

PROSPECTS OF THE COMPANY IN THE LATTER HALF OF 2002

In order to further increase the domestic demands and maintain sustainable growth of the economy, the PRC government will continue to implement the active fiscal policies and prudent monetary policies. At the same time, further development of the microeconomic initiative will be evolved from the further perfection of every reform, which in turn will also provide guarantee for raising economic performance, improving competitive environment of market and promoting the growth in investment. Besides, benefited from China's entry into the WTO, Chinese market will have a good prospect and the real foreign investments will continue to maintain high growth rate. It is believed that with the economic environment getting better and better, the core business of the Group, in particular the toll roads, will directly and continuously benefit from such growth. It is expected that the traffic volume of the Group's expressways will continue to grow in the latter half of this year. At the same time, Wantong Science & Technology will further increase the market share of its existing products and speed up its pace of research and development for new products.
