Chairman's Statement

Dear Shareholders,

The operating environment of the Group continued to be challenging. Local economy, following an encouraging rebound last year was dampened by the fifth wave of epidemic around February 2022, which brought back severe disruptions to economic and consumer activities, with real GDP contracted by 4% in the first quarter of 2022.

Despite that, the performance of the Group remained resilient. The Group's revenue for the financial year under review has increased by 4% to HK$1,043.6 million. Our investments in innovation, technology and talents in digital platforms are paid off. During the year, digital advertising revenue has registered a notable growth and has become the largest contributor to the Group's advertising revenue. Profit attributable to owners, excluding the one-off impact of the Employment Support Scheme subsidy granted by the Hong Kong Government and the impairment losses on non-current assets in the last financial year, was increased by HK$12.2 million, a significant improvement over the last financial year.

Amid the COVID-19 crisis, digital advertising and marketing is growing exponentially and has taken the largest slice from the local advertising spending. Both readers and marketers have shifted rapidly toward digital channels. In order to drive viewership and enhance our audience's user experience by providing premium personalised content and to meet marketers' rising needs in targeted marketing, the Group continued its investments in digital capabilities including data and analytical tool for quality content creation, audience behavior studies, advanced analytics, cloud computing and smart marketing strategy. We believe that these initiatives are invaluable to the Group's sustainable growth and longterm business development.

The financial news agency, information and solutions segment, the major contributor of the Group, recorded a solid result for the financial year under review. Investments in innovative online banking and securities trading services and digital platforms remain a priority in the financial services industry. The digital enhancement enables them to provide faster and more convenient products, services and market information to support their customers anywhere, anytime at all touch points. This segment, capturing the market trend of digitalisation and diversification of the financial market, had secured various financial solution projects for the year under review. The Group will continue its talent and technology input to meet the rising demand in these innovative financial solutions.

Looking ahead, the global economy will continue to face significant challenges and uncertainties. After a rebound in 2021, global growth is expected to decelerate amid the heightened geopolitical tensions, elevated inflation and the expected tightening monetary policies, interest rate hike and further supply chain disruptions. The evolving global pandemic and development of China-US relations continued to weigh on the global and local economic recovery. Nonetheless, the improving local epidemic situation together with new round of government support and relief measures would help the revival of local consumption and employment. The Group will closely monitor the economic and political situations, take a cautious and prudent approach in cost management, operational efficiency and financial discipline.

The Group is in a strong financial position with cash balance of approximately HK$461 million as at 31 March 2022. The Board recommends the payment of a final dividend of HK 6.5 cents per share, bringing the total dividend for the financial year ended 31 March 2022 to HK 9.5 cents per share. The Group is determined to maintain a sustainable dividend policy as well as strong liquidity to preserve its strength for strategic business investment and development. All indications point towards a challenging year to come but we are confident that, the Group is well positioned to capture new opportunities and weather any storms ahead.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the unfailing support of our passionate and reliable colleagues who have exhibited perseverance, commitment and professionalism throughout the year to cope with the many challenges posed by the pandemic. I also thank my fellow Board members for their trust and perceptive guidance; and our management team for their diligence, team spirit, devotion and contributions in an unprecedented and challenging year. Last but not least, my gratefulness is to be given to our readers, viewers, customers, business partners and investors for their ongoing support.

Advertising income, mainly contributed by the Group's digital platforms and printed publications, increased by HK$35.7 million or 7% to HK$559.5 million from the last financial year. The increase was mainly attributable to the notable growth of digital advertising income generated from Group's digital platforms on finance, recruitment and lifestyle. The pandemic has further accelerated the digital transformation of local advertising market. Digital advertising expands apace and has taken the largest slice from the local advertising spending. The contribution of Group's digital advertising income has overtaken printed advertising income for the financial year under review. It is expected that digital advertising income would continue its growth momentum and became the main driver of revenue growth.

Circulation income recorded a decrease of 11% from HK$69.4 million for the year ended 31 March 2021 to HK$61.7 million for the financial year under review. The decrease was in line with most of the printed titles in the market during the year under review.

Service income for the year ended 31 March 2022 increased by 4% from HK$406.8 million in the preceding financial year to HK$422.4 million. The Group's service income was mainly generated by the financial news agency, information and solutions businesses and the printing services of the Group's printing plants. The increase was mainly due to the increase of market share of the printing titles of the Group's printing plants after the closure of a competitor in the market during the year under review and the provision of wide range of printing services to meet customer needs. Service income from financial news agency, information and solutions businesses remained solid for the financial year under review.

Operating Costs

Gross profit margin for the year ended 31 March 2022 improved by 2.7 percentage point from 41.6% for the year ended 31 March 2021 to 44.3%. The improvement was due to the depreciation cost saving after the impairment of the non-current assets for the financial year ended 31 March 2021. Management would continue to monitor and streamline the cost structure to improve efficiency and effectiveness of the Group's operations.

