Strengthening the Group's Leading Position as a Manufacturer-Cum-Supplier of Composite Wires and Cables

Dear shareholders,

I am pleased to present the 2021 interim results report of Jiangnan Group Limited (the "Company", together with its subsidiaries, the "Group") for the six months ended 30 June 2021 to our shareholders.

BUSINESS ENVIRONMENT

Despite the grim and complex domestic and international environments, the economy of the People's Republic of China ("China" or the "PRC") in the first half of 2021 continued to recover steadily, and the economic development showed a trend of steady strengthening and steady improvement. According to the National Bureau of Statistics of China, while China's gross domestic product ("GDP") grew by 12.7% in the first half of 2021, it grew strongly by 18.3% in the first quarter of 2021 and by 7.9% in the second quarter of 2021 over the respective corresponding periods in 2020. National fixed asset investments in the first half of 2021 increased by 12.6% over the corresponding period in 2020 to RMB25.6 trillion.

According to the National Bureau of Statistics of China, in the first half of 2021, the utilisation rate of industrial production capacity in China was 77.9%, representing an increase of 6.8 percentage points over the corresponding period in 2020. China's composite Purchasing Managers' Index ("PMI") output index for June 2021 was 50.9%, which represented a slight decrease of 0.1 percentage point from that for the previous month and constituted no change as compared to that for June 2020. The PMI output index of China remained above the boom-bust line during the first half of 2021, indicating that the manufacturing industry in the country was expanding steadily during the period.

According to the National Development and Reform Commission of China, total electricity consumption in China was 3.9 trillion kilowatt-hours ('kWh'') in the first half of 2021, representing an increase of 16.2% over the corresponding period in 2020. Electricity consumption of the secondary industry increased by 16.6% as compared with that of the same period last year and reached 2.7 trillion kWh, and the electricity consumption of the tertiary industry increased by 25.8% as compared with that of the same period last year and reached 670 billion kWh. According to the statistics of the Industry Development and Environmental Resources Division of the China Electricity Council, a joint organisation of China's power enterprises and institutions approved to be established by the State Council, the national production capacity was 2.26 billion kilowatts in the first half of 2021, representing an increase of 9.5% as compared with that of the same period in last year, which was mainly due to the increase in the installed power generation capacity of new energy. In the first half of 2021, the major power generation enterprises in China completed investments in respect of power supply works of RMB189.3 billion, which were 8.9% higher than those in the corresponding period in 2020. The investments completed under the national grid project amounted to RMB173.4 billion in the first half of 2021, representing an increase in electricity consumption in the industrial and manufacturing sectors and the increase in completed investments in power supply works provided a support to the sales of the Group's cables during the first half of 2021.

According to the National Bureau of Statistics of China, national infrastructure investments (excluding the production and supply of electricity, heat, gas and water) in the first half of 2021 increased by 7.8% over those of the corresponding period in 2020, which was mainly due to the 10.7% increase in investments in the water conservatory management industry, the 6.2% increase in investments in the public utility management industry and the 6.5% increase in investments in the road transportation industry. The increase in infrastructure investments has driven the increase in the demand for both the general and special power cables of the Group.

With regard to the property sector, according to the National Bureau of Statistics of China, investments in real estate development in China reached RMB7.2 trillion in the first half of 2021, representing an increase of 15.0% over those of the corresponding period in 2020. In the first half of 2021, the floor space of commodity housing sold in China increased by 27.7% over that of the corresponding period in 2020 to 890 million square metres and the sales increased by 38.8% to RMB9.3 trillion. In the first half of 2021, the floor space of houses under development increased by 1.2% over that of the corresponding period in 2020 to 1.4 billion square metres. At the end of June 2021, the floor space of houses under construction by developers reached 11.93 billion square metres, representing an increase of 6.5% over that of the corresponding period in 2020. The land areas purchased by the real estate developers in the first half of 2021. With the implementation of "city- specific policies" based on the principle of "one policy for one city" and in the absence of major policy changes and new external shocks, China's real estate market will continue the trend of stable development, which also supports a stable demand for the relevant wire and cable products of the Group.

