances with central bank, deposits with financial institutions, placements with financial institutions, financial assets held under resale agreements, financial assets classified as receivables, loans and advances to customers, finance lease receivables and other receivables. Loans and receivables are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Gain or loss arising from derecognition or impairment is recognized in profit or loss.

Debt instruments with fixed or determinable payments but have no quoted price in an active market are accounted for as financial assets classified as receivables.

Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivatives that are either designated or are not classified as financial assets at FVTPL, loans and receivables or held-to-maturity investments.

Equity and debt securities held by the Group that are classified as available-for-sale financial assets and are traded in an active market are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period. Changes in the carrying amount of available-for-sale monetary financial assets relating to interest income calculated using the effective interest method and dividends on available-for-sale equity investments are recognized in profit or loss. Other changes in the carrying amount of available-for-sale financial assets are recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity. When the investment is disposed of or is determined to be impaired, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in equity is reclassified to profit or loss.

Dividends on available-for-sale equity instruments are recognized in profit or loss when the Group's right to receive the dividends is established.

For available-for-sale equity investments that do not have a quoted market price in an active market and whose fair value cannot be reliably measured are measured at cost less any identified impairment losses at the end of each reporting period.

When a debt is swapped into equity interest of an entity during a debt restructuring, the difference between the carrying amount of the debt receivable and the fair value of the equity interest being swapped is recognized in profit or loss for the period.

9.3 Impairment of financial assets

Financial assets, other than those at FVTPL, are assessed for indicators of impairment at the end of each reporting period. Financial assets are considered to be impaired when there is objective evidence that, as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the financial assets, the estimated future cash flows of the financial assets have been affected.

For an available-for-sale equity investment, a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value of that investment below its cost is considered to be objective evidence of impairment.

Objective evidence that other financial asset is impaired includes the following observable events:

- (1) significant financial difficulty of the issuer or obligor;
- (2) a breach of contract by the borrower, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments;
- (3) the lender, for economic or legal reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, granting to the borrower a concession that the lender would not otherwise consider;

(Amounts in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

9.3 Impairment of financial assets (continued)

- (4) it becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganizations;
- (5) the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties of the issuer;
- (6) observable data indicating that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows from a portfolio of financial assets since the initial recognition of those assets, although the decrease cannot yet be identified with the individual financial assets in the portfolio, including:
 - adverse changes in the payment status of borrowers in the portfolio; or
 - national or local economic conditions that correlate with defaults on the assets in the portfolio.
- (7) significant adverse changes in the technological, market, economic or legal environment in which the issuer operates, indicating that the cost of the investment in the equity instrument may not be recovered by the investor;
- (8) other objective evidence indicating there is an impairment of a financial asset.

Impairment of financial assets measured at amortized cost

For financial assets carried at amortized cost, an impairment loss is recognized in profit or loss when there is objective evidence that the assets are impaired, and is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate. For financial assets with variable interest rate, the discount rate for measuring any impairment loss is the current effective interest rate determined under the contract.

The calculation of present value of the estimated future cash flows of a collateralized financial asset includes the cash flows that may result from foreclosure less costs for obtaining and selling the collateral.

The carrying amount of a financial asset is reduced through the use of an allowance account. Changes in carrying amount of the allowance account are recognized in the profit or loss. When a financial asset is considered uncollectible, it is written off against the allowance account. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited to profit or loss.

If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized (such as an improvement in the debtor's credit rating), the previously recognized impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the asset at the date the impairment is reversed does not exceed what the amortized cost would have been had the impairment not been recognized.

Impairment of available-for-sale financial assets

When a decline in the fair value of an available-for-sale financial asset has been recognized directly in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity and there is objective evidence that asset is impaired, the cumulative gains or losses previously recognized in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss in the period in which the impairment takes place.

Impairment loss on available-for-sale equity investment at fair value is not reversed through profit or loss in subsequent periods. Any increase in fair value subsequent to impairment loss is recognized directly in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity. For available-for-sale debt investments, impairment losses are subsequently reversed through profit or loss if an increase in the fair value of the investment can be objectively related to an event occurring after the recognition of the impairment loss.

If an impairment loss has been incurred on an investment in unquoted equity instrument (without a quoted price in an active market) whose fair value cannot be reliably measured, the carrying amount of the financial asset is reduced to the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset. The amount of reduction is recognized as an impairment loss in profit or loss. The impairment loss on such financial asset is not reversed once it is recognized.

9.4 Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognizes a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. If the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Group continues to recognize the assets to the extent of its continuing involvement and recognizes an associated liability. If the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Group continues to recognize the financial asset and also recognizes a collateralized borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable and the cumulative gain or loss that had been recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity is recognized in profit or loss.

If a part of the transferred financial asset qualifies for derecognition, the carrying amount of the transferred financial asset is allocated between the part that continues to be recognized and the part that is derecognized, based on the respective fair values of those parts on the date of transfer. The difference between (i) the carrying amount allocated to the part derecognized; and (ii) the sum of the consideration received for the part derecognized and any cumulative gain or loss allocated to the part derecognized which has been previously recognized in other comprehensive income, is recognized in profit or loss.

9.5 Financial liabilities and equity instrument

Financial liabilities and equity instruments issued by a group entity are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

On initial recognition, the Group's financial liabilities are generally classified into financial liabilities at FVTPL or other financial liabilities.

9.5 Financial liabilities and equity instrument (continued)

Financial liabilities at FVTPL

Financial liabilities at FVTPL have two subcategories, including financial liabilities held for trading and those designated as at FVTPL on initial recognition.

The criteria for a financial liability to be classified as held for trading or designated as at FVTPL are the same as those for a financial asset to be classified as held for trading or designated as at FVTPL.