Staff costs, representing approximately 57% of the Group's total operating costs, maintained at the same level as compared to the year ended 31 March 2021. The general salary increment was in line with the employment market.

Content costs which mainly represent market data license fees of various exchanges, financial index providers and news agencies, constituting around 11% of the Group's total operating costs, a slight decrease of 1% when compared to the financial year ended 31 March 2021. The amount was in line with the market data usage of customers who had subscribed for ET Net securities and derivative quotation services under the financial news agency, information and solutions segment.

Income Tax Expense/(Credit)

The Group recorded an income tax expense for the current financial year as compared to the income tax credit in the last financial year. The effective tax rate of the Group for the financial year ended 31 March 2022 was 34.4% while the effective tax rate before impairment losses on non-current assets for the year ended 31 March 2021 was approximately 7.4%. The Group was principally subject to the standard profits tax rate of 16.5% which was applicable to companies incorporated in Hong Kong, the Group's major place of operation. The increase of effective tax rate was mainly caused by a change in the profitability mix of the Group's subsidiaries for the financial year under review and the non-taxable government subsidies granted by the Hong Kong Government under the Anti-epidemic Fund for the financial year ended 31 March 2021. The Group would closely monitor the related operations from time to time.

Profit Attributable to Owners

Profit attributable to owners of the Group for the year under review was HK$33.0 million, an increase of HK$2.1 million as compared to HK$30.9 million recorded for the year ended 31 March 2021. Net profit margin maintained at 3.3%, same as the last financial year. Excluding the one-off Employment Support Scheme subsidy granted by the Hong Kong Government under the Anti-epidemic Fund ("ESS Subsidy") and the impairment losses on non-current assets for the year ended 31 March 2021, net profit attributable to owners for the year under review was increased by HK$12.2 million, a significant improvement over the last financial year.

Media segment's operating results has been improved by HK$14.6 million when compared to last financial year's segment results after excluding the one-off ESS Subsidy and impairment losses on non-current assets. The improvement of results was attributable to the increase of digital advertising income resulted from the strong rebound of the local advertising market in the second half of 2021 and the depreciation cost saving after the impairment of the non-current assets for the year ended 31 March 2021. The Group would continue its investment initiatives in digital platforms by ploughing more resources into quality content, advanced technologies and digital talents development to expand and solidify the success aimed to bring in sustainable growth and better profit.

Financial news agency, information and solutions segment, remained the solid contributor to the Group, recorded a slight decrease in results of HK$2.3 million for the year ended 31 March 2022 when comparing to the preceding reporting year after excluding the one-off ESS Subsidy. This segment, capturing the market trend of digitalisation and diversification of the financial services industry, had secured various financial solution projects for the year under review. # Management Discussion and Analysis

The Group has a strong balance sheet and cash position to enable it to meet its business needs, support its investment plans, and fulfill the dividend payment policy as well as weather the currently challenging operating and economic environment. We will continue to maintain prudent and disciplined financial and cash flow management.

Outlook

Amid the COVID-19 crisis, digital advertising and marketing is growing exponentially and has taken the largest slice from the local advertising spending. Both readers and marketers have shifted rapidly toward digital channels. In order to drive viewership and enhance our audience's user experience by providing premium personalised content and to meet marketers' rising needs in targeted marketing, the Group continued its investments in digital capabilities including data and analytical tool for quality content creation, audience behavior studies, advanced analytics, cloud computing and smart marketing strategy. We believe that these initiatives are invaluable to the Group's sustainable growth and longterm business development.

After a rebound in 2021, global growth is expected to decelerate amid the heightened geopolitical tensions, elevated inflation and the expected tightening monetary policies, interest rate hike and further supply chain disruptions. The evolving global pandemic and development of China-US relations continued to weigh on the global and local economic recovery. Nonetheless, the improving local epidemic situation together with new round of government support and relief measures would help the revival of local consumption and employment in the remaining year.

Looking ahead, the global economy will continue to face significant challenges and uncertainties. We will closely monitor the economic and political situations, take a cautious and prudent approach in cost management, operational efficiency and financial discipline. The Group is in a strong financial position with cash balance of approximately HK$461 million as at 31 March 2022. We are determined to maintain a sustainable dividend policy as well as strong liquidity to preserve its strength for strategic business investment and development. All indications point towards a challenging year to come but we are confident that, we are well positioned to capture new opportunities and weather any storms ahead.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSAs") issued by the HKICPA. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence

We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("the Code"), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter identified in our audit is related to provision of impairment of trade receivables.