In the first half of 2021, the newly appointed President of Peru planned to implement tax reforms in his country, which would adversely affect the supply of copper mines. In addition, production activities in major copper-producing countries such as Chile were constantly disrupted by the Coronavirus Disease 2019 ("COVID-19") epidemic, which triggered market concerns over copper supply. On the other hand, the gradual recovery of the global economy, especially in the new energy, electronics and photovoltaic sectors, had driven a significant increase in the demand for copper. Strong demand and concerns over the supply of copper led to its price on the London Metal Exchange Limited ("LME") to rise from USD7,918 per tonne in January 2021 to a high of USD10,724 per tonne on 10 May 2021, representing an increase of 35.4%. The copper price on the LME finally settled at USD9,385 as at 30 June 2021. For the six months ended 30 June 2021, the average price of copper on the LME reached USD9,095 per tonne, which was 65.7% higher than that in the corresponding period in 2020. For the six months ended 30 June 2021, the average price of aluminium (another major raw material of the cable products of the Group) on the LME reached USD2,066 per tonne, which was 63.0% higher than that in the corresponding period in 2020. As the Group prices its products on a cost-plus basis, the increase in raw material prices has led to the upward adjustment of the Group's product prices, which benefited the turnover of the Group for the period under review.

BUSINESS REVIEW

For the six months ended June 30 2021, the Group's turnover increased by approximately 76.2% as compared with that in the corresponding period in 2020, to a record high of approximately RMB8,805.2 million, which was driven by the strong economic growth in the PRC and a sharp hike in raw material commodity prices such as copper and aluminum.

In the first half of 2021, the global epidemic was basically under control to a certain extent which drove the Group's export business to recover from last year. For the six months ended 30 June 2021, the total export sales (including both direct and indirect exports) of the Group were approximately USD39.5 million, representing an increase of 146.9% as compared with those of the corresponding period in 2020 of approximately USD16.0 million. However, as the current global epidemic situation is still severe, the Group is still facing a lot of uncertainties in selling its products to overseas markets.

In recent years, the Group's annual investments in equipment for expansion of its production capacity exceeded RMB50 million on average. In the first half of 2021, the Group increased its investments in technological transformation. During the period under review, a double-head 11-mold large-draw machine, a double-head 9-mold large-draw machine, and a German-imported 37-core copper-core stranding machine had commenced production, and a 61-core copper-core stranding machine imported from Germany and a 120 extruder imported from Italy were being installed. In addition, the installation of a BTTZ copper strip longitudinal clad welding production line is expected to take place in August 2021.

In 2021, the Group continued to be on the lists of the top 500 Chinese Manufacturing Enterprises* (中國製造業企業500強), the top 500 Chinese Private Enterprises in Manufacturing* (中國製造業民營企業500強), and the top 10 Most Competitive Enterprises in China's Cable Industry* (中國綫纜行業最具競爭力企業10強). The Group also won a number of awards such as "Demonstration Base for Education and Training for Veterans in Jiangsu Province"* (江蘇省退役軍人教育培訓實習實訓示範基地), "Hubei Provincial Science and Technology Progress Award"* (湖北省科技進步獎), and "Brand Performance Achievement Award in Jiangsu Province"* (江蘇省品牌績效成果獎).

In recent years, amid keen market competition, the Group which has been aiming at the domestic and overseas high-end markets, has managed to expedite the development and innovation of its new products, processes and technologies by means of academician research workstations and post-doctoral research workstations. In the first half of 2021, the Group made new progress in the research and development of products such as UV-crosslinked polyethylene insulation materials, high-voltage cables for new energy vehicles, railway links up grounding wires, and cables for battery energy storage systems.

OUTLOOK AND PROSPECTS

In the second half of 2021, the Group will continue to be exposed to great financial pressures and challenges due to the global and domestic macroeconomic conditions. There are many uncertainties arising from the development of the COVID-19 epidemic and the internal and external environments. Given China's not yet solid economic foundation and the world's complex and difficult economic situations amid an unstable and uneven recovery, various risks associated with the epidemic cannot be ignored. As China's relationships with the United States and some other countries have shifted from cooperating rivals to competing rivals, it is expected that their efforts to restrict and stifle China's development will continue for a long time. The Chinese government's policy of "housing for living, not for speculation", control over state grid investment and production restriction and restructuring for the coal industry also have certain impacts on the Group's business in the domestic market. As at the date of this report, the epidemic remains severe overseas and the cumulative number of confirmed cases of COVID-19 worldwide has exceeded 200 million. Mutations in the COVID-19 virus may cause another surge in global cases and accelerate the spread of the epidemic, which will inevitably pose serious challenges to the global economy and affect the Group's business in the overseas markets.