Financial liabilities at FVTPL are stated at fair value, with any gains or losses arising on remeasurement recognized directly in profit or loss in the period in which they arise. The net gain or loss recognized in profit or loss excludes any interest paid on the financial liabilities.

Other financial liabilities

Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, with gain or loss arising from derecognition or amortization recognized in profit or loss.

Financial guarantee contracts

A financial guarantee contract is a contract that requires the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payments when due in accordance with the terms of a debt instrument.

Financial guarantee contracts issued by a group entity are initially measured at their fair values and, if not designated as at FVTPL, are subsequently measured at the higher of:

- the amount of the obligation under the contract, as determined in accordance with IAS 37; and
- the amount initially recognized less, where appropriate, cumulative amortization recognized in accordance with the revenue recognition policies.

9.5 Financial liabilities and equity instrument (continued)

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Group are recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Perpetual capital instruments issued by the Group, which includes no contractual obligation for the Group to deliver cash or another financial asset to the holders or to exchange financial assets or financial liabilities with the holders under conditions that are potentially unfavorable to the Group, are classified as equity instruments and are initially recorded at the proceeds received.

Compound instruments

The component parts of convertible loan notes issued by the Group are classified separately as financial liabilities and equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument. A conversion option that will be settled by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of the Group's own equity instruments is an equity instrument.

At the date of issue, the fair value of the liability component is estimated using the prevailing market interest rate for similar non-convertible instruments. This amount is recorded as a liability on an amortized cost basis using the effective interest method until extinguished upon conversion or at the instrument's maturity date.

The conversion option classified as equity is determined by deducting the amount of the liability component from the fair value of the compound instrument as a whole. This is recognized and included in equity, net of income tax effects, and is not subsequently remeasured. In addition, the conversion option classified as equity will remain in equity until the conversion option is exercised, in which case, the balance recognized in equity will be transferred to other equity. When the conversion option remains unexercised at the maturity date of the convertible note, the balance recognized in equity will be transferred to other equity. No gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss upon conversion or expiration of the conversion option.

Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the convertible notes are allocated to the liability and equity components in proportion to the allocation of the gross proceeds. Transaction costs relating to the equity component are recognized directly in equity. Transaction costs relating to the liability component are included in the carrying amount of the liability component and are amortized over the lives of the convertible notes using the effective interest method.

9.6 Derecognition of financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are derecognized when the obligation specified in the relevant contract is discharged, cancelled or expires. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognized and the consideration paid and payable is recognized in profit or loss.

An agreement between the Group (an existing borrower) and an existing lender to replace the original financial liability with a new financial liability with substantially different terms is accounted for as an extinguishment of the original financial liability and the recognition of a new financial liability.

9.7 Derivatives and embedded derivatives

Derivatives are initially measured at fair value at the date when the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. The resulting gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss.

An embedded derivative is separated from the hybrid instrument, where the hybrid instrument is not designated as a financial asset or financial liability at FVTPL, and treated as a standalone derivative if (i) the economic characteristics and risks of the embedded derivative are not closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract; and (ii) a separate instrument with the same terms as the embedded derivative would meet the definition of a derivative. If the Group is unable to measure the embedded derivative separately either at acquisition or at the end of each reporting period, it designates the entire hybrid instrument as a financial asset or financial liability at FVTPL.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the statements of financial position when both of the following conditions are satisfied: (i) the Group currently has a legal enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts; and (ii) the Group intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the financial asset and settle the financial liability simultaneously.

10. Inventories

Properties under development and properties held for sale

Properties under development and properties held for sale are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value on an individual basis. Cost comprises the acquisition cost and other costs directly attributable to such properties as well as borrowing costs capitalized in accordance with the Group's accounting policy.

11. Investment properties

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation (including property under construction for such purposes). Investment properties are measured initially at cost, including transaction costs.

All investment properties upon the incorporation of the Company were revalued by reference to the valuation carried out during the financial restructuring. The revalued amount was adopted as the deemed cost of the related investment properties.

Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at cost or deemed cost less subsequent accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. Depreciation is recognized so as to write off the cost or deemed cost of investment properties over their estimated useful lives and after taking into account of their estimated residual value, using the straight-line method.

Construction costs incurred for investment properties under construction are capitalized as part of the carrying amount of the investment properties under construction.

An investment property is derecognized upon disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from its disposals. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the property (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the profit or loss in the period in which the property is derecognized.

12. Property and equipment

Property and equipment including buildings held for use in the supply of services, or for administrative purposes are stated in the statements of financial position at cost, less subsequent accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Depreciation is recognized so as to write off the cost of items of property and equipment (other than construction in progress) less their residual values over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

The useful lives, estimated residual value rates and annual depreciation rates of each class of property and equipment other than construction in progress are as follows:

Category	Depreciation	Residual value rates	Annual depreciation rates
Buildings	5–35 years	3%–5%	2.71%–19.40%
Machinery equipment	5–20 years	3%–5%	4.75%–19.40%
Electronic equipment, furniture and fixtures	3–10 years	3%–5%	9.50%–32.33%
Motor vehicles	5–10 years	3%–5%	9.50%–19.40%

Properties in the course of construction for supply of services or administrative purposes are carried at cost, less any recognized impairment loss. Costs include professional fees and for qualifying assets, borrowing cost capitalized in accordance with the Group's accounting policy. Such properties are reclassified to the appropriate category of property and equipment when completed and ready for intended use. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

An item of property and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in profit or loss.

12. Property and equipment (continued)

Buildings under development for future owner-occupied purpose

When buildings are in the course of development for production or for administrative purpose, the amortization of prepaid lease payment provided during the construction period is included as part of costs of buildings under construction. Buildings under construction are carried at cost, less any identified impairment losses. Depreciation of buildings commences when they are available for use (i.e. when they are in the location and condition necessary for them to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management).

13. Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalization.

All other borrowing costs are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

14. Intangible assets

Intangible assets include trading seat fee, computer software and licenses, etc. An intangible asset is measured initially at cost.

When an intangible asset with a finite useful life is available for use, its original cost less net residual value and any accumulated impairment losses is amortized over its estimated useful life using the straight-line method. An intangible asset with an indefinite useful life is not amortized.

For an intangible asset with a finite useful life, the Group reviews the useful life and amortization method at the end of the reporting period, and makes adjustments when necessary. An intangible asset is derecognized on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are measured at the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in profit or loss in the period when the asset is derecognized.

14. Intangible assets (continued)

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination and recognized separately from goodwill are initially recognized at their fair value at the acquisition date (which is regarded as their cost).

Subsequent to initial recognition, intangible assets acquired in a business combination with finite useful lives are reported at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses/revalued amounts, being their fair value at the date of the revaluation less subsequent accumulated amortization and any accumulated impairment losses, on the same basis as intangible assets that are acquired separately. Alternatively, intangible assets acquired in a business combination with indefinite useful lives are carried at cost less any subsequent accumulated impairment losses (see the accounting policy in respect of impairment losses on tangible and intangible assets below).

15. Impairment on tangible and intangible assets other than goodwill (see the accounting policy in respect of goodwill above)

At the end of the reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets with finite useful lives to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any. When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that they may be impaired.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value-in-use. In assessing value-in-use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

(Amounts in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

15. Impairment on tangible and intangible assets other than goodwill (see the accounting policy in respect of goodwill above) (continued)

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or a cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. In allocating the impairment loss, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill (if applicable) and then to the other assets on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. The carrying amount of an asset is not reduced below the highest of its fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable), its value in use (if determinable) and zero. The amount of the impairment loss that would otherwise have been allocated to the asset is allocated pro-rata to the other assets of the unit. An impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset (or a cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

16. Resale and repurchase agreements

16.1 Financial assets held under resale agreements

Financial assets that have been purchased under agreements with a commitment to resell at a specific future date are not recognized in the statements of financial position. The cost (including interests) of purchasing such assets is presented under “financial assets held under resale agreements” in the consolidated statements of financial position. The difference between the purchasing price and reselling price is recognized as interest income during the term of the agreement using the effective interest method.

16.2 Financial assets sold under repurchase agreements

Financial assets sold subject to agreements with a commitment to repurchase at a specific future date are not derecognized in the statements of financial position. The proceeds (including interests) from selling such assets are presented under “financial assets sold under repurchase agreements” in the consolidated statements of financial position. The difference between the selling price and repurchasing price is recognized as interest expense during the term of the agreement using the effective interest method.

17. Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Group has a present (legal or constructive) obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Group will be required to settle the obligation, and the amount of the obligation can be measured reliably.

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of each reporting period, taking into account factors pertaining to a contingency such as the risks, uncertainties and time value of money. Where the effect of the time value of money is material, the amount of the provision is determined by discounting the related future cash outflows.

Where some or all of the expenditure required to settle a provision is expected to be reimbursed by a third party, the reimbursement is recognized as a separate asset only when it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received, and the amount of reimbursement recognized does not exceed the carrying amount of the provision.

18. Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and when the revenue can be reliably measured. Specific recognition criteria for different nature of revenue are disclosed below:

18.1 Income from distressed debt assets classified as receivables

Income from distressed debt assets includes interest income and disposal income arising on distressed debt assets classified as receivables. Interest income is recognized in profit or loss using the effective interest method.

18.2 Fair value changes on distressed debt assets

Gains or losses from disposal of distressed debt assets designated as at FVTPL and unrealized fair value changes on such assets, both of which are accounted for as fair value changes on distressed debt assets. Any interest income arising from distressed debt assets designated as at FVTPL is also included in fair value changes of such assets.

18. Revenue recognition (continued)

18.3 Interest income and expense

Interest income and expense for all interest-bearing financial instruments, except for interest income from distressed debt assets and investment securities, are recognized within “interest income” and “interest expense” in profit or loss using the effective interest method.

Once a financial asset or a group of similar financial assets has been written down as a result of an impairment loss, interest income is recognized using the rate of interest used to discount the future cash flows for the purpose of measuring the impairment loss.

18.4 Commission and fee income

The Group earns commission and fee income from a diverse range of services it provides to its customers. For those services that are over a period of time, commission and fee income are accrued over that period when the services are rendered. For other services, commission and fee income are recognized when the transactions are completed.

The income from securities trading brokerage business is recognized as commission and fee income on trade date basis.

The income from securities underwriting services is recognized according to the underwriting agreements as commission and fee income when the securities are allotted.

Funds and asset management fee, futures business fee and consultancy and financial advisory fee are recognized on accrual basis when services are provided.

Fee from leasing business is recognized on accrual basis when services are provided.

Commission and fee income from trustee services is recognized on accrual basis and calculated in accordance with the terms of the trust contract.

18.5 Investment income

Investment income includes interest income, dividends income and disposal gain/loss from the debt assets and equity instruments that are classified as available-for-sale financial assets, held-to-maturity investments and debt instruments classified as receivables.

18. Revenue recognition (continued)

18.6 Dividend income

Dividend income from investments is recognized when the shareholder's rights to receive the payment has been established and is recognized provided that the amount can be measured reliably and it is probable that the associated economic benefits will flow to the Group.

18.7 Other income

Revenue from sale of goods

Revenue from sale of goods is recognized when (1) the Group has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods; (2) the Group retains neither continuing managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership nor effective control over the goods sold; (3) the amount of revenue can be measured reliably; (4) it is probable that the associated economic benefits will flow to the Group; and (5) the associated costs incurred or to be incurred can be measured reliably.