| Key Audit Matter  | How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter  |
| Provision for impairment of trade receivablesRefer to note 3.1 (b) (Credit risk), note 4 (Criticalaccounting estimates and judgements) andnote 17 (Trade receivables) to the consolidatedfinancial statements. | We obtained an understanding of managementinternal control and impairment assessmentprocess of trade receivables and assessedthe inherent risk of material misstatement byconsidering the degree of estimation uncertaintyand level of other inherent risk factors. |
| As at 31 March 2022, the Group has gross tradereceivables of HK$186.5 million. Provision ismade for lifetime expected credit losses on tradereceivables.   | We evaluated and validated the key controlsperformed by management over the creditcontrol procedures, including its procedureson periodic review on aged trade receivables,and assessment on the expected credit lossallowance of trade receivables.                |

Independent Auditor's Report

Key Audit Matter

Certain customers of the Group have a slower settlement pattern and may settle after the contractual credit period. Management applied judgement in assessing the expected credit losses. Receivables relating to customers with known financial difficulties or significant doubt on collection of receivables are assessed individually for provision for impairment allowance. Expected credit losses are also estimated by grouping the remaining receivables based on the shared credit risk characteristics and collectively assessed for the likelihood of recovery, taking into account the nature of the customer and its ageing category, and applying expected credit loss rates to the respective gross carrying amounts of the receivables. The expected credit loss rates are determined based on the historical credit losses experienced of up to past 2 years and are adjusted to reflect current and forward-looking information such as macroeconomic factors affecting the ability of the customers to settle the receivables.

We focused on auditing of the provision for impairment of trade receivables due to the magnitude of the trade receivables, the higher degree of estimation uncertainty and subjectivity in management's judgement involved in determining the expected credit loss allowance of the trade receivables. The inherent risk in relation to the determining of the expected credit loss allowance of the trade receivables is considered significant due to subjectivity of significant assumptions used, and significant judgements involved in selecting data. How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter

We performed retrospective review by comparing previous estimates to actual outcome, and evaluated the outcome of prior period assessment of impairment of trade receivables to assess the effectiveness of management's estimation process.

We tested on a sample basis, the accuracy of ageing profile of trade receivables by checking to the underlying sales invoices.

We corroborated and validated management's assessment on the expected credit loss allowance of trade receivables based on the historical settlement pattern of up to past 2 years, correspondence with the customers and market research regarding the relevant forwardlooking information such as macroeconomic factors used in management's assessment.

Based on the above procedures, we found that the estimation and judgement made by management in respect of the expected credit loss allowance for trade receivables were supportable by the available evidence.

Other Information

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all of the information included in the annual report other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Directors and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Independent Auditor's Report

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. We report our opinion solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Mr. CHAN Tak Wai, Daniel.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

2.1 Basis of preparation

The consolidated financial statements of Hong Kong Economic Times Holdings Limited have been prepared in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards ("HKFRS") and disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance Cap. 622. The consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with HKFRS requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements are disclosed in note 4.

Amendments adopted by the Group

The following amendments to standards are relevant to the Group's operation and are mandatory for the financial year ended 31 March 2022:

| HKAS 39, HKFRS 4, HKFRS 7,HKFRS 9 and HKFRS 16 | Interest Rate Benchmark Reform – Phase 2 (amendments)       |

2.2 Subsidiaries

2.2.1 Consolidation

Subsidiaries are all entities over which the Group has control. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. Subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases.

(a) Business combinations

The Group applies the acquisition method to account for business combinations. The consideration transferred for the acquisition of a subsidiary is the fair values of the assets transferred, the liabilities incurred to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group. The consideration transferred includes the fair value of any asset or liability resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement. Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are measured initially at their fair values at the acquisition date. The Group recognises any non-controlling interest in the acquiree on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis, either at fair value or at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the recognised amounts of acquiree's identifiable net assets.

Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

Goodwill is initially measured as the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred and the fair value of non-controlling interest over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If this consideration is lower than the fair value of the net assets of the subsidiary acquired, the difference is recognised in the consolidated income statement.

Inter-company transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated. When necessary, amounts reported by subsidiaries have been adjusted to conform with the Group's accounting policies.

(b) Changes in ownership interests in subsidiaries without change of control

Transactions with non-controlling interests that do not result in loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions – that is, as transactions with the owners in their capacity as owners. The difference between fair value of any consideration paid and the relevant share acquired of the carrying value of net assets of the subsidiary is recorded in equity. Gains or losses on disposals to non-controlling interests are also recorded in equity.

(c) Disposal of subsidiaries

When the Group ceases to have control, any retained interest in the entity is remeasured to its fair value at the date when control is lost, with the change in carrying amount recognised in the consolidated income statement. The fair value is the initial carrying amount for the purposes of subsequently accounting for the retained interest as an associate, joint venture or financial asset. In addition, any amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in respect of that entity are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. This may mean that amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to the consolidated income statement.

2.2.2 Separate financial statements

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for at cost less impairment. Cost includes direct attributable costs of investment. The results of subsidiaries are accounted for by the Company on the basis of dividend received and receivable.