Despite all these, the foundation of the Chinese economy remains strong with a large and fast-growing market of great potential. Great opportunities come with the government's strategy of expanding domestic demand, important initiative to ensure "stability on the six fronts and security in the six areas"* (六穩六保) (referring to stability in employment, finance, foreign trade, foreign investment, domestic investment, and market expectations and security in safeguarding employment, people's livelihoods, the development of market entities, food and energy security, the stable operation of industrial and supply chains, and the smooth functioning of society), new infrastructure construction as well as the implementation of the "One Belt One Road"* (一帶一路) initiative, the integration of the Yangtze River Delta and Pearl River Delta development and the construction of Xiong'an New Area and free trade zones. All these measures will create opportunities for the development of the Group in 2021 especially in the following aspects:

- 1. In 2021, China will accelerate the integration of Beijing-Tianjin-Hebei transportation and the construction of the comprehensive transportation system in the Xiong'an New Area, the construction of the comprehensive three-dimensional transportation corridor in the Yangtze River Economic Belt, the development of transportation in the Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area, the high-quality integrated development of transportation in the Yangtze River Delta, the ecological protection and high-quality development of transportation in the Yellow River Basin and the development of transportation in a two-city economic circle in the Chengdu-Chongqing region. Around RMB2.4 trillion is expected to be invested in fixed assets in transportation throughout the year.
- 2. Mao Weiming, the ex-Chairman and the ex-Party Secretary of State Grid Corporation of China ("SGCC"), said in an interview with Xinwen Lianbo, a daily news programme produced by China Central Television (CCTV), that SGCC would continue to strengthen the construction of power grids to develop a modern power grid that is safe, reliable, green, smart, interconnected and with mutual benefits. The investment in power grids and related industries is expected to reach RMB6 trillion during the "14th Five-Year Plan" period.
- 3. In 2021, "new infrastructures" (which are principally focused in seven major sectors including 5G networks, ultra-high voltage, inter-city express railway and inner-city rail systems, charging poles for new energy automobiles, big data centres, artificial intelligence as well as industrial internet) will continue to be the driving force for economic growth. In terms of data centres, the total investment during 2020 to 2022 will amount to approximately RMB1.5 trillion. In terms of investment in industrial internet, the cumulative investment during 2020 to 2025 will reach around RMB650 billion. With respect to 5G networks, the cumulative investment from 2019 to 2026 will exceed RMB2.6 trillion. In the next three years, the investment in artificial intelligence will exceed RMB100 billion.

As the market is full of opportunities, the Group will grasp these opportunities for its development by improving its marketing quality, management, and service capabilities. The Group will focus on the following areas in its business operations in 2021:

 the Group will adhere to focusing on marketing by sales personnel with the aid of internal sales channels, continue to update its marketing strategy and concepts, and proactively integrate them into the dual-cycle development strategy of marketing. Steady Growth in the Wire and Cable industry in the past and for the Future

OVERALL PERFORMANCE

For the period under review, the Group recorded a turnover of approximately RMB8,805.2 million, representing an increase of approximately 76.2% as compared with that in the corresponding period in 2020, and a profit for the period under review of approximately RMB146.2 million, representing an increase of approximately 607.5% as compared with that in the corresponding period in 2020. The significant increase in the profit for the period under review was mainly due to (i) the significant increase in gross profit to approximately RMB935.5 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB534.6 million), representing an increase of approximately 75.0% as compared with that in the corresponding period in 2020, which was attributable to the significant increase in the turnover of the Group for the period under review due to the increase in the selling prices of and the demand for the Group's products for the period under review, as a result of the economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic and the increase in average copper price during the period under review; and (ii) the increase in other income by approximately 71.2% to approximately RMB55.3 million for the period under review (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB32.3 million), mainly due to the increase in the investment income from the structured deposits of the Group, partially offset by (1) the increase in the selling and distribution costs by approximately 38.0% to approximately RMB305.6 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB221.5 million), mainly due to the increase in the tender and inspection fee and transportation costs as a result of the increase in the Group's turnover for the period under review; (2) the increase in the administrative expenses by approximately 25.2% to approximately RMB168.7 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB134.8 million), mainly due to the continuous increase in the staff costs and general expenses incurred by the Group for the enhancement of its business and employee health management; (3) the substantial increase in the impairment losses under the expected credit loss ("ECL") model, net of reversal, by approximately 4,141.4% to approximately RMB142.9 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB3.4 million), mainly due to (a) the increase in the amount of trade and other receivables as at 30 June 2021 as a result of the significant increase in the Group's turnover for the period under review; and (b) the increase in default risk due to the uncertainty in the economy arising from the COVID-19 pandemic and the heat up of the Sino-U.S. disputes during the period under review; (4) the increase in finance costs by approximately 7.6% to approximately RMB145.8 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB135.5 million), mainly due to the increase in the Group's bank borrowings for the period under review to finance the Group's working capital needs for purchasing copper at a significantly higher average copper price; and (5) the increase in taxation by approximately 263.2% to approximately RMB30.9 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB8.5 million), as a result of the substantial increase in the Group's taxable profit for the period under review. Basic earnings per share for the period under review was RMB2.41 cents while that for the six months ended 30 June 2020 was RMB0.34 cents, representing an increase of approximately 608.8%.