Property rental income

The property rental income is recognized when the amount can be measured reliably and it is probable that the associated economic benefits will flow to the Group, and is recognized on accrued basis.

Property management fee

The property management fee is recognized when the services are provided and it is probable that the associated economic benefits will flow to the Group and relevant income and cost can be measured reliably.

Hotel operation income

Revenue from hotel operation is recognized upon provision of services.

III. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

19. Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

19.1 Current tax

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from profit before tax as reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

19.2 Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax base used in the computation of taxable profit.

Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognized for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilized. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognized if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognized if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments and interests are only recognized to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilize the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

For the year ended December 31, 2016

(Amounts in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

19. Taxation (continued)

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realized, based on tax rate (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of each reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Current and deferred tax is recognized in profit or loss, except when it relates to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the current and deferred tax is also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the Group intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

20. Leasing

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

20.1 The Group as lessor

Amounts due from lessees under finance leases are recorded as receivables at the amount of the Group's net investment in the leases. Finance lease income is allocated to accounting periods so as to reflect a constant periodic rate of return on the Group's net investment outstanding in respect of the leases.

Rental income from operating leases is recognized in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

20. Leasing (continued)

20.2 The Group as lessee

Operating lease payments are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

20.3 Leasehold land and building

When a lease includes both land and building elements, the Group assesses the classification of each element as a finance or an operating lease separately based on the assessment as to whether substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of each element have been transferred to the Group unless it is clear that both elements are operating leases in which case the entire lease is classified as an operating lease. Specifically, the minimum lease payments (including any lump-sum upfront payments) are allocated between the land and the building elements in proportion to the relative fair values of the leasehold interests in the land element and building element of the lease at the inception of the lease.

To the extent the allocation of the lease payments can be made reliably, leasehold interests in land (i.e. land use rights) are accounted for as operating leases and amortized over the lease term on a straight-line basis. When the lease payments cannot be allocated reliably between the land and building elements, the entire lease is generally classified as a finance lease and accounted for as property and equipment.

21. Fiduciary activities

The Group's fiduciary activities mainly include trust and asset custody services.

The trust service of the Group refer to the business that the Group acts as trustee to undertake investment activity within the agreed period and scope on behalf of the third-party lenders who provide the fund.

The Group is responsible for the arrangement and collection of the entrusted loans and receives a commission for the services rendered. As the Group does not assume the risks and rewards of the entrusted loans and the funding for the corresponding entrusted funds, they are not recognized as assets and liabilities of the Group.

22. Employee benefits

In the reporting period in which an employee has rendered services, the Group recognizes the employee benefits expenses for those services in profit or loss.

Social welfare

Social welfare expenditure refers to payments for employees' social welfare system established by the PRC government, including social insurance, housing funds and other social welfare contributions. The Group contributes on a monthly basis to these funds based on certain percentage of the salaries of the employees and the contributions are recognized in profit or loss for the period in which they are incurred. The Group's liabilities in respect of these funds are limited to the contribution payable in the reporting period.

Annuity Scheme

The employees of the Company and some subsidiaries of the Group participate in annuity scheme set up by the Group (the "Annuity Scheme"). The Group made annuity contributions with reference to employees' salaries of last year, and the contributions are expensed in profit or loss when incurred. The Group has no further obligation if the Annuity Scheme does not have sufficient assets for payment of supplementary retirement benefits to employees.

Post-retirement benefits

The Group pays supplementary post-retirement benefits to employees in Mainland China who retired prior to December 31, 2012.

Post-retirement benefits include supplemental pension payments and medical expense coverage.

The liability related to the above post-retirement benefit obligations existing at the end of each reporting period is calculated by independent actuaries using the projected unit credit method and is recorded as a liability. The present value of the liability is determined through discounting the estimated future cash outflows using interest rates of RMB treasury bonds which have terms to maturity approximating the terms of the related liability. The actuarial gains or losses of post-retirement benefit obligations are recognized in "other comprehensive income" immediately when they occur. Except for the actuarial changes, other changes are recognized in "operating expenses" immediately when they occur.

22. Employee benefits (continued)

Early retirement benefits

The Group pays early retirement benefits to those employees who accepted an early retirement arrangement.

Early retirement benefits have been paid to those employees who accept voluntary retirement before the normal retirement date, as approved by management. The related benefit payments are made from the date of early retirement to the normal retirement date.

The liability related to the above early retirement obligations existing at the end of each reporting period is calculated by independent actuaries using the projected unit credit method and is recorded as a liability. The present value of the liability is determined through discounting the estimated future cash outflows using interest rates of RMB treasury bonds which have terms to maturity approximating the terms of the related liability. The gains or losses of remeasurement or amendments of early retirement benefit obligations are charged or credited to "operating expenses" when they occur.

23. Government grants

Government grants are not recognized until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognized in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognizes as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Specifically, government grants whose primary condition is that the Group should purchase, construct or otherwise acquire non-current assets are recognized as deferred income in the consolidated statement of financial position and transferred to profit or loss on a systematic and rational basis over the useful lives of the related assets.

Government grants that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable.

IV. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

The following are the critical judgments and key estimation uncertainties that the management has made in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies and that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the consolidated financial statements and/or in the next twelve months.

1. Classification of financial assets

The Group's management needs to make critical judgment in classifying financial assets based on the purpose and nature on the initial recognition date. Due to the differences of the subsequent measurement of financial assets, the classification will affect the financial position and operating results. If the Group sold more than an insignificant amount of held-to-maturity investments before maturity, it is required to reclassify the entire portfolio of held-to-maturity investments as available-for-sale financial assets.