Impairment testing of the investments in subsidiaries is required upon receiving dividends from these investments if the dividend exceeds the total comprehensive income of the subsidiary in the period the dividend is declared or if the carrying amount of the investment in the separate financial statements exceeds the carrying amount in the consolidated financial statements of the investee's net assets including goodwill.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2.3 Segment reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision-maker. The chief operating decision-maker, who is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments, has been identified as the Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") of the Group that makes strategic decisions.

2.4 Foreign currency translation

(a) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the "functional currency"). The consolidated financial statements are presented in Hong Kong dollars ("HK$" or "HK dollars"), which is the Company's functional and the Group's presentation currency.

(b) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions or valuation where the items are remeasured. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at year-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the consolidated income statement.

(c) Group companies

The results and financial position of all the group entities (none of which has the currency of a hyperinflationary economy) that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- (i) assets and liabilities for each balance sheet presented are translated at the closing rate at the date of that balance sheet;
- (ii) income and expenses for each income statement are translated at average exchange rates (unless this average is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the rate on the dates of the transactions); and
- (iii) all resulting currency translation differences are recognised in other comprehensive income.

Goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on the acquisition of a foreign entity are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign entity and translated at the closing rate. Currency translation differences arising are recognised in other comprehensive income.

2.5 Property, plant and equipment

Buildings comprise mainly factories and offices. All property, plant and equipment are stated at historical cost less depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the consolidated income statement during the financial period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their costs over their estimated useful lives, as follows:

| Buildings                         | 20 to 50 years                                |
|-----------------------------------|---|
| Leasehold improvements            | 5 to 30 years or over the unexpired period of |
|                                   | the lease, whichever is shorter               |
| Plant and machinery               | 3 to 15 years                                 |
| Furniture, fixtures and equipment | 3 to 10 years                                 |
| Motor vehicles                    | 2 to 5 years                                  |
| Network and computer equipment    | 3 to 5 years                                  |

The assets' useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each balance sheet date.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount (see note 2.7).

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount and are recognised in the consolidated income statement.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2.6 Investment properties

Investment properties, principally comprising leasehold land and buildings, are held for long-term rental yields, and that are not occupied by the Group.

Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including related transaction costs. Subsequent expenditure is charged to the carrying amount of the asset only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the asset will flow to the Group and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance costs are expensed in the consolidated income statement during the financial period in which they are incurred.

Investment properties are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment loss, if any. They are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives or over the unexpired periods of the leases, whichever is shorter.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount and are recognised in the consolidated income statement.

2.7 Impairment of non-financial assets

Assets that are subject to amortisation are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets other than goodwill that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at each balance sheet date.

2.8 Financial assets

2.8.1 Classification

The Group classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

- those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either though other comprehensive income or through profit or loss), and
- those to be measured at amortised cost.

The classification depends on the entity's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

For assets measured at fair value, gains and losses will either be recorded in profit or loss or other comprehensive income. For investments in equity instruments that are not held for trading, this will depend on whether the Group has made an irrevocable election at the time of initial recognition to account for the equity investment at fair value through other comprehensive income.

The Group reclassifies debt investments when and only when its business model for managing those assets changes.

2.8.2 Recognition and derecognition

Regular way purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised on trade-date, the date on which the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset. Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the financial assets have expired or have been transferred and the Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2.8.3 Measurement

At initial recognition, the Group measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss ("FVPL"), transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at FVPL are expensed in profit or loss.

Debt instruments

Subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on the Group's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset. The Group classifies its debt instruments as amortised cost. Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortised cost. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the effective interest rate method. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition is recognised directly in the consolidated income statement. Impairment losses are presented as separate line item in the consolidated income statement.

2.8.4 Impairment

The Group assesses on a forward looking basis the expected credit losses ("ECL") associated with its debt instruments carried at amortised cost. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk.

For trade receivables, the Group applies the simplified approach permitted by HKFRS 9, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables.

For other financial assets carried at amortised cost, the loss allowance recognised is based on the 12-month ECL. It is the portion of lifetime expected credit loss that results from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the balance sheet date. However, when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since origination, the allowance will be based on the lifetime ECL.

2.9 Offsetting financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the consolidated balance sheet when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

2.10 Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined using the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method. The cost of finished goods comprises raw materials, direct labour, other direct costs and related production overheads (based on normal operating capacity). It excludes borrowing costs. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less applicable variable selling expenses.

2.11 Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables are amounts due from customers for merchandise sold or services performed in the ordinary course of business. If collection of trade and other receivables is expected in one year or less (or in the normal operating cycle of the business if longer), they are classified as current assets. If not, they are presented as non-current assets.

Trade and other receivables are recognised initially at fair values and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest methods, less provision for impairment.

2.12 Cash and cash equivalents

In the consolidated cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand and deposits held at call with banks with original maturities of three months or less.

2.13 Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

2.14 Trade and other payables

Trade payables are obligations to pay for goods or services that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers. Trade and other payables are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less (or in the normal operating cycle of the business if longer). If not, they are presented as non-current liabilities.

