Dear Shareholders and stakeholders,

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to all of you for your continuous attention and companionship. In the past year, CanSinoBIO, adhering to the vision of “innovation for a safer world”, has been making breakthroughs and innovations, and we have made great progress in the commercialization of our products, the R&D of new products, as well as in domestic and overseas business partnerships.

Internally, we have made great strides.

Since the launch of Menhycia®, a quadra-valent meningococcal conjugate vaccine, and Menphecacia®, a bivalent meningococcal conjugate vaccine, in 2022, these two vaccine products have covered 30 provinces and municipalities in China, providing a more efficient and high-quality vaccine option for the prevention of meningococcal infection diseases in infants and young children. In 2024, with the promotion of the meningococcal vaccines and introduction to the market, the sales revenues from the two meningococcal conjugate vaccines amounted to approximately RMB793.8 million, representing a year-on-year increase of 41.3%. Meanwhile, the supplemental application of Menhycia® has been accepted by NMPA, and the age range of the applicable population is proposed to be expanded from “3 months to 3 years old (47 months old) children” to “3 months to 6 years old (83 months old) children”, which will provide comprehensive protection for a wider group of children when approved in the future. Upon approval in the future, Menhycia® will provide comprehensive protection to a wider range of children, further increasing its market influence and penetration rate.

In the meantime, we have never stopped innovation and research.

We expect to have a new product on the market in 2025, the PCV13*i*. The application for registration of this vaccine candidate was accepted in 2024, and we are following up on the registration application in an orderly manner.

To fulfil unmet needs in the domestic market, we have developed a product portfolio of diphtheria, tetanus and acellular pertussis (components) vaccine through technological upgrades, which ensures stable product quality and batch consistency, and can be used for upgrading and replacement to provide the public with better vaccine product choices. Currently, the application for registration of the DTcP Infant has been accepted and included in the Priority Review and Approval Programme; the Phase II/III clinical trial of the Tdcp Adolescent and Adult, which is suitable for use in people aged 6 years old and above, has been initiated; and the combined vaccine based on the DTcP components has been approved for clinical trial in China.

It is our continuous pursuit to be at the forefront of innovation and to build up our international competitiveness. Our PBPV, as a globally innovative pneumonia vaccine, is able to cover at least 98% of pneumococcal serotypes and can potentially prevent serotype replacement, and the preliminary results of the Phase I clinical trial have shown that it has wide application prospects and potential public health value.

It has been a year of growth, and we have overcome many challenges with determination step by step. Both the strong performance in the domestic market and the numerous achievements in R&D confirm the success of CanSinoBIO's product innovation and marketing strategy, laying a solid foundation for continued growth in the future.

Externally, we endeavour to explore the global market.

Our Recombinant Poliomyelitis Vaccine, based on protein structure design and VLP assembly technology, is expected to contribute to the global eradication of polio due to its innovative feature of not relying on live viruses. The project has received close attention from international organizations and, to date, has received more than US$19 million in funding from foundations for ongoing R&D, underscoring CanSinoBIO's important role and determination to help improve public health worldwide. In December 2024, the vaccine candidate initiated Phase I/II clinical trials in Indonesia in infants and children of certain ages.

Chairman's Statement

At the same time, we obtained the certificate of registration for Menhycia® in Indonesia, where safety and immunogenicity clinical trials are being conducted in people aged 18-55 years, with a view to expanding the intended population; and Halal certification for Menhycia® from the Indonesian authorities, which gives Menhycia® great potential to enter the global Muslim market, and empowers CanSinoBIO to take a step forward in its international commercialization efforts.

In line with the spirit of research without borders, we have joined hands with the National Institutes of Biotechnology Malaysia (NIBM) to further establish collaboration in the development of mRNA multi-valent influenza vaccine for global influenza prevention and control.

We have also travelled far and wide in search of a broader target market by signing a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with Butantan, the largest vaccine manufacturer in Brazil, to jointly promote the development of innovative vaccines and mRNA technology in both countries.

In the future, we will combine our overseas development goals with our various product pipeline as an entry point to establish a long-term and amicable strategic partnership with our partners. At the same time, we will actively carry out the preparatory and planning work for WHO pre-certification (PQ) according to the positioning of our products and the progress of R&D, and explore the feasibility of international organizations' procurement; and we will pursue access to developed countries for our global innovative products, so as to further seize the global market.

A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step. Driven by innovative products and technologies, we have spread our footprints all over the world and gained the recognition and support of many partners on the path of continuous expansion, paving a broader and long-term path for our global development.

We have completed the transformation from a biotechnology company to a biopharmaceutical company. With more products entering the commercialization stage, CanSinoBIO's self-supporting ability has been strengthened and consolidated, laying a solid foundation for sustainable development in the future.

Once again, I would like to thank all of you for your trust and support. We are committed to our mission of "Providing the world with innovative, high-quality and accessible vaccines". With relentless practice and planning, we will continue to promote technological advancement and globalization, and join hands with all parties in order to contribute more to the global public health industry, and to embrace a healthier and more prosperous future together.

Research & Development

Our Products

- Our Commercial Stage Products

Menhycia® and Menphecica®

Menhycia® is a first-in-class and first NDA approved MCV4 in China. The commercialization of Menhycia® not only narrowed the gap between China and developed countries in this field but also met the demand for high-end vaccines in this field in China, providing a better solution for the prevention of infant meningococcal meningitis.

Menphecica® is a China best-in-class bi-valent meningococcal vaccine. Compared with other primary MCV2 products currently approved in China, the Phase III clinical trial showed that Menphecica® demonstrated a superior safety profile in the age group of 3 months and superior immunogenicity in the age groups of 6 to 23 months.

Commercialization

The Company obtained the NDA approval for its Menhycia® and Menphecica® from NMPA in December 2021 and in June 2021, respectively. Menhycia® is the first MCV4 approved in China. Save for Menhycia®, the current quadra-valent meningococcal vaccines in China are all MPSV4 products with a limited age indication. In contrast, our Menhycia® is applicable for children aged from 3 months to 3 years old (47 months), with good safety and immunogenicity profiles demonstrated in clinical trials. The Company has established the Commercial Operation Center (COC) with a comprehensive system to enable the Company's commercialization team to develop and implement domestic and overseas promotion strategies and marketing operations for Menhycia®.

During the Reporting Period, the Company continued to advance the commercialization of meningococcal conjugate vaccines, as of the date of this report, Menhycia® has been successfully commercialized in China's mid-to-high-end vaccine market, and its penetration rate continues to increase. The Company generated a revenue of approximately RMB793.8 million from the sales of meningococcal conjugate vaccines, representing an increase of 41.3% compared with the same period last year, contributing to the steady revenue growth of the Company.

In November 2024, the Company's supplemental application to expand the age range of indicated population of MCV4 from "children aged from 3 months to 3 years old (47 months)" to "children aged from 3 months to 6 years old (83 months)" was accepted by NMPA. Additionally, the Company has initiated the indication extension clinical trial in adults aged 18–59 years old for MCV4 and all patient cases have been formally enrolled.

Management Discussion and Analysis

In December 2024, the Company received the drug registration certificate for MCV4 granted by the Badan Pengawas Obat dan Makanan, Republik Indonesia. MCV4 is undergoing a clinical trial in Indonesia to evaluate its safety and immunogenicity after vaccination in individuals aged 18 to 55 years, with the aim of expanding the indicated population. The drug registration certificate granted to the Company's MCV4 in Indonesia represents a significant achievement in its global strategy, and contributes to the Company's overseas branding recognition and international influence. In February 2025, MCV4 received the Halal Decree by the Assessment Institute for Foods, Drugs and Cosmetics of Majelis Ulama Indonesia (LPPOM MUI), signifying that MCV4 has gained access to the globally recognized Muslim market.

Convidecia® and Convidecia Air® and XBB.1.5 Variant

Convidecia® is a genetic engineered vaccine with the replication-defective adenovirus type 5 as the vector to express SARS-CoV-2 spike protein, which is used to prevent COVID-19 disease.

Convidecia Air® is the first global aerosolized recombinant viral vector COVID-19 vaccine for inhalation, which can not only stimulate humoral and cellular immunity, but also induce mucosal immunity to achieve triple comprehensive protection efficiently without intramuscular injection. Notably, Convidecia Air® offers unique advantages, including safety, effectiveness, painlessness, convenience and availability. By leveraging the same adenovirus vector technological platform as the intramuscular Convidecia®, Convidecia Air® provides a noninvasive option that employs a nebulizer to convert liquid into an aerosol for inhalation through the mouth. Convidecia Air® is needle-free and can effectively trigger comprehensive immune protection in response to SARS-CoV-2.

Commercialization

Since February 2021, Convidecia® has been granted conditional NDA approval by NMPA and emergency use authorizations or conditional NDA approval in various countries overseas.

Since September 2022, Convidecia Air® has been included for emergency use as a booster vaccine in China and has been widely vaccinated. Since December 2023, XBB.1.5 Variant has been included for emergency use in China. XBB.1.5 Variant will contribute to the renewal of immunization strategies and provide better protection to the population.

Ad5-EBOV

Ad5-EBOV uses adenovirus vector technology to induce immune response against Ebola virus disease, a severe illness caused by Ebola viruses with an average mortality rate of about 50%. In October 2017, the Company received the NDA approval for Ad5-EBOV in China for emergency use and national stockpile, making it the first approved Ebola virus vaccine in China. The Company has also obtained a GMP certificate for Ad5-EBOV.

Compared with the existing Ebola virus vaccines and vaccine candidates worldwide, Ad5-EBOV has several key advantages: (i) it has a better stability profile attributable to its freeze-dried dosage form and is approved to be stored between 2°C to 8°C for 12 months; (ii) it is an inactive non-replicating viral vector vaccine with fewer safety concerns; and (iii) it holds potential as a broad spectrum protection vaccine against the Zaire Ebola virus.

While the Company currently does not anticipate significant commercial contributions from Ad5-EBOV in the future, the development of Ad5-EBOV marks a significant milestone as the first successful application of the Company's viral vector-based technology. It also serves as a testament to the Company's commitment to shoulder social responsibility and showcases its performance in the field.

Management Discussion and Analysis

- Candidates at clinical trial stage

PCV13*i*

PCV13*i* is a potential best-in-class improved PCV13. The Company has implemented enhancements in the conjugate design and manufacturing processes of its PCV13*i* candidate by leveraging its proprietary know-how in conjugate vaccine manufacturing.

In January 2024, the Company obtained the final report of the Phase III clinical trial for PCV13*i*. The final report shows that PCV13*i* exhibits a favorable safety and immunogenicity profile, and the clinical study has reached its pre-determined clinical endpoints in the target population based on the data available to date.