2. Fair value of financial instruments

The Group uses valuation technique for financial instruments which are not quoted in an active market. Valuation techniques include the use of discounted cash flows analysis, option pricing models or other valuation methods as appropriate. To the extent practical, models use only observable data. However, areas such as credit risk of the Group and the counterparty, volatilities and correlations require management to make estimates. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the estimated fair value of financial instruments. As at December 31, 2016, the total fair value of level 2 and level 3 financial assets that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis amounted to RMB238,482 million (December 31, 2015: RMB128,767 million).

3. Impairment of available-for-sale financial assets

The determination of whether an available-for-sale financial instrument is impaired requires significant judgment. For available-for-sale equity instruments, the Group evaluates the duration and extent to which the fair value of an investment is less than its cost; or the financial health of and near-term business outlook for the investee, including factors such as industry and sector performance, credit ratings, delinquency rates and counterparty risk, to determine whether impairment exist and the corresponding amount of the impairment loss. For available-for-sale debt instruments, the Group makes the judgements as to whether there is an objective evidence of impairment which indicates a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows of these debt instruments. As at December 31, 2016, available-for-sale instruments amounted to RMB140,293 million with an impairment loss of RMB787 million (December 31, 2015: RMB64,994 million, with an impairment loss of RMB786 million).

4. Impairment of held-to-maturity investments

The determination of whether a held-to-maturity financial asset is impaired requires significant judgment. Objective evidence that a financial asset or group of assets is impaired includes a breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments or the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of significant financial difficulty of the issuer, etc. In making such judgment, the impact of objective evidence for impairment on expected future cash flows of the investment is taken into account. As at December 31, 2016, the carrying amount of held-to-maturity investments was RMB44,884 million (December 31, 2015: RMB34,358 million) and there were no impairment losses as at the end of both years.

5. Impairment of financial assets classified as receivables, loans and advances to customers and finance lease receivables

The Group reviews its financial assets classified as receivables, loans and advances to customers and finance lease receivables to assess impairment on a periodic basis. In determining whether there is objective evidence of impairment, the Group makes judgments as to whether the estimated future cash flows from financial assets classified as receivables, loans and advances to customers and finance lease receivables would likely be lower than those stated on the repayment schedule as stipulated in the agreements. The Group first makes the assessment on an individual basis to determine allowance for impairment losses. When the decrease may not have been identified individually or the individual financial assets classified as receivables or loans and advances to customers or finance lease receivables is not significant, management uses estimates based on historical loss experience and industrial experience data on a collective basis to assess the impairment loss while estimating expected future cash flows. The methodology and assumptions used for estimating both the amount and timing of future cash flows are reviewed regularly to reduce any differences between loss estimates and actual loss experience. (Details of the carrying amounts and the impairment losses of these assets are included in note V.27, note V.23 and note V.24).

IV. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY (continued)

6. Taxes

There are certain transactions and activities for which the ultimate tax determination is subject to the final approval of annual tax return the Group filed with relevant tax authorities. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially estimated, such differences will impact the current income tax and deferred income tax in the period during which such a determination is made. (Details of the Group's current income tax and deferred income tax are included in note V.12 and note V.34).

7. Control on structured entities

The Group's management needs to assess whether the Group has all the following: (a) power over the structured entity, (b) exposure to significant variable returns from its involvement with the structured entity, and (c) the ability to use its power over the structured entity to affect its returns. If such power, exposure and ability exist, the Group has to consolidate such structured entity. When the Group served as manager or trustee of the structured entity, the Group uses the following judgments to determine whether control exists in a structured entity: the scope of decision-making as a manager or trustee, the power held by other parties, the remuneration and the exposure to variability of returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls a structured entity if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed in note III.3. The judgments the Group used in determining whether or not it has control over the structured entities are detailed in note V.30.

V. EXPLANATORY NOTES (continued)

30. Interests in consolidated structured entities

To determine whether control exists in a structured entity, the Group uses the following judgments:

- (1) For a structured entity that the Group provides financial guarantee, the Group therefore has an obligation to fund the losses beyond its investment, if any, in accordance with the guarantee agreements. The Group then concludes that its exposure to variability of returns is of such significance that the structured entity shall be consolidated.
- (2) For private equity funds where the Group involves as both general partner and limited partner, the Group assesses whether the combination of investments it holds together with its remuneration creates exposure to variability of returns from the activities of the fund that is of such significance that it indicates that the fund manager is a principal. The fund shall be consolidated if the Group acts in the role of principal.
- (3) For trust products or asset management plans where the Group involves as trustee/manager and also as investor, the Group assesses whether the combination of investments it holds together with its remuneration creates exposure to variability of returns from the activities of the trust products or asset management plans that is of such significance that it indicates that the Group is a principal. The trust products or asset management plans shall be consolidated if the Group acts in the role of principal.

The Group had consolidated certain structured entities during the year. They mainly include trust products, asset management plans and private equity funds.

As at December 31, 2016, interests in these consolidated structured entities held by the Company amounted to RMB8,607 million (December 31, 2015: RMB3,580 million).

The financial impact of these trust products, asset management plans and private equity funds on the Group's financial position as at December 31, 2016 and 2015, and results and cash flows for the years then ended, though consolidated, are not significant individually and therefore not disclosed separately.

Interests held by other interest holders are presented as change in net assets attributable to other holders of consolidated structured entities in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and as other liabilities in the consolidated statement of financial position respectively. The payables to interest holders of consolidated structured entities amounted to RMB158,365 million as at December 31, 2016 (December 31, 2015: RMB37,232 million). The change in net assets attributable to other holders of consolidated structured entities amounted to RMB3,376 million for the year ended December 31, 2016 (December 31, 2015: RMB2,457 million).

