

Agile Property values communication with all our shareholders and believes that shareholder value can be enhanced through an ongoing communication with our shareholders, investors, analysts and the media on our development strategies, operation management, financial information and business progress. To ensure that Agile Property provides regular, complete and timely corporate and financial information, our management leveraged on various channels and platforms including the Company's annual reports, annual and interim announcements, press conferences and analysts briefings, roadshows, site visits and various kinds of industry seminars. All published information can be obtained from the Company's website.

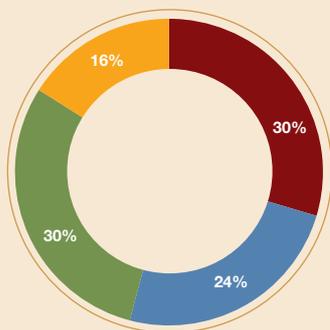

In 2006, our management arranged more than 69 times for investors to visit our property development projects, held 36 breakfast meetings, luncheons and telephone conferences, and also participated in over 9 overseas and local industry seminars organized by leading investment banks and fund houses in United States, Europe, Australia, Japan, Singapore, Hong Kong, Macau and other main cities in the mainland China. Our Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Co-President also actively participated in various investors meetings at different countries.

We will keep continuous and active dialogues with existing and potential investors to clearly deliver the Company's corporate strategies, business development and future outlook. We will continue to utilize our website to disseminate to investors our value information.