In February 2024, the Company's NDA for PCV13*i* was accepted by NMPA.

As of the date of this report, the Company's PCV13*i* has completed the clinical site inspection and production site inspection. The Company will continue to maintain active communication with NMPA to ensure the smooth progress of the review and approval process. The Company expects to obtain the NDA approval for PCV13*i* in 2025.

PBPV

PBPV is a globally innovative pneumococcal vaccine candidate. Currently, the 23-valent pneumococcal polysaccharide vaccine (PPV23) products and the 13-valent pneumococcal conjugate vaccine (PCV13) products are all serotype-based, which are effective against only up to 23 pneumococcal serotypes but not able to protect against all of the 90 plus serotypes. The Company's PBPV candidate is not serotype-dependent. It adopts antigens derived from the pneumococcal surface protein A, or PspA, a highly-conserved protein expressed by virtually all pneumococci. PBPV contains four types of protein, offering the potential for broader coverage in the elderly compared to existing PPV23 and PCV13 products.

In April 2024, the Company received positive preliminary results from Phase I clinical trials (including Phase Ia and Phase Ib) of PBPV. The results of Phase Ia and Phase Ib clinical trials showed that PBPV has a good safety profile in adults and the elderly. Meanwhile, a single dose of vaccination is able to induce significant binding antibody and functional bactericidal antibody responses against cross-family/clade of Streptococcus pneumoniae, which further demonstrated the broad spectrum and potential public health value of this vaccine candidate. Based on the preliminary results obtained from the Phase I clinical trials, the Company will proceed with the evaluation and planning of the next Phase of development for PBPV.

DTcP Infant

The Company is developing a potential best-in-class DTcP vaccine for infants in China. The manufacturing process of the co-purified diphtheria, tetanus and acellular pertussis vaccine (DTaP) currently available in China uses a process of co-purification for pertussis antigens. As a diphtheria, tetanus and acellular pertussis (components) vaccine, each pertussis antigen of the DTcP Infant can be purified separately and formulated in a defined ratio, thus ensuring batch-to-batch consistency of product quality and making the product more stable.

Management Discussion and Analysis

As of the date of this report, no domestically manufactured component vaccine for diphtheria, tetanus and acellular pertussis has been approved for commercialization in China. Our DTcP Infant is positioned as a viable alternative to imported vaccines in China. Furthermore, the development of DTcP Infant establishes a solid foundation for the further development of our Tdcp Adolescent and Adult, as well as combined vaccine based on the DTcP components. The product portfolio of diphtheria, tetanus and acellular pertussis (components) vaccines will further enrich the Company's product strategy and enhance its core competitiveness.

In December 2024, the Company's NDA for DTcP Infant was accepted by NMPA. As of the date of this report, the Phase III clinical trial for DTcP Infant is still in progress, while the vaccination and data collection for the primary immunization have been completed. The Company has obtained the final report of Phase III clinical trial in respect of the primary immunization.

In February 2025, the Center for Drug Evaluation, NMPA granted priority review status to the Company's NDA for its DTcP Infant. According to the requirement of national priority review and approval, the Center for Drug Evaluation, NMPA will prioritize resource allocation for the review of NDAs included in the scope of priority review and approval. The Company will further supplement clinical data for booster immunization in 2025 and actively communicate with NMPA to advance the NDA review of DTcP Infant.

Tdcp Adolescent and Adult

The Tdcp Adolescent and Adult is a booster vaccine for diphtheria, tetanus and acellular pertussis for adolescents and adults aged 6 years old and above. While major developed countries have already incorporated the vaccine into their routine vaccination programs, there is currently no approved booster vaccine for diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis for adolescents and adults in China. Therefore, the successful commercialization of this product will address the existing gap in the domestic market. The manufacturing process of the co-purified diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis vaccine currently available in China uses a process of co-purification of pertussis antigens. As a diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis (components) vaccine, each pertussis antigen of the Tdcp Adolescent and Adult can be purified separately and formulated in a defined ratio, thus ensuring batch-to-batch consistency of product quality and making the product more stable. The Tdcp Adolescent and Adult candidate is a potential global best-in-class vaccine developed to compete against world-class vaccines such as Boostrix and Adacel. Its development aims to provide a high-quality vaccine option on par with world-class standards.

In December 2024, the Phase II/III clinical trial for the Tdcp Adolescent and Adult has been officially initiated.

As of the date of this report, the Company has completed the enrollment of patient cases of the Phase III clinical trial for the Tdcp Adolescent and Adult.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Tetanus Vaccine

The Company has developed the Tetanus Vaccine which is fermented with animal-free culture medium and is thus safer. Furthermore, stable industrial scale processes have been identified for its development and production. This vaccine primarily targets for non-neonatal tetanus prevention, which will expand the Company's product pipeline and enhance its core competitiveness.

In March 2024, the phase III clinical trial for the Tetanus Vaccine was officially initiated.

In February 2025, the Company's NDA for Tetanus Vaccine was accepted by NMPA. The Company expects to obtain the NDA approval for Tetanus Vaccine in the first half of 2026.

TB Booster

The Company is working on the development of a globally innovative TB Booster candidate for the Bacillus Calmette-Guerin-vaccinated population. The Phase Ia clinical trial showed that the Ad5Ag85A TB candidate is safe, well tolerated, and capable of enhancing the immunity in the Bacillus Calmette-Guerin-vaccinated population. To facilitate the development and commercialization of products in the TB field, the Company obtained a world-wide exclusive license from McMaster University in Canada based on technology information rights owned by McMaster University related to TB Booster and its Phase I clinical trial, and was licensed by McMaster University with a non-exclusive sub-license of relevant adenovirus patent rights.

The Phase Ib clinical trial for the TB Booster candidate was completed in Canada, aiming to evaluate the safety and immune responses stimulated by the TB Booster candidate in blood and lungs.

Looking ahead, the Company will obtain Phase I clinical trial approval granted by the Badan Pengawas Obat dan Makanan, Republik Indonesia to initiate relevant clinical trial for the inhaled TB vaccine (Adenovirus Type 5 Vector) in 2025, an improved version of TB Booster developed by the Company.

Recombinant Zoster Vaccine

The Recombinant Zoster Vaccine adopts ChAdOx1 Vector technology. The adenovirus vector vaccine is capable of triggering cellular immunity and humoral immunity simultaneously. The Recombinant Zoster Vaccine candidate incorporates internationally leading process technology and adheres to a quality management and control system that meets international standards. To improve the safety of the final product, the entire production process of the Recombinant Zoster Vaccine candidate does not use animal derived ingredients throughout its development and production stages.

In July 2023, the Recombinant Zoster Vaccine developed by the Group in co-operation with Barinthus Biotherapeutics (UK) Limited (formerly known as Vaccitech (UK) Limited) has received a no-objection letter for clinical trials from Health Canada. As shown in pre-clinical research data, the Recombinant Zoster Vaccine was able to stimulate both humoral and cellular immunity, with no significant difference in humoral immunity compared to Shingrix, a recombinant subunit adjuvanted vaccine developed by a multi-national pharmaceutical company, and can elicit significantly higher systemic cellular response than Shingrix. It is expected that the Recombinant Zoster Vaccine candidate has the potential to be a product with high efficacy profile.

Management Discussion and Analysis

In November 2023, the Phase I clinical trial for the Recombinant Zoster Vaccine was officially initiated in Canada and the first trial patient case has been formally enrolled. Phase I clinical trial for Recombinant Zoster Vaccine (including intramuscular injection and aerosol inhalation version) was to evaluate its safety and preliminary immunogenicity.

The Company expects to evaluate the future development plans for Recombinant Zoster Vaccine based on Phase I clinical trial results.

Recombinant Poliomyelitis Vaccine

Based on the protein structure design and VLP assembly technology of the Company, the Recombinant Poliomyelitis Vaccine developed by the Company is expected to contribute substantially to global polio control including eradication. The Recombinant Poliomyelitis Vaccine is a non-infectious polio VLP vaccine with good safety and immunogenicity profiles that does not rely on live virus in the manufacturing process. Unlike existing attenuated and inactivated polio vaccines, non-infectious polio VLP vaccines are recommended by the WHO as one of the preferred vaccines for future polio vaccination.

In October 2023, the Group and Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation has entered into a grant agreement, pursuant to which with the mutually agreed request, Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation (the “Foundation”) agreed to provide over US$2 million in total to support the development of the Recombinant Poliomyelitis Vaccine. In October 2024, the Company has entered into a new grant agreement with the Foundation, pursuant to which with the mutually agreed request, the Foundation agreed to provide over US$17 million in total to support the further development of the Recombinant Poliomyelitis Vaccine.

In January 2024, the Phase I clinical trial for the Recombinant Poliomyelitis Vaccine was officially initiated in Australia.

In October 2024, the Company obtained the clinical trial approval for Recombinant Poliomyelitis Vaccine from the Badan Pengawas Obat dan Makanan, Republik Indonesia to initiate relevant clinical trials to evaluate the safety and immunogenicity of Recombinant Poliomyelitis Vaccine in infants and toddlers in certain ages. In December, the Phase I/II clinical trial for the Recombinant Poliomyelitis Vaccine was officially initiated and the first trial patient case has been formally enrolled in Indonesia.

The Company will evaluate the future development plans for Recombinant Poliomyelitis Vaccine based on Phase I/II clinical trial results.

Management Discussion and Analysis

COVID-19 mRNA vaccine

The Company has decided not to proceed with the clinical development of COVID-19 mRNA vaccine, taking into account factors such as the anticipated evolution of the epidemic situation, adjustments in the R&D strategies and optimization of resource allocation.

- Pre-Clinical Programs with Proof of Concept

The Company has various vaccine candidates in pre-clinical programs, including but not limited to multiple preventive vaccine candidates targeting diseases such as influenza, meningitis and pneumonia and other combination vaccine candidates. The Company will provide updates in due course regarding any material progress made in these pre-clinical programs.

mRNA Platform

The mRNA technology platform developed by the Group is equipped with self-designed and developed sequence optimization software, which is capable of obtaining the optimal sequences that affect the stability of key areas and effectively increase antigen expression. The process of CMC (Chemistry, Manufacturing and Controls) associated with this platform is streamlined, allowing for a shortened product development timeline and rapid realization of the research achievements into industrialized products. To support the R&D and commercialization of mRNA platform-based products, the Group has completed the Phase I construction of the mRNA vaccine production base.

In July 2024, the Group signed a cooperation agreement with the National Institutes of Biotechnology Malaysia (NIBM). The strategic collaboration would focus on the development of mRNA multi-valent influenza vaccine and other innovative products, manufacturing, technology transfer and personnel exchanges. The entering into of such agreement demonstrates the Group's competitive advantage and R&D capability in the mRNA technology platform.