31. Interests in unconsolidated structured entities

The Group served as general partner, manager or trustee of structured entities, therefore had power over them. Except for the structured entities the Group has consolidated as detailed in note V.30, in the opinion of the directors of the Company, the variable returns the Group exposed to over the structured entities that the Group has interests in are not significant. The Group therefore did not consolidate these structured entities.

The Group classified the investments in these unconsolidated structured entities as financial assets classified as receivables, available-for-sale financial assets or interests in associates and joint ventures as appropriate. The Group's interests in and exposure to these unconsolidated structured entities are not significant.

The size of assets under management, carrying amount and maximum exposure to loss of the Group's investments to unconsolidated structured entities are as follows:

	December 31, 2016				Income Type
	Size of assets under management	Carrying amount	Maximum exposure to loss	Income from structured entity
Trust products	208,808,794	1,210,500	1,210,500	967,940

54. Transfers of financial assets

Repurchase agreements

The Group entered into sales agreements with certain counterparties on its financial assets, in which the Group was subject to simultaneous agreements with commitments to repurchase these financial assets at specified future dates and prices. As stipulated in the repurchase agreements, there is no transfer of legal ownership of these financial assets to the counterparties during the covered period. However, the Group is not allowed to sell or pledge these financial assets during the covered period unless both parties mutually agree with such arrangement. Accordingly, the Group has determined that it retains substantially all the risks and rewards of these financial assets and therefore these financial assets have not been derecognized from the financial statements but regarded as “collateral” for the secured lending from the counterparties. Normally, the counterparties could only claim from the collateral when there exists an event of default on the secured lending.

57. Financial risk management

Overview

The Group's primary objectives of risk management are to ensure (1) the prudent operation and sound business development of the Group; (2) the execution of significant decisions to achieve business targets and ensure operational efficiency; and (3) that risk parameters are managed within a range consistent with the Group's strategies and business targets. Based on this, the Group has refined a particular philosophy of risk management culture and established a risk management model and an organizational structure. The Group regularly reviews and revises its risk management policies and systems to reflect changes in markets, products and emerging best practices.

The most significant types of risk to the Group include credit risk, market risk, liquidity risk and distressed assets risk. Market risk includes interest rate risk, foreign exchange risk and other price risk.

Risk management framework

The Board of Directors is responsible for establishing the overall risk appetite of the Group and reviewing and approving the risk management objectives and strategies. The Board has established Risk Management Committee, which is responsible for developing and monitoring the Group's risk strategy and risk management policies and evaluating the Group's overall risk exposures regularly.

Within this framework, the Group's senior management has overall responsibility for managing all aspects of risk, including implementing risk management strategies, initiatives and credit policies and approving internal policies, measures and procedures relating to risk management. Risk Management Department and other relevant functional units are responsible for monitoring financial risks.

57.1 Credit risk

(i) Credit risk management

Credit risk represents the potential loss that may arise from a customer or counterparty's failure to meet its obligation. Credit risk can also arise from operational failures that result in an unauthorized or inappropriate advance, commitment or investment of funds. The Group's major credit risks arise from deposits and placements with financial institutions, financial assets held under resale agreements, other financial assets classified as receivables, loans and advances to customers, finance lease receivables and other investment securities held by the Group. The nature of credit risk of distressed debt assets classified as receivables is similar to those mentioned above. Risk management of them is detailed in note V. 57.4 together with other types of distressed assets.

(i) Credit risk management (continued)

The Group implements the following measures to mitigate credit risk:

- Referencing to external credit rating information to manage the credit quality of counterparties, and selecting counterparties with acceptable credit quality and repayment ability to balance credit risk and return; and
- Obtaining effective collateral from counterparties to mitigate risks.

In particular, credit risk relating to investment securities such as debt securities and trust products is managed by selecting counterparties with acceptable credit quality, balancing credit risk and return, referencing to both internal and external credit rating information where available and by applying appropriate limits.

(ii) Impairment assessment

Credit assets are measured at amortized cost using effective interest method. The Group reviews the carrying amount of these assets at the end of the reporting period and recognizes impairment losses when there is objective evidence that the assets are impaired. The objective evidences of impairment are detailed in note III.9.3.

The Group first assesses whether objective evidence of impairment exists individually for financial assets that are individually significant, and collectively for financial assets that are not individually significant. If the Group determines that no objective evidence of impairment exists for an individually assessed financial asset, whether significant or not, it includes the asset in a group of financial assets with similar credit risk characteristics and collectively assesses them for impairment. Financial asset that is individually assessed for impairment and for which an impairment loss is or continues to be recognized is not included in collective assessment of impairment.

(iii) Maximum exposure to credit risk before taking into account any collateral held or other credit enhancements

The maximum exposure to credit risk represents the credit risk exposure to the Group at the end of the reporting period without taking into account any collateral held or other credit enhancements. The exposure to credit risk mainly arises from distressed debt assets acquired from financial institutions and non-financial institutions, loans and advances to customers, finance lease receivables, investment securities, and treasury operations of its banking activities. At the end of the reporting period, maximum exposure to credit risk is as follows:

	As at December 31,

(iii) Maximum exposure to credit risk before taking into account any collateral held or other credit enhancements (continued)

The Group implements specific policies and credit enhancement practices to mitigate credit risk exposure to an acceptable level. The most typical practice is by obtaining guarantee deposits, collateral and/or guarantees. The amount and type of acceptable collateral are determined by credit risk evaluations of counterparties. The Group implements guidelines on the acceptability of specific classes of collateral and evaluation parameters. The main types of collateral obtained are land and properties or other assets of the borrowers. The Group monitors the market value of collateral periodically and requests for additional collateral in accordance with the underlying agreement when necessary.