MARKET AND BUSINESS REVIEW

According to the statistical data published by the National Bureau of Statistics of the PRC, the gross domestic product of the PRC increased by 12.7% in the first half of 2021 due to the economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic in the PRC, as a result of the effective control measures adopted by the Chinese government for the period under review. However, COVID-19 continued to spread across the world and the epidemic remained severe in major economies, such as the US, India and South Africa, in spite of the attempts taken to control and prevent its further spread, which has caused increasing downward pressure and recession risks to the global economy. On the other hand, the confrontation between China and the US continued to escalate. The US government issued several policies against the PRC, such as financial sanctions on government officers in Hong Kong and the PRC, as an attempt to hinder the development of the PRC. The continuous deterioration of relations between China and the US has affected the confidence in global economic development, which has caused certain impacts on the overseas export business of the Group. For the period under review, the average price of copper on the LME reached USD9,095 per tonne, which was 65.7% higher than that in the corresponding period in 2020, and the average price of aluminium reached USD2,066 per tonne, which was 63.1% higher than that in the corresponding period in 2020, and the average prices its products on a cost-plus basis, the increase in raw material prices has driven up the Group's average product prices during the period under review, hence the turnover of the Group has increased significantly during the period under review.

Power Cable Products — 68.5% of Total Turnover

For the period under review, turnover from power cable products amounted to approximately RMB6,034.0 million, representing an increase of approximately 83.4% over that for the corresponding period in 2020 (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB3,289.3 million), and turnover of power cables accounted for approximately 68.5% of the total turnover of the Group. Sales volume of the Group's power cable products increased by approximately 27.6% to approximately 105,781 km (six months ended 30 June 2020: 82,896 km), mainly attributable to the strong surge in customer demand in tandem arising from the economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic in the PRC, as a result of the effective control measures adopted by the Chinese government for the period under review. Due to the increase in the average copper price, the average price of the power cable products for the period under review increased by approximately 43.8% to approximately RMB57,043 per km (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB39,680 per km). The gross profit of power cable products for the period under review increased to approximately RMB631.3 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB363.2 million), which was in line with the increase in turnover during the period under review, while the gross profit margin decreased to approximately 10.5% (six months ended 30 June 2020: 11.0%), which was at a level close to that of 10.7% for the full year of 2020.

Wires and Cables for Electrical Equipment Products — 21.5% of Total Turnover

For the period under review, turnover from wires and cables for electrical equipment increased by approximately 81.4% to approximately RMB1,890.6 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB1,042.2 million). Sales volume of wires and cables for electrical equipment increased by approximately 35.0% from approximately 601,445 km for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately 812,092 km for the period under review due to the strong surge in customer demand in tandem arising from the economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic in the PRC, as a result of the effective control measures adopted by the Chinese government for the period under review. The average price of wires and cables for electrical equipment increased by approximately 34.3% from approximately RMB1,733 per km for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately RMB2,328 per km for the period under review, mainly due to the increase in the average copper price during the period under review. The gross profit of wires and cables for electrical equipment products for the period under review increased to approximately RMB133.7 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB52.8 million) and the gross profit margin for the period under review. The period under review increased to approximately RMB133.7 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: 5.1%), mainly due to the change of product mix during the period under review.