The Group's Facilities

To date, the Group focuses its manufacturing activities on commercialization and product registration. The Group's manufacturing facility is well-equipped with advanced equipment and machinery capable of performing multiple functions, including fermentation, purification, conjugation, ultrafiltration, auto-packaging and filling.

The Group owns and operates a commercial-scale manufacturing facility in Tianjin, which is utilized for the manufacture of, among other things, Menphecía® and Menhycia®. Furthermore, the Group has established an mRNA technology platform in Shanghai, enabling it to undertake key technological research and large-scale production of mRNA vaccines independently.

In order to improve our capabilities of R&D, manufacturing, testing and storage, the Group has initiated the construction of CanSino Innovative Vaccine Industrial Campus Project, funded in part by the proceeds from its A Share Offering, aiming to enhance the manufacturing capacity to support its long-term development strategies.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Commercialization

Our commercialization mission is to provide the right vaccines to the right people. To that end, we have rapidly built up a well-oiled commercialization engine with both the systematic management approach of a multi-national company and the decision-making agility and execution efficiency of a biotech company.

We systematically identify the most influential clinical decision-makers and POVs and are dedicated in implementing the most effective marketing measures. Where beneficial, we will leverage the networks of local promoters to extend our reach. We have pinpointed key vaccination sites and KOLs across China, including county CDCs, and conduct extensive education on the benefits of Menhycia®, our first-in-class MCV4 in China, over existing MCV on the market. Currently, Menhycia® holds the only competitive position in the market, with its market share steadily increasing. We have also accelerated the pace of our internationalization by investing in local companies whose business will create synergies with ours.

Throughout the Reporting Period, as we advanced the commercialization of our vaccine products, we gradually established a sales and marketing network to introduce the features of our products and the latest academic trends in relevant fields through various academic and marketing activities, and assisted doctors in local CDCs in the proper use of our products, contributing to the establishment of a positive brand image for the Company. Moreover, we focus on professional academics and customer demands in our sales and marketing plans. When formulating sales and marketing plans, we thoroughly investigate and understand the specific requirements of doctors and genuine needs of vaccine recipients. We strictly adhere to relevant laws and regulations in setting brand promotion information and producing promotional materials through a strict medical compliance review mechanism.

Future and Outlook

CanSinoBIO's mission is to develop, manufacture and commercialize high-quality, innovative and affordable vaccines. We have established the Commercial Operation Center (COC) with a comprehensive system in place, dedicated to the continued commercialization of our Menhycia® and Menphecica®. Our proactive marketing efforts will focus on strengthening professional academic promotions and increasing public awareness of vaccines, emphasizing the necessity and usefulness of vaccination. We will continue to build up our commercialization team with a goal to achieve rapid penetration of our sales network while balancing intensification with effective cost management. Meanwhile, in combination with our marketing strategy, we will take the cultural philosophy, professional and academic competence of the promoters into consideration, conduct stringent screening, management and assessment of the promoters so as to speed up the construction of the sales network and enhance the reputation and market share of our products.

We remain committed to improving R&D platform management, ensuring comprehensive quality control of products, and maximizing the technological value of our platform. By leveraging our in-house R&D and medical/clinical teams, we will continue to develop our clinical trial and pre-clinical stage assets, thereby enhancing our long-term competitiveness in the market.

Furthermore, we will continue to advance the discovery and development of new vaccine candidates through a combination of in-house R&D and strategic collaborations with external partners. We will actively explore potential global collaborations and consider acquisitions of high-potential assets related to vaccines and biological products, expand our industrialization and commercialization efforts in countries and regions such as Southeast Asia, the Middle East and Latin America to accelerate our competitiveness in the international market and lay a solid foundation for building an industrial system that meets international standards.

Management Discussion and Analysis

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Revenue

During the Reporting Period, the Group realized revenue of approximately RMB824.9 million, representing an increase of 139.0% as compared with 2023. We achieved significant growth in sales by leveraging our advantages in the only MCV4 product in Chinese market, which holds leadership position in market and has driven sustained sales volume growth through the precise marketing, continuously increasing product penetration rate. Meanwhile, the impact of global public health event on the Group's operation has largely been eliminated. Excluding the impact of sales return provision of COVID-19 in 2023, we recorded a revenue of RMB598.4 million in 2023, and our revenue realized in 2024 increased 37.9% as compared with 2023. As a result, the Group's revenue has grown rapidly as compared to last year.

Detailed breakdown of our revenue during the Reporting Period is as follows:

	Year ended December 31,
	2024	2023
	RMB'000	RMB'000

Note:

- (1) The Group recognized sales return provision and deducted the revenue of RMB253.2 million during the reporting period of 2023 based on the sales return incurred and estimated to be incurred for COVID-19 vaccines.

During the Reporting Period, our revenue primarily generated in China, where the Group's business and operations are primarily located. The breakdown of our revenue by geographical segments is as follows:

Management Discussion and Analysis

Gross Profit (Loss)

During the Reporting Period, the Group realized approximately RMB580.5 million in gross profit, representing a turnaround from gross loss of approximately RMB876.0 million in 2023. The gross profit improved and turnaround from loss in 2023 to profit in 2024, primarily due to: (i) the increase in revenue of meningococcal vaccine products and the new revenue stream generated from CDMO during the Reporting Period; and (ii) the significant decrease in the excess capacity cost and the impairment loss of inventory and property, plant and equipment by optimizing the resource allocation and improving the operational efficiency. The breakdown is as follows:

	Year ended December 31,
	2024	2023
	RMB'000	RMB'000
Impairment loss on inventory and rights to return goods	52,815	541,472
Cost generated by low capacity utilization	35,195	250,987
Impairment loss on property, plant and equipment	585	325,636
Impairment loss on intangible assets	–	36,864
Impairment loss on prepayment	(3,245)	63,510
Total	85,350	1,218,469

Other Income

Our other income decreased by 44.5% from approximately RMB197.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB109.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2024, primarily due to: (i) the decrease of approximately RMB82.9 million in government grants, and (ii) the decrease of approximately RMB21.7 million in investment income from structured deposits, wealth management products and derivative financial assets purchased from reputable Chinese financial institutions, attributable to declining market interest rates.

Selling Expenses

Our selling expenses slightly increased by 0.3% from approximately RMB353.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB369.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2024, which was primarily due to the increase in marketing expenses as a result of promoting the commercialization of meningococcal vaccines during the Reporting Period.

Administrative Expenses

Our administrative expenses decreased by 34.0% from approximately RMB294.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB194.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2024, primarily due to the decrease in the number of administrative employees and professional service fees.

Management Discussion and Analysis

R&D Expenses

Our R&D expenses decreased by 34.8% from approximately RMB638.0 million for the year 2023 to approximately RMB416.1 million for the year 2024, primarily due to: (i) the optimization for R&D personnel structure while maintaining the steady progress of the R&D pipelines to enhance overall operational efficiency; (ii) the control of R&D investments in COVID-19-related pipelines while optimizing resource allocation and focusing on non-COVID-19 vaccine candidates; and (iii) the capitalization of R&D expenses for Phase III clinical trials and candidates in later clinical stages, since we accelerated development and commercialization of greater potential candidates.

The following table sets forth the components of our R&D expenses for the years indicated:

	Year ended December 31,
	2024		2023
	RMB'000	%	RMB'000	%

Others	39,476	9.5	51,076	8.0
Total	416,120	100.0	637,987	100.0

Other losses, net

Our net other losses increased from approximately RMB56.8 million for the year ended December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB81.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2024, primarily attributable to: (i) the loss of control over CanSino SPH, amounting to approximately RMB70.5 million during the Reporting Period; (ii) the decrease of provision for compensation for the cancellation of firm purchase commitments from approximately RMB42.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2023 which was mostly related to COVID-19 vaccines to approximately RMB1.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2024.

Finance Income or Gains – Net

Our net finance income or gains decreased from approximately RMB56.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB22.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2024, primarily attributable to the decrease of approximately RMB36.2 million in finance income. The Group strategically reduced its term deposit holdings in response to interest rate fluctuations across market investment products, reallocating capital to wealth management instruments with higher yield potential.

Income Tax (Expense) Credit

Our income tax expense for the year ended December 31, 2024 was approximately RMB2.5 million (2023: approximately RMB11.5 million income tax credit) due to the write-off of deferred tax assets during the Reporting Period.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Right-of-use assets

Our right-of-use assets decreased from approximately RMB295.8 million as of December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB114.0 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily due to the loss of control over CanSino SPH during the Reporting Period.

Intangible Assets

Our intangible assets increased from approximately RMB111.8 million as of December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB180.1 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily due to the fact that we capitalized development costs for several vaccine candidates in Phase III clinical trials or later development stages when the capitalization conditions were met.

Inventories

Our inventories comprised finished goods, work in progress, goods shipped in transit and raw materials purchased for production and R&D activities. Our inventories decreased from approximately RMB350.7 million as of December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB280.5 million as of December 31, 2024. During the Reporting Period, the inventory turnover rate was accelerated because of sales growth and optimized production planning, contributed by improved sales and operation alignment. As a result, the Group achieved optimized inventories structures and a significant decrease in inventory impairment losses.

Our other receivables and prepayments decreased from approximately RMB297.5 million as of December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB113.7 million as of December 31, 2024, which was primarily due to property, plant and equipment acceptance in 2024.

Lease liabilities

Our lease liabilities decreased from approximately RMB239.8 million as of December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB22.7 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily due to the loss of control over CanSino SPH during the Reporting Period.

Trade Payables

Our trade payables mainly included payments to be paid to raw material suppliers. The following table sets forth the aging analysis of our trade payables presented based on the date of receipt of goods or services:

	As of December 31, 2024 RMB'000	As of December 31, 2023 RMB'000

Our other payables and accruals decreased by 27.1% from approximately RMB866.8 million as of December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB632.3 million as of December 31, 2024, primarily due to: (i) accelerated project execution progress with milestone payments aligned to construction Phases; and (ii) workforce optimization that lowered payroll-related accruals.

Refund Liabilities

Our refund liabilities decreased from approximately RMB112.8 million as of December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB75.1 million as of December 31, 2024. The decrease was mainly due to COVID-19 sales returns we received during the Reporting Period.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Financial Resources, Liquidity and Capital Structure

Our bank balances and cash decreased by 24.0% from approximately RMB2,047.0 million as of December 31, 2023 to approximately RMB1,556.5 million as of December 31, 2024, which was primarily due to the cash outflow as a result of payment for operating activities and repayment for borrowings during the Reporting Period. We are of the view that our financial resources are sufficient for our daily operations.