57. Financial risk management (continued)

57.2 Market risk

Market risk is the risk of loss, in respect of the Group's on- and off-balance sheet activities, arising from movements in market rates including interest rates, foreign exchange rates, and commodity and equity prices.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Group's interest rate risk arises from the mismatches between contractual maturities or repricing dates of interest-generating assets and interest-bearing liabilities.

The risk of fair value and cash flows changes due to interest rate changes are mainly related to the Group's fixed rates and floating rates financial instruments.

The Group manages its interest rate risk by:

- minimizing the mismatches between contractual maturities or repricing dates of interest-generating assets and interest-bearing liabilities;
- strictly controlling the length of the debt restructuring term and strengthening the matching of the Group's liabilities with the terms and interest rate structure of the distressed debt assets; and
- regularly performing quantitative analysis, including periodic sensitivity analysis.

The following table illustrates the potential impact of a parallel upward or downward shift of 100 basis points in all financial instruments' yield rate on the Group's profit before tax and other comprehensive income, based on the Group's positions of interest-generating assets and interest-bearing liabilities at the end of the reporting period.

Interest rate sensitivity analysis

	Year ended December 31,
	2016		2015
	Profit before tax	Other comprehensive income	Profit before tax	Other comprehensive income
+ 100 basis points	850,328	(1,183,355)	249,189	(546,457)
- 100 basis points	(850,328)	1,243,133	(249,189)	443,161

Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange risk is the risk of loss due to changes in currency exchange rates. The Group takes on exposure to the effects of fluctuations in the prevailing foreign exchange rates on its financial position and operating performance. The Group conducts the majority of its businesses in RMB, with certain foreign currency transactions conducted in United States dollar ("USD"), Hong Kong dollar ("HKD") or other currencies.

Foreign exchange rate sensitivity analysis

The table below indicates the potential effect on profit before tax of a 5% appreciation or depreciation of RMB spot and forward exchange rates against all other currencies.

	As at December 31,
	2016	2015
5% appreciation	1,220,059	120,060
5% depreciation	(1,220,059)	(120,060)

Price risk

Certain financial assets included in financial assets held for trading and the available-for-sale financial assets are subject to price risk which may cause losses to the Group as a result of changes in market prices.

The price risk of these financial assets may arise due to change in market price. This change may be caused by factors relating to the financial instrument itself or the issuer, and it also may be caused by market factors.

The following table illustrates the potential impact of an increase or decrease of 10 percent in price on financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and available-for-sale financial assets measured at fair value on the Group's profit before tax and equity.

	Year ended December 31,
	2016		2015
	Profit before tax	Equity	Profit before tax	Equity
+ 10 percent	5,722,307	7,613,650	984,622	1,527,412
- 10 percent	(5,722,307)	(7,613,650)	(984,622)	(1,527,412)

57. Financial risk management (continued)

57.3 Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that funds will not be available to meet liabilities as they fall due. This may arise from cash flows or maturity mismatches of assets and liabilities.

The Group manages its liquidity risk by:

- optimizing assets and liabilities structure;
- implementing a centralized liquidity management system by pooling Group-wide funds and maintaining an efficient internal fund transfer mechanism within the Group; and
- regularly performing quantitative analysis.

57.4 Risk management of distressed assets

57.4.1 Overview

Risk of distressed assets represents the potential loss that may arise from counterparty's failure to meet its obligation or changes in market conditions that lead to decline in asset value. Risk of distressed assets can also arise from operational failures due to unauthorized or inappropriate purchases, disposals or management activities, which result in the recoverable amount of the distressed assets lower than their carrying amounts.

The Group's distressed assets risk arises from distressed debts which the Group initially classifies as financial assets designated as at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets classified as receivables or equity instruments which the Group classifies as available-for-sale financial assets.

57.4.2 Risk management of distressed debt assets

The Group exercises standardized management procedures, including project initiation, due diligence investigation, design and approval of recovery plan and continuous monitoring and management. The Group enhances its risk management by strengthening investigation, review and approval procedures before taking up distressed assets, and monitoring measures after taking up the distressed assets; enhancing risk mitigation effect through collateral; and continuously upgrading the management system of distressed assets.

Specifically, the risks to which distressed debts initially designated as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss mainly comprise valuation risk, legal title risk and to certain extent credit risk; while the risks to which distressed debts initially classified as receivables mainly comprise credit risk.

57.4 Risk management of distressed assets (continued)

(i) Valuation risk

Valuation risk is the risk of negative impact arising from the difference between actual results and value estimations that the Group would use in its management of distressed debt assets designated as at fair value through profit or loss, due to variance in factors including future cash flows, collection period, discount rate, and disposal cost, etc. Measures the Group takes to minimize the valuation risk include:

- Perform investigation strictly on the parties involved in the transaction (including the debtors and the guarantors), collateral provided, repayment sources, etc.; and
- Adopt conservative estimation on incurrence rate, discount rate, and disposal cost when performing valuation and review the difference between actual results and estimation after the completion of the disposal of distressed assets to improve the accuracy of future estimations.

The Group has established an independent valuation process for financial assets and financial liabilities. The Operation Department is responsible for the valuation of financial assets and financial liabilities, and the Risk Management Department performs an independent review of the valuation methodologies, inputs, assumptions and valuation results. The Finance Department records these items and prepares the disclosure of the financial assets and financial liabilities, based on the independently reviewed valuation.

(ii) Legal title risk

Legal title risk is the risk of loss, arising from the decrease of recoverable amount when the legal rights to claim was partially or entirely lost due to inappropriate daily management of distressed assets such as expiry of claim period without taking proper legal actions on time. Measures the Group takes to minimize the legal title risk include:

- Set up alert management system to ensure the expiry of legal claim periods related to distressed assets are managed effectively;
- Set up periodic revisiting mechanism to interview debtors and monitor the conditions of collateral. Maintain regular investigation report properly to ensure the Group has access to the most updated information; and
- Set up reporting mechanism of significant event to ensure immediate recovery action be taken when certain risk elements emerge.