Trade and other payables are recognised initially at fair values and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2.15 Current and deferred income tax

The tax expense for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in the consolidated income statement, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

(a) Current income tax

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date in the countries where the Company and its subsidiaries operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

(b) Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is recognised, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements. However, the deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

Deferred income tax is provided on temporary differences arising on investments in subsidiaries, except for deferred income tax liability where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference is controlled by the Group and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

(c) Offsetting

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred income tax assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the taxable entity or different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the balances on a net basis.

2.16 Employee benefits

(a) Employee leave entitlements

Employee entitlements to annual leave are recognised when they accrue to employees. A provision is made for the estimated liability for annual leave as a result of services rendered by employees up to the balance sheet date.

Employee entitlements to sick leave and maternity leave are not recognised until the time of leave.

(b) Long service payments

The Group's net obligation in respect of long service payments to its employees in Hong Kong upon cessation of their employment in certain circumstances under the Hong Kong Employment Ordinance is the amount of future benefits that the employees have earned in return for their services in the current and prior periods.

The obligation is calculated using the projected unit credit cost method, discounted to its present value and reduced by entitlements accrued under the Group's retirement schemes that are attributed to contributions made by the Group. The discount rate is the yield at each balance sheet date of Hong Kong Government's Exchange Fund Notes which have terms to maturity approximating the terms of the related liability. The expected costs of these benefits are accrued over the period of employment using the same accounting methodology as used for defined benefit plans.

The current service cost of the defined benefit plan, recognised in the consolidated income statement in employee benefit expense reflects the increase in the defined benefit obligation results from employee service in the current year, benefit changes, curtailments and settlements.

Past-service costs are recognised immediately in consolidated income statement.

The interest expenses are calculated by applying the discount rate to the balance of the defined benefit obligation. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in the consolidated income statement.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from experience adjustment and changes in actuarial assumptions are charged or credited to equity in other comprehensive income in the period in which they arise.

(c) Pension obligations

The Group operates defined contribution plans, including a mandatory provident fund scheme ("MPF") in Hong Kong, the assets of which are generally held in separate trustee-administered funds.

In addition, pursuant to the government regulations in the People's Republic of China (the "PRC"), the Group is required to contribute an amount to certain retirement benefit schemes for those employees in the PRC. The local municipal government undertakes to assume the retirement benefits obligations of those employees of the Group. Contributions to these retirement benefits schemes are charged to the consolidated income statement as incurred.

A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the Group pays fixed contributions into a separate entity. The Group has no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employees the benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior periods.

The Group pays contributions to publicly or privately administered pension insurance plans on mandatory, contractual or voluntary basis. The Group's contributions to the defined contribution retirement plans are expensed as incurred. The Group's contributions to all these plans except for the MPF and the plans in the PRC are reduced by contributions forfeited by those employees who leave the scheme prior to vesting fully in the contributions. The Group has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are recognised as employee benefit expense when they are due. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in the future payments is available.

2.17 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; and the amount has been reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow will be required in settlement is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. A provision is recognised even if the likelihood of an outflow with respect to any one item included in the same class of obligations may be small.

Provisions are measured at the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the obligation. The increase in the provision due to passage of time is recognised as finance costs.

2.18 Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable for the rendering of services in the ordinary course of the Group's activities.

If contracts involve the sale of multiple elements, the transaction price will be allocated to each performance obligation based on their relative stand-alone selling price.

The Group recognised revenue as follows:

(a) Sales of goods

Circulation income, comprises the sales of newspapers, magazines and books, are recognised at a point in time when control of the products has transferred, being when the products are delivered to the customers, the customer has accepted the products, the collection of the related consideration is probable and there is no unfulfilled obligation that could affect the customer's acceptance of the products.

A receivable is recognised when the goods are delivered as this is the point in time that the consideration is unconditional because only the passage of time is required before the payment is due.

A contract liability is recognised when a customer pays consideration, or is contractually required to pay consideration and the amount is already due, before the Group recognises the related revenue. The Group recognised its contract liabilities as fees in advance in the consolidated balance sheet.

(b) Provision of services

Revenue from providing services includes:

- Income from advertisement is recognised overtime when the relevant advertisement in newspapers, magazines and online are published since the customers simultaneously receive and consume benefit provided by the Group;
- Service income derived from the provision of printing services and sales of products, are recognised at point in time when the services are rendered;
- Service income derived from the provision of professional training and provision of information subscription services, solution and other related maintenance services, are recognised over time when the services are rendered since the customers simultaneously receive and consume benefit provided by the Group.

If the contract includes a monthly fee, revenue is recognised in the amount to which the Group has a right to invoice. Customers are invoiced on a monthly basis and consideration is payable when invoiced.