As of December 31, 2024, the current assets of the Group were approximately RMB4,282.5 million (as of December 31, 2023: approximately RMB5,180.8 million), which include bank balances and cash of approximately RMB1,556.5 million, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss of approximately RMB1,183.1 million and other current assets of approximately RMB1,542.9 million.

As of December 31, 2024, the current liabilities of the Group were approximately RMB1,772.0 million (as of December 31, 2023: approximately RMB2,591.8 million), which include borrowings of approximately RMB892.2 million, other payables and accruals of approximately RMB632.3 million, and other current liabilities of approximately RMB247.5 million.

As of December 31, 2024, the Group had short term loans of approximately RMB892.2 million (as of December 31, 2023: approximately RMB1,394.9 million) and long term loans of approximately RMB1,098.5 million (as of December 31, 2023: approximately RMB1,065.7 million). The Group has proactively optimized its debt financing structure, reducing total borrowings, driven by enhanced operational efficiency and sales volume increase in its core product MCV4.

We have always adopted a prudent treasury management and investment policy and maintained a healthy financial position.

Investment in Financial Assets

With regard to capital management, based on the principle of prudence and soundness, we generally choose principal-protected structured deposits and wealth management products with interest rates and performance benchmark higher than those of bank deposits for the same period to maximize our capital gains. As of December 31, 2024, we held structured deposits of approximately RMB1,181.9 million issued by certain reputable financial institutions in China. The annual interest rate of structural deposits purchased during the year ended December 31, 2024 varied from 0.70% to 2.91%. Such structured deposits had a maturity period ranging from 10 days to 186 days and are non-cancellable before maturity.

Future Plans for Material Investments or Capital Assets

During the Reporting Period, our major investment was in the CanSino Innovative Vaccine Industrial Campus Project. We had planned to invest approximately RMB2,244.7 million in this project to enhance the manufacturing capacity and meet our long-term development strategies. By the end of the Reporting Period, the balance of this project was RMB662.9 million. The schedule of investment will be in line with the progress of construction.

Saved as disclosed above, we did not have any concrete future plans for material capital expenditure, investments or capital assets as of the date of this report. We will make further announcements in accordance with the Hong Kong Listing Rules, where applicable, if any investments and acquisition opportunities materialize.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Contingent Liabilities

We received the notice of a lawsuit in March 2024 from 3ª Vara Cível de Maringá/PR ("Brazilian Court") filed by Belcher Farmaceutica Ltda. ("Belcher"), claiming Brazilian Real 167 million (equivalent to approximately RMB197 million) in compensation for related losses, fees, and spiritual damage from the Company following the termination of the authorization to it to negotiate with the Brazilian government about the registration and commercialization of our COVID-19 vaccines in Brazil in 2021.

The Company has engaged a professional legal counsel to handle such lawsuit. Based on the current legal advice, the Company has strong defense position and it is unlikely that Belcher's claim will be supported by the Brazilian Court. Therefore, the management of the Company is in the view that it is not probable an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle Belcher's claim. As a result, no provision with respect to this lawsuit was made by the Company as at December 31, 2024. As of the date of this report, the Brazilian Court has yet to start hearing of this lawsuit.

Saved for disclosed above, the Group did not have any other significant contingent liabilities as of December 31, 2024.

Capital Commitments

Our capital commitments as of December 31, 2024 were approximately RMB129.2 million, representing a decrease of 59.4% from the capital commitments of approximately RMB317.9 million as of December 31, 2023, primarily due to the Group has consistently reinforced fixed asset management through optimized asset allocation coordination with production capacity planning and enhanced reuse efficiency of existing assets, effectively reducing prospective capital expenditures related to fixed asset investments going forward.

Charge on Assets

As of December 31, 2024, certain of our property, plant and equipment have been pledged as collateral under our borrowing arrangements with banks. The carrying amount of property, plant and equipment pledged as collateral was approximately RMB158.9 million as of December 31, 2024 (as of December 31, 2023: approximately RMB166.9 million).

As of December 31, 2024, none of our land use rights have been pledged as collateral under our borrowing arrangements with banks.

Saved as disclosed above, and restricted bank deposits of approximately RMB10.2 million (as of December 31, 2023: approximately RMB11.2 million), there were no other charges on our assets as of December 31, 2024.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Exchange Rate Risk

Our Group mainly operates in the PRC with most of the transactions settled in RMB and USD. Our Group is exposed to fluctuations in foreign exchange risk to a certain degree as there are financial assets or liabilities of the Group denominated in the currencies other than the functional currency, including (i) cash and term deposits at bank in USD and HKD, which were primarily received from the investors as capital contributions, and (ii) trade payables and other payables to overseas suppliers. During the Reporting Period, we have entered into several agreements with commercial banks in China to hedge against the foreign exchange risk. As of December 31, 2024, the nominal amount of outstanding contracts amounted to US$50.0 million (equivalent to RMB364.9 million) and forward rates ranged from 7.2850 to 7.7717 with terms of 12 months or less. Besides, as of the date of this report, we have established a foreign exchange exposure monitoring policy, and will consider hedging against significant foreign exchange exposure of the Group should the need arise.

Gearing Ratio

Gearing ratio is calculated as net debt divided by total capital. Net debt is calculated as total borrowings less bank balances and cash excluding accrued interest. Total capital is calculated as total equity as shown in the consolidated statement of financial position plus net debt.

As at 31 December 2024, the Group's gearing ratio is 8.14%. As at 31 December 2023, the Group was in a net cash position and thus, gearing ratio is not applicable.

Deconsolidation of CanSino SPH

Effective from February 2, 2024, CanSino SPH has ceased to be treated as a subsidiary of the Company and has been accounted for as an associate of the Company, due to the termination of a concert party agreement entered into by and between the Company and Industry Investment Fund. For details, please refer to the Company's announcement dated February 2, 2024 and note 12 to the condensed consolidated financial statements.

PRINCIPAL RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES FACING THE GROUP

The following are parts of the key risks and uncertainties identified by the Group:

Risks relating to our financial prospects:

- we have exposed to foreign exchange risk primarily arising from its overseas operations. Fluctuations in exchange rates may impact the Group’s financial performance through the translation of foreign currency-denominated assets and liabilities at settlement dates;
- in accordance with HKFRS, the Company has prudently recognized impairment provisions based on actual sales performance. Nevertheless, potential impairment risks persist due to uncertainties such as adverse changes in market conditions, intensified industry competition, or obsolescence of inventory.

Risks relating to development, clinical trials and regulatory approval of our vaccine candidates:

- we may be unable to obtain regulatory approval for our vaccine candidates, and we may not be able to identify, discover or in-license new and suitable vaccine candidates;
- if we encounter difficulties enrolling subjects in our clinical trials, clinical trials of our vaccine candidates could be delayed or otherwise adversely affected;
- vaccine development involves a lengthy and expensive process with uncertain outcomes, and results of earlier clinical trials may not be predictive of results of later-stage clinical trials; and
- we may not be able to comply with ongoing regulatory obligations and continued regulatory review even if we receive regulatory approval for our vaccine candidates.

Report of the Board of Directors

Risks relating to commercialization of our vaccine and vaccine candidates:

- we may not be able to be successfully prequalified by local governments of our target provinces or secure subsequent product orders;
- our sales may be adversely affected by the recession or eradication of the infectious diseases that our vaccines target and the availability of alternative vaccines or treatment technologies may adversely affect our sales;
- we have limited experience in commercializing vaccine candidates in China, and any failure to perform proper quality control and quality assurance would have a material adverse effect on our business and financial results;
- the manufacture of vaccines is a highly exacting and complex process, and if we encounter problems in manufacturing our products, our business could suffer; and
- we may fail to obtain regulatory approval in any targeted jurisdictions outside of China and face variety of risks associated with international operations.

Risks relating to our operations:

- we have engaged in in-licensing and collaboration arrangements to develop and commercialize a number of vaccine candidates, and may continue to seek strategic partnerships and collaborations or enter into additional licensing arrangements in the future, which is subject to risks;
- our business depends on the use of raw materials, and a decrease in the supply, or an increase in the cost of these raw materials could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operation;
- changes in government regulations or in practices relating to the vaccine industry and compliance with new regulations may result in additional costs;
- we could be unsuccessful in obtaining or maintaining adequate intellectual property protection for one or more of our vaccine candidates;
- we are at risk of governmental actions detrimental to our business, such as product seizure, resumed price controls and additional regulations;

Report of the Board of Directors

- we benefit from certain preferential tax and financial incentives, the expiration of or changes to which could adversely affect our profitability;
- our reputation is important to our business success. Negative publicity may adversely affect our reputation and business prospect;
- we may be subject to risks of non-compliance with anti-corruption, anti-bribery, anti-money laundering, financial and economic sanctions and similar laws or other import and export restrictions of the United States and other jurisdictions in the future, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and reputation;
- we may be subject to natural disasters, health epidemics, civil and social disruption and other outbreaks, which could significantly disrupt our operation; and
- any disruption to our continuous use of properties for our business and operations could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

On August 29, 2024, the Board resolved to extend the expected time of full utilization of the remaining balance for CanSino Innovative Vaccine Industrial Campus Project to the end of 2026 due to the prolonged procurement, logistics and construction cycle under the impact of global public health incidents and the macro-economy and our prudent and efficient spending strategy. For details, please refer to the Company’s overseas regulatory announcement in relation to the use of the A Share IPO Proceeds dated August 29, 2024.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing (“HKSAs”) issued by the HKICPA. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the “Code”), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

KEY AUDIT MATTER

Key audit matter is the matter that, in our professional judgement, was of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. This matter was addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on this matter.

KEY AUDIT MATTER (CONTINUED)

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Revenue recognition for the sales of vaccine and relevant products
As disclosed in Note 5 to the consolidated financial statements, after the deduction of sales return provision, the Group recognised the net revenue generated from sales of vaccine and relevant products amounting to RMB 800 million for the year ended 31 December 2024. Revenue has a significant impact on financial statements and is one of the Group's key performance indicators, which has an inherent risk of manipulation to achieve the expected goals. Moreover, the sales return provision requires significant management estimates. Therefore, we identify the occurrence and accuracy of revenue recognition for the sales of vaccine and relevant products as a key audit matter.	Our main procedures in relation to the occurrence and accuracy of revenue recognition for the sales of vaccine and relevant products included: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Obtaining the typical sales contracts. Inspecting the terms of the contracts obtained for risk assessment and evaluating whether the timing of revenue recognition for the sales of vaccine and relevant products of the Group complies with HKFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers. 2. Understanding the key controls related to the occurrence and accuracy assertions of revenue recognition for the sales of vaccine and relevant products, including but not limited to the Group's internal control over the review of sales contract terms, revenue recognition process, and accounting estimates related to sales returns. Evaluating the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of these controls. 3. Performing test of details on a sample basis by checking the recorded revenue transactions to relevant supporting documents. 4. For domestic vaccine products sales transactions, reconciling all the invoices issued for the sales of vaccine products with records from National Tax system. 5. Evaluating the reasonableness of key assumptions and raw data utilised by the management and underlying supporting evidence in relation to the estimation of the sales return, together with the information of actual sales return on historical sales. 6. Reviewing the management's calculation of the estimation of sales return.

