COMMENTARY

"Oriental Daily News" continues to be the best-selling and most widely read newspaper in Hong Kong, and has been so for the last 41 consecutive years. It is truly "The Paper for Hong Kong". During the Reporting Year, "Oriental Daily News" far exceeded its competitors in terms of both distribution and advertisement, reinforcing its leading position in the industry. With highly authoritative news reports and commentary articles, "Oriental Daily News" played the role of the Fourth Estate in monitoring the government, and capitalised on consensus to improve people's livelihood, drawing extensive praises. The sales of "Oriental Daily News" remained unaffected despite the increase of its retail price to HK$8 from 19 February 2017, generating more revenue from distribution for the Group.

"on.cc", the flagship online portal of the Group, is also the news portal with the largest number of page views and the longest time of viewing in Hong Kong, of up to 5.59 million monthly unique visitors and more than 6.8 million downloads of mobile applications. "on.cc" provides fast and detail news, covering a variety of topics. During the Reporting Year, "on.cc" launched the mobile version of its website to better cater for the need of mobile platform users to access to real-time news. In December 2016, "on.cc Superstar", an entertainment information mobile application, was integrated into the entertainment column of "on.cc", enriching the contents of "on.cc". In January 2017, "on.cc" included a 360-degree panoramic function to capture live shows, bringing epoch-making all-round experience in news and information. "Racecourse Boss", which was launched by "on.cc", provides netizens with information on horse racing and analytic data, and it has become one of the most popular horse racing mobile applications in Hong Kong, with the number of users and its income growing continuously. For years, "on.cc" has been partnering with international search engines and social platforms such as Google, Yahoo, and Facebook. Numerous news stories reported by "on.cc" widely circulated on the Internet and social networks, while the page views and audience have kept reaching record highs, thereby further extending the reach of "on.cc".

"ontv", an online television, provides real-time news videos on a 24-hour basis. With a view to expanding its market and achieving further penetration of users, "ontv" produced diversified programmes during the Reporting Year. Of these, current affairs programmes "Wong's Commentaries" (阿王辣爆) and "Kong Gu" (港·故) gave rise to enthusiastic discussions. In addition, "ontv" joined hands with Facebook, a social platform, to broadcast major events synchronically, including the Legislative Council Election, the Ministorage Fire, the Imprisonment of Donald Tsang, the Legislative Council Oath-taking Controversy and the MTR Arson Attack, providing netizens with detail first-hand news. As a forerunner of online television in Hong Kong, "ontv" pioneers live online broadcasting of sports events including football, basketball, boxing and ice hockey games. "ontv" is also the first online television to obtain authorisation from The Hong Kong Jockey Club to make live report on Mark Six. It has also been authorised by the Hong Kong Football Association to live-broadcast "Hong Kong Premier League" for two consecutive years, marking a new milestone for new media.

With its real-time stock quote and 24-hour global news coverage which transcends distance, "Money18" is one of the financial information websites with the highest page views in Hong Kong. The number of downloads of the Android application of "Money18" at Google's Play Store exceeded 1 million, making it one of the few financial mobile applications which recorded 1 million downloads. Taking into account the downloads on other platforms, the number of downloads of "Money18" exceeded 1.7 million, demonstrating the popularity and market leadership of the application. Following the "Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect", "Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect" was launched in December 2016. "Money18" added two dedicated sections, namely "Shenzhen Stock Connect" (深股通) and "Hong Kong Stock Connect (Shenzhen)" (港股通(深)), to provide real-time quote, news and analysis of the stock markets of Hong Kong and Shenzhen, with a view to help investors with timely opportunities.

The Group generates its revenue mainly from newspaper publishing. During the Reporting Year, given the lingering uncertainties in the global economy, and the impact on the local consumer market resulted from the depreciation of Renminbi and the decrease in the number of Mainland visitors, customers had reduced their advertising budgets to cope with the weakness in the consumer market. The Group was unable to make any significant breakthrough in its turnover as the advertisements for high-end consumer goods including properties and financial investment has noticeably because of the property cooling measures taken by the government and the weakening investor sentiment. Separately, as advertising income kept flowing to other new media, despite the Group's proper cost control and the satisfactory growth of distribution revenue of "Oriental Daily News", the overall revenue from the printed media business decreased to HK$871,205,000, representing a decline of approximately 19% as compared with the same period of last Reporting Year. With a view to minimizing such risks, the Group had taken steps to enhance the resilience of "Oriental Daily News" in the market by undertaking cost control measures and adjusting its investment strategies and allocation of resources. To compensate for the stagnancy in the business of traditional printed news media, the Group's new media witnessed outstanding development. As the online advertising technology becomes increasingly sophisticated, online advertising has become the most popular choice for advertisers. The overall revenue of relevant business for this Reporting Year rose to HK$106,753,000, representing an increase of approximately 44% as compared with the same period last Reporting Year. To sum up, the performance of the Group's publishing business was fairly satisfactory. In acknowledgement of the employees' efforts in the past year, the Group paid special bonus in the sum of approximately HK$17,371,000 during the Reporting Year.

In relation to the Group's overseas investments, each of the Group's rental properties overseas recorded satisfactory return, and has been generating steady rental income. With the completion of the fitting-out works for Metro Aspire Hotel Sydney in early 2017, the project will generate additional license fee income of AUD700,000 for the Group each year. Therefore, license fee income from hotel property rose by 70% as compared with the same period last year. During the Reporting Year, the valuations in the Group's Australian investment properties in average increased by 44% as compared with the same period last year, making a substantial rise to HK$74,664,000 in Group's fair value adjustments on investment properties.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Though the Group is currently facing the challenge posed by the change in the model of the advertising market, the Board believes that with "Oriental Daily News" being the best-selling newspaper in Hong Kong and "on.cc" having the highest page views in Hong Kong, the Group is able to manage this risk. It is expected that the global political unrest will continue, weighing down economic development. However, quality news and information are particularly important and valuable given the complex and ever-changing global political structure. The Group will capitalise on the reputation and influence of "Oriental Daily News" and "on.cc" to take up greater market shares. The Group will use a cross-platform model to lock on customers' advertising budgets and provide customers with different types of advertising plans. On the other hand, production costs including newsprint and printing ink are expected to rise to a certain extent in the coming year. The Group will take measures including restructure and resources allocation to control costs and increase its operating efficiency.

In line with the new trends of the media in the future, the Group will continue to focus on the development of "on.cc" and "ontv". In addition to researching and developing different types of advertisements in the new media, the Group will utilise new technologies extensively to expand into other digital businesses, with a view to expanding its product portfolio and increasing its revenue. The Board believes that online television will have unlimited room for development. In addition to providing netizens with live news and sports events, "ontv", with its potential and strength, will produce a larger number of diversified programmes and explore opportunities to cooperate with customers. It is believed that the Company will be able to make some significant breakthroughs in the year ahead.

The market demand for mortgage loans has been strong as the property market of Hong Kong has kept setting record highs in recent years. The Group will continue to select quality customers based on a prudent principle, so as to balance risks while seeking high returns. The Group will consider partnering with intermediaries of excellent credit standing to expand the portfolio of the money lending business.

The Group is actively researching for additional investment projects in real estate or hotels, with a view to further diversifying its business. The Board will continue to exercise a cautious approach to the Group's performance in the next year.