Bare Wire Products — 2.1% of Total Turnover

Turnover from bare wires increased by approximately 1.8% to approximately RMB188.8 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB185.5 million) for the period under review, while the sales volume of bare wires decreased by approximately 1.4% from approximately 13,287 tonnes for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately 13,102 tonnes for the period under review. The average price of bare wire products increased by approximately 3.2% to approximately RMB14,410 per tonne (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB13,962 per tonne) due to the increase in average aluminum price during the period under review. The gross profit margin of bare wire products decreased to 6.8% for the period under review (six months ended 30 June 2020: 11.8%) due to the increase in the Group's sales in steel core aluminum standard wires with lower gross profit margin during the period under review.

Special Cable Products — 7.9% of Total Turnover

During the period under review, the sales volume of special cables increased to approximately 28,605 km (six months ended 30 June 2020: 25,439 km) due to the increase in infrastructure investments in the railway transportation industry in China, which has provided support to the stable growth of the demand for the special power cables of the Group. The average selling price of special cables increased by approximately 28.2% from approximately RMB18,857 per km for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately RMB24,183 per km for the period under review. The PRC remains the Group's key market. Sales in the PRC market for the period under review increased by approximately 76.4% to approximately RMB8,708.2 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB4,936.0 million), which accounted for approximately 98.9% of the Group's total turnover, and such increase was primarily due to the strong surge in customer demand in tandem arising from the economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic in the PRC, as a result of the effective control measures adopted by the Chinese government and the substantial increase in average copper price during the period under review as compared with that in the corresponding period in 2020.

Revenue contributed by the overseas markets for the period under review increased by approximately RMB36.3 million or approximately 59.8% as compared with that for the corresponding period in 2020. This increase was mainly attributable to the increase in sales in Singapore during the period under review.

Cost of Goods Sold

Cost of goods sold which was composed of the costs of raw materials, production costs and direct labour costs, increased by approximately 76.4% to approximately RMB7,869.7 million during the period under review (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB4,462.1 million). Costs of raw materials accounted for approximately 96.4% of the cost of goods sold for the period under review, and the costs of copper and aluminium (being the Group's major raw materials) accounted for approximately 82.6% of the cost of goods sold for the period under review on an aggregate basis. Direct labour costs increased and accounted for approximately 1.2% of the total cost of goods sold for the period under review. The remaining balance of approximately 2.4% of the cost of goods sold for the period under review was attributable to production costs, which mainly consisted of depreciation of equipment used in the production process, maintenance of production lines and equipment, moulding of parts and components and other miscellaneous production-related costs.

Gross Profit and Gross Profit Margin

The increase in gross profit for the period under review was in line with the increase in turnover during the period under review.

Profit for the Period

Profit for the period under review increased significantly by approximately 607.5% from approximately RMB20.7 million for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately RMB146.2 million for the period under review. The significant increase in the profit for the period under review was mainly due to (i) the significant increase in gross profit to approximately RMB935.5 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB534.6 million), representing an increase of approximately 75.0% as compared with that in the corresponding period in 2020, which was attributable to the significant increase in the turnover of the Group for the period under review due to the increase in the selling prices of and the demand for the Group's products for the period under review, as a result of the economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic and the increase in average copper price during the period under review; and (ii) the increase in other income by approximately 71.2% to approximately RMB55.3 million for the period under review (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB32.3 million), mainly due to the increase in the investment income from the structured deposits of the Group, partially offset by (1) the increase in the selling and distribution costs by approximately 38.0% to approximately RMB305.6 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB221.5 million), mainly due to the increase in the tender and inspection fee and transportation costs as a result of the increase in the Group's turnover for the period under review; (2) the increase in the administrative expenses by approximately 25.2% to approximately RMB168.7 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB134.8 million), mainly due to the continuous increase in the staff costs and general expenses incurred by the Group for the enhancement of its business and employee health management; (3) the substantial increase in the impairment losses under the ECL model, net of reversal, by approximately 4,141.4% to approximately RMB142.9 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB3.4 million), mainly due to (a) the increase in the amount of trade and other receivables as at 30 June 2021 as a result of the significant increase in the Group's turnover for the period under review; and (b) the increase in default risk due to the uncertainty in the economy arising from the COVID-19 pandemic and the heat up of the Sino-U.S. disputes during the period under review; (4) the increase in finance costs by approximately 7.6% to approximately RMB145.8 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB135.5 million), mainly due to the increase in the Group's bank borrowings for the period under review to finance the Group's working capital needs for purchasing copper at a significantly higher average copper price; and (5) the increase in taxation by approximately 263.2% to approximately RMB30.9 million (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB8.5 million), as a result of the substantial increase in the Group's taxable profit for the period under review.