OTHER INFORMATION

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF DIRECTORS AND THOSE CHARGED WITH GOVERNANCE FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors of the Company determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors of the Company are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors of the Company either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSA's will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSA's, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors of the Company.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors of the Company's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

Independent Auditor's Report

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Plan and perform the group audit to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business units within the group as a basis for forming an opinion on the group financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and review of the audit work performed for purposes of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine the matter that was of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and is therefore the key audit matter. We describe this matter in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Bao Jie.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION

2.1 Basis of preparation

(i) Basis of preparation of consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards (“HKFRSs”) issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (the “HKICPA”). For the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements, information is considered material if such information is reasonably expected to influence decisions made by primary users. Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of HKFRS 2 Share-based Payment, leasing transactions that are accounted for in accordance with HKFRS 16 Leases, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in HKAS 2 Inventories or value in use in HKAS 36 Impairment of Assets.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

(ii) Amended standards adopted by the Group

In the current year, the Group has applied the following amendments to HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA for the first time, which are mandatorily effective for the Group's annual period beginning on 1 January 2024 for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements:

Amendments to HKFRS 16	Lease Liability in a Sale and Leaseback Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non current and related amendments to Hong Kong
Amendments to HKAS 1	Interpretation 5 (2020)
Amendments to HKAS 1	Non-current Liabilities with Covenants
Amendments to HKAS 7 and HKFRS 7	Supplier Finance Arrangements

The application of the amendments to HKFRSs in the current year has had no material impact on the Group's financial positions and performance for the current and prior years and/or on the disclosures set out in these consolidated financial statements.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

(iii) New and amended standards not early adopted by the Group

The Group has not early applied the following new and amendments to HKFRSs that have been issued but are not yet effective:

Amendments to HKFRS 9 and HKFRS 7	Amendments to the Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments ³
Amendments to HKFRS 9 and HKFRS 7	Contracts Referencing Nature - dependent Electricity ³
Amendments to HKFRS 10 and HKAS 28	Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture ¹
Amendments to HKFRSs	Annual Improvements to HKFRS Accounting Standards – Volume 11 ³
Amendments to HKAS 21	Lack of Exchangeability ²
HKFRS 18	Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements ⁴

¹ Effective for annual periods beginning on or after a date to be determined.

² Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2025.

³ Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2026.

⁴ Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027.

Except for the new HKFRS mentioned below, the directors of the Company anticipate that the application of all other amendments to HKFRSs will have no material impact on the consolidated financial statements in the foreseeable future.

HKFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements

HKFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements, which sets out requirements on presentation and disclosures in financial statements, will replace HKAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements. This new HKFRS Accounting Standard, while carrying forward many of the requirements in HKAS 1, introduces new requirements to present specified categories and defined subtotals in the statement of profit or loss; provide disclosures on management-defined performance measures in the notes to the financial statements and improve aggregation and disaggregation of information to be disclosed in the financial statements. In addition, some HKAS 1 paragraphs have been moved to HKAS 8 and HKFRS 7. Minor amendments to HKAS 7 Statement of Cash Flows and HKAS 33 Earnings per Share are also made.

HKFRS 18, and amendments to other standards, will be effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027, with early application permitted. The application of the new standard is expected to affect the presentation of the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income and disclosures in the future financial statements. The Group is in the process of assessing the detailed impact of HKFRS 18 on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

2.2 Subsidiaries

A subsidiary is an entity (including structured entities) over which the Group has control. The Group controls an entity when the Group has power over the investee, is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power to direct the activities of the entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

When the Group has less than a majority of the voting rights of an investee, it has power over the investee when the voting rights are sufficient to give it the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee unilaterally. The Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Group's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- (i) the size of the Group's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of holdings of the other vote holders;
- (ii) potential voting rights held by the Group, other vote holders or other parties;
- (iii) rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- (iv) any additional facts and circumstances that indicate that the Group has, or does not have, the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made, including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meetings.

Profit or loss and each item of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

Non-controlling interests in subsidiaries are presented separately from the Group's equity therein, which represent present ownership interests entitling their holders to a proportionate share of net assets of the relevant subsidiaries upon liquidation.

Intercompany transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the transferred asset. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary and non-controlling interests (if any) are derecognised. A gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss and is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary attributable to the owners of the Company. All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that subsidiary are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities of the subsidiary (i.e. reclassified to profit or loss or transferred to another category of equity as specified/permitted by applicable HKFRSs). The fair value of any investment retained in the former subsidiary at the date when control is lost is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition for subsequent accounting under HKFRS 9 Financial Instruments or, when applicable, the cost on initial recognition of an investment in an associate or a joint venture.

2.3 Investments in associates

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

The results and assets and liabilities of associates are incorporated in these consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting. Under the equity method, an investment in an associate is initially recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associate. When the Group's share of losses of an associate exceeds the Group's interest in that associate (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate), the Group discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.

An investment in an associate is accounted for using the equity method from the date on which the investee becomes an associate. On acquisition of the investment in an associate, any excess of the cost of the investment over the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the investee is recognised as goodwill, which is included within the carrying amount of the investment. Any excess of the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities over the cost of the investment, after reassessment, is recognised immediately in profit or loss in the period in which the investment is acquired.

The Group assesses whether there is an objective evidence that the interest in an associate may be impaired. When any objective evidence exists, the entire carrying amount of the investment (including goodwill) is tested for impairment in accordance with HKAS 36 as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount (higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal) with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognised is not allocated to any asset, including goodwill, that forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognised in accordance with HKAS 36 to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

The Group applies HKFRS 9, including the impairment requirements, to long-term interests in an associate to which the equity method is not applied and which form part of the net investment in the investee. Furthermore, in applying HKFRS 9 to long-term interests, the Group does not take into account adjustments to their carrying amount required by HKAS 28 (i.e. adjustments to the carrying amount of long-term interests arising from the allocation of losses of the investee or assessment of impairment in accordance with HKAS 28).

When a group entity transacts with an associate of the Group, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the associate are recognised in the consolidated financial statements only to the extent of interests in the associate that are not related to the Group.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.4 Separate financial statements

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for at cost less impairment. Cost includes direct attributable costs of investment. The results of subsidiaries are accounted for by the Company on the basis of dividend received and receivable.

Impairment testing of the investments in subsidiaries is required whenever there is an indication that the investments may be impaired.

2.5 Segment reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision-maker (“CODM”). The CODM, who is responsible for allocating resources, assessing performance of the operating segments, and has been identified as the executive directors of the Group that make strategic decisions.

2.6 Foreign currency translation

(a) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group’s entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (“the functional currency”). The consolidated financial statements are presented in RMB, which is the Company’s functional and presentation currency.

(b) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are generally recognised in profit or loss.

Non-monetary items those are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not translated.

Foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income within finance income or finance costs.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.7 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at historical cost less depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Buildings, leasehold improvements and other equipment in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes are carried at cost, less any recognised impairment loss. Costs include any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management, including costs of testing whether the related assets is functioning properly and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Group's accounting policy. Sale proceeds of items that are produced while bringing an item of property, plant and equipment to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management (such as samples produced when testing whether the asset is functioning properly), and the related costs of producing those items are recognised in the profit or loss. The cost of those items are measured in accordance with the measurement requirements of HKAS 2. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

When the Group makes payments for ownership interests of properties which includes both leasehold land and building elements, the entire consideration is allocated between the leasehold land and the building elements in proportion to the relative fair values at initial recognition. To the extent the allocation of the relevant payments can be made reliably, interest in leasehold land is presented as "right-of-use assets" in the consolidated statement of financial position. When the consideration cannot be allocated reliably between non-lease building element and undivided interest in the underlying leasehold land, the entire properties are classified as property, plant and equipment.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognised when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the reporting year in which they are incurred.

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost, net of their residual values, over their estimated useful lives as follows:

Buildings	3-50 years
Leasehold improvements	Shorter of remaining lease term or estimated useful life
Equipment and instruments	5-10 years
Motor vehicles	4 years
Office equipment and furniture	3-5 years

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting year.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount and are recognised within "Other gains (losses), net" in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.8 Intangible assets

(a) Computer software

Acquired computer software are capitalised on the basis of the costs incurred to acquire and bring the specific software into usage. These costs are amortised using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives of 2 to 10 years. Costs associated with maintaining computer software programs are recognised as expense as incurred. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

(b) Non-proprietary technologies

Non-proprietary technologies are initially recorded at cost and are amortised on a straight-line basis over their useful lives of 2 to 10 years. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

(c) Research and development

The Group incurs significant costs and efforts on research and development activities, which include expenditures on vaccine and relevant products. Research expenditures are charged to the profit or loss as an expense in the year the expenditure is incurred. Development costs are recognised as assets if they can be directly attributable to a newly developed vaccine and relevant product and all the following can be demonstrated:

- (i) The technical feasibility to complete the development project so that it will be available for use or sale;
- (ii) The intention to complete the development project to use or sell the vaccine and relevant product;
- (iii) The ability to use or sell the vaccine and relevant product;
- (iv) The manner in which the development project will generate probable future economic benefits for the Group;
- (v) The availability of adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development project and use or sell the vaccine and relevant product; and
- (vi) The expenditure attributable to the asset during its development can be reliably measured.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

The Group recognise development costs as follows:

For class I biological products (biological products that have not been previously approved for sale in China or abroad), development stage begins after obtaining new drug application approval from drug regulatory organization. Development costs at this stage are recognised as assets when the above six criteria are met.

For non-class I biological products, development stage begins after Phase III clinical trials are conducted substantially. Development costs at Phase III are recognised as assets when the above six criteria are met.

Development expenditures not satisfying the above criteria are recognised in the profit or loss as incurred.

Capitalised development costs are amortised using the straight-line method over the life of the related vaccine and relevant product. Amortisation shall begin when the asset is available for use.

2.9 Impairment of non-financial assets

Intangible assets not yet available for use are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. Property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets, intangible assets available for use, interests in associates are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash inflows which are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of each reporting period.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.10 Financial assets and financial liabilities

(a) Initial recognition

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Regular way purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised on trade-date, the date on which the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset.