(iii) Credit risk

In addition to distressed debt assets classified as receivables, certain distressed debt assets designated as at fair value through profit or loss may also be subject to credit risk. Depending on the status of the obligor of distressed debt assets that are designated as at fair value through profit or loss, the Group may decide to pursue repayment from the obligor instead of disposing it to third party, credit risk arises in such situation. Credit risk represents the potential loss that may arise from a customer or counterparty's failure to meet its obligation.

Measures the Group takes to minimize the credit risk of distressed assets include:

- Manage the creditworthiness of counterparties using independent credit rating on the counterparties as reference;
- Select counterparties with appropriate creditworthiness and repayment capability; and
- Require counterparties to provide collateral to cover the credit exposure.

57.4.3. Risk management of assets obtained through debt-to-equity swap

Certain equity classified as available-for-sale investments were obtained through debt-to-equity swap. Risk related to these equity instruments is the risk of loss arising from movements in the value of equity shares due to price changes or decline in value of the investees.

Measures the Group takes to minimize the risk related to these equity instruments include:

- Strengthen continuous monitoring, analysis and management of equity values;
- Gain better understanding of macro-economic policies reinforced by the government and assess their impact on the equity investments; and
- Track the value changes dynamically and identify the appropriate timing for disposal to realize the maximum value of equity shares.

57.4.4. Determination of fair value

The Group determines the fair value of distressed debt assets classified as financial assets designated as at fair value through profit or loss by using valuation techniques as these assets usually do not have an active market. Valuation techniques mainly include discounted cash flow method with future cash flow estimated based on recent prices of similar transactions entered between market participants. Discount rate used is determined by referencing to the historical rate of return on similar distressed assets portfolio, adjusted for economic conditions that only exist at the valuation day. The average discount rate used by the Group as at December 31, 2016 was 11% (December 31, 2015: 12.5%).

57.4.5. Impairment assessment

The Group performs impairment assessment on distressed debt assets classified as receivables and equity investments classified as available-for-sale financial assets. Assessment procedures for distressed debt assets classified as receivables are similar to those set out in note V.57.1.

For equity investments classified as available-for-sale financial assets that are measured at fair value, objective evidence of impairment includes significant or prolonged decline in the fair value of the investments.

For equity investments classified as available-for-sale financial assets that are measured at cost, objective evidence of impairment includes significant financial difficulty of the investee or issuer or macro-economic conditions that have a negative impact on the business operation of the investee.

57.5 Capital management

The Group's objectives on capital management are as follows:

- Ensure compliance with regulatory requirements;
- Optimize capital allocation among the Group entities;
- Improve efficiency of capital deployment;
- Safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern to support the Group's development.

In accordance with the requirements of Consolidated Supervision Guidelines on Financial Asset Management Companies (Provisional) (Yinjianfa [2011] No. 20), issued by the CBRC in 2011, the Group manages its capital based on required minimum capital. Compliance with the requirement of minimum capital is the primary goal of capital management of the Group.

Minimum capital of the Group is the total of minimum capital of the Company and its subsidiaries after taking into account of the percentage of shareholding, and deduction as required by relevant rules and regulations. The Group is required to meet this minimum capital requirement stipulated by the CBRC.

In accordance with the requirements of Off-site Supervision Reporting Index System on Financial Asset Management Companies (Provisional) (Yinjianbanfa [2012] No. 153), issued by the CBRC in 2012, the Company is required to maintain a minimum Capital Adequacy Ratio ("CAR") at 12.5%. CAR is calculated by dividing the qualified capital of the Company by its risk-weighted assets. As at December 31, 2016 and 2015, the Company complied with the regulatory requirements on the minimum CAR.

58. Fair value of financial instruments (continued)

58.1 Fair value of financial assets that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis (continued)

Valuation methods for financial instruments

For Level 1 financial instruments, fair values are unadjusted quotes in active markets for identical assets.

For Level 2 financial instruments, valuations are generally calculated based on the fair value of the underlying investments which are debt securities or publicly traded equity instruments in each portfolio or obtained from third party pricing services agent such as China Central Depository & Clearing Co., Ltd. which are based on the discounted cash flow model. All significant inputs are observable, directly or indirectly from the market.

For Level 3 financial instruments, the management obtains valuation quotations from counterparties or uses valuation techniques to determine the fair value, including discounted cash flow analysis, net asset value and market comparison approach, etc. The fair value of these financial instruments may be based on unobservable inputs which may have significant impact on the valuation of these financial instruments, and therefore, these assets and liabilities have been classified by the Group as level 3. The unobservable inputs which may have impact on the valuation include weighted average cost of capital, liquidity discount, price to book ratio, etc.

Less: net assets acquired	(591,534)
Goodwill arising on acquisition	89,973

Goodwill arose in the acquisition of Huarong International Financial Holdings Limited because the cost of acquisition included a control premium. In addition, the consideration paid for the acquisition effectively included amounts in relation to the benefit of expected synergies, revenue growth, future market development and the assembled workforce of Huarong International Financial Holdings Limited. These benefits are not recognized separately from goodwill because they do not meet the recognition criteria for identifiable intangible assets.

None of the goodwill arising on this acquisition is expected to be deductible for tax purposes.

Impairment testing of goodwill

As at December 31, 2016, the recoverable amounts of the cash-generating unit of Huarong International Financial Holdings Limited have been determined based on a fair value calculation using cash flow projection based on financial budget approved by management covering a five-year period, and a discount rate of 19% (December 31, 2015:19%) cost of equity. The cash flows beyond the five year period are estimated at a 3% (December 31, 2015:3%) terminal growth rate. No impairment loss was considered necessary.