Selling and Distribution Costs

Selling and distribution costs mainly represented the Group's salary and welfare expenses for employees involved in selling and distribution activities, services costs for providing technical supports and after-sales services, transportation costs for delivery of products to customers and other selling expenses, including marketing expenses, advertising and promotion expenses and other miscellaneous expenses.

The selling and distribution costs increased by approximately RMB84.1 million, or approximately 38.0%, from approximately RMB221.5 million for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately RMB305.6 million for the period under review. The increase in the selling and distribution costs was mainly due to the increase in the tender and inspection fee and transportation costs as a result of the increase in the Group's turnover during the period under review. With the significant increase in turnover partially due to the increase in copper prices for the period under review, the selling and distribution costs as a percentage of turnover decreased from approximately 4.4% for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately 3.5% for the period under review.

Administrative Expenses

Administrative expenses increased by approximately RMB33.9 million, or approximately 25.2%, from approximately RMB134.8 million for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately RMB168.7 million for the period under review, mainly due to the continuous increase in the staff costs and general expenses incurred by the Group for enhancement of its business and employee health management during the period under review. With the significant increase in turnover, the administrative expenses as a percentage of turnover decreased from approximately 2.7% for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately 1.9% for the period under review.

Research and Development Costs

Research and development costs increased by approximately 10.1% from approximately RMB30.8 million for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately RMB34.0 million for the period under review. This increase was mainly resulted from the continuous increase in the Group's expenditures on research and development of new products and technology (higher gross margin products in particular) during the period under review, as compared with those in the corresponding period in 2020.

Other Losses, Net

Other losses, net were mainly composed of exchange loss and gain on disposal of property, plant and equipment. The increase in other losses, net by approximately by 6.8% from approximately RMB13.9 million for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately RMB14.8 million for the period under review, was mainly caused by the fair value gain on financial assets at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL") of approximately RMB1.3 million recognised in the six months ended 30 June 2020, which was absent during the period under review.

Impairment Losses under ECL Model, Net of Reversal

Impairment losses under ECL model, net of reversal which mainly represented the net impairment losses on trade and other receivables and a loan to an associate, increased by approximately RMB139.5 million, or approximately 4,141.4%, from approximately RMB3.4 million for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately RMB142.9 million for the period under review. The increase was mainly due to (i) the increase in the amount of trade and other receivables as at 30 June 2021 as a result of the significant increase in the Group's turnover for the period under review; and (ii) the increase in default risk due to the uncertainty in the economy arising from the COVID-19 pandemic and the heat up of the Sino-U.S. disputes during the period under review.

Finance Costs

Finance costs increased by approximately 7.6% from approximately RMB135.5 million for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately RMB145.8 million for the period under review, which was mainly attributable to the increase in the bank borrowings for the period under review to finance the Group's working capital needs for purchasing copper at a significantly higher average copper price. Finance costs as a percentage of turnover decreased from approximately 2.7% for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately 1.7% for the period under review.

Taxation

The Group's taxation increased by approximately RMB22.4 million, or approximately 263.2%, from approximately RMB8.5 million for the six months ended 30 June 2020 to approximately RMB30.9 million for the period under review. The increase in taxation was due to the substantial increase in the taxable profits of the Group for the period under review. The effective tax rate for the period under review was approximately 17.4% (six months ended 30 June 2020: 29.2%). The decrease in the effective tax rate was mainly due to the increase in the proportion of the profits generated from the subsidiaries of the Company which are endorsed as a High and New Technology Enterprise in China, that are entitled to a reduced income tax rate of 15% in the PRC.

Financial Position and Liquidity

As at 30 June 2021, total assets of the Group amounted to approximately RMB16,522.5 million (31 December 2020: RMB15,771.8 million).