At initial recognition, the Group measures a financial asset or financial liability at its fair value plus or minus, in the case of a financial asset or financial liability not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are incremental and directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial asset or financial liability, such as fees and commissions except for trade receivables arising from contracts with customers which are initially measured in accordance with HKFRS 15. Transaction costs of financial assets and financial liabilities carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in profit or loss. Immediately after initial recognition, an ECL is recognised for financial assets measured at amortised cost, which results in an accounting loss being recognised in profit or loss.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability and of allocating interest income and interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts and payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

(b) Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

The Group classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

- (i) amortised cost;
- (ii) fair value through other comprehensive income; or
- (iii) fair value through profit or loss.

Except for the financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss as disclosed in Note 24, the financial assets of the Group are measured at amortised cost.

2.10 Financial assets and financial liabilities (Continued)

The classification requirements for debt and equity instruments are described below:

Debt instruments

Classification and subsequent measurement of debt instruments depend on the Group's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset.

A debt instrument shall be measured at amortised cost if all of the following conditions are met:

- (i) the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows;
- (ii) the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding; and
- (iii) they are not designated at financial assets at fair value through profit or loss.

The carrying amount of these assets is adjusted by any expected credit loss allowance. Interest income from these financial assets is measured using the effective interest rate method.

The Group may also irrevocably designate financial assets at fair value through profit or loss if doing so significantly reduces or eliminates a mismatch created by assets and liabilities being measured on different bases.

Equity instruments

The Group subsequently measures all equity investments at fair value through profit or loss.

Gains and losses on debt or equity investments at fair value through profit or loss are included in the profit or loss. The gains or losses recognised in profit or loss exclude any dividend or interest earned on the financial asset and is included in the "other losses, net" line item.

Financial liabilities and equity

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments.

(b) Classification and subsequent measurement (Continued)

Financial liabilities

In both the current and prior year, financial liabilities are classified as subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

(c) Derecognition

Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised (i.e., removed from the Group's consolidated balance sheet) when:

- (i) the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired; or
- (ii) the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a "pass-through" arrangement; and either (a) the Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Group has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

On derecognition of a financial asset measured at amortised cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in profit or loss.

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and a recognition of a new liability. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

Derivative financial instruments

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value at the date when derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of the reporting period. The resulting gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss unless the derivative is designated and effective as a hedging instrument.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.10 Financial assets and financial liabilities (Continued)

(d) ECL

The Group assesses on a forward-looking basis the ECL associated with its debt instrument assets carried at amortised cost. The Group recognises a loss allowance for such losses at each reporting date.

Lifetime ECL represents the ECL that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of the relevant instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECL ("12m ECL") represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date. Assessments are done based on the Group's historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current conditions at the reporting date as well as the forecast of future conditions.

The Group always recognises lifetime ECL for trade receivables. For all other instruments, the Group measures the loss allowance equal to 12m ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, in which case the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

The measurement of ECL reflects: An unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined by evaluating a range of possible outcomes; the time value of money; and reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort at the reporting date about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

(i) Significant increase in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly:

- Significant changes in external market indicators of credit risk for a particular financial instrument or similar financial instruments with the same expected life. Changes in market indicators of credit risk include, but are not limited to: the credit spread, the credit default swap prices for the borrower, the length of time or the extent to which the fair value of a financial asset has been less than its amortised cost and other market information related to the borrower, such as changes in the price of a borrower's debt and equity instruments;

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

(d) ECL (Continued)

- An actual or expected significant change in the financial instrument's external credit rating;
- An actual or expected internal credit rating downgrade for the borrower;
- Expected adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant change in the borrower's ability to meet its debt obligations;
- An actual or expected significant change in the operating results of the borrower;
- A significant adverse change in the regulatory, economic, or technological environment of the borrower;
- Significant changes in the expected performance and behavior of the borrower, including changes in the payment status of borrowers in the group;
- Changes in the entity's credit management approach in relation to the financial instrument.

Irrespective of the outcome of the above assessment, the Group presumes that the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise.

Despite the foregoing, the Group assumes that the credit risk on a debt instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition if the debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date. A debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk if (i) it has a low risk of default, (ii) the borrower has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term and (iii) adverse changes in economic and business conditions in the longer term may, but will not necessarily, reduce the ability of the borrower to fulfil its contractual cash flow obligations. The Group considers a debt instrument to have low credit risk when it has an internal or external credit rating of "investment grade" as per globally understood definitions.

The Group regularly monitors the effectiveness of the criteria used to identify whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk and revises them as appropriate to ensure that the criteria are capable of identifying significant increase in credit risk before the amount becomes past due.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

(d) ECL (Continued)

(ii) Definition of default

For internal credit risk management, the Group considers an event of default occurs when information developed internally or obtained from external sources indicates that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors, including the Group, in full (without taking into account any collaterals held by the Group).

Irrespective of the above, the Group considers that default has occurred when a financial asset is more than 90 days past due unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information to demonstrate that a more lagging default criterion is more appropriate.

(iii) Credit-impaired financial assets

A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;
- the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider; or
- it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation.

(iv) Write-off policy

The Group writes off a financial asset when there is information indicating that the counterparty is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, for example, when the counterparty has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings. Financial assets written off may still be subject to enforcement activities under the Group's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event. Any subsequent recoveries are recognised in profit or loss.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

(d) ECL (Continued)

(v) Measurement and recognition of ECL

The measurement of ECL is a function of the probability of default, loss given default (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the exposure at default. The assessment of the probability of default and loss given default is based on historical data and forward-looking information. Estimation of ECL reflects an unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights. The Group uses a practical expedient in estimating ECL on trade receivables using a provision matrix taking into consideration historical credit loss experience and forward looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

Generally, the ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at the effective interest rate determined at initial recognition.

ECL for trade receivables and certain other receivables are considered on a collective basis taking into consideration ageing information and relevant credit information such as forward looking macroeconomic information.

For collective assessment, the Group takes into consideration the following characteristics when formulating the grouping:

- Ageing;
- Nature, size and industry of debtors; and
- External credit ratings where available.

The grouping is regularly reviewed by management to ensure the constituents of each group continue to share similar credit risk characteristics.

Interest income is calculated based on the gross carrying amount of the financial asset unless the financial asset is credit-impaired, in which case interest income is calculated based on amortised cost of the financial asset.

The Group recognises an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss for all financial instruments subject to ECL measurement by adjusting their carrying amount, with the exception of trade and other receivables where the corresponding adjustment is recognised through a loss allowance account.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.11 Inventories

Inventories including finished goods, goods shipped in transit, work in progress, raw materials and consumable materials purchased for production, research and development activities are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Costs are assigned to individual items of inventory on the basis of weighted average costs. Cost comprises direct materials, direct labour and an appropriate proportion of variable and fixed overhead expenditure, the latter being allocated on the basis of normal operating capacity. Costs of purchased inventory are determined after deducting rebates and discounts. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. Costs necessary to make the sale include incremental costs directly attributable to the sale and non-incremental costs which the Group must incur to make the sale.

2.12 Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables are amounts due from customers for merchandise sold or services performed in the ordinary course of business. If collection of trade and other receivables is expected in one year or less (or in the normal operating cycle of the business if longer), they are classified as current assets. If not, they are presented as non-current assets.

Trade receivables arising from contracts with customers are initially measured in accordance with HKFRS 15. Other receivables are recognised initially at fair value. Trade and other receivables are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less allowance for ECL.

2.13 Cash and cash equivalents

For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with financial institutions excluding bank balances that are subject to regulatory restrictions that result in such balances no longer meeting the definition of cash, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. Cash equivalents are held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments rather than for investment or other purposes.

2.14 Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity.

Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

2.15 Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Group prior to the end of financial year which are unpaid. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting year. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

2.16 Borrowings

Borrowings are initially recognised at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost. Any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption amount is recognised in profit or loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

Borrowings are derecognised when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired. The difference between the carrying amount of a financial liability that has been extinguished or transferred to another party and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognised in profit or loss as other income or finance costs.

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the Group has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

2.17 Borrowing costs

General and specific borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalised during the period of time that is required to complete and prepare the asset for its intended use or sale. Qualifying assets are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

Other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred.

2.18 Current and deferred income tax

The income tax expense or credit for the period represents the sum of current and deferred income tax expense, which is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate for each jurisdiction adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.18 Current and deferred income tax (Continued)

(a) Current income tax

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period in the countries where the Company and its subsidiaries operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation and considers whether it is probable that a taxation authority will accept an uncertain tax treatment. The Group measures its tax balances either based on the most likely amount or the expected value, depending on which method provides a better prediction of the resolution of the uncertainty.

(b) Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is provided in full on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements. Deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss and at the time of the transaction does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are recognised only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments and interests are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset is realised, based on tax rate (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

For leasing transactions in which the tax deductions are attributable to the lease liabilities, the Group applies HKAS 12 requirements to the leasing liabilities and the related assets separately. The Group recognises a deferred tax asset related to lease liabilities to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary difference can be utilised and a deferred tax liability for all taxable temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in profit or loss.

2.19 Employee benefits

(a) Short-term obligations

Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognised in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. The liabilities are presented as "payroll and welfare payable" in Note 36.

(b) Post-employment obligations

The Group incorporated in the PRC contributes based on certain percentage of the salaries of the employees to a defined contribution retirement benefit plan organised by relevant government authorities in the PRC on a monthly basis. The government authorities undertake to assume the retirement benefit obligations payable to all existing and further retired employees under these plans and the Group has no further obligation for post-retirement benefits beyond the contributions made. Contributions to these plans are expensed as incurred. Assets of the plans are held and managed by government authorities and are separate from those of the Group.

(c) Termination benefits

A liability for a termination benefit is recognised at the earlier of when the Group entity can no longer withdraw the offer of the termination benefit and when it recognises any related restructuring costs.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.20 Interest income

Interest income is presented as finance income where it is earned from term deposits and financial assets that are held for cash management purposes. Any other interest income is included in other income.

2.21 Share-based payments

Equity-settled share-based payments

Share-based compensation benefits are provided to employees via various share award schemes. Information relating to these schemes is set out in Note 29.

The fair value of equity-settled share-based payments granted to employees under Employee Share Plans is recognised as an employee benefit expense over the relevant service period, being the vesting period of the shares, and the credit is recognised in equity in the capital reserve. The fair value of the shares is measured at the grant date without taking into consideration all non-market vesting conditions. The number of shares expected to vest is estimated based on the non-market vesting conditions. The estimates are revised at the end of each reporting period and adjustments are recognised in profit or loss and the capital reserve. Where shares are forfeited due to a failure by the employee to satisfy the service conditions, any expenses previously recognised in relation to such shares are reversed in profit or loss. When shares granted are vested, the amount previously recognised in capital reserves will be transferred to share premium. When shares are cancelled during the vesting period, it is treated as an acceleration of vesting and the Group immediately recognises the remaining amount that it otherwise would have recognised for services over the remaining vesting period.