A contract liability is recognised when a customer pays consideration, or is contractually required to pay consideration and the amount is already due, before the Group recognises the related revenue. The Group recognised its contract liabilities as fees in advance in the consolidated balance sheet.

(c) Rental income

Rental income receivable under operating leases is recognised in the consolidated income statement in equal installments over the accounting periods covered by the lease term, except where an alternative basis is more representative of the pattern of benefits to be derived from the leased asset. Lease incentives granted are recognised in the consolidated income statement as an integral part of the aggregate net lease payments receivable. Contingent rentals are recognised as income in the accounting period in which they are earned.

(d) Finance income

Finance income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset except for financial assets that subsequently become credit-impaired. For credit-impaired financial assets the effective interest rate is applied to the net carrying amount of the financial asset (after deduction of the loss allowance).

2.19 Government grants

Grants from the government are recognised at their fair value where there is a reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the Group will comply with all attached conditions. Government grants relating to costs are deferred and recognised in the profit or loss over the period necessary to match them with the costs that they are intended to compensate.

2.20 Leases

(a) As a lessee

The Group leases various properties including offices and workshops. Lease terms are negotiated on an individual basis and contain a wide range of different terms and conditions. The lease agreements do not impose any covenants, but leased assets may not be used as security for borrowing purposes.

Leasehold land is included in right-of-use assets. Leases are recognised as a right-of-use asset (included in property, plant and equipment) and a corresponding liability at the date on which the leased asset is available for use by the Group. Each lease payment is allocated between the liability and finance cost. The finance cost is charged to the consolidated income statement over the lease term so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period. Right-of-use assets are depreciated the shorter of the assets useful life and over the lease terms on a straight-line basis.

Assets and liabilities arising from a lease are initially measured on a present value basis. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the following lease payments:

- fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments), less any lease incentives receivable;
- variable lease payment that are based on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date;
- amounts expected to be payable by the Group under residual value guarantees;
- the exercise price of a purchase option if the Group is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and
- payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising that option.

The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease, if that rate can be determined, or the Group's incremental borrowing rate.

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost comprising the following:

- the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability;
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, less any lease incentives received;
- any initial direct costs incurred; and
- an estimate of costs to be incurred by the lease in dismantling and removing the underlying asset.

Payments associated with short-term leases are recognised on a straight-line basis as an expense in the consolidated income statement. Short-term leases are leases with a lease term of 12 months or less.

Extension options are included in the property leases across the Company. These terms are used to maximise operational flexibility in terms of managing contracts. All extension options held are exercisable only by the Company and not by the respective lessor. The Company considers all facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive to exercise an extension option in determining the lease term. The assessment is reviewed if a significant event or a significant change in circumstances occurs which affects the assessment.

(b) As a lessor

When an asset is leased out under an operating lease, the asset is included in the consolidated balance sheet based on the nature of the asset. Lease income on operating leases is recognised over the term of the lease on a straight-line basis.

2.21 Dividend distribution

Dividend distribution to the Company's shareholders is recognised as a liability in the Group's and Company's financial statements in the period in which the dividends are approved by the Company's shareholders or directors, where appropriate.

2.22 Related parties

For the purpose of these consolidated financial statements, a party is considered to be related to the Group if the Group has the ability, directly or indirectly, to control the party or exercise significant influence over the party in making financial and operating decisions, or vice versa, or where the Group and the party are subject to common control. Related parties may be individuals (being members of key management personnel, significant owners and/or their close family members) or other entities and include entities which are under the significant influence of related parties of the Group where those parties are individuals.

3. Financial risk management

3.1 Financial risk factors

The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including foreign exchange risk and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's overall risk management programme focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on the Group's financial performance. The Group has not used derivative financial instruments to hedge its risk exposures to changes in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates.

(a) Market risk

(i) Foreign exchange risk

Most of the income and expenditures of the Group are denominated in HK dollars. Certain transactions are denominated in United States dollars ("US dollars") and Renminbi ("RMB"). The value of HK dollars is pegged to that of US dollars and hence, the Group does not have any material foreign exchange exposure in this regard. The Group's exposure to RMB is considered to be minimal, as there are no significant assets and liabilities denominated in RMB.

The Group has not implemented or entered into any type of instruments or arrangements to hedge against currency exchange fluctuations for the year under review. As at 31 March 2022 and 2021, the Group did not have any outstanding hedging instruments.

(ii) Interest rate risk

Financial instruments at variable rates expose the Group to cash flow interest rate risk. Financial instruments at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest rate risk.

Except for bank deposits grouped under 'term deposits with original maturities of over three months' and 'cash and cash equivalents' in the consolidated balance sheet, the Group has no other significant interest-bearing assets or liabilities.

Since there is no borrowing in the Group and short-term bank deposits are under short maturity terms, the cash flow interest rate risk is considered to be low.

