VOLUNTARY ANNOUNCEMENT
BUSINESS PROGRESS OF REPRODUCTIVE MEDICINE CLINIC IN SINGAPORE

This is a voluntary announcement made by China Environmental Technology Limited (the “Company”, together with its subsidiaries, the “Group”).

The board of directors (the “Board”) of the Company is pleased to announce that INNOMED Group Limited (“INNOMED”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, has established a reproductive medicine clinic (the “Singapore Clinic”) in Singapore through its directly wholly-owned subsidiary, Pacific Fertility Institutes (Singapore) Pte. Ltd (the “PFI Singapore”). On 30 June 2018, PFI Singapore received the Australian RTAC accreditation which is the requirement by Singapore Ministry of Health to operate any reproductive medical clinic in Singapore. PFI Singapore also obtained the official operating license issued by the Ministry of Health of Singapore on 28 July 2018. As of the date of this announcement, PFI Singapore has officially started operations and has successfully completed 11 units of oocyte retrieval procedures of In-Vitro Fertilization (the “IVF”) Cycles.

PFI Singapore is located in the Royal Square Medical Building in the Novena area which is the Singapore government's planned Health City. The Singapore Clinic occupies the entire eighth floor of the Royal Square Medical Building. As of 26 September 2018, eight reproductive physicians have been registered with PFI Singapore. Singapore Clinic is so far the reproductive medical clinic with the most number of registered physicians and the largest Reproductive medical clinic in Singapore. Dedicated to provide the most advanced reproductive medical services to local and global patients.

INNOMED is the medical investment company established in the British Virgin Islands. Completed the acquisition of 50% interest in Pacific Fertility Institutes Holding Company Limited, an IVF service provider, on 31 March 2017. The Group plans for continuous expansion through acquisitions or direct investment into IVF, maternal and neonatal medicine.

The company believes in the utilization of the Singapore Clinic's scientific and educational research background and Singapore's medical hub status in Asia. It will lay an important foundation to set up the company's standardized quality control system in the field of Reproductive medicine as well as to reserve medical and scientific professionals for INNOMED.