2.22 Revenue from contracts with customers

Information about the Group's accounting policies relating to revenue from contracts with customers is provided in Notes 5 and 32.

2.23 Costs to fulfil a contract

The Group incurs costs to fulfil a contract in its business. The Group first assesses whether these costs qualify for recognition as an asset in terms of other relevant standards, failing which it recognises an asset for these costs only if they meet all of the following criteria:

- (a) the costs relate directly to a contract or to an anticipated contract that the Group can specifically identify;
- (b) the costs generate or enhance resources of the Group that will be used in satisfying (or in continuing to satisfy) performance obligations in the future; and
- (c) the costs are expected to be recovered.

The asset so recognised is subsequently amortised to profit or loss on a systematic basis that is consistent with the transfer to the customer of the goods or services to which the assets relate. The asset is subject to impairment review.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.24 Variable consideration

For vaccine sales contracts that contain variable consideration, the Group estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled using the most likely amount, which better predicts the amount of consideration to which the Group will be entitled.

The estimated amount of variable consideration is included in the transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that such an inclusion will not result in a significant revenue reversal in the future when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved.

At the end of each reporting period, the Group updates the estimated transaction price (including updating its assessment of whether an estimate of variable consideration is constrained) to represent faithfully the circumstances present at the end of the reporting period and the changes in circumstances during the reporting period.

2.25 Refund liabilities

The Group recognises a refund liability if the Group expects to refund some or all of the consideration received from customers.

For a sale of products with a right of return for dissimilar products, the Group recognises all of the following:

- (a) revenue for the transferred products in the amount of consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled. Therefore, revenue would not be recognised for the products expected to be returned;
- (b) a refund liability; and
- (c) an asset and corresponding adjustment to cost of sales for its right to recover products from customers and are presented as right to returned goods.

2.26 Government grants

Grants from the government are recognised at their fair value where there is a reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the Group will comply with all attached conditions.

Where the grant relates to an expense item, it is recognised as income on a systematic basis over the period that the costs, which it is intended to compensate, are expensed. Where the grant relates to an asset, the fair value is credited to a deferred income account and is released to the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income over the expected useful life of the relevant asset on a straight-line basis.

Government grants related to income that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable. Such grants are presented under "other income".

2.27 Leases

The Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease based on the definition under HKFRS 16 at inception of the contract. Such contract will not be reassessed unless the terms and conditions of the contract are subsequently changed.

Except for the short-term leases, leases are recognised as a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the Group.

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option. Lease payments on short-term leases are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis or another systematic basis over the lease term.

Contracts may contain both lease and non-lease components. The Group has elected not to separate lease and non-lease components and instead accounts for these as a single lease component.

Lease terms are negotiated on an individual basis and contain a wide range of different terms and conditions. The lease agreements do not impose any covenants other than the security interests in the leased assets that are held by the lessor. Leased assets may not be used as security for borrowing purposes.

Assets and liabilities arising from a lease are initially measured on a present value basis. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the following lease payments:

- fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments), less any lease incentives receivable;
- the exercise price of a purchase option if the Group is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and
- payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising that option.

Lease payments to be made under reasonably certain extension options are also included in the measurement of the liability.

The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease. If that rate cannot be readily determined, which is generally the case for leases in the Group, the lessee's incremental borrowing rate is used, being the rate that the individual lessee would have to pay to borrow the funds necessary to obtain an asset of similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment with similar terms, security and conditions.

Lease payments are allocated between principal and finance cost. The finance cost is charged to profit or loss over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.27 Leases (Continued)

The Group presents lease liabilities as a separate line item on the consolidated statement of financial position.

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost comprising the following:

- the amount of the initial measurement of lease liability;
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received; and
- any initial direct costs.

Right-of-use assets are generally depreciated over the shorter of the asset's useful life and the lease term on a straight-line basis.

The Group presents right-of-use assets as a separate line item on the consolidated statement of financial position.

Refundable rental deposits paid are accounted under HKFRS 9 and initially measured at fair value. Adjustments to fair value at initial recognition are considered as additional lease payments and included in the cost of right-of-use assets.

The Group accounts for a lease modification as a separate lease if:

- the modification increases the scope of the lease by adding the right to use one or more underlying assets; and
- the consideration for the leases increases by an amount commensurate with the stand-alone price for the increase in scope and any appropriate adjustments to that stand-alone price to reflect the circumstances of the particular contract.

For a lease modification that is not accounted for as a separate lease, the Group remeasures the lease liability, less any lease incentives receivable, based on the lease term of the modified lease by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification.

The Group accounts for the remeasurement of lease liabilities by making corresponding adjustments to the relevant right-of-use asset.

When the modified contract contains one or more additional lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the modified contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative stand-alone price of the lease component. The associated non-lease components are included in the respective lease components.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.28 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Group will be required to settle that obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (where the effect of the time value of money is material).

2.29 Contingent liabilities

A contingent liability is a present obligation arising from past events but is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation or the amount of the obligation cannot be measured with sufficient reliability.

The Group assesses continually to determine whether an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits has become probable. If it becomes probable that an outflow of future economic benefits will be required for an item previously dealt with as a contingent liability, a provision is recognised in the consolidated financial statements in the reporting period in which the change in probability occurs, except in the extremely rare circumstances where no reliable estimate can be made.

3. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

In the application of the Group's accounting policies, which are described in Note 2, the directors of the Company are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and underlying assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

3. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY (CONTINUED)

Key source of estimation uncertainty

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period that may have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

Inventory provision

The Group assesses periodically if cost of inventories may not be fully recoverable based on an assessment of the net realizable value of inventories. Inventories are usually written down to net realizable value when the cost of inventories may not be fully recoverable. This may be the case when those inventories are damaged, have become wholly or partially obsolete, or their selling prices have declined. The Group's inventories compose of vaccine and relevant products, as well as the related raw materials and work in progress. In estimating the net realizable value of inventories, the Group takes into account the expire dates of the inventories and the estimation on future demand for the vaccine and relevant products to reflect the best estimation of the net realizable value of inventories as at 31 December 2024. When preparing the forecast of future demand for vaccine products, the Group makes reference to the current relevant vaccination policies, estimates the expected vaccination of population from different categories, and considers possible technological iterations and future uncertainties of the relevant demand. The abovesaid assumptions involves management estimates and judgements, and also with uncertainty. Changing the assumptions and estimates, could affect the net realizable value and a reversal or further recognition of write-down may arise and be recognised in profit or loss of future periods.

As at 31 December 2024, the gross amounts of inventories were approximately RMB720,182,000 (31 December 2023: RMB 1,081,450,000), net of write down of inventories of approximately RMB 439,660,000 (31 December 2023: RMB 730,795,000).

Fair value measurement of unlisted equity investments and unlisted fund investment

As at 31 December 2024, the Group's unlisted equity investments and unlisted fund investment amounting to RMB 114,082,000 (31 December 2023: RMB 116,145,000) are measured at fair value with fair value being determined based on significant unobservable inputs using valuation techniques. Judgement and estimation are required in establishing the relevant valuation techniques and the relevant inputs thereof, including liquidity discount and volatility etc. Changes in assumptions relating to these factors could result in material adjustments to the fair value of these instruments. Details of the fair value measurement of these investments were set out in Note 46.3.

Deferred tax assets

As at 31 December 2024, deferred tax assets of RMB 205,394,000 (31 December 2023: RMB 207,861,000) has been recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position. The realisability of the deferred tax assets mainly depends on whether sufficient future profits or taxable temporary differences will be available in the future. In cases where the actual future taxable profits and taxable temporary differences generated are less or more than expected, or changes in facts and circumstances which result in revision of future taxable profits and taxable temporary differences estimation, a material reversal or further recognition of deferred tax assets may arise, which would be recognised in profit or loss for the period in which such a reversal or further recognition takes place. No deferred tax asset has been recognised on the tax losses and temporary differences of the subsidiaries due to the unpredictability of future profit streams as disclosed in Note 19. Based on the Company's forecast of future earnings, a deferred tax asset is recognised for deductible temporary differences, unused tax losses and tax credits carried forward, to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available.

Estimation of refund liabilities

The Group recognises a refund liability if the Group expects to refund some or all of the consideration of all goods delivered arising from the rights granted by the Group to the customers to return some or all the goods purchased. At the end of each reporting period, the Group estimates the future sales return of the goods sold and a corresponding adjustment to revenue is recognised for those products expected to be returned. The estimation of sales return requires the use of judgement and estimates. Where the actual return rate is different from the original estimate, such difference will be trued up in subsequent periods. As at 31 December 2024, the Group recognised a refund liability of approximately RMB 75,053,000 (31 December 2023: RMB 112,759,000).

Impairment on long-term assets

The Group regularly reviews whether there are any indications of impairment and recognises an impairment loss if the carrying amount of an asset is lower than its recoverable amount. The Group tests for impairment for intangible assets and property, plant and equipment, interests in associates and right-of-use assets whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired. Intangible assets not yet available for use are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. The recoverable amounts have been determined based on the higher of the fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. The use of estimates are required in these calculations. Changing the assumptions and estimates, including the fair value, costs of disposal, expected cash flow, discount rate and other key parameters could materially affect the recoverable amounts. As at 31 December 2024, the carrying amount of intangible assets was RMB 180,104,000 (31 December 2023: RMB 111,841,000), after taking into account the impairment allowance of approximately RMB 36,864,000 (31 December 2023: RMB 36,864,000). As at 31 December 2024, the carrying amount of property, plant and equipment was RMB 2,634,412,000 (31 December 2023: RMB 2,838,342,000), after taking into account the impairment allowance of approximately RMB 6,032,000 (31 December 2023: RMB 325,639,000).

4. SEGMENT

The operating segments have been determined based on the reports reviewed by chief operating decision-maker ("CODM"). The CODM, who is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segment, has been identified as the executive directors of the Company.

The Group is principally engaged in the research and development, manufacturing and commercialisation of vaccine and relevant products for human use and medical research, experimental development services and development and manufacturing services. Management reviews the operating results of the business as a whole to make decisions about resources to be allocated. Therefore, the CODM of the Company regards that there is only one segment which is used to make strategic decisions.

The major operating entity of the Group is domiciled in the PRC. The Group's revenue were primarily derived in the PRC based on the location of the customers. Details are set out in Note 5.