At 31 March 2022, it is estimated that a general increase/decrease of 50 basis points in interest rates, with all other variables held constant, would increase/decrease the Group's profit for the year by approximately HK$1,812,000 (2021: HK$1,137,000), in respect of interest income on floating rate bank deposits.

3. Financial risk management (Continued)

(b) Credit risk

The Group's credit risk arises from its bank deposits, deposits and other receivables and trade receivables.

(i) Risk management

To mitigate the risk arising from banks, the Group places its deposits to certain reputable banks with a minimum rating of "investment grade" ranked by an independent party.

The Group manages its credit risk associated with trade receivables through the application of credit approvals, credit ratings and monitoring procedures.

Credit sales are only made to customers with appropriate credit history or high credit standing while sales to new customers or customers of low credit standing are usually made on an advance payment or cash on delivery basis.

In addition, trade receivables balances are monitored on an ongoing basis and the Group's exposure to bad debts is not significant.

No credit limits were exceeded during the year, and management does not expect any losses from non-performance by these counterparties.

(ii) Impairment of financial assets

Trade receivables of the Group are subject to the ECL model. While bank deposits and other financial assets at amortised cost are also subject to the impairment requirements of HKFRS 9, the identified impairment loss was immaterial.

Trade receivable

The Group applies the HKFRS 9 simplified approach to measuring ECL which uses a lifetime expected loss allowance for all trade receivables. The Group measures the ECL on a combination of both individual and collective basis.

3. Financial risk management (Continued)

- (b) Credit risk (Continued)
  - (ii) Impairment of financial assets (Continued)

• Measurement of ECL on individual basis

Receivables relating to customers with known financial difficulties or significant doubt on collection of receivables are assessed individually for provision for impairment allowance.

The following table represents the gross carrying amount and the provision for impairment in respect of the individually assessed receivables as at 31 March 2022 and 2021.

|   | 2022HK$'000 | 2021HK$'000 |
|---|------------------|------------------|
| Gross carrying amountProvision for impairment | 4,739(4,619) | 4,479(4,301) |
| Net carrying amount                               | 120              | 178              |

• Measurement of ECL on collective basis

The Group also estimates the provision for ECL on a collective basis by grouping the trade receivables based on shared credit loss risk characteristics and collectively assessed for likelihood of recovery, taking into account the nature of the customer and its ageing category, and applying ECL rates to respective gross carrying amounts of the receivables.

The ECL rates are based on historical credit losses experienced up to 2 years and are adjusted to reflect current and forward looking information on factors affecting the ability of the customers to settle the receivables. The provision for loss allowance is based on the payment profiles of trade receivables and trade receivable ageing, ranged from 1.2% to 15.7% (2021: 0.7% to 12.3%) for balances aged below 365 days and up to 100% for balances aged above 365 days.

Impairment losses on trade receivables are presented as 'net impairment losses on financial assets' in the consolidated income statement. When a trade receivable is uncollectible, it is written off against the allowance account for trade receivables. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited against the same line item.

- (b) Credit risk (Continued)

Cash and cash equivalents, term deposits with original maturities of over three months and other financial assets at amortised cost

For cash and cash equivalents, term deposits with original maturities of over three months and other financial assets at amortised cost, management considers that its credit risk has not increased significantly since initial recognition with reference to the counterparty historical default rate and current financial position. The impairment provision is determined based on the 12-month expected credit losses which is close to zero (31 March 2021: same).

(c) Liquidity risk

The Group's policy is to regularly monitor current and expected liquidity level to ensure that it maintains sufficient reserves of cash and cash equivalents to meet its liquidity requirements.

As at 31 March 2022 and 2021, the Group does not have undrawn borrowing facilities.

The table below analyses the Group's non-derivative financial liabilities into relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period at the balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date. The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows.

3. Financial risk management (Continued)

3.2 Capital management

The Group's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern in order to provide returns for owners and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain an optimal capital structure to reduce the cost of capital.

In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the amount of dividends paid to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or issue new shares.

Consistent with others in the industry, the Group monitors capital on the basis of gearing ratio. This ratio is calculated as total interest bearing liabilities divided by total assets. Total interest bearing liabilities are calculated as total borrowings including current and non-current bank borrowings as shown in the consolidated balance sheet. Total assets are calculated as 'total assets' as shown in the consolidated balance sheet.

As at 31 March 2022 and 2021, the Group had no borrowings.

3.3 Fair value estimation

The carrying values of the Group's financial assets and financial liabilities are reasonable approximation of their fair values due to the relatively short term nature of these financial instruments.