Non-current assets increased by approximately 5.5% from approximately RMB1,324.3 million as at 31 December 2020 to approximately RMB1,397.2 million as at 30 June 2021. The increase was mainly due to the acquisition of leasehold lands for the expansion of the manufacturing operation of the Group and the increase in the deferred tax assets in respect of the impairment losses under ECL model, net of reversal on trade and other receivables for the period under review.

Current assets increased by approximately 4.7% from approximately RMB14,447.6 million as at 31 December 2020 to approximately RMB15,125.3 million as at 30 June 2021, which was mainly due to the increase in inventories and trade and other receivables as at 30 June 2021, partially offset by the decrease in structured deposits, bank deposits with original maturity over three months and bank balances and cash as at 30 June 2021.

The Group's treasury policy is to keep its investment costs under control and manage the returns of its investments efficiently. Short-term borrowings work better than long-term borrowings to finance the Group's working capital needs. Any excess cash that is generated from the Group's operations will be placed in short-term and low-risk banking products that are not sensitive to foreign exchange fluctuations to maximise the Group's investment returns.

Total bank borrowings increased by approximately 15.6% from approximately RMB3,492.2 million as at 31 December 2020 to approximately RMB4,037.4 million as at 30 June 2021. As at 30 June 2021, approximately RMB3,843.4 million (31 December 2020: RMB3,296.2 million) of the Group's bank borrowings were repayable within one year and approximately RMB194.0 million (31 December 2020: RMB196.0 million) were repayable within a period of more than one year but not exceeding two years. Of the Group's total bank borrowings as at 30 June 2021, approximately 99.3% of the bank borrowings were made by the Group's subsidiaries in the PRC. These loans were not guaranteed by the Company.

Total equity was approximately RMB6,596.3 million as at 30 June 2021, which was approximately 2.4% higher than that of approximately RMB6,439.2 million as at 31 December 2020. The increase was mainly attributable to the profits generated by the Group during the period under review.

The net-debt-to-equity ratio of the Group, defined as a percentage of net interest-bearing borrowings (bank borrowings less bank balances and cash, bank deposits with original maturity over three months and pledged bank deposits) of approximately RMB730.8 million over total equity of approximately RMB6,596.3 million as at 30 June 2021, increased from approximately -17.0% as at 31 December 2020 to approximately 11.1%. As compared with the net-debt-to-equity ratio of -10.1% as at 30 June 2020, the net-debt-to-equity ratio of the Group as at 30 June 2021 also increased. The deterioration in the net-debt-to-equity ratio as at 30 June 2021 was mainly due to the increase in the bank borrowings and the decrease in the bank balances held by the Group as at 30 June 2021 caused by the financing of the Group's working capital needs for purchasing copper at a significant higher average copper price during the period under review.

In addition, the Group had sufficient committed but unused banking facilities of approximately RMB1,345.5 million as at 30 June 2021 to meet the needs of the Group's business development. There was no material seasonality in relation to the borrowing requirements of the Group.

During the period under review, the Group's borrowings were mainly denominated in RMB and carried interest at a premium over the RMB benchmark loan interest rates for financial institutions set by the People's Bank of China. As at 30 June 2021, the majority of the Group's bank balances and cash were denominated in RMB. As the Group's revenue was mainly denominated in RMB and major expenses were denominated either in RMB or Hong Kong Dollars, the Group faced relatively low currency risk during the period under review.

As at 30 June 2021, approximately 92.1% (31 December 2020: 92.0%) of the Group's total bank borrowings carried fixed interest rates.

During the period under review, the Group disposed of certain property, plant and equipment with an aggregate carrying amount of approximately RMB65,000 (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB107,000) for cash proceeds of approximately RMB193,000 (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB195,000), resulting in a gain on disposal of approximately RMB128,000 (six months ended 30 June 2020: RMB88,000).

As at 30 June 2021, the Group has pledged certain of its leasehold lands, buildings and machineries with carrying value of approximately RMB324.7 million, RMB150.7 million and RMB108.4 million respectively (31 December 2020: RMB274.2 million, RMB146.2 million and RMB55.1 million respectively) to certain banks to secure credit facilities granted to the Group.

During the six months ended 30 June 2021 and 2020, no interest expense was capitalised.

During the six months ended 30 June 2021 and 2020, the Group did not employ any financial instruments for hedging purposes.