As at 31 December 2024 and 2023, the Group's non-current assets were mainly located in Mainland China and Hong Kong.

Revenue from customers of the corresponding years contributing over 10% of the total sales of the Group are as follows:

	Year ended 31 December
	2024	2023

* The corresponding revenue did not contribute over 10% of the total revenue of the Group.

5. REVENUE (CONTINUED)

The Group recognised the following contract liabilities related to contracts with customers:

	As at 31 December 2024 RMB'000	2023 RMB'000
Contract liabilities – vaccine and relevant products	10,828	1,164
Contract liabilities – development and manufacturing services, research and technical services	3,859	2,403
	14,687	3,567

The following is an analysis of the Group's revenue from its major products:

Revenue from the sales of vaccine and relevant products is recognised when control of the vaccine and relevant products has transferred, being when the goods have been shipped to the specific location and accepted by customers, or the Group has objective evidence that all criteria for acceptance have been satisfied.

At the point of sale, a refund liability and a corresponding adjustment to revenue is recognised for those products expected to be returned. The Group estimates the future sales return of the products sold based on the historical experience.

Revenue from provision of development and manufacturing services is derived from the transfer of services and/or goods through contracts under fee for service basis and recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the distinct good or service. The Group identifies each deliverable unit as a separate performance obligation and recognises revenue of contractual elements at the point upon acceptance of the deliverable units. The contracts include payment schedules which require stage payments over the service period once certain specified milestones are reached. The Group's performance does not create an asset with alternative future use since the Group cannot redirect the asset for use on another customer, and at the same time the Group has a present right to payment from the customers for services performed only upon acceptance of the deliverable units, therefore, the directors of the Company have concluded that the performance obligation of such contracts is satisfied at a point in time and recognised the corresponding revenue at a point in time.

A contract liability represents the Group's obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. Contract liabilities as of 31 December 2024 amounting to RMB14,687,000 (31 December 2023: RMB 3,567,000) were recognised, mainly representing the unfulfilled sales of vaccine and relevant products and provision of development and manufacturing services and research and technical services. Revenue of RMB 3,567,000 was recognised during the year ended 31 December, 2024 that was included in the contract liabilities at the beginning of the year 2024.

All the contracts that are partially or fully unsatisfied are for periods of one year or less. As the Group applies the practical expedient in HKFRS 15, the transaction price allocated to these unsatisfied contracts is not disclosed.

As at 1 January 2023, contract liabilities amounted to RMB 1,480,000.

8. EMPLOYEE BENEFIT EXPENSES

The employees of the Group in the PRC are members of a state-managed pension scheme operated by the PRC government. The Group is required to contribute a specified percentage of payroll costs as determined by local government authority to the pension obligations to fund the benefits. The only obligation of the Group with respect to the retirement benefits scheme is to make the specified contribution under the scheme. The Group contributions to the retirement benefit scheme are expensed as incurred and not reduced by contributions forfeited by those employees who leave the plan prior to vesting fully in the contributions.

The total expense recognised in profit or loss of RMB 32,151,000 (2023: RMB 50,998,000) represents contributions paid or payable to these plans by the Group at rates specified in the rules of the plans. As at 31 December 2024, contributions of RMB 599,000 (2023: RMB 8,232,000) due in respect of the year ended had not been paid over to the plans.

42. CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

The Company received the notice of a lawsuit in March 2024 from 3ª Vara Cível de Maringá/PR ("Brazilian Court") filed by Belcher Farmaceutica Ltda. ("Belcher"), claiming Brazilian Real 167 million (equivalent to approximately RMB197 million) in compensation for the related losses, fees, and spiritual damage from the Company following the termination of the authorisation to it to negotiate with the Brazilian government about the registration and commercialization of the Company's COVID-19 vaccines in Brazil in 2021. Details of the lawsuit are set out in the announcement of the Company dated 14 March 2024 in relation to the Company's involvement in a lawsuit.

The Company has engaged a professional legal counsel to handle such lawsuit. Based on the current legal advice, the Company has strong defense position and it is less likely that Belcher's claim will be supported by the Brazilian Court. Therefore, the management of the Company is in the view that it is not probable an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle Belcher's claim. As a result, no provision with respect to this lawsuit was made by the Company as at 31 December 2024. As of the date of the approval of these consolidated financial statements, the Brazilian Court has yet to start hearing of this lawsuit.

46. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

46.1 Financial risk factors

The Group's risk management is carried out by the finance department under policies approved by the board of directors. The department identifies, evaluates and hedges financial risks in close co-operation with the Group's operating units. The board provides written principles for overall risk management, as well as policies covering specific areas, such as foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, other price risk, credit risk and liquidity risk, use of derivative financial instruments and non-derivative financial instruments, and investment of excess liquidity.

(a) Market risk

(i) Foreign exchange risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument fluctuates because of the change in foreign exchange rates. The Group has established foreign currency business management system that includes accounts, settlements and exchange rate risk. The Group conducts various foreign currency businesses in accordance with the requirements of the management system.

The Group have foreign currency sales, purchases and bank balances which expose the Group to foreign currency risk. The carrying amounts of the Group's foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at the end of the reporting period are as follows:

	As at 31 December
	2024	2023
	RMB'000	RMB'000
USD
Cash at banks	157,771	364,572
Terms deposits with initial term of over three months	37,300	589,404
Trade receivables	4,564	–
Other receivables and prepayments	–	395
Other payables and accruals	(761)	(3,404)
HKD
Cash at banks	51,301	12,671
Terms deposits with initial term of over three months	72,747	–
Other receivables and prepayments	412	–
Other payables and accruals	(40)	–

As at 31 December 2024, if RMB strengthened or weakened by 5% against USD with all other variables held constant, loss for the year ended 31 December 2024 would increase or decrease by RMB 9,944,000 (loss for the year ended 31 December 2023 would increase or decrease by RMB 40,649,000).

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

46. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (CONTINUED)

46.1 Financial risk factors (Continued)

As at 31 December 2024, if RMB strengthened or weakened by 5% against HKD with all other variables held constant, loss for the year ended 31 December 2024 would increase or decrease by RMB6,221,000 (loss for the year ended 31 December 2023 would increase or decrease by RMB 539,000).

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Group is exposed to cash flow interest rate risk in relation to floating rate bank borrowings (Note 30). The Group is also exposed to fair value interest rate in relation to bank balances, restricted bank deposits, term deposits, fixed rate bank borrowings and lease liabilities. The Group manages its interest rate exposures by assessing the potential impact arising from any interest rate movements based on interest rate level and outlook. The management will review the proportion of borrowings in floating rates and ensure they are within reasonable range.

During the years ended 31 December 2024 and 2023, some portion of borrowings interests were capitalised. Assuming that there was no interest capitalisation effect, the Group performs a sensitivity analysis below which has been determined based on the exposure to interest rates for the floating rate bank borrowings at the end of the reporting period. For floating rate borrowings, the analysis is prepared assuming the amount of the liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period was outstanding for the whole year.

A 50 basis point increase or decrease represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates. If interest rates had been 50 basis points higher and all other variables were held constant, the Group's loss would approximately increase by RMB 9,945,000 for the year ended 31 December 2024 (2023: the Group's losses would approximately increase by RMB 10,839,000).

(iii) Other price risk

The Group is exposed to equity price risk through its equity investments measured at fair value through profit or loss.

The sensitivity analysis below has been determined based on the exposure to equity price risk at the reporting date for financial assets at fair value through profit or loss.

If the prices of the respective equity instruments had been changed based on the 5% higher/lower, the loss for the year ended 31 December 2024 would decrease by RMB7,532,000 (loss for the year ended 31 December 2023 would decrease by RMB 5,191,000) or increase by RMB7,532,000 (loss for the year ended 31 December 2023 would increase RMB 5,191,000), as a result of the changes in fair value of financial assets at financial asset measured at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL").

(b) Credit risk

Credit risk mainly arises from term deposits, restricted bank deposits, cash at banks, trade receivables, other receivables and structured deposits. The maximum exposure to credit risk is represented by the carrying amount of each financial asset in the consolidated statement of financial position.

The credit risk of term deposits, cash at banks and structured deposits is limited because the counterparties are state-owned or reputable commercial banks which are high-credit-quality financial institutions located in the PRC.

For trade receivables and other receivables, management makes periodic assessments as well as collective and individual assessment on the recoverability based on historical settlement records and past experience and adjusts for forward looking information. The Group applies the simplified approach for the Group's trade receivables net with refund liabilities and the amount to be returned to the same customer using a lifetime ECL provision.

As part of the Group's credit risk management, the Group determines the ECL on these items based on the financial quality of debtors, historical settlement records and past experience, adjusted as appropriate to reflect current conditions and estimates of future economic conditions. The following table provides information about the exposure to credit risk for trade receivables which are assessed based on ageing analysis within lifetime ECL.

Gross carrying amount Ageing analysis	As at 31 December 2024		As at 31 December 2023
	Average loss rate %	Trade receivables RMB'000	Average loss rate %	Trade receivables RMB'000
1-180 days	–	473,585	–	358,744
181-365 days	3.87	91,874	4.19	119,618
1-2 years	11.87	116,687	10.86	181,968
2-3 years	16.56	87,347	40.00	2,199

During the year ended 31 December 2024, the Group provided RMB 6,224,000 as expected credit losses for trade receivables for the year ended 31 December 2024 (2023: RMB 15,046,000).

Management assesses the expected credit losses on credit-impaired other receivables individually when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the other receivables have occurred. Such events may include significant financial difficulty of the counterparties or a breach of contract. As at 31 December 2024, other receivables amounting to RMB71,984,000 from CanSino SPH, an associate of the Group, and the other independent third party was considered as credit-impaired and expected credit loss allowance amounting to RMB74,122,000 has been recognised for these receivables. Other than these credit-impaired other receivables mentioned above, management has assessed that during the year ended 31 December 2024, the remaining other receivables have not had a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. Thus, a 12-month expected credit loss approach that results from possible default event within 12 months of each reporting date is adopted by management. The directors of the Company do not expect any losses from non-performance by the counterparties of other receivables and no expected credit loss allowance for these remaining other receivables was recognised (2023: nil).

46.2 Capital management

The Group's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern in order to provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain an optimal capital structure to reduce the cost of capital.

The Group monitors capital on the basis of the gearing ratio. This ratio is calculated as net debt divided by total capital. Net debt is calculated as total borrowings less bank balances and cash excluding accrued interest. Total capital is calculated as total equity as shown in the consolidated statement of financial position plus net debt.

As at 31 December 2024, the Group's gearing ratio is 8.14%. As at 31 December 2023, the Group was in a net cash position and thus, gearing ratio is not applicable.