4. Critical accounting estimates and judgements

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The Group makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are addressed below.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

4. Critical accounting estimates and judgements (Continued)

(a) Deferred income tax assets

Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled. Deferred income tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The Group's management determines the deferred income tax assets based on the enacted or substantively enacted tax rates (and laws) and the best knowledge of profit projections of the Group for coming years during which the deferred income tax assets are expected to be utilised. In assessing the amount of deferred income tax assets that need to be recognised, the Group considers future taxable income and ongoing prudent and feasible tax planning strategies. In the event that the Group's estimates of projected future taxable income and benefits from available tax strategies are changed, or changes in current tax regulations are enacted that would impact the timing or extent of the Group's ability to utilise the tax benefits of net operating loss carry forwards in the future, adjustments to the recorded amount of net deferred income tax assets and income tax expense would need to be made. In addition, management will revisit the assumptions and profit projections at the balance sheet date.

(b) Provision for impairment of trade receivables

The Group makes provision for impairment of receivables based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Group uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on the Group's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward–looking estimates at the balance sheet date.

5. Revenue, other income and segment information

5. Revenue, other income and segment information (Continued)

The chief operating decision-maker has been identified as the CEO of the Group. He reviews the Group's internal reporting in order to assess performance and allocate resources. Management has determined the operating segments based on these reports.

The Group has two reportable segments:

- (i) Media segment principally engaged in the printing and publication of newspapers, magazines and books and the operation of digital platforms, including recruitment, finance and lifestyle. This segment generates advertising income, circulation income and service income from these publications and digital platforms.
- (ii) Financial news agency, information and solutions segment principally engaged in the provision of electronic financial and property market information and related solutions and generates service income from provision of information subscription services, solutions and other related maintenance services.

The chief operating decision-maker assesses the performance of the operating segments based on their respective segment results.

The accounting policies of the operating segments are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies.

Sales between segments are carried out at arm's length.

More than 90% of the Group's activities are carried out in Hong Kong and more than 90% of the Group's assets and liabilities are located in Hong Kong. Accordingly, no analysis by geographical basis for the relevant years is presented.

12. Other non-current liabilities

|                                | 2022HK$'000 | 2021HK$'000 |
|--------------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Long service payment provision | 3,078            | 2,569            |

Long service payment provision represents the long service payment obligations for its employees in Hong Kong.

Pension costs are assessed using the projected unit credit cost method. The pension costs are charged to the consolidated income statement (note 7) so as to spread the regular costs as at 31 March 2022 and 2021 over the service lives of employees. A full valuation of the defined benefit obligation based on the projected unit credit cost method has been carried out by Mercer (Hong Kong) Limited, an independent qualified actuary, and the pension costs are charged to the consolidated income statement.

12. Other non-current liabilities (Continued)

The amounts recognised in the consolidated balance sheet are determined as follows:

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

12. Other non-current liabilities (Continued)

The cumulative amounts of remeasurement of long service payment provision recognised in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income are as follows:

|  | 2022HK$'000    | 2021HK$'000         |
|--|---------------------|--------------------------|
| At beginning of the yearRemeasurement for the yearReversal of long service payment provision | (9,725)695– | (7,811)(1,980)66 |
| At end of the year   | (9,030)             | (9,725)                  |

The principal actuarial parameters used are as follows:

|                         | 2022  | 2021  |
|-------------------------|-------|-------|
| Discount rate           | 1.75% | 1.25% |
| Expected inflation rate | 3.00% | 4.00% |

The sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to changes in significant parameters is:

|                  | Change in assumption                   | Impact on defined benefit obligation |
|-------------------------|--|--------------------------------------|
| Discount rate           | Increase by 0.25%                      | Decrease 1.62%                       |
| Discount rate           | Decrease by 0.25%                      | Increase 1.56%                       |
| Expected inflation rate | Increase by 0.50%Decrease by 0.50% | Increase 9.55%Decrease 11.37%    |

The above sensitivity analyses are based on a change in an assumption while holding all other parameters constant. In practise, it is unlikely to occur, and changes in some of the parameters may be correlated. When calculating the sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to significant actuarial parameters, the same method (present value of the defined benefit obligation calculated with the projected unit credit cost method at the balance sheet date) has been applied as when calculating the pension liability recognised within the consolidated balance sheet.

Note (i):

The prolonged unprecedented COVID-19 pandemic and the associated anti-epidemic measures extended following the fourth wave of COVID-19 infections in late 2020 had further accelerated the digital transformation of local media. Management noted that the trend of diminishing demand for printed newspapers was becoming irrevocable. In view of such shrinking demand, management considered that indicators of potential impairment of property, plant and equipment and right-of-use assets totaling of HK$79,778,000 existed as at 31 March 2021. Management carried out the impairment assessment for the relevant cash-generating units ("CGU") by determining the recoverable amount based on the higher of fair value less cost of disposal and value-in-use calculation. The Group assessed the recoverable amounts of the CGU using the value-in-use method based on discounted cash flow forecasts, and an impairment loss of HK$79,778,000 was recognised for the year ended 31 March 2021. The estimates of the recoverable amounts of this CGU were based on their value in use using cash flow projections from financial budgets covering a period of the remaining useful life of relevant assets approved by senior management. The discount rate adopted was 11.0% and the compound average growth rate in revenue was 3%.
